THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz

CALCUTTA, MADRAS BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta,

or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or

the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or

the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

DEDICATION OF FEMALE CHILDREN TO THE TEMPLE OF JAGANNATH IN PURI

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked:—

I. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the open letters published in a Calcutta paper named Satya Sanatan Dharma on the 14th November, 1910, and again on the 6th April, 1911, addressed to the Government of Bengal and to the Imperial Government, respectively, bringing to light the custom of dedicating female children to the temple of Jagannath in Puri (Orissa), who, when grown up, lead immoral lives as long as they live, and requesting the Government to abolish the said custom?

(b) Is the Government in a position to say whether the allegations made in the said paper are correct?

(c) Will it please the Government to state whether any communication on this subject has been received by it from the Secretary of State for India?

(d) Is the Government aware that the aforesaid complaint of the Satya Sanatan Dharma has been supported by nearly the entire Indian Press, not only by those in favour of reform, but also by such orthodox Hindu papers as the Hitabadi and Hita Varta of Calcutta?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Government propose to take any action in the matter with the object of stopping this immoral custom?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(b) Government has ascertained that about 100 dancing girls are attached to the Jaganath Temple at Puri and are dedicated to its service. The allegations referred to are believed not to be applicable to any other temple in the Province.

(c) The answer is in the affirmative.

(e) Government would view with favour and lend its support to any organized attempt made by Hindu society at large to eradicate the evils which have grown up round the system at Puri, but it considers that any such movement should emanate from the people themselves, and it does not propose to initiate reforms on its own motion in a matter so closely connected with religious observance.

UNSUITABILITY OF THE INDIAN SUCCESSION ACT TO THE ABORIGINAL TRIBES OF CHOTA NAGPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked:—

II. Is the Government aware that the provisions of the Indian Succession Act are quite unsuited to the conditions of the Mundas, Urans and other aboriginal tribes of Chota Nagpur who, in the matter of succession and inheritance, follow their own peculiar customs?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

It has been ascertained that the aboriginal tribes in Chota Nagpur are governed by peculiar customary rules of succession and inheritance. As Chota Nagpur is about to be dissociated from the Province of Bengal, this Government consider that the question of the unsuitability of the provisions of the Indian Succession Act, in the case of these tribes, may be properly left to the new Government to deal with."

LOCATION OF AN ADDITIONAL JUDGE OR A SUBORDINATE JUDGE AT MOTIHARI.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

III. (a) Will the Government now be pleased to supply the figures asked for in my question No. XII (a) put in this Council on the 15th August, 1911, on the subject of the location of an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at Motihari in the Champaran district?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has received the reports of the District Judge and the Subordinate Judge of Muzaffarpur, the District Magistrate and Collector of Motihari and the Sub-divisional Magistrate of Bettiah, as also the opinions of the leading men of the town and district of Motihari and of the Manager of the Bettiah Raj on the subject of the memorial submitted by the people of Motihari praying for the location of an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at that station?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether the consensus of the said opinions is in favour of the location of an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at Motihari?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to locate an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at Motihari, or what action, if any, it intends to take on the said memorial and on the reports of the officials referred to in clause (b) of the question?

The Hon'ble MR CHAPMAN replied —

(b) (c) (d) The District Judge and the High Court have been consulted in regard to the prayer contained in the Memorial for the location of an Additional or Subordinate Judge's Court at Motihari. The District Judge has replied, and the High Court's opinion is awaited. The Government is not disposed to take any action until the High Court's opinion is received

DIVISION OF THE PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE SERVICES BETWEEN THE PROVINCES OF BENGAL AND BIHAR

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

IV—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Provincial Judicial and Executive Services are going to be divided between the Provinces of Bengal and Bihar?

(b) If so, from what date will the said division take effect?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to specify, grade by grade, the number of Subordinate Judges, Munsifs and Deputy Magistrates which it is intended to assign to the Province of Bihar?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, in making the division of the services, it intends to retain in Bihar such Bengali (Judicial and Executive) Officer as have experience of Bihar districts?

(e) Is the Government in a position to state how many Biharis are likely to be appointed as Subordinate Judges in the new Province of Bihar at the time of the division of the cadre?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(a), (b) and (c) The question of the division of the Provincial Judicial Service between the Provinces of Bengal and Bihar is under consideration. The Executive Service will be divided between both the Provinces, but no particulars regarding the date from which the division will take place, or the grades to be assigned to either Province, have yet been finally decided.

(d) The principle suggested is being followed so far as it is consistent with the other considerations which arise.

(e) Government is not at present in a position to state how many Biharis are likely to be appointed as Subordinate Judges in the new Province of Bihar.

ABOLITION OF THE 4TH GRADE OF THE PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL SERVICE

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

V.—In view of the fact that the Government has abolished the eighth grade (on Rs. 200) of the Provincial Executive Service, will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to take any action with a view to a similar abolition of the fourth grade of the Provincial Judicial Service, which carries the same pay?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

Government have already had a proposal before them for raising the pay of the lowest grade of Munsiffs. The consideration of the question has been postponed, pending the reconstitution of the Province.

THE NEW SECRETARIAT AND BIHAR'S CLAIM.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

VI. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an article headed "The New Secretariat and Bihar's claim" which appeared in the issue of Young Bihar of the 29th January, 1912?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the statement, made in some of the Calcutta papers, that it is proposed to staff the Secretariat for the new Province of Bihar solely with officers taken from Calcutta, is correct?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, when making appointments to the new Secretariat and other offices in the new Province of Bihar, it intends to consider the claims of the people of Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to notify the number of such appointments and to invite applications therefor?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state when the said appointments will be made and who will make them?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(b) to (e) The scale of Secretariat and other office establishments for each of the new Provinces and the Assam Administration has not yet been fixed, and, until this is done, the selection of the personnel to fill the several posts cannot be undertaken. When the selection is being made, it will be necessary to pay due consideration to the claims of those clerks who are already in the employment of Government. The method of selecting outside applicants to fill available vacancies in the Secretariat and other office establishments of the new Province of Bihar and Orissa will rest with the Government of that Province, when constituted, and is not a matter within the competence of the Bengal Government.

APPOINTMENT OF A SUB-OVERSEER IN THE DALTONGANJ MUNICIPALITY

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

VII. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the letter of a Daltonganj Correspondent, which appeared in the Bihar Advocate and Kayastha Messenger of the 1st and 8th January, 1912, regarding the appointment of a Sub-Overseer in the Daltonganj Municipality?

(b) Is it a fact that the claims of many trained Biharis, who had passed the requisite examinations of the Bihar School of Engineering, were overlooked by the Municipal Authorities in favour of an outsider who had undergone no such training and had none of the necessary qualifications?

(c) If the answer to the last question is in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to take any action with a view to putting a stop to occurrences of this nature?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

The appointment of Municipal servants is regulated by statute. Under section 46 of the Municipal Act, the Municipal Commissioners can decide upon the scale of establishment necessary, and, subject to this scale, the Chairman has powers to appoint such persons as he may think fit, but an appointment to an office, the salary of which is Rs. 50 a month, requires the sanction of the Commissioners at a meeting. These powers are limited by section 61 which requires the sanction of the Commissioner when the salary of an office is Rs. 100 a month and that of the Local Government when the salary is Rs. 200. No qualifications have been prescribed for the post of Municipal Sub-Overseer, and Government is unwilling to interfere with the discretion of the Municipality by inquiring into the circumstances of this particular appointment.

SUB-REGISTRARS AND THE SALARIED SYSTEM

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

VIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that, on or about the 21st March, 1910, several Sub-Registrars, who had served in that capacity before the introduction of the salaried system, submitted separate memorials to Government praying that the period of their services before the introduction of that system might be counted towards pension on the grounds advanced in their memorials?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has considered the subject of the said memorials and, if so, what action has been taken thereon?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied:—

(b) Government has considered the memorials. The orders that service before the introduction of the salaried system should not count for pension were passed by the Government of India, and this Government, in view of the other advantages gained by the Sub-Registrars from the introduction of the salaried system, did not feel justified in asking for a reconsideration of the matter. Orders have, however, been issued that the ordinary rules relating to retirement should be applied with discretion in the case of Sub-Registrars, whose work is mainly of a routine character and does not demand so much mental and physical energy as is required in most other services. It has been directed that consideration should be shown in the case of a Sub-Registrar who has exceeded the age of 55 years, but who is still fit for work, and who may qualify for pension with a reasonable amount of extension of service.

COTTON GAMBLING IN CALCUTTA

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

IX. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a series of articles on the subject of the growing practise of "Cotton gambling" in Calcutta, which appeared in the weekly edition of the Bharatmitra of the 28th October, 1911, and in the daily edition of the same paper of the 5th December, 1911, 4th January, 1912, and 16th January, 1912, respectively?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether it has taken, or intends to take, any action in the matter with a view to putting a stop to this evil?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(b) A proposal to legislate with a view to suppress Cotton-gambling is now under the consideration of Government.

INCREASE OF PAY TO OFFICERS OF THE LAST GRADE OF THE PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL SERVICE

The Hon'ble RAI BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN BAHADUR asked:—

X (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, now that the eighth grade of the Provincial Executive Service has been abolished and the officers of that grade have been amalgamated with the officers of the seventh grade, and accorded a salary of Rs. 250 per mensem, it intends to raise the pay of the officers of the last grade of the Provincial Judicial Service to Rs. 250 per month?

(b) If so, will the Government be further pleased to state when it intends to do this?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

(a) & (b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply given to the Hon'ble Babu Braj Kishor Prasad's question upon the same subject.

COTTON-GAMBLING IN CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble MR. GOLAM HOSSEIN CASSIM ARIFF asked:—

XI. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the recent establishment of a large number of shops in the town of Calcutta and its suburbs where gambling is carried on publicly, under a system known as the "Cotton figure", and to the fact that these shops are frequented by, amongst others, women and school children?

(b) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that the Commissioner of Police has expressed his inability, under the present law, to close these shops or to stop gambling therein?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(a) & (b) The answers to both questions are in the affirmative

IMPROVEMENT OF THE PAY AND PROSPECTS OF CIVIL ASSISTANT SURGEONS IN BENGAL

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked :—

XII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has received any communication on the subject of the proposals submitted by it to the Government of India with reference to the petition submitted, in 1907, by the Civil Assistant Surgeons in Bengal, praying that their pay and prospects in the service might be improved?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the communication on the table?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state how many Civil Assistant Surgeons hold the appointment of Civil Surgeon within the territories under the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied —

A communication was received from the Government of India in October last, but a further reference to that Government was necessary. As the matter is still a subject of correspondence with the Government of India, the papers cannot be laid on the table.

There are at present three Civil Assistant Surgeons in permanent charge of Civil Surgeoncies in this Province.

SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked :—

XIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has received the report called for from the Director of Land Records, in regard to the representation submitted by the Bihar Landholders' Association, Bankipore, on the 5th April, 1911, relating to the grievances of the people of Bihar against Survey and Settlement operations in that Province?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the report on the table?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied : —

(b) The report was received from the Board of Revenue on the 8th February, 1912, and is still under the consideration of Government and so cannot be laid on the table.

ALLEGED PROPOSED PARTITION OF THE DISTRICT OF MIDNAPORE.

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT asked :—

XIV. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has any proposal now under consideration for the partition of the district of Midnapore?

(b) Is the Government aware that there was such a proposal in 1907, but that the Government of India declined to take any action upon it?

(c) Is the Government aware that a memorial was submitted to the Government of India in 1907 by the people of Midnapore protesting against the partition of the district of Midnapore?

(d) Is the Government aware that the Government of India informed the memorialists, through the Government of Bengal, in a letter dated the 17th of April, "that the people will be given a full opportunity of expressing their opinion before any such step is taken," meaning thereby "any step towards the partition of" the district of Midnapore?

No year has been stated. A. W. WATSON—16-2-1912.

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what opportunity, if any, has been given to the people and the public, or to any representative body, to express their opinion regarding the rumoured partition of the district of Midnapore?

(f) Is the Government aware that there is a strong feeling in Midnapore regarding the proposed partition of the district?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has considered the question of the expenditure which will be entailed upon the provincial revenues if the proposed partition is effected?

(h) Will the Government be pleased to state what is likely to be the recurring and non-recurring expenditure if the partition of the district is effected and a new district is created?

(i) Will the Government be pleased to defer the consideration of the question of the proposed partition of the district of Midnapore till the new Governorship in Council is constituted?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied —

The answer to the first question asked by the Hon'ble Member is that proposals for the partition of the district of Midnapore are not now under consideration and will not be taken into consideration by the present Government. In those circumstances the Hon'ble Member will perhaps agree that the remaining questions call for no reply.

LOCATION OF A SUBORDINATE JUDGE AT HOWRAH

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT asked :—

XV. Will the Government be pleased to state what steps, if any, have been taken for the location of a Subordinate Judge at Howrah?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied :—

The question of the location of a Subordinate Judge's Court at Howrah is under the consideration of Government, in consultation with the High Court.

GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTION TOWARDS THE EXTENSION OF THE HOWRAH WATER-WORKS

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY asked :—

XVI. Will the Government be pleased to refer to Bengal Government letter No. 712M. (Municipal Department), dated the 4th April, 1911, addressed to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, intimating that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council was pleased to promise a contribution of 5 lakhs of rupees from Provincial Revenues towards the costs for the extension of the Howrah water-works, and to state whether the contribution was burdened with any condition?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

The promise of the contribution of rupees 5 lakhs from Provincial Revenue towards the cost of the extension of the Howrah water-works was made upon a full consideration of all the bearings of the rough project then before Government. This consideration included the probability of a supply of filtered water being made available to the Uttarpara Municipality. The promise was of course contingent upon the detailed plans being in substantial conformity with the rough project.

SUPPLY OF FILTERED WATER TO THE UTTERPARAH MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY asked :—

XVII. Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a memorandum No. 963M., dated the 18th October, 1911, addressed by the Commissioner of Burdwan to the Magistrate of Howrah, forwarding copy of a communication from the Sanitary Board in regard to the supply of filtered water to the Utterparah Municipality?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

No copy of the Memorandum by the Commissioner of Burdwan referred to has been forwarded to Government.

DISCONTINUANCE OF THE PRACTICE OF TAKING SPECIAL NOTICE OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY IN THE ANNUAL RESOLUTION ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES IN BENGAL.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY asked :—

XVIII. Will the Government be pleased to refer to paragraph 38 of the Government Resolution on the working of Municipalities in Bengal, during the year 1905-1906, and to state for what reason the practice of taking special notice of the administration of the Howrah Municipality in the Annual Resolutions has since been discontinued?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

"A short separate review of the administration of the Howrah Municipality was made for the first time in the Resolution on the working of Municipalities for the year 1902-03 and was discontinued in the Resolution for the year 1907-08. There has been no special reason for the discontinuance since that year, but the necessity for a separate review of the Howrah Municipality depends principally upon the nature of the working during the year."

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The Hon'ble Mr Greer made a statement in regard to the Financial Statement for 1912-1913.

He said :—

It has been thought desirable that the Members of Council should be made acquainted at the earliest opportunity with the procedure contemplated in connection with the Budget for 1912-13.

In the ordinary course the draft Financial Statement would by now have been examined by the Finance Committee whose recommendations would have been considered by the Local Government, prior to the submission of the second edition of the estimates to the Government of India. The Revised Financial Statement would then have been introduced and explained by the different Members in charge early in March, and Resolutions would have been moved and discussed. Finally the budget debate would have been held, about the end of the month.

It has probably already struck the Members of this Council that the announcements made by His Imperial Majesty at Delhi, which affect the existing constitution of this Province must have a considerable effect upon this normal procedure. The Finance Committee were consulted originally in the preparation of the estimates for this Province but the estimates for the ensuing year are now being framed separately for that portion of the present Province which will continue in Bengal on the one hand, and for Bihar, Chota-Nagpur and Orissa on the other, with the consequence that there will be no Financial Statement with which this Council, with its present membership, is legitimately concerned. The non-official members from the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and those officials who will continue in Bengal have no authority to criticise the future Budget of Bihar and Orissa; the estimates for the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions will only be a fragment of the Budget for Bengal, and even in that fragment the non-official and official representatives who are about to sever their connection with Bengal are not interested. The position is peculiar, but it is unavoidable, and in these exceptional circumstances it is hoped that it will be recognised as fair and reasonable that the ordinary budget procedure during the current Session must be waived. This is from no desire to burke discussion but merely as the natural consequence of the unusual conditions existing. The Budget of each of the new Provinces for the next year must simply consist of what the Government of India allot under the various heads. In the absence of a Council capable of dealing with the Budget of each Province, this is the only course. The President therefore has been pleased to exercise his power of suspending such of the Rules as would have rendered the above procedure obligatory, and no Financial Statement or Budget will accordingly be brought before the present Council.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

THE CALCUTTA PORT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1912.

The Hon'ble Mr. Greer moved that the Bill further to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke, the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore, the Hon'ble Mr. White, the Hon'ble Sir Frederick George Dumayne, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. Norman McLeod, the Hon'ble Babu Hrishikesh Laha and the mover, with instructions to report within a fortnight.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL MINING SETTLEMENTS BILL, 1911

The Hon'ble Raja Kisori Lal Goswami moved that the Hon'ble Mr. J. H. Kerr be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the sanitation of mining settlements in Bengal.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 6th March, 1912, at 11 A.M.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 60 (third publication) —The following particulars, etc, relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1912), are republished —

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that local or other circumstances may arise in which it may be necessary, on account of periodical exercises, manœuvres, or otherwise, to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (2), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (2), Part II, of this Notice.

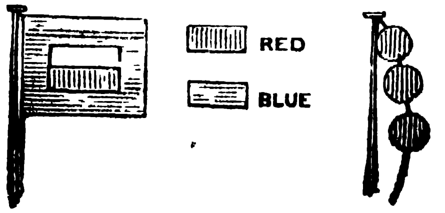
If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.



(1) Under certain circumstances it may become necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

(2) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (4) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor.

(3) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (4), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket

(4) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(5) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions as to entry given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(6) In case of fog, Masters of vessels are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution

(7) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

ADMIRALTY PUBLICATIONS.

True bearings to be introduced.

No. 61 (third publication) —The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No 2 of 1912), are republished:—

Notice is hereby given that, on and after the date of this Notice, TRUE bearings will be introduced as soon as practicable in all Admiralty Publications.

Details of the new system are as follows:—

(a) On charts:

A new pattern compass is already being gradually introduced which enables True Bearings to be laid off on the chart in addition to Magnetic Bearings as at present. (See diagram overleaf)

The compass consists of two graduated circles, clearly separated from each other.

The outer circle is a True compass, graduated from 0° (True North) to 360°, measured clockwise.

The inner circle is a Magnetic compass, graduated in points and in degrees from 0° to 90° as heretofore.

The bearings of leading and clearing marks, etc., will be given both True and Magnetic, and a note to this effect will be placed in the title of the charts. (See overleaf.)

Example.—The bearing S. 40° W. true, with a Variation of 12° Easterly, will be shown thus: 220° (S. 28° W. Mag.)

(b) In Sailing Directions:

Bearings will be given as True only, in degrees from 0° (North) to 360°, measured clockwise; and a note to this effect will be given in the Title-page, in the Advertisement, and in the page immediately preceding page 1 of all volumes of Sailing Directions. The variation will continue to be given on each page as at present, so that Magnetic bearings may be obtained when required.

This alteration will be introduced gradually.

(c) In Notices to Mariners:

All bearings will be given both True and Magnetic in a similar manner to that adopted on charts, the necessary alteration having been now made in the heading of the Notices.

Bearings will be given as True only, in degrees from 0° (North) to 360°, measured clockwise.

On each page of the Lists of Lights in which this alteration has been carried out, a footnote will be placed stating that all bearings are TRUE FROM SEAWARD.

New Pattern Compass.

Addition to title of Chart.

Bearings are given both True and Magnetic thus. 298° (N 54°. W. Mag.)

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH SEPTEMBER 1911.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd February 1912.

RESOLUTION—No 92*L R.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September 1911.

THE area of the province as now constituted is 115,792 square miles. Including 3,567 square miles of original work completed during the year ending the 30th September 1911, the total area, which has been cadastrally surveyed, and for which a record-of-rights has been prepared, under the control of the Director of Land Records, is 54,959 square miles; and topographical or forest surveys have been made in respect of an additional area of 9,243 square miles. The tracts which have been completed entirely are the temporarily-settled estates of Orissa, where the operations included a resettlement of the land revenue, and the Tirhut and Bhagalpur Divisions. In the Patna Division, the district of Patna will be completed by the end of March 1912, while in Shahabad, which was begun in the field season of 1907-08, the operations will come to a close in the financial year 1914-15. In the district of Gaya, the traverse survey has only just started, and the whole work will not be finished until about October 1917. Of the five districts in the Chota Nagpur Division, Ranchi and Singhbhum have been practically completed ; in Hazaribagh operations were commenced in the field season of 1908-09, and will be completed in the financial year 1915-16. In Manbhum, Parganas Barahabhum and Patkum, comprising an area of 934 square miles, were taken up in 1908 09 in advance of the rest of the district, owing to the strained relations which existed between the Midnapore Zamindari Company and their tenants and to the necessity for an early solution of the Ghatwali question. The operations in these two parganas will probably be completed in the ensuing financial year. The rest of Manbhum, covering an area of 3,280 square miles, and the district of Palamau are the only areas which remain to be dealt with in the Chota Nagpur Division In the latter, operations will be commenced in the field season of 1912-13.

As regards the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, the only tracts which have, so far, been taken in hand are the district of Midnapore and an area of 136 square miles in the Rampur-Hât subdivision of the district of Birbhum. In the former district, the settlement of the Government and temporarily settled estates and of certain scattered private estates, covering in all over 1,000 square miles or about one-fifth of the district, has been completed, and it has now been decided to extend the work to the remainder of the district. The traverse survey was commenced in October 1910, and the operations are likely to continue till about the end of September 1917. The Sonthal area in Birbhum was taken up in 1909-10 in advance of the provincial programme, in consequence of serious discontent amongst the Sonthal cultivators, and is likely to be completed in the ensuing financial year

2. During the year under report, the programmes of both the Survey and the Settlement Departments were practically carried out in full. The outturn, (3,618 square miles), of traverse survey, which was carried on in the districts of Hazaribagh, Shahabad and Midnapore, was practically the same as in the previous year (3,635 square miles) As compared with 1909-10, there was a reduction of cost rates in Hazaribagh (from Rs 35·2 to Rs. 30·5) and in Shahabad (from Rs. 36 5 to Rs 35 7). In the former district, the traversing was less intricate and required fewer stations to the square mile, but in the latter the conditions were much the same as in the previous year. It is satisfactory to note that in Midnapore, where labour rates are higher than in Bihar or Chota Nagpur, and where the usual difficulties of the first season's work had to be encountered, the cost per square mile amounted only to Rs. 35·6.

Notwithstanding various difficulties, good progress was made in the revision survey of Calcutta and allied items of work, which are nearing completion The experimental diara survey commenced in the preceding year was continued, and covered about 50 linear miles. The work has so far proved successful, and a proposal to extend it gradually to all the diaras of the Province is now under consideration. In the Bengal Drawing Office, good progress was made in the various branches, and the Surveyor General of India, who inspected the office, expressed his satisfaction with the work which is being carried out.

The work of the Settlement Department lay in 15 districts, and consisted of the settlement of rents payable by tenants and of land revenue in Government or temporarily-settled estates, the preparation of a record-of-rights with the settlement of fair rents on the application of landlords or tenants in permanently-settled tracts, and the revision of the cadastral survey and record-of-rights in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore, with experimental maintenance of the record in Balasore.

4. The total area cadastrally surveyed was 3,378 square miles as against 3,474 square miles in the previous year, and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council is glad to learn that the Director of Surveys, who inspected a large proportion of the work done in Bihar and Chota Nagpur, found that the required standard of accuracy was being well maintained by the settlement staff, and that the style of drawing was, on the whole, distinctly good.

Including the revisional and experimental maintenance work in Orissa, the total number of tenancies for which particulars of rents and status were recorded during the year was 1,435,342 as against 1,134,366 in 1909-10. The number of cases in which rents were settled by compromise under section 109 C of the Bengal Tenancy Act was smaller than in the previous year, but it was sufficiently large to show that the procedure continued to be useful and to be appreciated by the landlords and tenants concerned In Shahabad especially, a considerable number of longstanding disputes were satisfactorily terminated with the help of this section. There was a large amount of settlement of fair rents under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and section 85 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, notably in South Monghyr Patna, Ranchi, Dhalbhum and the Jagir Mahals including Parikud in the district of Puri, and moderate enhancements were allowed on the grounds of rise in prices and excess area. In the Puri Jagir Mahals and in Dhalbhum, the chief work of the year was the settlement of rents, with which was combined the commutation of produce rents. In the former area, a complete rent settlement of the tract has been made, and all produce rents have been commuted to cash rents, while in Dhalbhum about two-thirds of the pargana have been similarly dealt with. In the latter tract, the Midnapore Zamindari Company themselves applied for the commutation of produce rents the reason apparently being that, in a large zamindari where rents are collected by underlings, much of the produce is intercepted by them, and it is of advantage to the zamindar to have produce rents replaced by cash rents that are nominally lower. Commutation cases disposed of during the year in South Monghyr numbered 4,726, and in Patna 3,080. It is noticed that a large number of appeals are pending against the commutation proceedings in these districts, and it is hoped that steps will be taken to dispose of them at an early date.

5. The provisions of section 112 of the Bengal Tenancy Act were for the first time put in force in the case of the estate of Babu Sukhan Singh in South Monghyr. The Director of Land Records reports that considerable difficulties were experienced, owing partly to the obstructive attitude of the landlord and partly to defects in the section itself. He suggests that the section should be amended so as to give the settlement officer fuller powers to deal with produce rents and with arrears. Fuller experience of the working of the section is, however, necessary before any definite proposals for its amendment can be formulated.

6. The Director of Land Records has drawn attention to the widespread disregard by the landlords of South Bihar of the provisions of section 56 of the Bengal Tenancy Act relating to the grant of proper rent receipts, and to the inadequate penalties imposed in many cases by Revenue Officers under section 58. Mr. McPherson's remarks on this point should be brought to the notice of the Commissioners of the Bhagalpur and Patna Divisions and of the district officers concerned. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council is glad to see that the judicious working of the corresponding provisions of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act have had a marked effect in producing obedience to the law in Chota Nagpur, and he trusts that the same results will be achieved in Bihar.

7. The facts as to the agrarian conditions of the Sonthal villages in the Rampur Hât subdivision of Birbhum, which have been brought to light by the settlement proceedings, have fully justified their extension to that area. In paragraph 78 of the Director's report a vivid picture has been given of the abuses prevalent in Hazaribagh. The attestation stage has disclosed that the raiyats as a body are under the heels of the landlords and that the absence of litigation is due not to satisfactory relations between the landlords and their tenants, but to the ignorance of the tenants of their rights and to their despair of successful resistance to the landlords in the courts. It is said to be a common practice with the landlords to evict their tenants without bringing any suit. Illegal enhancements of rent were found in nearly every village, and had frequently been repeated at five-yearly intervals. The worst evils were found in areas under the thikadari system, where villages are leased out by the landlords on short temporary leases to farmers, who, having no permanent interest in the villages, merely try to exact the largest possible sum from the raiyats during the term of their contract. It is hoped that the settlement operations, by providing an authoritative record of-rights and obligations and by their educative effect, will appreciably improve the condition of the tenantry in this district, as they have in others.

8. Good progress was made in the work of revising the records in Orissa. Draft publication of records was completed in all three districts, and considerable advance was made in final publication. In both cases the records were published at convenient central camps instead of in the village,—an innovation which is reported to have been a complete success, as regards economy and expedition of work, wherever it has been adopted. The volume of case work is now expected to be much heavier than originally anticipated, but as the additional cost will be recouped from court fee receipts, the net total expenditure on the operations will not, in all probability, much exceed the estimate.

9. The experiment of annual maintenance of records in Balasore was extended, in the year under review, to the whole district and considerable progress was made Experience showed, however, that any system of efficient annual maintenance must involve very heavy expenditure, and in July, in view of the orders received from the Government of India, the work was stopped and the rest of the year devoted to the preparation of a programme of triennial maintenance in Balasore, and such portions of Cuttack as might be ready for the experiment in the present field season. The whole question is now under the consideration of Government and a report will shortly be submitted to the Government of India.

10. The work of the Land Records staff in Sambalpur was performed satisfactorily The mutation offices established in North Bihar under the Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895, continued to be unsuccessful, but the Lieutenant Governor in Council agrees with the Director of Land Records that the question of their abolition should stand over until it has been decided when the revision survey and record-of-rights in North Bihar is to be taken up. The record of mutations in Government estates was on the whole satisfactory, but in Wards' estates the standard attained still leaves much to be desired and the Board should draw the attention of the local officers to the subject. His Honour in Council notices with satisfaction that district officers are taking a growing interest in the maintenance of boundary marks, and that cadastral maps and settlement records, wherever they exist, are freely consulted and are found to be invaluable in criminal cases and in all branches of revenue work.

11. The Survey Department was in charge of Colonel Crichton, C.I.E., for the whole year, with the exception of a period of 20 days during which Captain R. Foster, the Assistant Director, officiated. The Hon'ble Mr. H. McPherson was in charge of the Department of Land Records throughout the year. The two departments worked in perfect harmony and the usual high standard of efficiency was maintained. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council are due to these officers, and also to Messrs. J. D. Sifton, J. A. Hubback, J. F. W. James and J. Taylor, who were in charge of the larger settlements. His Honour in Council is also pleased to notice the good services of a large number of other officers of both departments, whose names have been mentioned in the concluding chapters of the two Reports.

ORDER—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Gazette and that a copy of it with copies of the two Reports be submitted to the Government of India

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Secy to the Govt of Bengal.

CIRCULAR No 3-F.—267-5

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

(FORESTS)

Simla, the 12th February 1912.

THE following revised Regulations for the selection and training of probationers for the Indian Forest Service in 1912 are published in supersession of those published in this Department's Circular No 27F.—267-3, dated the 23rd October 1911.—

INDIAN FOREST SERVICE.

Regulations as to the appointment of Probationers, 1912.

1. Appointments—The Secretary of State for India in Council will, in the summer of 1912, make not less than five appointments of Probationers for the Indian Forest Service, provided that so many candidates are considered to be in all respects qualified.

In making these appointments, he will act with the advice of a Selection Committee

2 Applications for Appointment—Applications for appointment must be made on a printed form to be obtained from the Secretary, Revenue Department, India Office, Whitehall, London, S W, and to be returned to him not later than Monday, the 1st July 1912. Candidates must be prepared, if called upon, to attend at the India Office, at their own expense, for a personal interview with the Selection Committee within three weeks from that date

3 Age Limit.—Candidates must be not less than 19 but under 23 years of age on the 1st July 1912.

Notice is hereby given that the age limits for the recruitment of 1913 and following years will be 19 and 22 years on the 1st January of the year in which the selection is made.

4 Nationality, etc—Every candidate must be a natural-born British subject. He must be unmarried, and if he marries before he reaches India he will forfeit his appointment. He must be of good physique, and must produce evidence of character to satisfy the Secretary of State for India in Council that he is suited for the Indian Forest Service.

5. Qualifications.—Candidates must be able to show that in addition to having received a good general education they have passed with honours in a public examination for a degree in some branch of Natural Science held by a University in Great Britain or Ireland. A good general education should be understood to include, at the least, a fair knowledge of English Composition, Mathematics up to and including Plane Trigonometry, and either German or French. The production of school certificates granted by the examining authorities of Universities, or of certificates that a candidate has passed the Matriculation Examination of a University, in the subjects named or of other certificates held by the Secretary of State in Council to be equivalent, will be taken to show that a candidate satisfies the requirements of his clause.

Note—The Selection Committee will consider the applications of candidates who have sat at an examination for a degree as mentioned above but have not, at the time of the meetings of the Selection Committee, learned the result of the examination

6. Should there be more candidates considered to be qualified in every respect than vacancies to be filled, the Secretary of State reserves the right to require them to pass a competitive examination conducted by the Civil Service Commissioners, on the results of which their final selection would depend Particulars of this examination, which would be held in August, will be found in Appendix I

7 Medical Examination.—Selected candidates will be required to undergo a strict examination by a Medical Board at the India Office, at which particular stress will be laid on good vision and hearing, and to satisfy the Secretary of State for India that they are physically fit for service in the Indian Forest Department (see Appendix V).

Candidates who do not satisfy the Secretary of State for India that they are physically fit for appointment to the Indian Forest Service will not be admitted to the competitive examination mentioned in Regulation 6.

8 Period of Probation.—The ordinary period of probation will be two years During that time probationers will be required to pass through the Forestry course at one of the Universities named in the margin, becoming members of that University if not so already; to obtain the Degree or Diploma in Forestry which it grants; to acquire some knowledge of Hindustani; and to satisfy such other tests of proficiency as may be deemed necessary. The case of students who have already obtained such degree or diploma at any of the above-named Universities will be specially considered in each case.

Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh.

During the vacations the probationers will, under the direction and supervision of the Director of Indian Forest Studies appointed by the Secretary of State for India in Council, receive practical instruction in such British and Continental forests as may be selected for the purpose

9 Charges.—The probationers will be required to defray all expenses of lodging, board, tuition, and excursions, while at the University, and on practical instruction in Britain and on the Continent with the exception of fees payable to local forest officers in Britain and on the Continent

10. Allowances—The Secretary of State for India in Council will make payments to each probationer at the rate of 120*l*. annually, not exceeding a total of 240*l*. (besides the fees to local officers mentioned above). These payments will ordinarily be made on the following dates in each year.—

On the 1st December	30
On the 1st March	30
On the 1st June	60

The cases of probationers whose probation does not extend over the full two years will be specially considered.

The grant of the allowances is subject to the following conditions:—

(a) that the progress of the probationer in his studies is satisfactory;

(b) that the probationer gives security to refund the payments in case he fails to join the Indian Forest Service at the end of the period of probation

11. Conduct—Every probationer will be required to conduct himself during the period of probation in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of State, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in his studies in such a manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to have his name removed from the list of probationers.

12. Appointment and Seniority.—Probationers who obtain a Degree or Diploma in Forestry, and are of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Indian Forest Service, will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Indian Forest Department Their position in the Provincial Forest Lists will be determined by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the Report of the Director of Indian Forest Studies; but in making selections for the post of Conservator, officers joining the service in the same year are reckoned as equal in seniority unless the Secretary of State for India in Council shall for special reasons have directed otherwise in any particular case or cases

They will be allowed at the end of the period of probation to state their preference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted; but the distribution will be made to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India Officers are, however, at all times liable to be transferred from one Province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India

13 Riding.—Every probationer, before proceeding to India, will be required to satisfy the Secretary of State, in such manner as may be determined, of his ability to ride

14 Articles of Agreement—Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment; he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and must engage his own passage. Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

15. Passage Allowance.—An allowance on account of passage to India will be paid to each probationer on appointment to the Indian Forest Service, to the amount of 37*l*. 10*s*. for passage to Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, and 43*l* for passage to Rangoon.

Note—The above is the normal rate of passage allowance. In consequence of the surtax of 10 per cent. at present charged by shipping companies in respect of passages to India the above rates of passage allowance have been raised to 41*l*. 5*s* and 46*l* 5*s*, respectively. Should this surtax be removed, these rates will be reduced to those given in paragraph 15.

16. Salary.—An Assistant Conservator of Forests will draw pay at the rate of Rs. 280 a month (equivalent to 304*l*. a year, when the rupee is at 1*s*. 4*d*) from the date of his reporting his arrival in India.

17. Promotion, Leave, Pension and Provident Fund—Promotion, leave, and pension will be governed by the Regulations laid down by the Government of India, and applicable to Forest officers, such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made in them from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt arising being left to that Government. A copy of the existing regulations can be seen on application at the India Office

Certain information regarding appointments in the upper controlling staff of the Indian Forest Service, the pay of which has been recently improved, will be found in Appendix II; a summary of information regarding Leave is contained in Appendix III; and regarding Pensions and the Provident Fund in Appendix IV

APPENDIX I

COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION.

In the event of the Civil Service Commissioners being requested by the Secretary of State for India in Council to hold an examination in any year of candidates nominated by him to compete for appointment as probationers for the above service, the following will be the subjects in which such candidates will be examined —

	Maximum marks		Maximum marks
(1) English Composition ..	100	(5) Geology ...	100
(2) German or French ..	100	(6) Botany .	100
(3) Chemistry	100	(7) Zoology ...	100
(4) Physics	100

Not more than two of the subjects numbered 4 to 7 may be offered

Candidates must pass to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners in the first three subjects

In the subjects numbered 3 to 7, only marks showing real attainment will be counted towards the order of merit, so that a candidate who has a thorough knowledge of one of the optional subjects may obtain on that subject alone as many marks as a candidate who offers two of the optional subjects on a lower standard

SYLLABUS.

Languages—The examination in German and French will include translation, composition, and conversation

Sciences—The standard of the examination in Chemistry, Physics, Geology, Botany, and Zoology will be that of the Honours Schools of the Universities.

NOTE.—Under the improved scale of salary shown above, no Exchange Compensation Allowance is granted.

APPENDIX III.

(See paragraph 17 of the Regulations.)

LEAVE.

1. The following is a summary of the principal regulations relating to the leave admissible to officers appointed to the Indian Forest Service by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom

Long Leave.

2. Furlough and special leave with allowances (see paragraph 6) are admissible to an aggregate maximum amount of six years during an officer's service. The amount of furlough "earned" is one-fourth of an officer's active service, and the amount "due" is that amount less any enjoyed.

3. Furlough without medical certificate can, if due, be generally taken after eight years' active service, and again after intervals of not less than three years' continuous service. It is limited to two years at a time.

4. Furlough on medical certificate may be granted (a) to an officer who has rendered three years' continuous service, for not more than two years, but capable of extension up to three years, and (b) to an officer who has not rendered three years' continuous service, up to one year in any case, and up to such longer period, if any (but not exceeding two years in all), as the officer may have furlough "due" to him

5. The allowances admissible during furlough are :—

(1) During the first two years of furlough without medical certificate and during so much of furlough with medical certificate as may be "due"—half average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

(2) After the expiration of the period for which the foregoing allowances are admissible—one quarter of average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

6. Special leave may be granted at any time for not more than six months, with intervals of six years' service; allowances, calculated as during furlough, are given during the first six months only, whether taken in one or more instalments

Short Leave.

7. Privilege leave is a holiday which may be granted to the extent of one-eleventh part of the time that an officer has been on duty without interruption; and it may be accumulated up to three months earned by 33 months' duty During privilege leave, the officer retains a lien on his appointment, and receives the salary which he would have received if on duty An interval of not less than six months must elapse between two periods of absence on privilege leave

Privilege leave may be prefixed to furlough, special leave, or extraordinary leave without allowances. The whole period of leave thus taken in combination is known as combined leave Combined leave may not be granted for a period of less duration than six months, nor, except on medical certificate, may it be extended beyond two years.

8 Subsidiary leave in India for a minimum of 10 days, usually with half average salary, is granted to an officer proceeding on or returning from leave out of India, or on retirement, to enable him to reach the port of embarkation or to rejoin his appointment. It is admissible only at the end and not at the beginning of combined leave.

9. Short leave is also granted to enable officers to appear at examinations, etc

10 Extraordinary leave without allowances may be granted in case of necessity, and, except in certain specified cases, only when no other kind of leave is by rule admissible. It may be granted in continuation of other leave.

General Rules.

11. Leave of absence, whether on furlough or on privilege leave, can never be claimed as of right, and is given or refused at the discretion of Government

12 After five years' continuous absence from duty, an officer is considered to be out of the employment of Government.

13. When leave allowances other than privilege leave pay are paid at the Home Treasury, or in a Colony where the standard of currency is gold, rupees are converted into sterling at the rate of exchange fixed for the time being for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Treasuries, unless any other rate has been exceptionally authorised. But for the present the rate of conversion is subject to a minimum of 1*s.* 6*d.* to the rupee. Privilege leave pay when issued from the Home Treasury (this is only admissible when privilege leave is combined with other leave) is converted at 1*s.* 4*d.* to the rupee.

APPENDIX IV.

(See paragraph 17 of the Regulations.)

PENSIONS AND PROVIDENT FUND.

1 The following is a summary of the principal pension rules applicable to officers of the Indian Forest Service appointed by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom

An officer of the Indian Forest Service is eligible for a pension on voluntary retirement after completing 20 years' qualifying service or attaining the age of 55 years. If at an earlier date he is compelled to retire from the service through ill-health, not occasioned by irregular or intemperate habits, he becomes eligible for an invalid pension or a gratuity according to the length of his service.

The amount of pension or gratuity is regulated as follows —

After a service of less than 10 years, an invalid gratuity not exceeding one month's emoluments for each completed year of service

After a service of not less than 10 years an invalid pension not exceeding the following amounts —

Years of completed service	Maximum limit of pension.

Officers who have shown special energy and efficiency during an effective service of three years as Inspector-General of Forests or Conservator may, at the discretion of the Government of India, be allowed an additional pension of Rs 1,000 a year, subject to the condition that the officer must not retire voluntarily before the completion of a total qualifying service of 28 years.

Subject to certain prescribed conditions, rupee pensions are now issued to pensioners residing in countries where the Indian rupee is not legal tender at the rate of exchange of 1s. 9d. the rupee.

2. A General Provident Fund has also been established on the following basis :—

(a) The contribution is compulsory up to 6¼ per cent on salaries, with voluntary contributions of not more than a further 6¼ per cent. Subscriptions on leave of any kind are optional

(b) Compound interest on such payments is annually credited by Government to each officer subscribing, the rate being at present 4 per cent. per annum

(c) The sum which will thus accumulate to the credit of an officer to be his absolute property, to be handed over to him unconditionally on quitting the service; or, in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives.

(d) Other forms of life insurance will, however, if they fulfil certain conditions, be accepted in lieu of the contributions in (a).

APPENDIX V.

GENERAL PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS.

Note.—These Regulations are published for the convenience of candidates and in order to enable them to ascertain the probability of their coming up to the required physical standard. But it must be clearly understood that the Secretary of State reserves to himsef an absolute discretion to reject as unfit any candidate whom he may consider, after hearing the opinion of his medical advisers, to be physically disqualified for the public service, and that his discretion is in no respect limited by these Regulations

1. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health, and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with efficient performance of duty

2 In the examination of candidates the Medical Board will apply the following table of correlation of age, height, and chest girth :—

Age.	Height without shoes	Chest
		Girth when expanded.	Range of expansion.
	Inches	Inches.	Inches
19 to 20	$62\frac{1}{2}$ and under 65	35	2
	65 " 68	35	2
	68 " 70	$35\frac{1}{2}$	2
	70 " 72	36	2
	72 and upwards	$36\frac{1}{2}$	$2\frac{1}{2}$
21 and upwards	$62\frac{1}{2}$ and under 65	35	2
	65 " 68	$35\frac{1}{2}$	2
	68 " 70	36	2
	70 " 72	$36\frac{1}{2}$	$2\frac{1}{2}$
	72 and upwards	37	$2\frac{1}{2}$

3 Measurement of Height.—The candidate will be placed against the standard with his feet together, and the weight thrown on the heels, and not on the toes or outside of the feet He will stand erect without rigidity, and with the heels, calves, buttocks, and shoulders touching the standard ; the chin will be depressed to bring the vertex of the head level under the horizontal bar, and the height will be noted in parts of an inch to eighths No fixed limit of height is imposed

4 Measurement of Chest—The candidate will be made to stand erect with his feet together, and to raise his hands above his head. The tape will be carefully adjusted round the chest, the posterior upper edge touching the inferior angles of the shoulder-blades, and its anterior lower edge the upper part of the nipples The arms will then be lowered to hang loosely by the side, and care will be taken that the shoulders are not thrown upwards or backwards so as to displace the tape The candidate will then be directed to empty his chest of air as much as possible This is best done by continuous whistling with the lips as long as sound can be produced The tape is carefully gathered in during the process, and when the minimum measurement is reached it is recorded. The candidate will then be directed to inflate his chest to its utmost capacity This maximum measurement will likewise be noted. The girth with the chest fully expanded and the range of expansion between the minimum and the maximum will then be recorded.

5. The hearing must be good.

6. The speech without impediment.

7. The teeth in good order, i.e., decayed or broken teeth must be properly stopped or crowned, and deficient teeth replaced by artificial teeth where necessary for effective mastication

8. The chest must be well formed, the lungs and heart sound.

9. Rupture, hydrocele, varicocele, varicose veins in a severe degree, or other condition likely to cause inefficiency will disqualify a candidate, unless such condition is cured by operation.

10. The limbs, feet, and toes must be well formed and developed, with free and perfect motion of all the joints.

11 A candidate must have no congenital malformation or defect likely to interfere with efficiency.

12 A candidate must not be the subject of chronic skin disease.

13. Evidence of previous acute or chronic disease pointing to an impaired constitution will disqualify.

14. Candidates may, not more than two years before they are qualified to compete for an appointment, undergo a preliminary examination by the Medical Board, which meets at the India Office every Tuesday, under the following conditions:—

(a) Applications must be addressed to the Under Secretary of State, India Office, Whitehall, London, accompanied by a fee of two guineas, and a statement of the candidate's age

(b) Candidates must pay their travelling expenses.

(c) Candidates considered to be unfit by the Medical Board at this preliminary examination are not bound to accept its opinion, but may, at their own risk, continue their studies, with the knowledge that they will have to submit themselves for a final medical examination by the Medical Board, prior to their appointment

(d) On the other hand, it must be distinctly understood that the preliminary examination by the Medical Board is held solely for the candidate's information, and that if after that examination he is reported to be apparently fit, he has not on that account any claim to be accepted as physically fit when he presents himself for the final Medical Examination, upon which alone his acceptance or rejection will depend. Candidates may be considered fit for the Service at the preliminary examination, but may be found at the final examination to be unfit, either on account of some physical defect which did not exist or passed undetected at the preliminary examination, or for other reasons

REGULATIONS AS TO THE STANDARD OF VISION FOR THE INDIAN FOREST SERVICE.

1. If myopia in one or both eyes exists, a candidate may be passed, provided the ametropia does not exceed 2.5 D, and if with correcting glasses, not exceeding 2.5 D, the acuteness of vision in one eye equal $\frac{6}{6}$ and in the other $\frac{6}{9}$, there being normal range of accommodation with the glasses

2. Myopic astigmatism does not disqualify a candidate for service, provided the lens or the combined spherical and cylindrical lenses required to correct the error of refraction do not exceed—2.5 D; the acuteness of vision in one eye when corrected being equal to $\frac{6}{6}$, and in the other eye $\frac{6}{9}$, together with normal range of accommodation with the correcting glasses there being no evidence of progressive disease in the choroid or retina.

3. A candidate having total hypermetropia not exceeding 4 D is not disqualified, provided the sight in one eye (when under the influence of atropine) equals $\frac{6}{6}$ and in the other eye equals $\frac{6}{9}$ with + 4 D or any lower power.

4. Hypermetropic astigmatism does not disqualify a candidate for the service, provided the lens or combined lenses required to cover the error of refraction do not exceed 4 D, and that the sight of one eye equals $\frac{6}{6}$ and of the other $\frac{6}{9}$ with or without such lens or lenses

5. A candidate having a defect of vision arising from nebula of the cornea is disqualified if the sight of one eye be less than $\frac{6}{12}$. In such a case the better eye must be emmetropic. Defects of vision arising from the pathological or other changes in the deeper structures of either eye, which are not referred to in the above rules, may exclude a candidate for admission into the service.

6. Squint, or any morbid condition, subject to the risk of aggravation or recurrence, in either eye, may cause the rejection of a candidate. The existence of imperfection of colour sense will be noted on the candidate's papers.

Ordered that a copy of the foregoing Regulations be forwarded, for information, to the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, the Inspector-General of Forests, and the Comptroller, India Treasuries. Also that the Regulations be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

DECLARATION.

No. 782J.—The 5th March 1912.—Whereas certain land was acquired by the Bengal Government, under the provisions of Act I of 1894 and Act XVIII of 1885, for a public purpose, viz., for such portion of the No 3 Siding which takes off the Sanctoria Branch of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway at mile 5 feet 2,533, and such portions of the No. 3A and the No. 3B Sidings and the whole of the No. 3D Siding as are edged with pink on the plan L A M A. No. 188, and whereas coal mines are situate under the said land, and whereas the Chotto Dhemo Coal Company have given notice to the Government of Bengal, in accordance with the provisions of Act XVIII of 1885, that the said Company intend to work the seam known as the Dishergarh seam, and whereas the mines have been inspected by the officer appointed by the Bengal Government for the purpose under section 5 (1) of Act XVIII of 1885, and whereas it appears to the Bengal Government that the working out of the coal of the mines underlying the said land is likely to cause damage to the surface of the said land and to the works constructed thereon, and whereas the said Chotto Dhemo Coal Company have agreed not to work and get minerals underlying the land acquired for their siding, or underlying the land acquired for the branch or other lines with which the siding is connected or underlying the land of the branch or branches connecting the said siding with the main line, in such a manner as to injure or to endanger the safety of the undertaking or any part thereof, nor to claim any compensation for any restricted working :

Burdwan.

Now, therefore, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council is pleased to declare, under section 5, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the abovementioned Act XVIII of 1885, that the working shall be carried on by the said Chotto Dhemo Coal Company in the manner and subject to the restrictions below specified, viz :—

(1) The galleries shall be driven only as denoted by the centre lines laid down in red upon the plan. They shall not exceed 12 feet in height by 12 feet in width.

(2) Manholes not exceeding 6 feet in height and 3 feet in width by 4 feet in depth may be made where required by any rule made under the Indian Mines Act, 1901.

(3) Any inrush of water, quicksand or soft material shall be reported to the Chief Inspector of Mines without delay.

(4) The above restrictions apply to the Dishergarh seam only and to the area edged with pink on the plan, and the Chotto Dhemo Coal Company shall give notice, under section 4 of the Land Acquisition (Mines) Act, 1885, of their intention to work any other seam under the above area or to work coal under any other area of acquired land ; and that in all the above cases, except to comply with the abovementioned conditions, no further excavation shall be made in any of the galleries which already have been driven, the actual heights and widths of which have been carefully recorded on the plan marked L A.M.A. No. 188 signed by the Chief Inspector of Mines

The plan referred to may be seen in the office of the Chief Inspector of Mines in India by the parties concerned

E. W. COLLIN, Commissioner.

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th October 1911.—In exercise of the power conferred on the Commissioners of Divisions under section 139 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885, as amended by section 61 of Bengal Act V of 1908, the following bye-laws adopted by the District Board of Balasore at their special meeting held on the 11th September 1911 are hereby confirmed by me.

J CLARK,

Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

BYE-LAWS ADOPTED BY THE DISTRICT BOARD OF BALASORE UNDER SECTIONS 139 AND 140 OF THE BENGAL LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT OF 1885 (BENGAL ACT III OF 1885).

Definitions.

Definitions.

1. In these bye-laws, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) the word "cattle" has the same meaning as in the Cattle-trespass Act, 1871;

(2) "reserved tank or well" means a tank or well which the District Board has set apart under section 90 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, by public notice, for the supply of water for drinking and for culinary purposes, and includes any reservoir, or part of any river, khal or other channel, so set apart; and a notice-board on the edge of a reserved tank or well, containing the words "reserved tank" or "reserved well," or words to that effect, shall be deemed to be sufficient notice for the purpose of this definition; and

(3) the "slopes" of a reserved tank or well include all places from which water can flow directly into such tank or well; and

(4) "road" means a road vested in, or under the control and administration of, the District Board or a Local Board; and includes—

(a) a village road,

(b) the slope, berm, borrow-pits and side-drains of a road; and

(c) all land vested in, or under the control and administration of, the District Board or a Local Board, and attached to a road

Roads, Drains, Bridges, Canals and Embankments

Encroachment or obstruction on a road.

2. (1) No person shall encroach on any part of a road by cultivating crops thereon.

(2) No person shall, on any road, by means of any building, fence, pit, embankment or ditch or any other obstruction, or by means of any cut, drain or water-course intended for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, or by exposing thereon any goods for sale or by placing thereon any substance or material,—

(a) without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or the District Engineer, make or cause any encroachment, or

(b) obstruct traffic, or

(c) cause any inconvenience to passengers, or

(d) hinder or impede the flow of water

Sale, collecting or gathering of articles in vicinity of road.

3. No person shall expose or place any article for sale in any bazar or market in the vicinity of any road, or collect or gather any articles in the vicinity of a road, so as to interfere with the traffic of the road.

Cutting of plants, trees or hedges obstructing road or drain.

4. Any person in possession of, or having control over, any plants, trees or hedges which obstruct, overhang or overshadow any road, or any public drain or sluice, or any drain which is connected with a public drain, shall, if so required by notice in writing, signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or by the District Engineer, cut down, prune or trim such plants, trees or hedges, within the period, and in the manner, prescribed in such notice.

Damage to bridges, culverts, or causeways on road.

5. (1) No person shall destroy or damage, or cause to be destroyed or damaged, any bridge, culvert or causeway built on or across any road.

(2) No person shall erect any fence or other object on, or before or close to the opening of, any such bridge, culvert or causeway, for the purpose of fishing or for any other purpose, so as to impede the free flow of water thereunder, or so as to cause damage thereto.

(3) No person shall cast nets for fishing purposes from any parapet of any such bridge or culvert.

6. No person shall—

Damage to fences, posts, soil, turf or grass on road

(a) destroy or damage, or cause to be destroyed or damaged, any fence or post erected on any road, or

(b) dig, scrape, uproot or remove any soil, turf or grass from any part of a road

Channel across road.

7 (1) No person shall cut a channel, or convey water by a channel, across a road, except with the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or the District Engineer, and in such manner as he may prescribe.

(2) Any person who has been permitted by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or by the District Engineer, to cut a channel across a road, shall, at the time prescribed by him, cover or refill the channel so as to restore the road to its former condition

(3) Any person who has a prescriptive right to keep a channel open for carrying water across a road shall keep the channel in proper order, so as to prevent danger or inconvenience to the public.

Obstruction of waterway adjoining road.

8. No person shall obstruct any waterway adjoining a road so as to injure or tend to injure the road or otherwise to render the road impassable.

Excavations on or near road

9. (1) No person shall make any excavation on any road, or any hole, pit, tank or well within fifteen feet of any road, without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board or the District Engineer

(2) Every person by whom, or by whose direction, any hole, pit, tank or well has been excavated within fifteen feet of a road shall be bound to take such order therewith as will prevent damage to, or erosion of, the road

Protection of excavations on or near road.

10 The owner or occupier of any tank, well, or other excavation on or near the side of any road shall be bound to fence in or duly protect such excavation in such manner as may be directed by notice signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board

Use of roads, bridges, culverts or canals while closed to traffic.

11 No person shall pass over, or drive any animal or vehicle over any road, bridge, culvert or canal, so as to injure the same, while it is under construction or repair or is affected by flood or is otherwise rendered unfit for traffic and is closed to traffic under the orders of the Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or (in emergent cases, pending application to such Chairman) of the District Engineer

Discharge of rainfall from roof to road

12 No person shall, without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or the District Engineer, allow the rainfall from the roof of any building owned or occupied by him to be discharged upon any road by means of a spout or other thing intended for the conveyance of water

Flow of filth on to road

13 No person shall allow the water of any privy or any matter offensive or deleterious to health to flow on any road

Removal of trees or erections falling on to road

14. Any person owning or possessing a tree or a house, wall or other erection which has fallen, or part of which has fallen, on to a road, shall, if so required by notice in writing signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Board or a Local Board, or by the District Engineer, remove such tree, house wall, erection or part, within the period prescribed in such notice.

Curing hides on or near road.

15. No person shall cure hides on or near any road.

20 The normal surplus which may be expected in future	21 REMARKS.
Nil	* The increase in the year 1908-09 was due to heavy amount of fines inflicted in some cases under the Police Act † The Government had been pleased to contribute Rs 44,000 in the year 1909-10 for the construction of water works and Rs 4,111 had been collected from private individuals and the Coronation Fund as contribution for the aforesaid work ‡ The expenditure of Rs 9,311 was due to a deposit for acquisition of land for the water works site and payments for the preparation of schemes.

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads —

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the borrowing body has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.

It is proposed to levy a water-rate for maintaining the water works at a rate varying from Rs. 6 to Rs. 4 on the annual value of holdings within the area benefited by the water supply. The total income from this source is estimated at Rs 7,500, to which Rs 1,000 can be added annually from the general fund to make up Rs 8,500 The estimated annual cost calculated by the Sanitary Engineer is Rs. 2,800. So Rs 5,700 can be saved from the total annual income for payment of the proposed and the outstanding debts by half-yearly instalments.

(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the local body.

Some new buildings which are under construction will be completed next year. By this means the revenue of the Municipality will be increased The water rate will fetch an income of Rs. 7,500 a year.

RESOLUTION.—The pay of Civil Assistant Surgeons in this Province was last revised in the Resolution of the Government of India, Home Department, No 1142-50, dated the 22nd August 1898, and orders were then passed abolishing supernumerary pay and making other improvements in the prospects of these officers. It was provided that, subject to examinations, their pay should rise after 7 years to Rs 150 and after 14 years to Rs 200, and a senior grade, on Rs 300 limited to 10 per cent. of the number in the service, was sanctioned, promotion to which was by selection and was open to any officer who had completed 14 years' service In addition, a certain number of 'Civil Surgeoncies' were declared available for Civil Assistant Surgeons in this Province on the retirement of the uncovenanted medical officers who then held them, and the pay to be drawn by the officers so appointed was fixed at Rs 350—30—500

2 It was soon felt that these concessions, though valuable to senior officers, did not sufficiently improve the pay in the first years of service. In 1908, memorials were received from Civil Assistant Surgeons urging the necessity of improving the conditions of service and suggesting certain methods of doing so. Orders have since been passed on all the other suggestions, but the principal complaint, viz, the alleged inadequacy of the pay has been under consideration, and the question has now been finally decided by the Government of India and the Secretary of State In the place of the existing scale of pay a time-scale has been sanctioned, and the two scales are compared below —

Civil Surgeons, selected from senior grade, Rs 350—30—500.	Civil Surgeons ...	350—30—500

In future, after two years' service, Civil Assistant Surgeons in Bengal will receive an annual increment of Rs. 10 until they reach the pay of Rs. 300 a month, but the passing of examinations after 7 and 14 years' service is still a condition precedent to the drawing of any further increment Above the pay of Rs. 300, there will be two grades on Rs. 325 and Rs. 350, ordinarily limited to 10 per cent of the service and filled by selection from all officers who have completed 14 years' service In addition, the appointments to Civil Surgeoncies, eventually seven in number in the Province, as at present constituted, on a pay of Rs 350—30—500 will still be open to members of the service.

3. These orders will have effect from the 1st April 1912

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and the Accountant-General, Bengal, for information and guidance, and to all Commissioners of Divisions and all Heads of Departments, and to the other Departments of this Government, for information

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE SPRING OILSEED CROP OF BENGAL, 1911-12.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 the area under linseed, rape and mustard in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 23.4 and 12.4 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.]

Explanatory.—This forecast deals with all kinds of oilseeds, except sesamum for which four separate forecasts are prepared.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the different kinds of oilseeds, excepting til, is estimated at 2,137,400 acres against 2,080,900 acres of last year. The increase is due to favourable weather during the sowing season.

Character of the season and condition of the crops.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in Bihar and also in the Presidency and Chota Nagpur Divisions. The rainfall in September and October was general and sufficient for sowings of the crops in normal time. Sowings were somewhat late in parts of Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Darbhanga, Purnea and Darjeeling. The rainfall in November was general over the Province, the fall being in excess of the normal in Bihar and in Chota Nagpur, but below normal in Orissa and most districts of Lower Bengal. The rainfall in January was below the normal in all districts, except in Champaran where it was in slight excess. Prospects of the crops are generally reported to be good.

According to the estimates of the District Officers the total outturn of the different kinds of oilseeds (excepting til) for the whole Province works out to 91 per cent. of the normal. But in view of the favourable weather conditions, I think that the outturn has been underestimated in some districts, and estimate that the total crop will be not less than 100 per cent. of the normal.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1911-12.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 area under wheat in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 4·7 per cent of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage (a) in British India, and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1909-10, averaged (a) 40·8 per cent and (b) 14·3 per cent, respectively.]

Character of the season.—Wheat is cultivated chiefly in Bihar and also in Nadia, Murshidabad, Hazaribagh and Palamau. The rainfall in September and October was general and sufficient for sowings of the crop in normal time. Sowings were somewhat late in parts of Saran, Champaran and Darbhanga on account of the heavy rainfall in the sowing season. The rainfall in November was general over the Province, the fall being in excess of the normal in Bihar and especially in Chota Nagpur, but below normal in Orissa and most districts of Lower Bengal. A dry December followed. The rainfall in January was below the normal in all districts, except in Champaran where it was in slight excess. The season has been favourable, and prospects of the crop are reported to be good.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 1,340,100 acres against 1,382,500 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated percentage outturn in the 15 districts where the crop is most important is as follows:—Saran 125 per cent., Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Bhagalpur 108 per cent., Patna, Gaya, Darbhanga, Hazaribagh and Palamau 100 per cent., Shahabad and Sonthal Parganas 92 per cent., Nadia and Murshidabad 83 per cent., Monghyr 77 per cent., Purnea 75 per cent.

According to the estimates of the District Officers the outturn for the whole Province works out to 97 per cent. of the normal. But in view of the favourable weather conditions, it appears that the outturn has been underestimated in some districts, and I think that the crop will be not less than 100 per cent.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATIONS

No. 1268.—The 6th March 1912.—Maulvi Amjad Ali, Officiating Head Master, Patna Collegiate School, is confirmed in that appointment, with effect from the 16th November 1909.

Patna.

No. 1370.—The 11th March 1912.—In modification of the orders contained in the notification of this Government, No. 2628A.D., dated the 29th September 1911, the services of Mr. J. A. Chapman, Principal, Government Commercial Institute, are placed at the disposal of the Government of India in the Department of Education, with effect from the 25th January 1911.

No. 1351.—The 11th March 1912.—The following draft of rules which the Lieutenant-Governor in Council intends to make under section 37 of the Indian Factories Act, 1911 (XII of 1911), in supersession of all existing rules on the subject is published, as required by sub-section (1) of section 39 of the said Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the thirteenth day of June 1912, and any objection or suggestion which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be duly considered.

Draft Rules.

1. These rules and orders may be cited as "The Bengal Factories Rules, 1912"
2. In these rules and orders—

(a) words and expressions which are defined in the Indian Factories Act, 1911, have the same meaning as in the said Act,

(b) "the Act" means the Indian Factories Act, 1911,

(c) "Inspector" means an Inspector appointed under section 4 of the Act,

Proviso (1).—When in any area the Local Government has, by notification in the local official Gazette, under sub-section (5) of section (4), declared that the District Magistrate or an additional Inspector shall exercise all the powers of an Inspector under the Act, the word "Inspector" shall be held to include such District Magistrate or additional Inspector.

Proviso (2)—When in any area the Local Government has declared, as aforesaid, that a District Magistrate or additional Inspector shall exercise certain powers of an Inspector, the word "Inspector" shall be held to include such District Magistrate or additional Inspector, only in so far as any one or more of these rules are specified in the notification.

Register of factories.

3 Every Inspector shall keep a register of factories in Form A in the Schedule appended to these rules, and shall, if he be not himself the District Magistrate, furnish a copy thereof to the District Magistrate on the 15th February of each year He shall also forthwith intimate to the District Magistrate all changes in the register which are made in pursuance of rules 4 and 5.

[Note.—Form A is identical with the form of return which it is proposed that Managers of factories shall submit to the Inspector by the 15th January each year. From this return the Inspector will prepare his register of factories.]

Directions for compiling register of factories

4. (1) When an Inspector receives a notice under section 33 from any person occupying a factory, he shall, if he has not already done so, include such factory in his register

(2) When an Inspector has reason to believe that any premises, situated within the local limits for which he is appointed and not already registered as a factory, ought to be so registered, he shall send to the occupier of the premises a notice intimating his intention of including such premises in his register of factories

(3) Any person served with a notice under sub-rule (2) above may, within 30 days of the receipt of such notice, forward to the Inspector a statement setting forth his objections to the registration of the premises as a factory The Inspector shall consider and dispose of such objections after making such enquiry as he may deem necessary, and shall then include such premises in his register of factories or not, as the case may be

Notice when factory ceases to be occupied.

5 When any premises cease to be occupied as a factory, the occupier may give notice of the fact to the Inspector, who shall, if satisfied that the Act is no longer applicable to such premises, exclude them from his register of factories

Provided that—

(a) an Inspector may, without such notice, of his own motion at any time exclude any factory from his register if satisfied that it is no longer used as such and

(b) seasonal factories shall not be excluded from the register if there is a probability of their again starting work within a reasonable time

Inspection

6 Every Inspector shall be primarily responsible for the administration of the Act within the area for which he is appointed. An Inspector shall, within such area, inspect every textile factory at least four times a year and every other factory at least once a year. He shall also make such further inspections as may appear to be necessary to him, or to the authority to whom he is subordinate, in order that he may satisfy himself that the provisions of the Act and of these rules are duly observed

7. (1) The Inspector shall, at each inspection of a factory, satisfy himself that the provisions of the Act and of these rules relating to the health and safety of the persons employed therein are duly observed, that the children employed in the factory have been duly certified and the prescribed register of children properly maintained; that the hours of employment of women and children and of persons working in shifts are properly recorded; that the periodical stoppages of work and the prescribed holidays are granted; that the prescribed limits of hours of work are not exceeded; and that the prescribed abstract and notice are duly maintained and fixed under section 36.

(2) The Inspector shall also enquire into the cause of all accidents which may have taken place since the last inspection, and shall note how far defects pointed out at previous inspections have been removed and how far orders previously issued have been complied with. Any defects which may have been detected at the present inspection, as well as any orders passed by him, shall then be recorded

(3) A copy of the Inspector's report shall be sent to the occupier or manager of the factory concerned, and extracts of such portions as the Inspector may think necessary shall be sent to the District Magistrate

Provided that, when in any area the District Magistrate or an additional Inspector exercising all or any of the powers of an Inspector makes an inspection, a copy of the inspection notes shall be sent to the Inspector appointed for that area, under section 4, sub-section (1), for such action as he may think necessary.

8. Every Inspector shall keep a file of inspection reports on factories in Form B in the Schedule attached to these rules, in which shall be recorded all orders and remarks made by him relating to each inspection.

Duties of Certifying Surgeon or person authorised to exercise his functions.

9. (1) The duties of a Certifying Surgeon, as such, and of a person authorised under section 8 to exercise his functions, shall comprise the examination of persons desirous of being employed in a factory and the grant to them of certificates of age and of physical fitness. No fee shall be charged for such examination or for the grant of a certificate in pursuance thereof

(2) A Certifying Surgeon appointed under section 6 or any person authorised by such Surgeon under section 8 shall fix such place and such times as may be proper for the attendance of persons wishing to obtain certificates of age and physical fitness under section 7. Notice of the place and the times thus fixed shall be given to the manager of the factory concerned within the local limits for which such Surgeon or authorised person is appointed

10. (1) Every Certifying Surgeon shall keep a bound book containing forms in foil and counterfoil as reproduced in Form C in the Schedule appended to these rules Such forms shall be numbered consecutively, and shall be printed on cloth-backed paper

(2) Every certificate granted by a Certifying Surgeon under section 7 shall be prepared by filling up the foil and counterfoil, on which shall also be impressed the left thumb mark of the person in whose name the certificate is granted.

(3) The Certifying Surgeon shall, when satisfied as to the correctness of the entries made therein, sign the foil and initial the counterfoil and shall deliver the foil to the person at whose request the certificate was granted. The foil so delivered shall be the certificate granted under section 7

(4) If the Certifying Surgeon refuses, for reasons to be stated in writing, to grant to any person a certificate under this rule, no fresh application for a certificate shall be made on behalf of such person until a period of three months has elapsed, unless the Certifying Surgeon otherwise gives permission in writing at the time of refusing to grant the certificate.

Grant of provisional certificates under section 8.

11. Every person authorised under section 8 to exercise provisionally the functions of a Certifying Surgeon shall grant certificates in the manner provided for in the last preceding rule:

Provided that, in the case of such provisional certificate, the left thumb mark of the person in whose name the certificate is granted shall be taken on the counterfoil only.

12 (1) A Certifying Surgeon shall visit every factory within the local limits for which he is appointed as follows :—

	Visits per annum.
(a) A.—Factories in which provisional arrangements are made—
(i) Mills employing 500 children and under	12
(ii) Ditto over 500 children	24
B.—Factories in which no provisional arrangements are made	24
C—Factories in which no children are employed ...	4

(b) He shall give previous notice of every visit.

(2) At every visit the Manager shall produce before him, at such time as the Certifying Surgeon may fix all children employed in the factory, whether actually at work or not, who are not in possession of certificates granted under section 7 :

Provided that children employed solely in the places mentioned in section 3, sub-section (2), need not be produced before him

(3) The Certifying Surgeon shall personally examine every child who is in possession of a provisional certificate granted under section 8, and shall, if satisfied as to its correctness, countersign the same and return it to its owner, after taking on the foil the left thumb impression of the person in whose name the certificate is granted. Such thumb impression must correspond with that already taken on the counterfoil at the time of the grant of the provisional certificate.

(4) If on such examination the Certifying Surgeon is of opinion that the person examined is under the age of nine years or is not fit for employment in a factory, he shall retain the certificate, write on it the word "Cancelled" and sign the same, and shall then return the certificate with such remarks, if any, as he may think fit to make, to the person who granted it.

Sanitary provisions.

13. (1) In every factory the inside surface of all walls of the rooms in which manufacturing processes are carried on and all the ceilings or tops of such rooms (whether such walls, ceilings, or tops be plastered or not), and all passages and staircases, shall be limewashed at least once during each period of two years, the first of such periods commencing from the date of the last limewashing

(2) The Local Government may, by special order, exempt any class of factories or parts thereof from the provisions of this rule, when such Government is of opinion that the said provisions are not necessary under clause (a) of section 9, or are, by reason of special circumstances, inapplicable.

14. All beams, rafters, doors and other woodwork in every factory shall be painted or varnished at least once in six years and shall be kept in a cleanly state.

15 The manager of every factory not exempted under clause (2) of rule 13 shall keep a register showing the dates on which the different parts of the factory are limewashed, painted or varnished

16. (1) No manager of a factory shall cause or allow any rubbish, filth or débris to be accumulated or to remain, on any premises over which he has effective control, of such a nature or in such a manner that effluvia therefrom can arise within the factory.

(2) All latrines and urinals within a factory shall be kept in a sanitary state

Standards of space.

17 (1) In every factory there shall be provided for each person employed at one time in any room a breathing space of at least 500 cubic feet in area For the purpose of this calculation no height above 15 feet from the floor of such room shall be taken into consideration.

(2) The manager of every factory shall maintain a register showing the measurement and cubical contents of each room in the factory, the area of the floor-space in each room occupied by machinery or other fixtures, and the area provided for ventilating openings.

Latrine accommodation

18 (1) Every textile factory which is provided with hand-service latrines only and which has not been exempted under the proviso to section 13 shall be provided with latrine accommodation in a place detached from the other factory buildings and on the following scale, viz .—

Where the number of persons employed at one time does not exceed 50	3 seats
Where the number of persons employed at one time exceeds 50 but does not exceed 150	4 „
Where the number of persons employed at one time exceeds 150 but does not exceed 300	5 „
Where the number of persons employed at one time exceeds 300	1 seat for every 70 or fraction of 70.

(2) (i) If females are employed in such a factory separate latrines screened off from those for males and marked in the vernacular in conspicuous letters "For females only" shall be provided.

(ii) Those for males shall be similarly marked "For men only."

(3) Such reduction in the above scale as may be approved by the Inspector, subject to the orders of the Local Government, may be made in the case of non-textile factories.

19. (1) The following rules shall be observed by the occupier or Manager of any factory in which a septic tank latrine has been installed :—

(i) A duly qualified person shall be appointed to have charge, and to supervise the working, of such installation. For the purpose of this rule the Engineer or Manager of a factory or a supervisor of the firm which erected the septic tank, may be deemed to be a duly qualified person.

(ii) A sweeper shall be placed in charge, of each installation

(iii) The floor and steps of the latrine while in use shall be kept washed and clean.

(iv) Every part of the mechanical arrangements connected with the flushing of the septic tank shall be kept in thorough working order.

(v) A supply of water shall be provided for flushing purposes, at the rate of at least three gallons for each person using the existing latrine, or, in the case of latrines installed after these rules come into force, at the rate of four gallons for each such person.

(vi) A notice-board shall be affixed to each latrine, showing the maximum number of persons for whom it is designed; and automatic recording turnstiles shall be provided, and arrangements shall be made to ensure that the number of persons admitted to a latrine through a turnstile does not at any time exceed the number shown on the said notice-board.

(vii) The overworking of a latrine or the working of a latrine in such a manner as to cause the effluent to suffer in quality is strictly prohibited.

(viii) The effluent from a septic tank latrine installation shall not be discharged into any river unless—

(a) it is clear, free from fæcal odour and non-putrescible, and nitrification has definitely commenced, and

(b) it has been sterilized by the addition to each gallon of five grains of fresh chlorinated lime

(ix) Chlorinated lime for the purpose of such sterilization shall be kept in an iron receptacle provided with a close-fitting lid in a cool and dry godown.

(x) A daily register of the number of users of each latrine shall be carefully maintained

(2) An Inspector of septic tank latrine installations may inspect such installations or any part thereof at any reasonable time, and may take samples of the effluent discharged therefrom

(3) The inspection and supervision of the general working of the septic tank latrine shall remain in the hands of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and the Inspector of Septic Tank Latrine Installations. Inspectors of Factories may also inspect such latrines, but they shall confine their inspection and reports thereon to the general cleanliness of the installation.

Drinking water

20. (1) In every factory a supply of water fit for drinking, consisting of at least as many gallons per diem as there are persons employed in the factory, shall be provided

(2) Such supply shall be derived either from a public or private supply of efficiently filtered drinking water, or from one or more wells or specially reserved tanks so situated as not to be polluted or contaminated by organic matter or other impurities.

(3) Proper arrangements shall be made for maintaining in a drained and cleanly condition the area round the place where the water is distributed,

(4) The water shall be supplied to the persons employed in the factory, free of cost.

(5) A tap or taps connected with any public water works from which a sufficient quantity of water can at all times be drawn as required shall be deemed a sufficient supply for the purpose of this rule.

(6) In the case of an intermittent public water supply, each factory shall be provided with a storage of water of not less than one gallon per head of operatives employed.

Fencing.

21. (1) In every factory in which machinery is used, every ring-throstle-frame, flyer-throstle frame and doubling frame, the tin-rollers of which revolve in the usual direction, i.e., in such a manner as to draw upwards between them any object coming into contact with them from beneath, shall be guarded in the following manner.—

(i) A guard or guards shall be permanently fixed along the whole length of each side of every such frame, and not further under the frame than the centre of each leg of the spring pieces. Such guards shall be so fixed as not to be removable without the use of tools

(ii) Such guards shall be constructed of one or more stout horizontal iron bars or sheets or wooden planks, so placed that the clear vertical space between any two of them, or between the topmost and the spindle-rail or between the lowest and the floor shall in no case exceed 7 inches. If iron bars are used, a sufficient number of uprights shall be provided, so as to render the bars rigid enough to resist deflection.

(iii) Whenever, under the tail end of any such frame, there is a clear space exceeding 8 inches from the floor, a similar guard shall similarly be fixed across such end.

(iv) Every such frame which may hereafter be erected or re-erected in any factory shall be guarded in the above manner before being brought into use.

(2) Every jute softener in a factory shall be fitted with an efficient automatic stop gear; and the said gear shall be kept constantly in working order.

22 The following rules for the protection from danger of persons employed in attending to machinery in motion shall be observed in every factory.—

(i) Every person who goes up to replace a belt or to oil bearings of shafts shall wear a loin cloth or tight trousers, and shall not wear any loose clothing which is liable to be caught in the machinery

(ii) Experienced men and those specially trained for the work shall alone be allowed to replace fast running belts.

(iii) All ladders used in replacing belts shall be specially made and reserved for that work, and shall be provided with hooks and spurs

(iv) As far as possible all important pulleys shall be provided with belt hangers

Provided that, when the main belts of any machinery have to be adjusted, the machinery shall be stopped and shall not be set in motion again until such belts have been completely adjusted.

Notice of accidents.

23. (1) In every factory notice of accidents under section 34 resulting in death, or causing such severe injury that there is no reasonable hope that the injured person will be able to return to work within 48 hours, shall be sent by the manager within five hours of the occurrence—

(a) to the Inspector notified for any area as the person to whom notices are to be sent, and

(b) to the District Magistrate or, if such Magistrate by general order so directs, to the Subdivisional Officer.

(2) In case of any accident resulting in death, notice shall also be sent by the manager within the said time to the officer in charge of the police-station within the local limits of which the factory is situated.

(3) If the notice is sent by special messenger, it shall be in Form D in the Schedule annexed to these rules, and if it is sent by telegraph or telephone, it shall be confirmed by a written report in that form.

24. In every factory notice of accidents less serious than those referred to in rule 23, but which nevertheless prevent the injured person from returning to work within 48 hours of the occurrence, shall be sent by post, within twenty-four hours from the expiry of that time, to the authorities mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-rule (1) of rule 23 in Form D in the Schedule annexed to these rules

25. In every factory where children are employed, there shall be correctly kept up to date and written afresh from 1st January in each year a Register of Children in Form E in the Schedule attached to these rules.

26 In every factory the muster roll shall, in the case of every woman and child, show the time of beginning and ending of each period of employment during the day, and opposite the name of each child shall be recorded his number in the prescribed Register of Children.

27. In every factory where a child, when at work, wears, instead of his certificate, a token giving reference to the same such token shall have stamped upon it the certificate number of the child as given in the prescribed Register of Children The token shall be hung round the neck of the child

28. In order to enable the Inspector to see that the provisions of the Act in respect of weekly holidays are observed, the Manager of every factory, in which Sunday is not regularly observed as the weekly holiday, shall keep a register showing the dates, whether Sundays or week days, on which the factory or any department thereof has been closed.

Abstract of Act and rules.

29. (1) The abstract of the Act and of these rules required by section 36 shall follow—

(a) in every textile factory, Form F in the Schedule annexed to these rules, and

(b) in every other factory, the said Form F with such necessary alterations therein as may be approved by the Inspector.

(2) If the prescribed abstract becomes illegible or defaced, a fresh copy shall be substituted.

30. (1) An appeal presented under section 50 shall be in the form of a memorandum setting forth concisely the grounds of objection to the order and bearing a Court-fee stamp in accordance with Article 11 of Schedule II of the Court-fees Act, shall be accompanied by a copy of the order appealed against and shall lie to the following authority, namely:—

Procedure in appeals.

(a) In the Metropolitan area, i.e., the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, to a Board consisting of—

(i) the Commissioner of the Division,

(ii) the Civil Surgeon of the District; and

(iii) a nominee for a year at a time of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

(b) In any other Division, the Commissioner of the Division.

Provided that, in either case, the appellate authority may, if requested by an appellant to apply the provisions of section 50, sub-section (2), hear the appeal with the aid of two assessors appointed by such authority.

(2) On receipt of the prescribed memorandum of appeal, the appellate authority shall, if it thinks fit, or if the appellant has requested that the provisions of section 50, sub-section (2) may be applied, call upon the body, if any, declared to be the representative of the industry concerned within the meaning of sub-section (3) of section 50 of the Act, to appoint an assessor within a period of 14 days. If an assessor is nominated by such body, the appellate authority shall itself appoint a second assessor. It shall then fix a date for the hearing of the appeal, and shall give due notice of such date to the appellant and to the Inspector against whose order the appeal has been preferred, and shall call upon the two assessors to appear on such date to assist in the hearing of the appeal.

(3) An assessor appointed in accordance with the provisions of sub-rule (2) shall receive a fee of Rs. 32 for the hearing of the appeal. The fee shall be paid by Government, but where assessors have been appointed at the request of the appellant, and the appeal has been decided wholly or partly against him, the appellate authority may direct that the fees of the assessors shall be paid in whole or in part by such appellant.

31. The despatch through the post, under registered cover, to the address of the occupier or manager of any factory, of any notice, order or extract of an Inspector's report under the Act or under these rules shall be deemed a sufficient service on such occupier or manager of such notice or order or of any directions contained in such extract.

Manner of service of notices.

32. Copies of the prescribed abstract of the Act and of rules thereunder can be obtained in the English, Bengali and Hindi languages from the Inspector notified under sub-section (5) of section 4 as the Inspector to whom notices are to be sent at the price of annas each.

Copies of abstract whence to be obtained.

33. Copies of the Act and of these rules can be obtained from the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt either in English, in Bengali or in Hindi at the price of annas each.

Copies of Act and rules whence to be obtained.

34. The periodical Return A prescribed by the Government of India by notification under section 38 shall be submitted by occupiers of factories to the Inspector of Factories by the 1st January of each year.

ABSTRACT OF THE INDIAN FACTORIES' ACT AND RULES, 1911.

[This Abstract, with a translation thereof in the vernacular of the district in which the factory is situated, shall be posted in the factory where it can be easily read; and, if defaced, a fresh copy must be purchased.]

DEFINITIONS.

"Employed" means any person who works in a factory, whether for wages or not including contractors' men, women or children.

"Child" means a person under the age of 14 years. "Woman" means a female over 14 years of age. "Night" means from 7-30 P.M. to 5-30 A.M.

"Factory" means any premises worked by some motive power and in which not less than 50 persons are simultaneously employed in any manual labour on any day during the year.

"Occupier" includes a Managing Agent or other person authorised to represent the occupier.

"System of shifts" means a system of relays in which the time of the beginning and ending of the period or periods of the employment of each person is fixed for each relay.

SANITARY PROVISIONS.

Every factory shall be provided with sufficient and suitable latrine accommodation which shall be kept in a sanitary state. The accommodation for male and female operatives shall be separate.

Every factory shall be kept in a clean state and free from effluvia arising from any drain, privy, or other nuisance. All refuse likely to be injurious to health shall be removed with as little delay as possible.

Every factory shall be ventilated in such manner as to render harmless, as far as practicable, any gases, vapours, dust, or other impurities generated in the course of the work carried on therein that may be injurious to health.

In case of injurious dust, inspectors may require fans to be used.

All the inside walls of the rooms of a factory in which manufacturing processes are carried on and all the ceilings or tops of such rooms, and all the passages and staircases, shall be limewashed at least once in two years, dating from the time of last limewashing.

All the beams, rafters, doors and other wood-work in every factory shall be painted or varnished once in six years, and shall be kept in a cleanly state.

A factory shall not be so overcrowded while work is carried on therein as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the persons employed therein.

In every factory there shall be maintained a sufficient and suitable supply of water fit fo drinking and for the use of the persons employed in the factory. A tap or taps connected with any public water-works, from which a sufficient quantity of water can at all times be drawn as required, shall be deemed a sufficient supply for the purpose of this rule. Rule 19(5) of the rules must be observed for septic tank latrines.

SAFETY.

Every hoist or teagle, lift, and every fly-wheel, whether driven by steam gas, oil, electricity or other motive power, is to be securely fenced.

All parts of mill-gearing, belting and all dangerous parts of machinery are either to be securely fenced or to be in such a position or of such construction as to be equally safe to every person as they would be if securely fenced.

No woman or child shall be allowed to clean any part of the mill gearing or machinery of a factory while the same is in motion.

Before the fence or guard of any part of machinery is removed, the machinery protected by it shall be stopped, and the fence or guard shall be replaced before the machine is again set in motion.

ACCIDENTS.

Notice of accidents resulting in death, or causing such severe injury that there is no reasonable hope that the injured person will be able to return to work within 48 hours, shall be sent (by telegraph, telephone or special messenger) within five hours of the occurrence. Notice of accidents less serious than those referred to above but which nevertheless prevent the injured person from returning to work within 48 hours of the occurrence shall be sent by post within 24 hours of the expiry of that time. Such notice shall be sent to the Inspector notified for any area as the person to whom notices are to be sent and also to the District Magistrate, or if any general order so directs the Subdivisional Officer within whose jurisdiction the factory is situated. Notice of fatal injuries shall at the same time be given at the nearest police-station as required by section 45, Criminal Procedure Code. If the notice is sent by special messenger, it shall be in Form D, and if sent by telegraph or telephone, it shall be confirmed by a written report in that form.

EMPLOYMENT AND MEAL HOURS.

In every factory there shall be fixed for each working day at an interval of rest for at least half an hour, dividing the working hours in all factories where a system of shifts is not in force, and the time of commencing work, interval, and closing shall be entered in Form G*, annexed hereto. When a shift system is in operation, the working hours and interval or intervals of rest for each shift shall likewise be entered in Form G*, annexed hereto.

No person shall be employed for more than 12 hours in textile factories in any one day.

No person shall work before 5-30 A.M. or after 7 P.M. except working in shifts approved by the Chief Inspector of Factories, Bengal.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

No child under 9 years of age shall be employed.

No child under 14 years of age shall be employed for more than seven hours a day in non-textile factories, or six hours a day in textile factories.

Every child and woman who is actually employed in any factory for six hours shall be allowed an interval of rest amounting to at least half an hour.

No child or woman shall be employed before 5-30 A.M. or after 7 P.M.

No woman shall be employed for more than 11 hours.

Every occupier of a factory shall keep accurate up to date the register of children in Form E (see rules issued under the Act), and no such register shall be destroyed or removed from the factory.

No child shall be employed unless he is in possession of a certificate of age and fitness signed by the Civil or Certifying Surgeon. This certificate must be carried by the child when at work or a token giving references to such certificate

SUNDAY WORKING.

No person shall be employed in any factory on a Sunday, unless such a factory has been exempted from this section of the Act by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette. Unexempted factories may work on a Sunday subject to the provisions laid down in section 22 of the Indian Factories Act, 1911

A list of the holidays that will be observed during the year, giving dates, must be posted in the mill not later than the 15th of January.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—

the Officer in charge Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta,

or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented to that Council, and Bills published under Rule 34.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following reports of the Select Committees on the Orissa Tenancy Bill, 1912, and the Bengal Mining Settlements Bill, 1912, with the Bills, as amended, annexed, are, by order of the President, published for general information.—

THE ORISSA TENANCY BILL, 1912.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee, to which the Bill to amend and consolidate certain enactments relating to the Law of Landlord and Tenant in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore, in the Orissa Division, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill, as amended by us, annexed hereto. The amendments made in the Bill have been underlined and can thus be easily discerned, and the more important amendments only are mentioned in the following paragraphs —

Papers No. 1—Letter No 2172 R, dated the 28th November 1911, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, containing opinions on the provisions of the Bill

Opinion on the Bill by the National Society, Balasore

Papers No 2—Letter No 4556, dated the 30th November, 1911, from the Director of Land Records (with enclosures), submitting his opinion on the provisions of the Bill

Papers No 3—Letter No 2198 R, dated the 3rd December, 1911, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, forwarding letter No 139, dated the 27th November, 1911, from the Orissa Association, containing their opinion on the provisions of the Bill

Papers No 4—Letter No 2243R, dated the 13th December, 1911, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, forwarding letter No 22, dated the 6th December, 1911, from the Secretary, Orissa Landholders' Association, containing the opinion of the Association on the provisions of the Bill

Paper No 5—Letter, dated the 15th December, 1911, from L. C. Adami, Esq, District Judge, Cuttack, containing opinions on the provisions of the Bill

Papers No 6—Letter No 1142, dated the 22nd December, 1911, from the Offg Assistant Secretary to the Bengal Legislative Council, to the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, asking for an expression of opinion on the additional clauses 103A to 103F to the Orissa Tenancy Bill

Letter No 63 R, dated the 15th January, 1912, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division (with enclosures), containing opinions on the provisions of the additional clauses 103A to 103F to the Bill

Letter No 68 R, dated the 15th January, 1912, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division (with enclosures), containing a further opinion on the additional clauses 103A to 103F to the Bill

Papers No 7.—Letter No 63, dated the 4th January, 1912, from Babu Juggo Mohun Lall (with enclosures), containing opinions on the provisions of the additional clauses 103A to 103F to the Bill

Papers No 8—Letter, dated the 1st January, 1912, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division (with enclosure), containing opinions on the provisions of the Bill.

Papers No 9—(1) Memorial, dated the 9th January, 1912, from the Hon'ble Sir Bijay Chand Mahtab, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., I.O.M., Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, regarding the Orissa Tenancy Bill, 1911

(2) Letter, dated the 24th January, 1912, from the Hon'ble Raja Rajendra Narayan Bhanja Deo forwarding a memorial regarding the Orissa Tenancy Bill, 1911.

(3) Memorial, dated the 16th January, 1912, from Raja Kristo Dass Law and others, regarding the Orissa Tenancy Bill

Paper No. 10.—Note, dated the 20th February 1912, by the Hon'ble Mr H McPherson regarding the status of Chandnadars in Orissa.

2. Clause 4—Classes of tenants.—We have added to the classes of tenants enumerated in this clause the holders of homestead land who have been recorded in the Revenue Settlement as chandnadars, and we have made consequential amendments, wherever necessary, in other clauses of the Bill. The reasons for this alteration have been fully explained in Paper No. 10.

3. Clause 5—Definition of raiyat.—We have added to sub-clause (4) an explanation which is based upon the rulings reported in XV Calcutta Weekly Notes, pages 218 and 897.

4. Clauses 11 and 12—Permanent tenures.—We have made these provisions generally applicable by cutting out the words 'in a permanently-settled area,' and we have added, in Clause 12, a proviso to safeguard the rights of landlords in respect of the special classes of tenures which are resumable by contract or custom or which, according to local custom, are not transferable without their landlords' consent. Such resumable tenures are reported to exist in the permanently-settled estates of Orissa, and it appears from the Orissa Settlement Report of Mr. Maddox that sarbarakari tenures in the temporarily-settled estates were not, at the date of the report, transferable without their landlords' consent.

Clauses 13-16.—Transfer of tenures.

5. We have entirely recast these clauses. Clauses 13A, 13B and 13C have been substituted for Clauses 13, 14 and 15, while Clause 16 has been omitted, as it is completely covered by Clause 91 as revised. Transfers by succession have been dealt with in new Clause 13A, which extends to all classes of tenures. The fee payable on the registration of such transfers has been fixed, and provision has been made for automatic registration through the Collector in the event of the landlord refusing to register. Transfers other than by succession have been dealt with in Clause 13B, which applies to all tenures that are known to be transferable without the landlord's consent, and in Clause 13C, which applies to all other classes of tenures. In the former case, the fees originally proposed have been retained and provision has been made for automatic registration through the Collector. In the latter case, the fees originally proposed have been slightly modified and provision has been made for reference to the Collector, who may order registration if satisfied by inquiry that a right of transfer exists.

The provisions of the original clauses, regarding the effect of non-registration, have been retained and repeated in all three of the new clauses.

Clause 17.—Raiyats holding at fixed rates.

6. The new proviso to Clause 12, regarding permanent tenures which are resumable by the landlord or not transferable without his consent, has been repeated here, in respect of raiyati holdings at fixed rates.

Clause 19.—Presumption of occupancy-rights.

7. We have added the words 'or under any other law' after the words 'in any proceeding under this Act,' in sub-clause (7), in order to make it clear that the presumption applies in all suits affecting raiyats in their relations with their landlords. This was the intention of the legislature, but it has been obscured by the recent rulings reported in the Calcutta Weekly Notes XIV, pages 335 and 470. A similar addition has been made in sub-clause (2) of clause 52 for analogous reasons.

New Clause 20A.—Acquisition of occupany-rights in areas that are not included in villages.

8. It has been brought to our notice that the Bengal Tenancy Act is defective in that it fails to provide for the acquisition of occupancy-rights in areas that are not included in villages as defined in section 3 (10) of that Act. The omission was probably due to the fact that the whole of Bengal was supposed to have been covered by the operations of the Revenue Survey and to have been included in Revenue Survey villages. It now appears that areas not included in Revenue Survey villages do exist and that there are such areas in some of the permanently-settled estates of Orissa [vide the proviso to sub-clause (2) of new Clause 54A]. The provisions of sections 6 and 7 of Act X of 1859, which are not confined in their application to villages, have been repeated in new Clause 20A to safeguard the occupancy-rights of raiyats in such areas. So far as Orissa is concerned, the new clause is not an innovation, as Act X of 1859 is still in force in Orissa in respect of these areas.

Clause 21.

9. Sub-clause (2), which deals with the acquisition of occupancy-rights by co-sharer landlords, has been replaced by new sub-clauses (2a) and (2b) taken from section 21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as amended by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Act No. I of 1908. This alteration, while not affecting the legal rights of co-sharer landlords, who have acquired occupancy holdings, clears up many difficulties of record and of rent recovery and enhancement, which are caused by the Bengal version of the same section. Sub-clause (2c), which deals with the disabilities of farmers and other persons who intervene temporarily between the landlord and the raiyat, has been amplified on the lines of the corresponding sub-section [sub-section 20 (3)] of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, to cover mortgagees and persons who hold such temporary interests jointly with others.

New Clause 25 A.—Transfer of occupancy holdings.

10. This is an important addition to the Bill. The transfer of occupancy holdings was left by the Bill, as it originally stood, to be governed by custom or usage, the only reference to the subject being contained in illustration (1) of Clause 246, which ran as follows :—

"(1) A usage under which a raiyat is entitled to sell his holding without the consent of his landlord is not inconsistent with, and is not expressly or by necessary implication modified or abolished by, the provisions of this Act. That usage, accordingly, wherever it may exist, will not be affected by this Act."

The results of the Revision Settlement, which is now in progress in Orissa, show that, since the last Revenue Settlement, occupancy holdings have been transferred extensively, both in whole and in part, throughout the temporarily-settled area, that the transferees have been freely recognised by landlords on payment of mutation fees, that the mutation fee has been almost universally a sum equal to one-fourth of the consideration money, and that the transfers have taken place to a very preponderating extent amongst the raiyats themselves.

11. We think that it will be a great advantage, both to landlord and tenant, to recognise the existing practice and to fix, in accordance with it, a maximum fee which will prevent exceptional landlords from demanding higher fees than the ordinary landlord, and thus preying on the necessities of their tenants, whose occupancy holdings would thereby be deprived of much of their value. A right of appeal to the Collector, against the refusal of a landlord to accept the ordinary mutation fee, is provided, and the Collector may order registration, if satisfied that the right of transfer exists by custom and that there is no other good and sufficient cause to refuse recognition to the transfer. The expression "good and sufficient cause" has been so defined as to discourage transfers in favour of non-agriculturists and to keep the exercise of the right as far as possible within the limits of the village and adjoining villages. It has been reported that the right of transfer, without the consent of the landlord, does not exist within certain of the permanently-settled estates of Orissa. The clause has been so drafted as to safeguard the rights of the proprietors of such estates.

Clause 41.—Commutation of produce rents.

12. We have amended the language of sub-clause (6) dealing with the exceptional cases in which the effect of commutation on the income of the landlord is to be especially considered, but have not altered the intention of the original sub-clause. We have modified the appeal provisions, which, as they stand in the Bengal Tenancy Act, have given rise to difficulty of interpretation, and, following the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, have left it to the Local Government to prescribe the course of appeal by rules under the Act.

Clause 49.—Bar to occupancy-rights.

13. We have added to the existing classes of land, in which occupancy-rights may be barred by special arrangement, land belonging to Government or to any local authority which is used for public works. The Bengal Tenancy Act extends this privilege only to such land as has been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. In consequence, much difficulty is experienced in managing the side lands of public roads and embankments, which have been acquired otherwise than under that Act. These are of peculiar importance in Orissa.

Clause 50.—Rents of under-raiyats.

14. We have substituted, for the provisions of the original sub-section (2), which dealt with the rents recoverable by bajiaftidar-raiyats from their under-raiyats, a new proviso which it is believed will be more favourable to bajiaftidar-raiyats and at the same time more equitable.

Clause 51.—Ejectment of under-raiyats.

15. We have revised sub-clause (b), so as to enable the landlord of an under-raiyat to eject him at the end of the agricultural year (that is, about the middle of April), if he has served on him a notice to quit not less than six months before (that is, before the middle of the preceding November). This amount of notice is sufficient to tide the under-raiyat over the cultivating season Under the corresponding section 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the superior raiyat could not obtain possession on less than twelve months' notice.

New Clause 54 A.—Reclamation of waste land.

16. We have embodied in this clause the principle that, when a raiyat is found to have been cultivating for several years land which was formerly waste land, he shall be deemed to have obtained his landlord's consent and be entitled to retain possession of the land on payment of a fair and equitable rent. This is a principle of common equity which has been recognised in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908 [vide section 64, sub-section (3)]. It had already been embodied in the present Bill, but was given a place in clause 148 of Chapter XII, which deals with the maintenance of records and is permissive only. In Clause 148, the presumption of consent was proposed to be attached to two years' cultivation, and this period has been retained in Chapter XII, as being suitable of application to areas in which maps and records are revised and brought up to date at regular intervals. So far as the principle is applicable to areas that do not fall under the scope of Chapter XII, it is proposed that the period of cultivation should be four years and not two years. There is a further proviso that the section shall not apply to certain tracts of waste land, which are reported to exist in some of the permanently-settled estates of Orissa, and to be excluded from villages as defined in sub clause (26) of clause 3 of the Bill. To these tracts the ordinary twelve years' rule will apply.

Clause 55.—Instalments of rent.

17. We have accepted the recommendation of local bodies and local officers that, subject to agreement and usage, money rents should be payable in two equal instalments falling due on the last day of each half of the agricultural year, and we have added a provision which will make it possible for the courts to decide when a produce-rent shall be deemed to have fallen due.

Clause 60.—Penalties for withholding rent receipts.

18. We have restored the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, limiting the time within which the Collector may take action under this clause, and we have provided that there shall be only one appeal from orders passed under the clause.

Clauses 63-65.—Deposit of rent.

19. We have cut out the provisions for the deposit of produce-rents, as we anticipate that it would be difficult for the local officers to work them, and we think that there is sufficient safeguard for the payers of produce-rent in the special provisions of clauses 71 to 74. We have limited the application of the deposit clauses to rents that have fallen due and to duly registered tenants. We have also simplified the procedure of the Court for the receipt and payment of deposited rents.

Clause 71.—Recovery of produce-rents.

20. We have made it clear that the special provisions of this clause apply to all forms of produce-rent, and we have arranged for the recovery of produce-rents that may have fallen due under the existing law at the date of the commencement of the Act.

Clause 87.—Acquisition of holdings by landlord for special purposes.

21. We have extended the scope of this clause slightly in order to provide for additional purposes of a public or semi-public nature, and we have made provision for delivery of possession, on the model of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act [section 50, sub-section (2)].

Clause 90.—Abandonment of holding.

22. We have provided for the case of a non-resident raiyat abandoning his holding.

Clauses 96-103.—Common Manager.

23. We have considered the suggestions of local bodies and local officers for improving the efficiency of common management, and, in accordance with their recommendations, we have modified the provisions of Clause 101, so as to strengthen the hands of the common manager and prevent mischievous interference by co-sharers with the objects of management. We have also provided a new Clause 102A for the supervision and control of the work of the Collector, under these clauses, by the Commissioner.

Clauses 103A-103G.—Communal rights.

24. The clauses dealing with communal rights, which were separately circulated, have now been incorporated in the Bill. We have modified them slightly so as to make it clear that it is the communal rights rather than the lands themselves which are placed under the protection of the Collector. We have also made two important additions to the clauses. The first, contained in clause 103D, empowers the Collector to remove from the communal (sarbasadharan) record lands that appear to him to have been wrongly included in it. The second, contained in Clause 103G, removes from the scope of the chapter the permanently-settled estates of Orissa, until such time as any permanently-settled proprietor may himself apply to have his estate brought under it. The justification for this exception is that, up to date, no record of communal rights has been prepared for the permanently-settled estates, save in a comparatively small area, and that, in other respects, there has been less interference by the local officers between landlord and tenant with regard to questions of this nature in permanently-settled estates than in temporarily-settled estates.

Record of rights and settlement of rents.

25. Chapter XI, as it stands in the Bill, has been copied almost word for word from the corresponding Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act We have left it untouched, except in the following particulars, where amendments have been proposed to meet practical difficulties that have arisen in the working of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act.—

Clause 118.

26. An addition has been made to sub-clause (9) of this clause, which will enable the final orders or decrees of the Civil Court to be incorporated with the record, in the same manner as orders passed after final publication on applications and suits under sections 105 and 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act are now incorporated with the record under section 107 of that Act [vide the corresponding Clauses 120, 122 and 123 of the present Bill].

Clause 120.

27. We propose that the period of limitation for filing applications for the settlement of fair rents should be increased from two months to three months. Three months is the period of limitation for the filing of suits under Clause 122. It is inconvenient, both to parties and to settlement officers, to have to keep in mind two different dates of limitation, and the distinction serves no useful purpose. The proprietors of large estates will welcome the extension of time under this clause, as it is difficult for them in major settlement operations to get all their applications ready within two months. The provisions of section 105 A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, repeated in Clause 121 of the Bill, have also caused a certain amount of overlapping between fair rent settlement work and the disposal of disputes regarding the accuracy of the record. This makes it desirable that the period of limitation should be the same in both clauses.

28. In the same clause we have made it clear, by the addition of a new sub-clause, that an application for the settlement of rent must ordinarily be based on the record, and that if a party wishes to dispute the correctness of the record and to have a fair rent settled, contingently, on the admission of his objection to the published record, he must file simultaneously a plaint under Clause 122, and an application under Clause 120. This is the practice followed in the settlement courts, but there have been differences of legal opinion on the question whether the issues referred to in Clause 121 may be raised either by the applicant or by the defendant and it is desirable to put the matter on a clear footing.

Clause 122.

29. It was the intention of the legislature, by the corresponding section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to allow a right of objection on every question of right, title, interest or possession connected with any entry in the published record or omission therefrom, but as regards disputes arising between landlords of the same or neighbouring estates, the effect of the ruling reported in XII, Calcutta Weekly Notes, 8, which has been followed in XV, Calcutta Weekly Notes, 974-6, has been to exclude questions of title, and to confine the scope of section 106 suits to questions of possession. We have amended Clause 122, so as to make it clear that no such limitation is intended by the legislature. It is open to interested parties either to file a plaint under Clause 122 or to sue in the Civil Court, if they wish to contest the accuracy of the published record. There seems to be no reason why the suit under Clause 122 should not cover the whole ground of dispute.

Clause 123.

30. We propose to make an addition to this clause, whereby it will be possible for the Court which disposes of an application under Clause 120, or a suit under Clause 122, to allow the amendment of the application or suit by the addition of parties, or otherwise, at any time during the hearing of the same. The object of this addition is to meet a practical difficulty. The period of limitation under sections 105 and 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is necessarily short, because settlement operations cannot be conducted with economy unless the proceedings are more or less continuous. It thus happens that, when applications and suits under these sections are filed in large numbers by the bigger proprietors, mistakes are made in the joinder of parties and in other respects. These are detected when the cases come on for hearing, but many of them cannot be legally corrected as the law now stands, and cases have to be dismissed to the loss and hardship of the parties.

Clause 148.—Land Records.

31. We have revised this clause so as to bring it into general conformity with the provisions of new Clause 54 A (vide paragraph 16 above), but have retained the two years' limitation which was originally proposed in respect of reclaimed lands comprised in temporarily-settled estates that may be brought under the scope of the Chapter.

New Clauses 150A and 150B.

32. We have substituted for Clause 150 two new Clauses 150A and 150B which enable the final framing of the land records to be made immediately after the process of publication, and provide for the presentation and disposal of formal objections after final publication. The results of these objections will be incorporated in the finally-framed record, and the whole will have that presumption of correctness which is provided by Clause 151. We understand that these changes have been proved to be necessary by the experience gained in the experimental work of maintenance which is now being carried on in Orissa.

Clause 162.—Proprietors' private lands.

33. We have amended this by the addition of the word "khamar" between the words "nijjote" and "khudkast," wherever they occur, as the word "khamar" is reported to be in common use in the permanently-settled estates to denote private lands. We have also added the words "or usage" after the word "custom" in sub-clause (2).

Clause 163.

34. We have recast this clause so as to make it clear that its provisions apply to temporarily-settled estates only, and that identity of record as nijchas in the last Land Revenue Settlement and in the pending Revision Settlement will be accepted as sufficient proof that a plot is entitled to be treated as private land.

Clause 213.—Appeals

35. We have made important amendments in this clause with the result that the existing system of appeal is practically restored. The changes originally proposed in the Bill have excited considerable local opposition, and there do not appear to the Committee or to the Commissioner, who has been consulted in the matter, to be sufficient compensating advantages The number of appeals to the District Judge under the existing law is reported to be moderate, and it therefore seems unnecessary to raise the Collector's appellate jurisdiction from Rs. 100 to Rs. 500. The change would practically destroy the right of appeal to the District Judge. The same limit, moreover, of Rs. 100 is fixed in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908 Nor does there appear to be sufficient occasion for the appointment of officers specially empowered to pass final orders up to a limit of Rs. 50, or for the bifurcation of appeal proposed in sub-clauses (3) and (4) of the clause as originally drafted.

Schedule IV.—Limitation.

36. We have provided a period of limitation for suits of the class described in sub-clause (b) of clause 202. Such suits have a special period of limitation under section 33 of the Bengal Rent Act, 1859, and under section 236 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908 We have extended the period from one year to two years, and have abandoned the proviso regarding fraud as it has been found useless in actual practice.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE BABU JANAKINATH BOSE.

IN my opinion Chapter XII should be deleted from the Bill.

JANAKINATH BOSE,

Member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

CALCUTTA;

The 27th February 1912.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., I.O.M., MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN.

I SIGN the Report subject to my dissent in respect of the following provisions :—

2. I dissent from the view taken by the Government in respect of the scope and extent of this Act. In my opinion, it cannot be and should not be enforced in the Treaty estates, as the Government did not reserve its right to legislate in such areas when it entered into Treaty-Engagements with the proprietors thereof I need not repeat the arguments which I have adduced in support of my view, as they have already been incorporated in Paper No. 9; but, I wish it to be distinctly understood that all the suggestions that I have made and all the amendments that I have proposed and which have been accepted, were for the purpose of making the agrarian law as perfect as possible, which as a Member of the Council, it was my duty to see to, and for the interest of the general body of the landlords apart from all personal considerations. It is on those very considerations that I have assented to the other clauses of the Bill as being of necessity in a complete agrarian Code. I do not thereby yield the rights which I have claimed in my memorial, and I am still of opinion that the provisions of this Act cannot apply to the Killajat estates dealt with in section 35 of Regulation XII of 1805. My association with the Select Committee and all that I have done as a member of that Committee shall not therefore be so construed as to prevent me from referring this matter of the status of Killajat estates in a Court of Justice should I so wish to do.

3. I differ from the Committee in the matter of inserting a new clause 25A in the Bill. As, in the absence of a custom or usage to the contrary, occupancy holdings are not transferable, it would have been better to leave such transfers to be decided under clause 246, as in the Bengal Tenancy Act, than to have made any express provision for them. It constitutes a departure from the principle hitherto followed and I am afraid that an express provision for such transfers will, in course of time, have the effect of making these holdings generally transferable by shifting onus of proof from the raiyat to the landlord. I further hold that the suits instituted in the Civil Courts should be absolutely independent of the suits decided in the Revenue Courts; and the discretion of the Civil Court Judge should not be fettered by compelling him under sub-clause (5), of clause 25A, to presume the finding of the Collector to be correct.

4. In view of the rulings of the Hon'ble the High Court in the case of Jamir Ghazi vs Gonai Mondal (reported in 12 W.R., page 110) and in the case of Damri Sheikh vs. Bisweswar Lal (reported in 13 W.R., page 291), I consider some protection should be offered to the landlord who would enter on a holding under sub-clause (4), of clause 90 so that he may not be considered a criminal trespasser against a sub-lessee in possession.

XII. (1) 5. I consider Chapter XII to be quite unnecessary as entailing an amount of expenditure and trouble which will not sufficiently repay. In my opinion it should be expunged altogether, or if it has to be retained at all, the provision in clause 143 sub-clause (1) (a) for framing a revised edition of the record-of-rights every year should be modified. The expense of such a measure will be prohibitive, and it will cause needless harassment to all people—landlords and tenants alike. If, therefore, the Government considers it indispensably necessary to frame such revised editions of the record-of rights, it should reserve power to do so at an interval of 20 years or 15 years at the earliest.

6. I do not agree with the proposal of the Select Committee to alter clause 163 of the Bill as they have done. I do not find any reason why the permanently-settled estates should be deprived of the benefit of this clause. There are large areas of land known as nij-chas lands in many of the permanently-settled estates which are nothing but the proprietors' private lands, so there is no reason why a Revenue Officer should not record them as such. I, therefore, prefer the clause as it stood in the Bill to the clause as amended by the Select Committee.

7. In view of the judgment of the Hon'ble High Court delivered in a case reported in 10 C. W. N, page 944, which lays down that the incidents of the homestead of a raiyat shall, subject to local custom or usage, be regulated by the incidents of his holding, even though the landlords of the holding and homestead are different or they are situated in different villages, I consider it necessary to make some provision to counteract the effect of this ruling so that the clause may be applicable only to the resident raiyats and to those raiyats who hold the homestead and the holding under one and the same landlord for, it is unreasonable to hold that the incidents of a homestead at Kanika shall be regulated by the incidents of a holding at Balasore.

The 29th February, 1912. BURDWAN.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE BABU HRISHIKESH LAHA.

I DO not approve of the Bill as a whole, and strongly object to the many material changes which it proposes to make in the substantive law in respect of the rights in land. The Bill has undergone material alterations at the hands of the Select Committee, but its cardinal principles remain unchanged. The position of the zamindars has been made worse than it was before, by the introduction of communal rights in land, and in many respects even-handed justice has not been done between the zamindars and the tenants. I do not propose to discuss all the contentious clauses of the Bill, but shall generally touch upon those which will materially affect the interests of the zamindars as a whole.

Revenue Courts.

2. Sub-clause (4) of clause 3.—Though a Deputy Collector may be empowered by the Collector, with the approval of the Commissioner, to discharge all the functions of the Collector, yet it is nowhere provided that an inexperienced Deputy Collector should not be appointed, but that only officers who by their training and experience could take a comprehensive and equitable view of things should be entrusted with the functions of the Collector. In view of the fact that revenue-officers are merely executive or administrative officers and have no judicial training, it will lead to failure of justice if the law does not clearly provide that really experienced officers should be appointed for the trial of cases under this Bill. The Bill should also have contained a clause to the effect that these officers should hold their post in the head-quarters either of the district or of the sub-division, as it is a matter of common knowledge that parties are made to attend from camp to camp while the officers are on tour, to the great inconvenience of the parties and their witnesses, both physically and pecuniarily. It has proved a prolific source of hardship and consequent dissatisfaction among the people. The cry against such a system is great, and, surely, this is not the means of attaining speedy justice.

Proprietor's Private Lands.

3. In clause 49 it is stated that "a proprietor's private lands when they are held by a tenant on a lease for a term of years, or on a lease from year to year" should be exempted from the right of occupancy; but what would be the position of the proprietor if his land were held by a tenant on a verbal contract or by a raiyat who refused to execute a lease? It is not the intention of the Bill to convert such lands into occupancy holdings, but the raiyats who cultivate such lands under a verbal contract for more than 12 years can easily claim under the commutation clauses to have the produce-rent commuted to a money-rent, and such procedure would involve the landlord into litigation and would seriously affect his income If, as stated in paragraph 58 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the total area of nij chas and nij-jote land in temporarily-settled estates which are now in the khas possession of proprietors be fixed and no further extension be granted in future, surely the proprietors are entitled to have their rights protected in every possible way, as the substantial concessions which are said to have been given would be lost to the landlords if their khas lands were converted into raiyati lands, and the income of the landlords would thereby be considerably reduced. In this way what are now given to them as concessions cannot but be viewed by them in the light of a sop to pacify their mind.

4. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill remarked in his speech in Council that "nij-jote or privileged embraced the lands which had come down to them as demesne-lands from the previous settlements, and nij-chas or non-privileged included all lands which did not fall under the first category, such as lands which had been abandoned by raiyats in the great Orissa famine of 1866, or had been acquired by purchase from raiyats." This artificial distinction between nij-chas and nij-jote is not ordinarily known to the proprietors, and as such it is necessary that it should be clearly defined in the Bill. But I may be allowed to ask if a landlord manages to get in the record of-rights all his land in the names of his relatives and friends, how can the law prevent him from reaping the advantages of khamar or nij-jote.

Transfer of a tenure or portion of a tenure.

5. Clause 13 A deals with the transfer of a tenure or portion of a tenure by succession, but the method proposed to be adopted does not allow the landlord an opportunity to question the right of the so-called successor, even if he has a bonâ fide doubt that he is not the real successor. Any person claiming as successor can deposit the requisite fees, and have his name registered in the sherista of the landlord. This omission must be rectified by providing for the Collector to serve a notice upon the landlord.

6. Clause 13 C provides that in case of a sale of a tenure, 25 per cent. of the consideration-money should be paid as the fee of the landlord for registration of the transfer of the tenure. There would have been no objection if the clause provided some means for putting down the actual market value in the deed of sale, but the clause as it stands would lead to collusion and fraud, as in order to defraud the landlord of his just dues and the Government of its legitimate stamp duties and registration fees, the real value of the land would be suppressed and a fictitious value put in the kobala. This is surely to be guarded against, as the clause holds out a high premium to perjury and fraud.

7. Clause 13 C, sub-clause (3) requires that the Collector shall, after giving notice to the landlord, inquire and decide whether the landlord is entitled by custom, or for any other good and sufficient reason, to refuse his consent to the transfer, and if the Collector finds that the landlord is not so entitled, shall declare that the transfer has been duly registered. It is wrong in principle to throw the onus upon the landlord to justify the reason of the refusal. Clause 12, sub-clause (1) declares the transferability of permanent tenures, simply because such a declaration is desirable. Clause 13 B declares which classes of tenure-holders are entitled to transfer their tenures without the consent of the landlord, implying thereby that there are other classes of tenures, of course not permanent, especially tenures situated in temporarily-settled estates, which cannot be transferred without the landlord's consent, though there is no expressed provision to that effect. But clause 13 C, sub clause (3) directs the Collector to inquire whether the landlord is entitled by custom or any other good reason to refuse his consent to the transfer, assuming thereby as if the tenure-holder is entitled by law to transfer his tenure, though there is no provision in the Bill to make such assumption except as laid down in clauses 12 and 13 B, sub-clause (1), and calls upon the landlord to prove custom to the contrary. If the onus be thus thrown upon the landlord, it will be difficult for him to prove a negative, and he shall consequently be placed in a disadvantageous position. The onus, therefore, should be laid upon the tenure-holder to prove that the tenure is transferable by custom.

8. In drafting clauses 13 A, 13 B, 13 C and 25 A read with clause 91, sufficient consideration has not been given to the interests of the landlord in the matter of the sub-division of a holding. My reasons are—

(i) Where the holding comprises different classes of land, a sub-division of the holding and a proportionate distribution of rent would be productive of serious loss to the landlords where the better classes of land have been transferred, and the inferior ones left in the possession of the old tenant, who, after the transfer, may easily abandon or surrender his holding. In case of such abandonment or surrender, it would be difficult for the landlord to obtain the average rate on which the original holding had been let out.

(ii) It would be difficult for the landlord to realize small dues consequent on such sub-division.

(iii) To realize such small dues, facilities should be given to the landlords in the shape of a certificate process or any other less expensive mode of realization. Unless this is done no sub-division should be allowed.

The Government depends for its revenue upon the punctual payment of rent to the zamindars, and if facilities be not given for the realization of their dues, there is risk in the revenue not being punctually paid or paid at a considerable sacrifice to the landlord.

This transfer or sub-division opens up undoubtedly some room for letting in hostile or objectionable tenants.

Commutation of produce-rents into money-rents.

9. Clause 41 empowers either the raiyat or the landlord to apply for the commutation of produce-rents to money-rents, but as a matter of fact the landlord never applies for such commutation, for he is aware that the crops necessary for the maintenance of himself and his family are in the hands of his tenants who give the produce-rent. The only person interested in making such applications is the raiyat The poverty of the raiyats generally and a good portion of the landlords is well known. The country, moreover, is subjected to periodical droughts and floods. Under the circumstances it would be advantageous for both the landlords and the tenants that no option should be given to commute the rents in kind to money rents, as the loss of one year may be compensated for by the good outturn of another. If the rent in kind be commuted, it would be impossible for the raiyats to pay it in years of drought and flood. It is distinctly an advantage to the cultivator that, however small the produce of his field in a season of scarcity, he should retain a part of it On the other hand, a tenant, who is bound to pay a uniform money-rent, finds that in many cases the value of his whole crop is not equal to the landlord's fixed money demand. Viewed in this light, commutation of rents in my opinion must be held to be undesirable as exposing the agricultural population to the rigours of scarcity and famine.

Reclamation of waste lands.

10. Clauses 54A and 148.—It is provided that the consent of the landlord may be inferred if he does not bring a suit against the trespasser within four years from the date of the reclamation of waste lands in a permanently-settled estate, and within two years in a temporarily-settled estate. The general law of limitation gives twelve years' time two bring a suit against him. The periods of limitation as prescribed in the Bill would operate prejudicially against the landlords and may put a premium on wrongful acts. The difficulty of the landlord would be obvious when the trespasser acts in collusion with some of his unscrupulous agents or emoloyés, to keep out all information from the landlord about his occupation It is, therefore, highly desirable and absolutely necessary that the period of limitation for permanently-settled and temporarily-settled estates should be eight and six years, respectively.

11. The period of limitation for the recovery of produce-rent as fixed by clause 71, sub clause (1) is only one year if not paid in time. The curtailment of the period of limitation from the usual three years to one would act very injuriously both upon the landlord and the tenant alike. Why should there be a difference of principle with regard to the period of limitation in the recovery of arrears of produce-rent, it is difficult to understand. Sub clause (17) of clause 3 defines "rent" to mean "whatever is lawfully payable or deliverable in money or in kind by a tenant to his landlord on account of the use or occupation of the land held by the tenant." By Article 2, Part I of Schedule IV, three years have been prescribed for the recovery of arrears of money-rent, whereas with regard to the recovery of arrears of produce-rent the period of limitation is fixed for one year only. The reason assigned for this difference in paragraph 35 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons is that "the landlord lets the lean years pass and waits for a fat one. He can easily prove the condition of the crops just reaped while evidence as to the previous crops is necessarily weaker, and he expects to induce the Court to decree the rent of all three years at the same rate." The reason does not appear to be cogent nor founded upon any principle. When a person under the law is obliged to do a certain thing, it is incumbent upon him to discharge that obligation. If a tenant under the law is bound to pay his rent either in money or in kind, he must pay that rent without waiting for any demand from his landlord, and it is on this principle that the law awards interest or damage when an arrear is found due from a tenant It is, therefore, the duty of the tenant who pays produce-rent not to wait till his landlord brings a suit against him for the recovery thereof, but to pay that rent of his own accord when it falls due. If he does not do so, he must take the consequences of law upon himself. This period of limitation would be harassing to the tenant himself by reason of the fact that he is likely to lose the benefit of the sympathy and kindness of the landlord, if he be so inclined, and waits for the payment of the arrears due till a prosperous year, as is always usual with good landlords, and it is needless to mention that the generality of the landlords are good. On the other hand, the landlords also would be harassed by being compelled by law to institute suits against their tenants just after the rent has fallen due. No good landlord, I submit, is blind to the interest and happiness of his tenantry. In fact, rightly understood, the interests of the two are interwoven with each other A prosperous and contented tenantry is a blessing to the landlord. No one, therefore, would be benefited by this clause, whereas the large amount of process and other fees while swelling the raiyat's liability in suits, in many cases to four or five times the amount of arrears of rent, would go to increase the revenues of Government, the practical effect of the Bill will be to increase litigation to an alarming extent and to place the raiyats at the mercy of pettifogging touts and mukhtears. This clause is also objectionable on the ground that sanja rent, which is a fixed produce-rent, has been included in it and no exception made in its favour.

Communal rights.

12. The most objectionable feature of Chapter XA is that lands, which are not communal lands at all and which appertain to the zamindar's own lands, have been included in the sarba sadharan portion of the record-of-rights either by mistake or through negligence as pointed out by the Orissa Association (see page 283 of the Collection of Opinions), and by Babu Raj Kissore Dass, Manager, Jagannath Temple, Puri. in his letter, dated the 13th January, 1912. Hence it is necessary that the zamindar's kabuliyat should be referred to as he is bound to keep intact lands which by his agreement he has bound himself to conserve as communal lands of the village. But to compel a zamindar to set apart a land which was never a communal land before, entered as sarba sadharan land in the record-of-rights by haste, mistake, or neglect of the officers of the Settlement Department, and then to prosecute him under clause 249 of the Bill on the basis of such erroneous entry cannot certainly be justified under any circumstances. It is not denied that communal lands should be preserved; they are necessary for the preservation of health and cattle. But steps should be taken that in the solicitude for the conservation of communal lands, peoples' private lands are not taken on the pretext of their being communal. No doubt, by clause 103 D, the Collector has been empowered to set aside a wrong entry in the sarba sadharan portion of the record-of-rights, but at the outset the zamindar is at a disadvantage, and as experience has shewn, it is difficult for him to set aside an entry once wrongfully made. So the necessity for a reference to the zamindar's kabuliyat would be obvious. The provisions of the Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure are comprehensive enough to cover any encroachment upon communal rights. Hence Chapter XA is not at all necessary, and the effect of the clauses contained therein would have the effect of putting the landlords and tenants at loggerheads, and the tenants would combine to take as much land as they can from the zamindar on a slight pretext, and their combination would be effective so far as evidence is concerned in a court of justice as against the zamindar's own lands. This chapter in the long run would prove injurious to the interests of the zamindar. However, if it is the object of the legislature to retain it, it must be hedged in with safeguards, so that the law may not be made an instrument for the perpetration of injustice. The sanctity of the law must be preserved before all pretended communal rights.

CHAPTER XII.

13. This chapter should altogether be omitted. It has been inserted in the Bill as has been explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, with a view—

"(a) to protect the rights of those who possess interests in land,

(b) to furnish information which will form the basis of assessments of land-revenue,

(c) to furnish information, when required for administrative purposes, and (d) to furnish up-to-date agricultural statistics."

If the object of this chapter is to secure contentment, peace and amity, as is clear from the provision (a) mentioned above, by framing a special edition of the record-of-rights annually or periodically, then that object would be defeated. For instead of peace, contentment and security of rights, the enforcement of the clauses contained in this chapter would have the effect of sowing discord between the landlords and tenants and at the same time would stir up all the evil passions which will be kept up and maintained by proceedings and suits in the Revenue, Civil and Criminal Courts. The amins and underlings of the settlement operation, who would be entrusted with the measurement of lands in order to adjust contentious claims and who have been proved by experience to be corrupt, would not fail to take advantage of their position in order to extort money and foment disputes And this, it should be borne in mind, is to be done annually or periodically. The people of Orissa generally are poor, and most of them have to live upon their own earnings. They have to attend the Provincial Settlement at the end of every 30 years and also the Revisional Settlement within that period, leaving their ordinary avocations and other duties, at the same time expending money by selling or mortgaging their small properties to meet the expenses, and undergoing all sorts of trouble to secure their rights. This is enough to impoverish a province and chase away peace, comfort and contentment from it. But to impose upon them the fresh burden of an annual or periodical land records would prove simply disastrous The objects mentioned in the Statement of Objects and Reasons can better be secured by the records-of-rights themselves, if certain safeguards be provided with regard to the giving of information to the officers employed for that purpose in respect of succession, reclamation or transfer, to be noted in the last record-of-rights since their final publication under clause 108, such note being considered as a part of the record, instead of setting up such a huge and cumbrous machinery which is sure to prove an engine of oppression. The very idea of "measurement" to the people of Orissa causes anxiety of a harrowing nature, as it is always associated with all that is troublesome and expensive. Next to life is one's property, which must be maintained by all means. The evils of the maintenance scheme would far outweigh the benefits that are expected to result from it. To let loose the evils of a settlement operation upon a poor but contented people in order to secure information for forming the basis of land-revenue, which can be gleaned from existing materials, would not be justifiable. If, in Bengal, most of the items of information mentioned in the Statement of Objects and Reasons can be secured without having recourse to the system of the maintenance of land-records, those informations may also be gathered without the insertion of this chapter in the Bill. The circumstances of the Punjab and the Central Provinces are quite different from those of Orissa, and what is good law for those provinces need not necessarily be good for Orissa. Another effect of the retention of this chapter in the Bill would be to do away with the finality and authenticity of the record-of-rights, though much time, money and trouble have been expended upon them to bring about a completion. I am strengthened in my opinion by that of the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox, who says that the annual maintenance of records is not necessary for protecting the rights of the people (vide his Report, Volume I, page 357). Orissa wants rest after the Provincial and Revisional Settlements, and some respite should be given to it. It should not again be plunged annually into the whirlpool of troubles, anxieties and expenses.

RESHEE CASE LAW.

The 29th February 1912.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE RAJA RAJENDRA NARAYAN BHANJA DEO.

Clause 3 (11).— The words "permanent settlement" in the Bill ought not to include peshkash and sanad estates for reasons stated at length in the memorials submitted by me and the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraj Bahadur of Burdwan. The wholesale application of the present Bill is entirely unsuitable to the peculiar conditions of these estates. The present Bill requires modifications in many important matters in order that it may be made applicable to the special conditions of these estates.

2. Clauses 3 (15) and 49 (a).—I fully appreciate the intention of Government to end the bitterness and strife and not to allow any further increase in the nijjote area, but the fact should not be overlooked that many landlords, through their ignorance or negligence, let out their nijjote lands without leases or counterpart agreements. In the course of the Revisional Settlement such lands were recorded in the names of the tenants in consequence of the definition of proprietor's private lands and the restrictions in clause 49 to the effect that unless let out for a term of years or from year to year, the lands would cease to be private lands. The Hon'ble Mr McPherson, in his letter No 4556, dated 30th November last, while noticing an increase of 25,170 acres, also noticed a decrease of 18,690 acres during the last Revisional Settlement Most of the landlords of Orissa let out their nijchas lands without any lease, in the belief that no occupancy right would accrue in them; they will, under the present Bill, lose the benefit of the concession. It is, I presume, not the intention of Government to deprive them of such lands In order that the concession may be whole-hearted and really effective and beneficial to all, specially the small land-holders, the restrictive condition "under leases for a term of years or under leases from year to year" imposed in the definition of clause 3 (15) and in (a) of clause 49 should be removed, for otherwise such landlords would be deprived of their bread-giving lands The Hon'ble Mr McPherson observes: "it is an arbitrary concession and arbitrary methods may be followed in giving effect to it."

3. Clause 13C and explanation.—The tenures that are transferable according to local custom are well known They have been enumerated by the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox and have been dealt with in clause 13B. As regards other tenures, especially those created by contract, for instance, for purposes of reclamation, their transferability may be open to question. In such cases it would hardly be fair to require the landlords to prove the negative against the general principle of law, which lays upon the party who relies upon custom, the burden of proving it. The explanation is, in the circumstances, objectionable.

4. Clause 21 (2a) and (2b).—The substituted sub-clause place the co-sharer acquiring occupancy rights either by private purchase or by execution sale at a greater disadvantage than he was under section 22 (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. He was only liable to pay rent to the other co-sharers to the extent of their shares. It was proposed in the Notes on Clauses to consider in Select Committee whether the purchaser of occupancy-rights should still be allowed to continue in possession as a raiyat from the date of sale where the property was subsequently sold for its own arrears of revenue. The Orissa Landholders' Association, therefore, suggested that a proprietor or a co-proprietor purchasing occupancy-rights should be allowed to retain possession of those lands, even after sale of the property or a share of the property on revenue sale, and that they should be treated to some extent like the ex-proprietary tenants in the North-West Provinces, who are allowed to retain possession of their sir lands at concession rates of rent. While no concession in rent was sought for, it was pointed out that the majority of landholders in Orissa being poor, they deserved some indulgence specially when they paid full price for the purchase of the occupancy-rights, there being no reason why they should be treated differently from any other purchaser. While, under the old law, there was some chance of their maintaining possession of such lands even after sale of their estates, they will be deprived of the chance by the substituted sub-clauses which treats them as proprietors, and the occupancy rights purchased by them will thus pass out of their hands when their estates are sold. It is the intention of Government not to allow them to acquire occupancy rights by purchase, but the reason for treating them differently from other purchaser is not indicated. There might be some reason for discouraging acquisition of occupancy-rights by private purchase but a clear distinction ought to be drawn in cases where proprietors or co proprietors are compelled to purchase occupancy-rights in execution sales. In such cases there is no justification for treating them differently from other purchasers. The landlords of Orissa are considerate to their tenants and the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox admits "very occasionally a bad tenant gets sold up, but as a rule the zamindar knows that it is to his interest to keep his raiyat going" (Vide Orissa Settlement Report, Volume I, page 132, paragraph 189.)

5. Clause 25A.—The introduction of this new clause for the first time in the course of consideration of the Bill by the Select Committee is a highly objectionable procedure. In the most advanced Province of Bengal, where both the landlords and the tenants are keenly alive to the protection of their respective rights and interests, it has not yet been thought necessary to introduce any legislative measures to define their rights in respect of such an important question as the transferability of occupancy-rights. This is still governed by custom and local usage and although the Bengal Tenancy Act has, since its introduction, been brought up for amendment on several occasions and a large number of cases have been decided by the High Court, there has yet been no legislation on the subject. In Orissa, occupancy-rights (except in thani lands) have grown up very recently during the last settlement, transfers of such rights have therefore originated very recently and they have been made invariably with the consent of the landlords In no instance has it been shown that the right of transfer without the landlord's consent has been asserted against the landlord in order to justify the recognition of such right by law. The very fact that there have been numerous transfers with the consent of the landlord would hardly amount in law to establishing the custom of the transferability of occupancy rights. In many instances the consent of the landlord is obtained even long after registration of the deeds by payment of his salami. There are several instances in which landlords have not only withheld consent but have obtained khas possession by ousting the purchasers. There is therefore not the least justification for the recognition by law of a right which does not exist or which has not even been successfully asserted in any court of law. There has been no such general complaint as yet of any serious abuse of the right of veto on the part of the landlord as to justify the imposition of any restriction on the exercise of such right. This restriction of their rights would not only tend to make the tenants refractory, and the landlords, who are admittedly neither exacting nor oppressive, less sympathetic, but lead to an undesirable tension of feeling between them. Besides, the introduction of such an important measure without giving the people and the public bodies an opportunity of expressing their opinion is hardly constitutional.

The burden of proof of the custom should be distinctly laid on the party who asserts it.

6. The explanation I seems to be wholly unnecessary and misleading. The fact of the landlord charging a fee for giving consent would in no way help the party who alleges a custom of transferability of occupancy-rights without the landlord's consent. The proviso regarding the presumption of the correctness of the Collector's finding is also objectionable, especially when it is subject to revision by the Commissioner.

7. Clause 41.—Almost all the public bodies in Orissa have strongly objected to the retention of this clause on the ground of its unsuitability to the present condition of Orissa. In the Orissa Committee all the non-officia members opposed its retention. Mr. Taylor, while supporting its retention suggested that commutation should not be allowed in special cases, "for instance in the case of grants to religious and charitable bodies, or where, by reason of cast or physical disabilities, the landlord was unable to cultivate with his own hands or where the commutation would cause hardship to the landlord. He would also forbid commutation on any particular lands recorded as zamindar's nychas in the settlement papers" The Orissa Landholder's Association and the Orissa Association have taken pains to show how the principle of commutation would injuriously affect the interests of both the landlords and the tenants of Orissa For this reason the provision of section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, relating to commutation, although extended to Orissa in 1896, was not availed of till the Revision Settlement. The Hon'ble Mr. Maddox admits that "most of the money (or rather grain) lending in Orissa is in the hands of zamindars or proprietary tenure-holders, and they are by no means hard creditors* * * and will supply him on the usual terms with the necessary grain even though there be a large accumulated debt. (Settlement Report, Volume I, page 132.)

VIII of 1885.

8. The proprietor, sub-proprietor and petty lakhrajdars need more paddy than money not only for their own use, but for payment of labour employed by them, and the labouring classes as well as the village artisans prefer payment in paddy to money wages. The Orissa Landholders' Association has very properly and forcibly pointed out that, "so long as the resources of the country are not developed and industries do not supplement the small margin of income, if any, of the agriculturists and provide other means of support to the labouring and other classes, it is not desirable to introduce the principle of commutation to Orissa, which will have only the following baneful effect, viz, it will greatly contract the already reduced income of the proprietary class, deprive them of the principal means of support, and prevent them from helping the raiyats who are always improvident, in times of bad harvest, and deprive the landless and labouring classes of their means of subsistence." The suggestion of Mr. Taylor was not accepted wholly; "hardship" as a ground for exemption is not included in the clause.

9. The public bodies have also suggested that such cases should not be left to the unfettered discretion of the Revenue officers. Any concession on this most important question, vitally affecting the interests of both landlords and tenants, should be whole-hearted, and, in order to be really effective, should follow the lines suggested by Mr. Taylor.

10. The present Bill allows half the gross produce as legitimate and unobjectionable. It was suggested that, where a landlord contracts for one-fourth of the gross produce as produce-rent, such reduced rent should be protected from commutation. This would be advantageous to the tenants.

11. Clause 54 A.—The objections to the introduction of the new provision relating to transferability of occupancy-rights at a late stage, when the Bill is under consideration by the Select Committee, apply with equal force to the introduction of this new clause. The most serious objectionable feature in this new legislative enactment is that it curtails the statutory period of twelve years during which a landlord is entitled to evict a trespasser cultivating waste lands without his knowledge or permission. Clause 93 allows the landlord to measure lands of his estate once in ten years, and it would be difficult for any landlord to ascertain within this short period the existence of unauthorized cultivation. The landlords in Orissa very rarely withhold their consent, and the curtailment of the period would be detrimental to their interests as it would encourage clandestine cultivation. The practice at present entitles a landlord to realize a salami in the case of cultivation of waste land. When this reclamation is done surreptitiously, the zamindar, by treating the cultivator as a trespasser, not only realizes his rent for past years, but realizes the salami as well. The provision of the present Bill shortens considerably the period during which the zamindar can exercise his right of ejectment. This will increase the percentage of cases in which the timely exercise of the right of ejectment will be avoided by the raiyat (1) by the manufacture of false evidence of the period of cultivation and (2) by intentional attempts to conceal the fact of cultivation.

12. The clause is an inequitable adjustment of the existing rights of zamindar and raiyat as evidenced by prevailing custom. The custom of payment of salami exists, and if anything was wanting to prove it, that was supplemented by the conduct of the settlement officer in helping the zamindar to realize his salami in most cases. The raiyat's right in the land was not recorded in the Revision Settlement till, to the knowledge of the settlement officer, the salami was paid. The present clause is most favourable to the raiyat. He reclaims the land without permission. He is now a trespasser. This clause raises him to the position of a raiyat, and in most cases it will arm him with an occupancy-right against the zamindar, and this he attains in the course of four years, whereas, in the case of any other land, he would have been obliged to wait for 12 years or pay for the right to a vendor. The market-value of this right will be the market value of other lands in the village with similar rights. It seems inequitable that the legislature should favour so much the conduct of a trespasser. But if this is deemed necessary in the interests of the raiyat, the law should provide safeguards to protect the interests of the zamindar; otherwise it will set a premium on clandestine and dishonest conduct.

13. Clause 60 (3*a*), (3*b*.)—There is serious objection to the inquiry being made summary, especially when, under sub-clause (6*a*), the order of the Collector is subject to appeal before the Commissioner. Clause (6*a*) will hardly be any safeguard if there be no evidence on record. The Collector might not record sufficient evidence to make the provision of an appeal useful. The provision for summary procedure when there is an appeal is unusual.

14. Clauses 69 and 70.—Formerly damages at 25 per cent. on the amount claimed were invariably decreed in rent cases, but since the passing of the Amending Act I of 1907,[1] courts decreed interest at 12½ per cent. instead of awarding damages, although the law made provision for awarding damages where the defendants, "without reasonable or probable cause, neglected or refused to pay the amount due." The courts awarded interest at 6 per cent. after decree up to realization, although there is no reason why the rate of interest should be reduced for the period after the institution of the suit and after decree. The result is that the defaulting tenant seldom voluntarily pays the decretal amount till it is realized by process of execution. This is inequitable. The majority of the landlords are burdened with heavy lists of arrears The institution of rent suits and execution of decrees for the realization of arrears involve costs which are not all realized, and these (added to the already heavy cost of collection) stand in the way of landlords seeking the help of the court on a large scale for the realization of rents. The landlords, especially the small landlords, have to put up with the loss due to the rents being barred. They have to pay the increased revenue, and the sunset law forces them to incur debts where they cannot pay on due dates. They have to pay heavy penalties to save their estates from being sold up. To award interest at 12½ per cent. till realization would be some compensation for the loss they have to sustain for the default of the tenants.

15. Clause 71.—The sanja system has this advantage that no share of the straw or other crops has to be paid and the share of the paddy is fixed at less than a half. It presses hard upon the tenant only when the crops are lost or the outturn is poor. It is only the small and absentee landholders who generally prefer and contract for sanja rents. If they are obliged to sue for one year's sanja, the tenant will be at a disadvantage, as his inability to pay in due time is not due to wilful default so much as to loss of crops on account of drought or inundation. The Commissioner recommends its exclusion from the operation of this clause, and the District Judge also thinks that "it will hardly suit the case of sanja rent and would work hardship." While in the case of money-rent, suits for three years' arrears can be instituted, it is not very clear why in the case of sanja rent, which is equivalent to cash rent, a suit for one year only will have to be instituted.

16. Clause 90.—This clause, as it stands at present, leaves open a door to collusion with a view to defraud the zamindar. Under colour of abandonment a tenant may transfer his holding and arrange with the transferee for payment of rent. The clause should not give protection to the parties to such fraud. The words of the clause ought to be altered.

17. The Commissioner of Orissa made some salutary suggestions based on his local knowledge. These have not received due attention, though, on what grounds, it is not known.

CHAPTER XII.

18. Land Records.—All the public bodies and private individuals consulted have very strongly expressed themselves on the introduction of this legislative enactment. The four grounds mentioned in paragraph X of the Statement of Objects and Reasons justifying it have been criticised in detail by the Orissa Landholders' Association. The disastrous effect of the operation of the provisions of this chapter can very well be anticipated from, and gauged by, the results and experiences of the late Revisional Settlement, which have been graphically described in the opinion submitted by the Orissa Landholders' Association.

"Mr. Maddox, however, advocated periodical revision after fifteen years, in order to enable zamindars to apply for settlement of fair rents on payment of cost. It is notorious that the last settlement gave rise to much bitterness and litigation, and both the landlords and tenants were exhausted in the hard struggle, which dragged on for several years after its close, to protect their respective rights and interests. Before they had settled down to enjoy a little rest, the Revisional Settlement re-opened the old sore Both the landlords and tenants, having learnt by bitter experience how difficult it was to undo the mischief done by the amins at the last settlement, were more alert than before, and money flowed in and swelled the amins' pockets. Brass utensils and silver bracelets were ungrudingly pledged to the profit of village mahajans, and the amins sold their favours to the highest bidder either to make or remove entries Pilgrim-hunters, cooks, gardeners, coolies, petty traders and small landholders engaged in mills and other different pursuits in Bengal and other parts of the country, all came back to their villages The village blacksmith left his forge, the carpenter his workshop, the cultivator neglected his fields, and the landlord's agent stopped his collections to crowd about the settlement camps, to dance attendance with witnesses outside the enclosures from day to day from early morning to late at midnight. Any one who has been to a settlement camp could not but be impressed with the painful spectacle of the great surges of human passions. Disputes, such as petty encroachments, removal of fences or the like, which in ordinary village life would have been amicably settled by village elders, were carried to the settlement camps and the feelings were at times so far strained as to end in the commission of grave offences If the Revisional Settlement, by its procedure, interrupted or suspended all trade, agricultural and industrial pursuits temporarily the maintenance of records, with similar procedure, will tend to their serious dislocation from year to year, as those who have any interest in land will be required to be always on the alert to protect such interests The Revisional Settlement, undertaken at a huge cost, is nearing completion, and it is not necessary to disturb the country afresh by early or periodical revisional proceedings with a view to maintenance of records. It is admitted by experienced officers that such proceedings tend to increase litigation, and not only disturb the peaceful relation between landlords and tenants, but between tenants and tenants (vide Mr. Maddox's letter at page 135, volume II of his report).

The Orissa Association observes—

> "As the whole of Orissa is opposed to the framing of these records, it ought not to be enforced against the wishes of the whole nation, to their irreparable injury. Their arts and pursuits under the peaceful administration of the British Crown should be retained."

In the opinion of the National Society, Balasore, "this chapter ought to be expunged altogether." The District Judge thus observes—

> I am opposed to either an annual or triennial maintenance of land records at the present juncture. Apart from the expense it would entail, there is a general feeling in Orissa that a rest is required after the Provincial and Revisional Settlements. There has been a general stirring up, time is required for settling down again. The Revisional Settlement has followed very closely upon the Provincial Settlement, and soon preparations will be commencing for the next Provincial Settlement. One feature of such preparations is the attempt to get possessions of lands so as to be found there when the Settlement Officer arrives, and this gives rise to criminal cases. Riots are few in Orissa, but such cases as I have had before me have all had to do with settlement disputes * * * We are told that the raiyats would welcome the maintenance of the land records; I would rather say that at the most they are quite indifferent about the subject. The landlords are, of course, opposed to it, owing to the expense and trouble it entails. They long for a rest, and I am sure the rest would be acceptable to the raiyats."

The Commissioner of Orissa observes—

The Puri Bar Association and National Society, Balasore, have expressed themselves strongly against a scheme of maintenance chiefly on the ground of harassment to the people. I have reported separately on this matter in my letter No. 2151R., dated the 23rd November 1911, to the Board of Revenue, and I do not propose to discuss the question further here"

The Honb'le Babu Janakinath Bose requested in Select Committee that this letter might be laid on the table, but the Hon'ble the Chairman was unable, under the rules relating to official correspondence, to comply with this request. It is, however, presumed that the opinion of the Commissioner is adverse to this measure.

19. Thus there is a singular consensus of opinion in opposition to this legislative enactment. It is surprising that such an unpopular and obnoxious legislative measure should be thrust upon the people of Orissa in the teeth of this unanimous protest. Two provisions of the chapter need special mention. They are contained in clauses 148 and 153, and are particularly objectionable.

20. In clause 148 the period of two years during which a landlord should sue to eject a trespasser cultivating waste lands without his knowledge or consent is too short. The reasons have been set forth in the opinions of the Orissa Landholders' Association and under clause 54A above. There should not be two periods—one for the permanently-settled area, and another for the temporarily settled area. There is no valid ground for the curtailment of the statutory period of 12 years.

21. Clause 153 confines appeals only to orders of the Revenue officer "relating to a rent settled," and bars appeals against other orders passed in other proceedings under this chapter. Under Chapter XI provision has been made for appeal against orders passed by the Revenue officers and for civil suits.

CHAPTER XA.

22. Although the public bodies and private gentlemen consulted generally supported legislation to place the responsibility upon the Collector for the preservation of communal lands that were set apart at the last settlement for the use of the community, and in respect of which the proprietors or sub-proprietors were bound by the terms of the kabuliyats executed by them not to allow any cultivation of them, strong exception was taken by all of them to the reckless manner in which communal lands were recorded during the Revisional Settlement, in a great many cases without the consent and against the wishes of the zamindars and raiyats. The present legislative provision is an attempt to give legal effect to the wrong entries of sarba sadharan made during the Revisional Settlement in respect of unabadi or waste lands, tanks, orchards, filled up tanks and even trees, giving varied rights in them to the zamindars and the village communities. Although power has been given to the Collector to correct or remove such entries, there is justification for the Settlement Officer's apprehension "that it will be difficult to persuade him to do so." There is a good deal of force in the Settlement Officer's objection to the proposed legislation, and in his observation that "whatever is done, it ought to be insisted on that action shall be taken only on complaint made before the Collector by some person interested, * * * because it throws the onus of complaint on some party interested. I do not think that parties interested will be found to be apathetic when any right which is important to them is challenged" (vide page 6 of Paper No. 6 on the Bill).

23. The proposed legislation in regard to communal land is defective, in as much as it tends only to the preservation of pasture lands without any adequate provision being made for growing fodder on them or planting trees thereon to afford shade, and with a view to rendering the lands fit for pasture. It is nobody's business to see to their improvement; on the other hand, both the zamindars and the tenants are afraid of any interference with them, and unless adequate provision is made, as pointed out by the Orissa Landholders' Association, for the improvement of these lands, the object of legislation will be defeated. Besides, adequate provision should be made for the exchange of lands set apart for gochar lands, but which are really unfit for such purposes for other lands.

R. N. BHANJA DEO.

The 2nd March, 1912.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE MR. M. S. DAS ON THE ORISSA TENANCY BILL.

1. The present Bill is the result of revolution, not evolution. Land-laws, under all civilized Governments, are made to provide for or against the existing state of things in a country. By existing state of things, I mean the existing rights and interests in land owned at a given period by the different sections of a population The object of legislation is to secure to each section the full enjoyment of the rights and interests they own, and to provide against all encroachments thereon by other sections having adverse interest.

2. Rights and interest in land among a people are the accumulated result of countless social and economical forces The duty of the legislator is to record and adjust the existing rights with a view to secure social harmony which is the foundation of a peaceful society. As society changes, the legislator recasts his work to suit the new social conditions. Agrarian relations between the different classes in an Indian village or cluster of neighbouring villages formed in ancient times an integral part of the social economy. Except in large towns and cities, which are the outcome of European civilization, the forces which shape every-day life are still to some extent of a social nature. Agrarian relations are controlled by social considerations This is especially so in Orissa where down to the beginning of last century there was the feudal system. For people who have been accustomed to be frequently on the move, it is not possible to realise how social influences can control agrarian relation. For the same reason the nomadic Arab cannot appreciate the feelings which to an Englishmen are associated with the English word "Home."

3. I have said above that the present Bill is a work of revolution. It is the result of a disregard of the legitimate duty of the legislator as described above, an ignorance of the social forces and influences which control agrarian relation in Orissa, and an utter disregard of local opinion both official and non-official as to the adaptability of the Bengal Tenancy Act to the condition of Orissa in the eighties of last century. VIII of 1885.

4. The Bengal Tenancy Act did not apply proprio vigore to Orissa. The power of extending it to Orissa was reserved to the Local Government. This meant that the condition of Orissa was suited to the provisions of the Act in 1885, when the Act was passed It was expected that altered conditions of the province might at some future date make its extension desirable. (I shall hereinafter give a brief sketch of the circumstances which made the Bengal Tenancy Act necessary in some areas administered by the Government of Bengal.) It is clear that at the date when the Act was passed, Orissa was not fit for it. Within five years the province was considered fit for the introduction of certain portions of the Act. VIII of 1885. VIII of 1885.

5. Local opinion, both official and non-official, was opposed to this introduction. This opposition, it was pleaded, was due to the "conservatism of the Uriyas," and the opinion of the local officials was attributed to a sympathy with the same conservatism with which "the officials had been imbued" The march of civilization, it was said, made the change necessary. Sir Henry Maine's theories were quoted. But, in the enthusiasm of the moment, those responsible for the final decision of the question lost sight of the fact that theories are abstract propositions; their successful application requires correct information regarding the condition of the society to which it is sought to apply them. The manner in which the Act was extended to Orissa also shows the ignorance of the authorities of the provisions of the Act, and the connection of the different portions of the Act to each other.

6. Chapter X of the Act was first introduced for the purpose of revenue settlement. The main object the Government of India had in view in directing that the revenue settlement should be made under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act was to secure an enhanced revenue; the other object was a classification of the tenancies according to the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The reason for this was that the classification was superior to that embodied in Act X of 1859 [1], and if the record-of-rights were made during the revenue settlement on the basis of the laws in force in Orissa, the subsequent introduction of the Bengal Tenancy Act would be impossible. What was the result of this? The settlement operations began. If the Assistant Settlement Officer happened to be a Bengalee, who was familiar with the rights and interests which the Bengal Tenancy Act deals with, he found on the spot new rights which found no place in the Act. If the Assistant Settlement Officer happened to be an Uriya to whom the local rights in lands were familiar, he received no light from the Act The Settlement Officer himself was wiser. He moved the Government to extend some other portion of the Act as occasions presented difficulties in the working of Chapter X of the Act. All groped in darkness. The Supreme Government supremely ignorant of the local conditions were the legally constituted guide. It was a case of the blind leading those struggling in darkness. Sections after sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act were introduced as difficulties arose during the progress of the settlement operations. Experience of the degree of darkness which surrounded the responsible duties of the Settlement Officer, led him to try new openings for additional light, but the additional light showed some more dark spot. Portions of the Act were extended from time to time to remove difficulties, but every new extension started unforeseen difficulties in another quarter This process was carried on till the Government came to the conclusion that Orissa wanted a special Code adapted to its peculiar circumstances.

VIII of 18

The above is a history of the nativity of this Bill.

7. Of the two objects Government of India had in view, the first—an increased revenue—has been secured. The present revenue is 50 per cent. more than the revenue fixed by the settlement of 1839 I shall have occasion to refer to this hereinafter again. But what about the second object the Government had in making the settlement under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act? This was done with a view to extend the Bengal Tenancy Act to Orissa. Has this object been gained?

VIII of 1

8. It is not necessary to go into a detailed criticism of the effects of this piece-meal extension of the Bengal Tenancy Act Some of them are to be found in the Bill; and some of them have been noticed by the Hon'ble Mr. S. L. Maddox, C.S.I., in his letter No. A., dated 6th April 1903, to be found at page 10 of paper No. 2 relative to this Bill. I shall refer to one instance mentioned at page 12 of the letter. It is the case of Brahmanund Mahapatra versus Arjun Rout reported at page 510 of Calcutta Law Journal, Volume I. In that case their Lordships held that sections 20 and 21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act having been extended to Orissa, without an extension of section 116 of that Act, occupancy rights can accrue in zamindar's nij jot lands. This decision is dated August 1905. To remove this grievance of the zamindars, in August 1906 Chapter XI was extended to Orissa But this brought to light another defect. To quote the words of the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox in para. 17 of the letter above referred to:—"As soon, however, as Chapter XI was introduced, zamindars had recourse to provisions of section VII of Act X, [1] and caused kabuliyats to be executed by their raiyats barring the accrual of rights of occupancy in all kinds of lands * * * . The present state of affairs is, of course, intolerable, and steps must, at once, be taken to re-establish by legislation the principles already quoted in para. 10."

(1) The Bengal Rent Act, 1859.

One is tempted to ask who is responsible for this inalterable state of things? The raiyats or the zamindars?

9. Act X of 1859 [1] was the first legislation to protect the raiyat against the oppression of zamindars, undertaken under the power reserved to Government by section 8 of Regulation I of 1793 and section 67 of Regulation VIII of 1793. Within four or five years of its promulgation the difficulties of working Act X of 1859 [1] in Bengal were felt. Those difficulties were brought to the notice of Government by the High Court. To ensure smooth working Act VIII of 1869 [2] was passed. It did not make any change in the substantive law. The provisions of Act X of 1859 [1] were retained, but the trial of suits was transferred to the Civil Court It was an alteration in the law of procedure. The Revenue Courts had been found incompetent to try the intricate questions of law which the strained relations between the zamindars and their tenants raised in suits between them. But Act VIII of 1869 [2] too was found insufficient. Early in the seventies of last century the agrarian disturbances in Pubna necessitated special legislation to restore peace and order. The result was Act VI of 1876[3]. The object of this Act was "to provide for disputes regarding recovery of rent and to provide for agrarian disturbances." This was a temporary measure. The idea of recasting the whole law of landlord and tenant with a view to suit the state of things in Bengal was decided upon. But it took some years before Government came to a decision what form the proposed legislation should take.

10. In the meantime the condition of the agricultural population of Bihar attracted the attention of Government The condition of Bihar tenantry had attracted the attention of the Government as far back as 1868. In Bihar too things went from bad to worse. About the time when the Agrarian Disputes Act of 1876 was passed, a Commission was appointed to advise Government on measures necessary to remedy the state of things in Bihar. The condition of tenantry of Bengal and Bihar necessitated, according to the view of Government, more stringent legislation to protect the rights of the raiyat. I am not in a position to say that the zamindars of Bengal and Bihar were really oppressive. On the contrary I should be inclined to think that the picture was overdrawn. But for the purposes of this note, I assume that the official literature on the subject represents the true state of things in the Provinces of Bengal and Bihar. The strained relations between the landlords and raiyats necessitated stringent legislative provisions. The above are the antecedents which led to the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

VIII of 1885.

11. The permanent settlement of Bengal and Bihar was made in 1793. The demand of Government revenue on the zamindar was fixed. Regulations VII of 1799 was passed to enable proprietors to realize their rents with greater punctuality, and large powers of distraint were conferred, which in the hands of unscrupulous landlords became a powerful engine of oppression. A limited demand of Government revenue, with great facilities and large powers for realization of rent, soon developed a rich aristocracy of which Bengal and Bihar have just reason to be proud of at the present moment.

12 From the time of the permanent settlement to the enactment of Act X of 1859[1] the policy of Government was to strengthen the hands of the zamindar with a view to secure the punctual payment of Government revenue. During this period extending over more than half a century the zamindars of Bengal and Bihar improved their position, and to a corresponding degree the condition and status of the raiyats suffered. This would in any country bring about strained relations of payer and payee to one another.

13. It is necessary to see how Orissa fared during the early period of British administration.

[1] The Bengal Rent Act, 1859
[2] Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1869

Five settlements were made within the short period of 11 years from the commencement of British occupation of the Province. The result is given below from an official correspondence of the time—

> "The revenue was enhanced during this period by about 3½ lakhs of rupees, being raised from Rs. 13,14,825 in 1804-05 to Rs. 16,37,924 in 1818-19. The amount of the average yearly demand for each settlement collected during the currency of the settlement fell from 94 per cent. to 27 per cent. between the years 1805-06 and 1818-19, and during this period it was necessary to bring to sale no less than 1,129 estates bearing a jama of Rs. 9,65,984. This measure ruined two-thirds at least of the old Uriya proprietors and transferred their lands to rich absentee Bengalees. Estates were sold at the Revenue Board in Calcutta, and thus they passed into the hands of the rich Bengalees."

This was followed by the Revenue Settlement of 1839. It was for a term of thirty years.

When the term of the settlement in 1839 was about to expire and a fresh settlement was due, the Province was visited by the most devastating famine ever known to British rule.

Correct figures of one zamindar's estate are given here to give an idea of the loss which the country suffered "At the beginning of 1866—the famine year—the population was 11,879. During the famine months 5,375 or nearly 50 per cent. of the population perished and 1,250 emigrated."

Famine affected the cultivated area in an estate in two ways—(1) from death of cultivators and (2) from want of means by the surviving tenants—for want of seed grain and cattle.

The famine was followed by floods. The following is a description of the floods which followed the famine:—"673,726 acres were destructively inundated, the waters lying from 3 to 15 feet. A population of 1,308,365 souls suddenly found their homesteads submerged. These figures speak for themselves, but they do not tell the whole truth."

The revenue settlement of 1839 was made on the distinct understanding that Government should keep up the embankments, and the zamindars undertook to pay the revenue assessed on the understanding that the country will be protected from inundation. In consequence of the famine the period of the revenue settlement was extended for another thirty years. During the extended period, Government did not keep up the embankments and by that means saved over £400,000.

14. Orissa is governed by Mitakshara law. Except in the few instances where the estates have passed into the hands of Bengalees, and in the few cases where custom attaches impartibility and promogeniture, Mitakshara rules govern succession. The result of this has been the division of large estates into very small ones. Most of the zamindars are poor, a large percentage of them commanding an income hardly higher than that of the well-to do raiyat. The bajiaftidars form a portion of this. They have been classed as raiyats for certain purposes in the Bill.

15. The enjoyment of a superior legal status is not an opportunity to oppress those to whom the law assigns a lower legal status. Men and means and generally the resources at command give a man the motive and opportunities for oppression. These are wanting in the zamindars of Orissa. Hence there has been no strained relation between the zamindars and raiyats.

16. Soon after the grant of the boon of the permanent settlement to Bengal and Bihar, the Government thought that they had made a mistake. The despatches of the Hon'ble Court of Directors and the minutes by higher officials of the time show this. There was a swing of the pendulum in the opposite direction. Heavy assessment of revenue was made to cripple the resources of the zamindar. The result is shown in paragraph 13 above.

17. Nature lent her mighty help to Government in their attempt to cripple the resources of the zamindar The famine left the lands fallow. He had to pay the full amount of revenue. The floods followed in the wake of famine. The wreck of the zamindar was complete. Famines, floods and calamities have a levelling influence. They disarm the high and proud of their power of oppression. Wealth, social position and legal status give way and sympathy asserts the levelling influence of humanity

18. The present relation between the zamindars and raiyats in Orissa does not justify the stringent laws which are found in the Bill. Laws which are effective remedies for strained relations in society, when enforced in a peaceful state of society, produce the strained relations, in the same way as drugs which are remedies for a disease produce the disease when administered to a healthy person.

19. The introduction of Chapter X for purposes of the revenue settlement was a revolutionary measure. The result was disturbance of a settled state of things, a disturbance of vested rights. The present Bill is an attempt to introduce the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Its remarkable features are (1) that it aims at giving legislative sanction to errors committed during the settlement operations, (2) it aims at introducing into Orissa the provisions of Acts which are found in Madras, Bombay, Chota Nagpur, the Central Provinces, but find no place in the Bengal Tenancy Act.

VIII of 1885.

20. No attempt has been made to show how these additional provisions, which are adopted from other provinces, but which are not found in the Bengal Tenancy Act are in requisition in Orissa. There are instances where provisions which have not been introduced into East Bengal, find place in the present Bill.

21. The cardinal mistake lies in an unjustifiable assumption that the relation between landlord and tenant in Orissa is more strained than in any part of Bengal. The records of Orissa Courts, revenue, civil and criminal, when compared with those of East and West Bengal, will not support this assumption.

22. The Hon'ble Mr. Maddox at page 13 of Paper No. 2 relative to the Bill, notices the increase of litigation between landlords and tenants. The number of suits in 1900 when the last settlement was concluded was 15,683; in 1906-07 the number rose to 30,671 This, says the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox, is due to "the adoption of coercive measures by the landlords, whom the settlement records have furnished facilities for proof of areas, status and rentals of their tenants." The figures show more strained relations. "Coercive measures" !!! I wish that in settling the policy of the Bill the proposition that recourse to Law Court is a coercive measure had received due attention. This would have kept out of the Bill in a large measure the elaborate procedure introduced in many instances. If the records of these suits were examined with a view to classify the cause of action, I have no doubt that in a very large number of cases the record-of rights was responsible for these suits As an instance of unnecessary cumbrous and "coercive" provision, I should mention clause 90 of the Bill—the one for abandonment. How would these provisions work if there is another famine? How would this work when scores of villages are swept away by the floods and the floods render large areas unfit for cultivation? The object in retaining the present jurisdiction of the Revenue Courts over suits under land-law has been defeated by the introduction of elaborate procedures in many instances. All these mean loss of time to the raiyat; and legislation which requires him to attend to procedure, which may be necessary in a society where strained relation between zamindar and raiyats is the rule, and not the exception, unwittingly works out the raiyat's impoverishment.

Bill, clause 90.

23. The Bill is revolutionary in character. The revolution was started by the revenue settlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act, and an attempt is made in the Bill to complete it. I have shown above how the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act were found unsuited to the existing rights in land in Orissa. This is admitted by the hon'ble gentleman who drafted the Bill and the hon'ble gentleman now in charge of it. To ignore vested rights in property is the work of the revolutionist. The conqueror-warrior, the socialist and the nihilist aim at this The accomplishment of this object, under colour of law, does not eliminate the important element in the connotation of 'revolutionary.'

24. It is necessary to have a correct estimate of the extent to which the different classes of people have gained by the provisions of the Bill by reason of concessions from Government.

The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, in his speech in introducing the Bill, said, "They (zamindars) have been deemed entitled to a more considerate treatment." It is admitted that owing to the absence of any provision in the Bengal Tenancy Act the nij-jote lands of all tenure-holders were not recorded as such. The distinction of nij-jote and nij- has was an arbitrary one adopted by the Settlement Department under an executive order contrary to law and custom in force at the time. It should be borne in mind that the word 'nij-chas" does not find a place in Act X of 1859[1] or in the Bengal Tenancy Act Where did the Settlement Department find it? They found it in Orissa It is the Uriya equivalent of nij-jote. The lands which were the private lands of the zamindars and tenure-holders were called by various names, and nij-chas is the most common, having a local origin. Act X of 1859[1] spoke of the private land as "khamar, nij-jote or sir land belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure and let by him on lease for a term or year by year."

VIII of 188

The nomenclature is not exhaustive. The words khamar, nij-jote and sir are followed by an explanatory clause Section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act enumerates only the terms used of zamindars' private land in Bengal and Bihar. The Act was not meant to apply to Orissa, hence no reference is made to the words in use in Orissa.

Finding that the word locally used to designate zamindar's private land was nij chas, and this word was not used in the Act, the Settlement Department recorded them under two separate heads.

The explanatory words in section 6 of Act X of 1859[1], to which reference has been made in a paragraph of this note, were ignored. The law in force at the time was practically repealed: custom prevailing on the subject was set at naught. Evidently the provisions of section 116 of Bengal Tenancy Act were followed. This is curious, seeing that that section was not extended till 1906, i e., till. after six years subsequent to the completion of the revenue settlement.

The Settlement Report by the Hon'ble Mr. S. L. Maddox says, "Down to 1894 the record of nij-jote land was made in accordance with local custom and Act X of 1859"[1]. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson, in his speech in this Council, said—"In practice they (raiyats get little out of the nij-chas or non-privileged land; because the provisions of the law are ignored. We shall merely be giving legal sanction to the continuance of existing usages which, as the law stands, are illegal, the chief value of the change, in fact, will be that it will remove a fertile cause of strife and dispute."

I have shown that, under the law as it stood up to 1891, when Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act was introduced. the lands called nij-chas were really nij-jote. Why then was this distinction made? Which Act justified this distinction? I have shown in paragraph 8 that the Settlement Department did not know that section 6 of Act X of 1859[1] was, by reason of the extension of sections 20 and 21 of Bengal Tenancy Act, repealed by implication, till it was ruled by the High Court in Brahmanand Mahapatra vs. Arjun Rout in 1903. The Settlement Department should have followed the provisions of Act X of 1859[1] in this respect. Even in 1876 the High Court held that "land in the possession of the zamindar, whether cultivated or uncultivated, is khamar land. Every piece of land which the zamindar keeps under his own control would be khamar land within the meaning of section 6." The lands which the great famine of Orissa left in the hands of the zamindar would be properly his nij-jote lands, but for the unwarrantable arbitrary distinction made by the settlement of 1891.

25. The figures given in the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson's speech showing the generous concession to the landowner would, if correct, do great credit to Government. It is said these nij-chas lands will measure about one lakh acres. But a careful inquiry will show that a large area out of this has become unfit for cultivation. In his history of Orissa, Sir William Hunter calls it a "province at the mercy of a great river system. Engineering Science has accepted the Orissa delta as the arena of strategic movements on as vast a scale, and of far more permanent consequences than the military combinations of the late European War The issue to be fought out is no dynastic squabble or mere frontier strife, but whether some millions of human beings shall spend their lives in chronic peril of death by famine."

26. I pointed out to the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson at an interview in his office that I knew that a certain estate owns, according to the settlement records, three thousand acres of nij-jote lands; but fully one thousand acres of these have been rendered unfit since they were recorded as nij-jote or nij-chas. I have no doubt that similar allowance has to be made in other estates. (Three thousand acres seem a large area in one estate, but it is a Mitakshara family having over 20 co-sharers. The estate yields a total rental of one lakh ninety thousand rupees, and, out of this amount, pays a Government revenue of nearly one lakh thirty thousand rupees.) I suggested to the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson that provision should be made in the present Bill to empower the zamindar to maintain the full area recorded as his nij-jote by an exchange of such area, as might become unfit for cultivation by deposit of sand by floods, with what he purchases in execution of decrees, provided that the exchange is made with the sanction of a Government officer. But the Hon'ble Member remained unmoved.

27. At the time of the last revenue settlement the zamindars had lands under their cultivation. There was nothing to prevent their acquiring a right of occupancy in those lands. The lands which the great famine left on their hands were cultivated by them. They had acquired a right of occupancy. The law of merger did not exist in India. Statutory recognition of the principle was made by section 22 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. This was not in force in Orissa before 1891. Neither section 22 of the Bengal Tenancy Act nor clause 21 of the Bill can extinguish this right Consequently the cultivator of this land is simply an under-raiyat who cannot acquire a right of occupancy. Has this right been reserved to the zamindar?

VIII of 1885.

28. The provisions of the Bill in clauses 103A to 103F refer to communal land. The object of the provisions is commendable, but the power given to the Collector is not likely to further the object in view. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson complains of the lack of public spirit in private individuals. The provisions of the Bill should have been so framed as to develop that spirit. The present provision will kill the spirit where there is any. The power given to the Collector should be vested in a panchayet appointed for the purpose.

Bill, clauses 103A to 103F.

29. Some of the definitions are confusing.

30. Should the Government decide to consider the Bill in Council, I reserve the right to propose amendments on any provision of the Bill.

31. I annex a copy of my letter to the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson on Chapter XII of the Bill. I request that letter be taken as a part of this note of dissent.

M. S. DAS.

FROM THE HON'BLE MR. M. S. DAS, C.I.E.,

TO THE HON'BLE MR. H. McPHERSON, I.C.S.

Dated Cuttack, the 19th February 1912.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to make some observations on Chapter XII of the Orissa Tenancy Bill which is now before the Select Committee, and request you to communicate them to the authorities who are responsible for this most unwise legislative sanction to the revisional operations which were carried on in Orissa during the last few years.

When this revisional settlement operations began, the people expressed their opposition to them in a forcible manner. There were public meetings, and the resolutions of these meetings were published in newspapers and were communicated to the authorities. The suffering and harassment of the people, their suspicion about the intention of Government in starting revision settlement immediately after the revenue settlement, and the consequent unrest were brought to the notice of the authorities. Even the Englishman of Calcutta wrote in terms of strong disapproval of the measure. A short extract from an article in that paper is given here.

> "Bomb-shells are sometimes contained in very innocent-looking receptacles. The Bengal Administration Report for 1905-06, which we reviewed the other day, is innocent-looking enough, and we pronounced it to be 'colourless' So it is, but it contains a bomb-shell which is hidden away in the 20th paragraph of the 'Summary', wherein is stated: 'it has been decided to have a general revision of the records of Orissa done by a paid staff under the control of the Settlement Officer.' There is nothing very alarming about this, but it contains all the elements of very considerable trouble in the near future. The settlement of Orissa was effected ten years ago, and this settlement was for thirty years The report of the settlement operations is a voluminous document, containing in elaborate detail the settlement operations carried out by Mr. Maddox. Our policy has hitherto been to let such settlements run undisturbed for the period for which they have been effected Any attempt to disturb them is followed by an incalculable amount of worry to the zamindars and raiyats alike, with vexatious inquiries and examinations of records-of-rights and a host of other matters relating to the land It is therefore difficult to understand the reasons for the proposed disturbance of the settlement of Orissa completed ten years ago. If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal were in search of a means of stirring up a hitherto quiet and peaceful district into defiance of authority, and all that means, he could not have selected more effective method than the one under reference"

A journalist of English repute travelling in India at the time visited with me one revision settlement camp one cold night between 10 and 11 P. M., and he saw the sufferings of the people who had assembled outsite the little tent constituting the Settlement office from surrounding villages. They narrated to us how they had been in attendance there from early hours in the morning, and some of them had done so for days.

While this revisional settlement was bitterly exercising the minds of the people, floods followed by drought brought on a regular famine over a large area. Thousands whose house and hearth had been washed away by the floods, and whose sunken eyes; exposed ribs and emaciated frames were unmistakable indications of starvation arrested the attention of the public. The raiyat forgot the harassments of the revisional settlement; the educated public sympathy was directed towards this worse calamity. Revisional settlement was stopped in the famine stricken area. Government adopted sympathetic and benevolent measures for the relief of the sufferers. The suspicion which originally shadowed the revisional settlement staff was disarmed to a certain extent. In the meantime people were given to understand that the revisional settlement operations were in the nature of experiments made with a view to an ultimate decision by Government as regards the desirability or otherwise of legislation for an up-to-date maintenance of record-of-rights and interests in landed property.

.The provisions of Ben. Act III of 1895,[1] though still in force, were not followed. The people have no doubt that the experience gained during the experimental stage must have convinced minds, not influenced by motives of personal gain or advantage, of the true character of the measure. During the experimental stage of this measure the public mind was, in no small degree, exercised as regards the reasons which influenced Government to select Orissa for this experiment The revenue settlement of the province had just been completed. The record-of-rights was fresh. The troubles and harassment of the revenue settlement were green in the minds of the people. There are many places outside Orissa, where a record-of-rights is more necessary for the protection of the rights of the tenantry in permanently-settled areas, owing to the strained relation between the landlord and tenant, as evidenced by the records of courts of law Government saw the necessity of more stringent legislation for the protection of the raiyat's interest outside Orissa, and more stringent provisions were made by subsequent legislation, while the old Act X of 1859[2] suited to a more peaceful state of things worked satisfactorily here till the Government introduced certain portions of the Bengal Tenancy Act for revenue settlement operation. VIII of 1885

Yet Orissa was selected the field of experiment. Suggestion was made by people having no faith in British justice that reasons which influence the vivisectionist in selecting the harmless rabbit for the subject of his experiments must have influenced Government in selecting a province inhabited by a peace-loving and peaceful people for experiments

The people entertained a sanguine hope that the observations of the officers who have local knowledge of the harassment and pecuniary loss of the people during the revision settlement operation would lead to an abandonment of the project—maintenance of records I should be doing injustice to you and officers like the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox and the Divisional Commissioner Mr E. V. Levinge, if I were to believe that Chapter XII of the Bill has the support of these officers Such an assumption would imply an insult to their powers of observation or charge of unjustifiable ignorance of local knowledge. None but a few members of the subordinate service and the ministerial staff engaged in the revisional settlement saw or see any good in these operations. For obvious reasons these operations found favour with these classes. I have been credibly informed that one amin had earned Rs. 600 in a single village. He was at last convicted in the Criminal Court.

It is most unfortunate that legislation to perpetuate this periodical visitation should have been undertaken at this particular time. The recent administrative change is prejudicial to the interests of Orissa. The people have not yet been able to adjust their ideas to the altered state of things or to decide what they should do for the redress of their grievances. But there is the feeling of discontent. This is a most unfortunate time for legislation on a measure which is so unpopular with all classes. The people are beginning to feel that Government do not care to pay heed to the wants, grievances and feelings of the people of Orissa. If the results of the experiment in Orissa are encouraging and point to legislation which will secure the well-being of the people, 'why,' ask the people, 'do not Government legislate for parts of Bengal and Bihar where the raiyats,' interest is in great need of protection and where both the raiyats and zamindar are able to defend their rights.'

If the theory drawn by the scientist from cruel experiments on the harmless rabbit cannot without risk be applied to human life, but must be confined to the rabbit class only, the author of the theory should not be classed among scientists. He deserves to be ranked among cruel men I am simply describing the feelings of the thoughtful public with regard to Chapter XII of the Orissa Tenancy Bill.

One of the reasons which influenced me to give notice of a motion for the postponement of this Bill was to postpone the consideration of this unpopular measure till a later day when the feelings of disappointment and discontent induced by the recent administrative changes might lose their poignancy by efflux of time or might be proved unjustifiable by subsequent events. I also hoped that the new Government might pay better attention to the feelings and wishes of the people and better regard to the opinion of officers who are responsible for the local administration of the Province. I do sincerely hope that the members of the Select Committee will attach due importance to non-official opinion in a matter like this and advise Government to omit Chapter XII from the Bill

I am sure there will be unrest in Orissa, if this chapter of the Bill goes to the Council to be passed.

Before I conclude I should like to make a few observations on the imaginary good which finds favour with the supporters of the measure.

The main object put forward is an up-to-date record-of right. To do this it is necessary to record the transfers inter vivos of different kinds and succession by inheritance or testamentary disposition after the last preceding record-of rights These are very few. Transfers by sale are in almost all cases embodied in registered documents. It is the transferee's interest to secure the transfer against subsequent fraud of the transferor The zamindar too is interested in it, as he has his share of salami in the consideration money.

Then there are cases of collusive transfer. This is generally done to defraud creditors The Settlement Officer cannot go behind the deed of transfer and expose the collusive nature of the transfer.

Testamentary dispositions are very few indeed in Orissa. The Settlement officer cannot exercise the powers of the District Judge and decide as to the genuineness or otherwise of the Will. So practically the work of the Revisional Settlement Officer is limited to a record-of-rights of the man in possession who has come to the land subsequent to the last preceding record.

In case of undisputed transfer followed by the possession of the transferee, the plea of protection of rights by revisional settlement operation is superfluous. In cases of disputed transfer, the work of the Settlement Officer in only a very small percentage of cases terminates the dispute Most of the cases go up to higher courts. Even in those cases where the dispute terminates with the order of the Settlement Officer, want of means on the part of the unsuccessful party is the real reason for not proceeding to higher authorities. In a very large number of cases, but for the revisional settlement operations there would have been no litigation. The settlement operation sets the ball of litigation rolling. There is no doubt that the number of suits connected with interest in and have increased since these settlement operations were commenced in Orissa.

Considering the very small number of cases where the periodical records-of-rights is an effective protection against encroachments on the honest poor raiyat's rights, the disadvantages, the harassment, loss of income, loss of time, the ruinous expenses of litigation and the salve to the itching palm which the revisional settlement entail on the whole population should be weighed against the imaginary gain to a few.

A very large number of the people of Orissa supplement their income from agriculture by labour. They are to be found in large numbers in and around Calcutta where ordinary or skilled labour is in requisition. When they receive the news of the arrival of the revisional settlement camp, they leave their work and forthwith return to their village—the honest man to guard against any encroachment on his holding—the crafty with a covetous eye on the land of his neighbour. The infamous tout, who lives on fomenting litigation and trading on the credulity of the ignorant, follows the greedy amin as the jackal follows the hyena or leopard Like the jackal whose cunning, he shows in a remarkable degree, he yells to warn the prey against the ferocious enemy, but all the same has an eye to a share in the carcasses. The rich villager or zamindar with a covetous eye on the poor neighbour's land looks upon the appearance of the revision settlement camp like the descent of the angel into the pool of Bethsaida. Experience has taught him that whosoever first stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

The loss and harassment suffered by many, when compared with the supposed advantages to the few, furnish strong ground for the abandonment of this maintenance of records. The highest good to the largest numbeer of people ought to be the guiding principle of all civilised Governments.

The apologists of this maintenance-of-record imagine that the system if introduced would improve the condition of the poor and helpless tenantry. This is a mistake. By the custom of the country the poor raiyat reclaimed the waste land and thereby extended the area of his holding He did not wait for his landlord's permission The landlord being content with the income which the revenue settlement secured him, according to the terms of his kabuliyat, did not take any measures to ascertain whether any portion of the waste land was reclaimed. The result of this was that the raiyat was richer to the extent of the reclaimed land, as he paid no rent for this This advantage the raiyats had enjoyed during the long period which intervened between the settlement of 1840 and that of 1894-95. But for the settlement operations he would have continued in possession without paying an enhanced rent.

The present Bill lends legislative sanction to the customary right of the raiyat to reclaim waste land. The Orissa zamindar, notoriously somnolent, would not enforce his rights within the time prescribed by the Bill, but the periodical revision of records will do for the zamindar what in the majority of cases he would not have done. Thus the revision of records does not add to the prosperity of the raiyat. The relation between zamindar and raiyat is that of payer and payee. It is a relation of conflicting interest. It is impossible to convert it into one of unalloyed concordance. The relative position of the two makes the raiyat dependant on the zamindar. Our rulers being foreigners cannot form a correct idea of the extent to which the tenant is dependent on his zamindar, or of the risk he runs in incurring the zamindar's displeasure. Both the zamindar and raiyat are the outcome of an ancient elaborate social fabric. The Government official's horizon of vision does not extend beyond the provisions of the law of landlord and tenant. An illustration will explain my meaning. The Hindu must cremate his dead relation on the day he dies, which does not mean within 24 hours, but before the following day break. Suppose an old raiyat dies at midnight His son must remove the corpse before day break, and the cremation must be done without any loss of time. Firewood has to be secured. It cannot be had for money in the village. The dead man's son goes to the zamindar at midnight The zamindar, if friendly disposed, gives him permission to cut down a fruit-bearing tree and this is supplied free of cost. If the cremation is not done in time the man loses his caste To provide for expiation the poor raiyat will have to sell the lands which the Settlement Officer gave him. Then again the services of castemen have to be secured to carry the corpse to the cremation ground If the zamindar bears a grudge against a particular raiyat he can use his influence with the castemen not to help the hostile raiyat in this work. A cunning man can gratify his grudge without making himself liable to any law, civil or criminal

Attempts to improve the position of the raiyat by legislation, which do not take into account the complex social questions which are woven in the texure of the raiyat's daily life, however laudable so far as motives go, must produce results disastrous to the interests of the party they were intended to benefit. Legislation can break asunder the social bond, it cannot tie it closer. Legislation in no country has improved the conjugal tie It has provided for divorce.

I have said that these elements of concord and conflict exist in the peculiar relation between a raiyat and his landlord. The conflicting element must be brought into prominence when there is a revenue settlement of the Province. A frequent recurrence of the scenes of conflict is not conducive to the well being of the raiyat.

It is believed by some that an up to-date record-of-rights will make the next revenue settlement cheaper. I seriously doubt whether it would reduce the cost of the next revenue settlement, if the costs of the periodical revision settlement be taken into account. Besides, even if it were cheaper, it would be so in the costs of settlement to Government, but the periodical preparatory measures will impoverish the tenantry in the meantime, and when the time for increase of revenue comes, Government will find a tenantry unable to pay a higher rent.

It is sought to justify Chapter XII as a necessary preliminary to Chapter XVI. 'The latter', say the apologists for Chapter XII, 'is in fulfilment of a pledge given by Government to the zamindar.'

It is difficult to understand how provisions, which do not extend the facilities for collection of rent to the zamindars as a class, but reserves the selection to the Local Government, can be called a fulfilment of a pledge made to the class.

The provisions of the Bill point to an anxiety on the part of Government to protect the raiyat against the unlawful demands of the zamindars. The poor, ignorant and helpless raiyat needs the strong hand of legislation to protect him. In the estimation of Government the zamindar is not in any sense the guardian of raiyats' interest. That being so, the question naturally suggests itself, is it safe to entrust the zamindar with summary powers for the recovery of rents? To the poor, time is of great value in the payment of his dues.

Besides we have to look to the extent to which this Chapter XVI will be used in Orissa. It is not at all likely that this privilege will be accorded to small zamindars who do not maintain a decent establishment for the management of their estates. Most of the large estates are in the hands of common Managers or under the Court of Wards. I do not think that even if Chapter XVI were passed, the extension of the privilege, even if the Local Government were most liberal in the bestowal of the privilege, would benefit more than two or three zamindars, but I have serious doubts if these few zamindars would care to avail themselves of the summary procedure. They give facilities for the recovery of rent, but they will add to the unpopularity of the zamindar.

As far as I know, no zamindar cares for the privilege. If it is the incubus of a pledge which troubles Government, I am sure the zamindars would gladly relieve Government of the moral obligation, and the moral principles which helped Government to disregard the solemn "pledges" which, to quote the words of the London Times, "was given as an inducement for the pacification of the Province," will be still available.

I have the honour to be,

A W WATSON,
Offg. Secy, Bengal Legislative Council]

A BILL TO AMEND AND CONSOLIDATE CERTAIN ENACTMENTS RELATING TO THE LAW OF LANDLORD AND TENANT IN THE DISTRICTS OF CUTTACK, PURI AND BALASORE, IN THE ORISSA DIVISION.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend and consolidate certain enactments relating to the law of Landlord and Tenant in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore, in the Orissa Division,

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to the passing of this Act, [55 & 56 Vict, c 14]

It is hereby enacted as follows —

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

[Short title, commencement and local extent.]

1. (1) This Act may be called the Orissa Tenancy Act, 1912; [1885, s. 1.]

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, by notification in the local official Gazette, appoint in this behalf, and

(3) It shall extend to the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore in the Orissa Division, except any area or part of an area which is constituted a Municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, and which is specified in this behalf by notification issued by the Local Government. [Ben Act III of 1884.]

[Repeal.]

2. (1) The enactments specified in Schedule I are hereby repealed in the area to which this Act extends. [1885, s 2 (1).]

(2) When the Local Government has extended Chapter XII to any area, by notification under section 142, it may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that the whole or any part of the enactments specified in Schedule II shall be deemed to be repealed in that area.

(Chapter II.—Classes of Tenants.—Clauses 4—6.)

CHAPTER II.

CLASSES OF TENANTS.

Classes of tenants.

4. There shall be, for the purposes of this Act, the following classes of tenants, namely:— [1885, s. 4, Notfn.]

(1) tenure-holders, including under-tenure-holders,

(2) raiyats,

(3) under-raiyats, that is to say, tenants holding, whether immediately or mediately, under-raiyats, and

(4) chandnadars,

and the following classes of raiyats namely —

(a) raiyats holding at fixed rates, which expression means raiyats holding either at a rent fixed in perpetuity or at a rate of rent fixed in perpetuity,

(b) occupancy-raiyats, that is to say, raiyats having a right of occupancy in the land held by them, and

(c) non-occupancy-raiyats, that is to say, raiyats not having such a right of occupancy.

Meaning of "tenure-holder" and "raiyat."

5. (1) "Tenure-holder" means primarily a person who has acquired from a proprietor, or from another tenure-holder, a right to hold land for the purpose of collecting rents or bringing it under cultivation by establishing tenants on it, and includes also the successors in interest of persons who have acquired such a right. [1885, s. 5, Notfn.]

(2) "Raiyat" means primarily a person who has acquired a right to hold land for the purpose of cultivating it by himself, or by members of his family, or by hired servants, or with the aid of partners, and includes also the successors in interest of persons who have acquired such a right

Explanation.—Where a tenant of land has the right to bring it under cultivation, he shall be deemed to have acquired a right to hold it for the purpose of cultivation, notwithstanding that he uses it for the purpose of gathering the produce of it or of grazing cattle on it.

(3) A person shall not be deemed to be a raiyat, unless he holds land either immediately under a proprietor or immediately under a tenure-holder.

(4) In determining whether a tenant is a tenure-holder or a raiyat, the Court shall have regard to—

(a) local custom, and

(b) the purpose for which the right of tenancy was originally acquired

Explanation.—In ascertaining the purpose for which the right of tenancy was originally acquired, the Court may have regard to the subsequent conduct of the parties [Explanation added in Select Committee.]

(5) Where the area held by a tenant exceeds thirty-three acres, the tenant shall be presumed to be a tenure-holder until the contrary is shown.

Status of bajiaftidars and sub proprietors.

6 Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained—

(1) every bajiaftidar who is recorded, in any record-of-rights finally published under Chapter XI or under any other law for the time being in force, or in any Land Records published and finally framed under Chapter XII, as a tenure-holder, and his successors in interest, shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder for all the purposes of this Act;

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter III.—Tenure-holders.—Clauses 7—9.)

(ii) every bajiaftidar who is recorded in any such record-of-rights or Land Records as a raiyat, and his successors in interest, shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder for the purposes of sections 13A to 13C and 91, and a raiyat for the purposes of all other sections of this Act; and

(iii) every sub-proprietor shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder for the purposes of sections 13A to 13C, 91, 92, and Chapter XVII, and to be a permanent tenure-holder for the purposes of section 67.

CHAPTER III.

TENURE-HOLDERS.

Enhancement of rent.

Tenure in a permanently-settled area, held since Permanent Settlement, liable to enhancement only in certain cases

7. Where a tenure in a permanently-settled area has been held from the time of the Permanent Settlement, its rent shall not be liable to enhancement, except on proof— [1885, s. 6.]

(a) that the landlord under whom it is held is entitled to enhance the rent thereof either by local custom or by the conditions under which the tenure is held, or

(b) that the tenure-holder, by receiving reductions of his rent, otherwise than on account of a diminution of the area of the tenure, has subjected himself to the payment of the increase demanded, and that the lands are capable of affording it.

Limits of enhancement of rent of tenures.

8. (1) Where the rent of a tenure-holder is liable to enhancement, it may, subject to any contract between the parties, be enhanced up to the limit of the customary rate payable by persons holding similar tenures in the vicinity. [1885, s. 7; Notfn.]

(2) Where no such customary rate exists, it may, subject as aforesaid, be enhanced up to such limit as the Court thinks fair and equitable.

(3) In determining what is fair and equitable, the Court shall not leave to the tenure-holder as profit less than ten per centum of the balance which remains after deducting from the gross rents payable to him the expenses of collecting them, and shall have regard to—

(a) the circumstances under which the tenure was created, for instance, whether the land comprised in the tenure, or a great portion of it, was first brought under cultivation by the agency or at the expense of the tenure-holder or his predecessors in interest, whether any fine or premium was paid on the creation of the tenure, and whether the tenure was originally created at a specially low rent for the purpose of reclamation; and

(4) If the tenure-holder himself occupies any portion of the land included in the area of his tenure, or has made a grant of any portion of the land either rent-free or at a beneficial rent, a fair and equitable rent shall be calculated for that portion and included in the gross rents aforesaid.

Power to order gradual enhancement.

9. The Court may, if it thinks that an immediate increase of rent would produce hardship, direct that the [1885, s. 8.]

(Chapter III.—Tenure-holders.—Clauses 10—13B.)

enhancement shall be gradual; that is to say, that the rent shall increase yearly by degrees, for any number of years not exceeding five, until the limit of the enhancement allowed has been reached.

Rent once enhanced may not be altered for fifteen years.

10. When the rent of a tenure-holder has been enhanced by the Court or by contract, it shall not be again enhanced by the Court during the fifteen years next following the date on which it has been so enhanced [1885, s. 9.]

Other incidents of tenures.

Permanent tenure-holder not liable to ejectment.

11. A holder of a permanent tenure shall not be ejected by his landlord, except on the ground that he has broken a condition on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between him and his landlord, liable to be ejected: [1885, s. 10] [An omission was made from this clause in Select Committee]

Provided that, where the contract is made after the commencement of this Act, the condition is consistent with the provisions of this Act.

Transfer and transmission of permanent tenure.

12. (1) Every permanent tenure shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be capable of being transferred and bequeathed in the same manner and to the same extent as other immovable property. [1885, s. 11.] [An omission was made from this clause in Select Committee]

(2) Nothing in this section, or in section 11, shall affect the right of the landlord to resume a resumable tenure, or shall validate the transfer of a tenure or portion thereof which, by the terms upon which it is held or by local custom, is not transferable. [Sub clause (2) added in Select Committee]

(Clauses 13, 14 and 15 replaced by clauses 13A, 13B and 13C)

Transfer of tenure by succession

13A. (1) In the case of every transfer of a tenure or portion of a tenure by succession, the landlord shall be required to recognize the transfer, provided that the transferee shall pay him a fee amounting to rupees two, except in the case of a bajiaftidar, when the fee shall be rupee one.

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer The Collector shall thereupon cause the fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

(3) If an application for the registration of the transfer of a tenure or portion thereof under sub-section (1) is not made within a period of six months from the date of the transfer, and if the registration fee authorized by the said sub-section is not deposited along with the application, the transferee or his successor in interest shall not be entitled to recover at any time after the expiry of the said period, by suit or other proceeding, any rent which may have become due to him, as the owner of such tenure or portion, between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.

Right of certain tenure-holders to transfer without consent of landlord

13B. (1) The following classes of tenure-holders are entitled to transfer their tenures or portions thereof by sale, gift or exchange without the consent of their landlords:— [1859, s 27. 1908, ss. 11, 12]

(a) sub-proprietors other than sarbarahkars,

(b) persons holding land which has been recorded at a settlement of land-revenue as shikmi kharida or kharida jamabandi, and ( ) bajiaftidars:

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter III.—Tenure-holders.—Clause 13C)

Provided that a fee of rupees five shall be paid to the landlord in respect of the registration of such tenure or portion, except in the case of a bajiaftidar, when the fee shall be rupees two.

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector shall thereupon cause the fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

(3) If an application for the registration of the transfer of any tenure or portion thereof under sub-section (1) is not made within a period of six months from the date of the transfer, and if the registration fee authorized by the said sub-section is not deposited along with the application, the transferee or his successor in interest shall not be entitled to recover, at any time after the expiry of the said period, by suit or other proceeding, any rent which may have become due to him as the owner of such tenure or portion, between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.

Transfer in other cases.

[1859, s. 27; 1908, ss. 11, 12.]

13C. (1) In cases other than those covered by section 13B, when any tenure or portion of a tenure is transferred by sale, gift or exchange, the transferee or his successor in interest shall apply to the landlord to whom the rent of the tenure or portion thereof is payable for registration of the transfer, and the landlord shall, in the absence of sufficient reasons to the contrary, allow the registration of the transfer. The fee payable on such transfer shall be—

(a) in the case of a sale, rupees twenty-five per centum of the consideration money, and

(b) in the case of gift or exchange, a fee six times the annual rental of the tenure or portion thereof, as the case may be, or, if rent be not payable in respect of the tenure or portion, then a fee of rupees ten.

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord accepts the fee authorized by sub-section (1), his consent to the transfer shall be deemed to have been given.

(3) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector, after giving notice to the landlord to appear and be heard, shall thereupon inquire and decide whether the landlord is entitled by custom, or for any other good and sufficient reason, to refuse his consent to the transfer; and, if the Collector finds that the landlord is not so entitled, he shall cause the said fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

Explanation.—The landlord shall not be entitled to refuse registration of the transfer on the ground of custom, unless he can show that by such custom he is entitled to refuse consent to the transfer of tenures. The fact that the landlord is in the habit of charging fees on the registration of transfers of tenures shall not by itself be taken as proof that he is entitled by custom to refuse his consent to the recognition of transfers in individual cases.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter IV.—Raiyats holding at fixed rates.—Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 17—19.)

(4) If an application for the registration of the transfer of any tenure or portion thereof under sub-section (1) is not made within a period of six months from the date of the transfer, and if the registration fee authorized by the said sub-section is not deposited along with the application, the transferee or his successor in interest shall not be entitled to recover, at any time after the expiry of the said period, by suit or other proceeding, any rent which may have become due to him as the owner of such tenure or portion, between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.

(Clause 16 omitted here and reproduced in clause 91.)

CHAPTER IV.

RAIYATS HOLDING AT FIXED RATES.

Incidents of holding a fixed rates.

17. (1) A raiyat holding at a rent, or rate of rent, fixed in perpetuity— [1885, s. 18.]

(a) shall be subject to the same provisions with respect to the transfer of, and succession to, his holding as the holder of a permanent tenure, and

(b) shall not be ejected by his landlord, except on the ground that he has broken a condition consistent with this Act, and on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between him and his landlord, liable to be ejected.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the right of the landlord to resume a resumable holding, or validate the transfer of a holding or portion thereof which, by the terms upon which it is held or by local custom, is not transferable. [Sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

CHAPTER V.

OCCUPANCY-RAIYATS.

General.

Continuance of existing occupancy-rights.

18. (1) Every raiyat who immediately before the commencement of this Act has, by the operation of any enactment, by custom or otherwise, a right of occupancy in any land, shall, when this Act comes into force, have a right of occupancy in that land. [1885, s. 19; Notfn.]

(2) The exclusion from the operation of this Act, by a notification under sub-section (3) of section 1, of any area or part of an area which is constituted a Municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, shall not affect any right, obligation or liability previously acquired, incurred or accrued in reference to such area or part. Ben. Act III of 1884.

Definition of "settled raiyat."

19. (1) Every person who, for a period of twelve years, whether wholly or partly before or after the commencement of this Act, has continuously held as a raiyat land situate in any village, whether under a lease or otherwise, shall be deemed to have become, on the expiration of that period, a settled raiyat of that village. [1885, s. 20; Notfn.]

(2) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have continuously held land in a village, notwithstanding that the particular land held by him has been different at different times.

(3) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have held as a raiyat any land held as a raiyat by a person whose heir he is.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 20-21)

(4) Land held by two or more co-sharers as a raiyati holding shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have been held as a raiyat by each such co-sharer

(5) A person shall continue to be a settled raiyat of a village as long as he holds any land as a raiyat in that village and for one year thereafter.

(6) If a raiyat recovers possession of land under section 90, he shall be deemed to have continued to be a settled raiyat, notwithstanding his having been out of possession more than a year.

(7) If, in any suit or other proceeding under this Act, or under any other law, it is proved or admitted that a person holds any land as a raiyat, it shall, as between him and the landlord under whom he holds the land, be presumed, for the purposes of this section, until the contrary is proved or admitted, that he has for twelve years continuously held that land or some part of it as raiyat

Settled raiyats to have occupancy-rights

20. (1) Every person who is a settled raiyat of a village within the meaning of section 19 shall have a right of occupancy in all land for the time being held by him as a raiyat in that village.

[1885, s. 21, Notfn]

(2) Every person who, being a settled raiyat of a village within the meaning of section 19, held land as a raiyat in that village at any time between the tenth day of September, 1891, and the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed to have acquired a right of occupancy in that land under the law then in force, but nothing in this sub-section shall affect any decree or order passed by a Court before the commencement of this Act.

Acquisition of occupancy rights in an area not included in a village

20A. (1) Every raiyat who, for a period of twelve years, whether wholly or partly before or after the commencement of this Act, has continuously held as a raiyat land situate in an area which is not included in a village as defined in clause (26) of section 3, shall be deemed to have become an occupancy-raiyat in respect of that land

[1859, ss 6, 7 | New clause added Select Committee]

(2) The holding of the father or other person from whom a raiyat inherits shall be deemed to be the holding of the raiyat within the meaning of this section.

(3) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be held to affect the terms of any written contract for the cultivation of land in the aforesaid area, entered into between a landholder and a raiyat, when it contains any express stipulation contrary thereto.

Effect of acquisition of occupancy right by landlord.

21. (1) When the immediate landlord of an occupancy-holding is a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, and the entire interests of the landlord and the raiyat in the holding become united in the same person by transfer, succession or otherwise, such person shall have no right to hold the land as a tenant, but shall hold it as a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder (as the case may be); but nothing in this sub-section shall prejudicially affect the rights of any third person.

[1885, s 22, Notfn]

[Sub-clauses (2) and (3) omitted, and replaced by sub-clauses (2a), (2b) and (2c)]

(2a) If the occupancy-right in land is transferred to a person jointly interested in the land as proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, such person shall have no right to hold the land as a raiyat, but shall hold it as a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, as the case may be, and shall pay to his co-sharers a fair and equitable sum for the use and occupation of the same.

[Act VIII of 1885, as in force in E B and Assam, s 22 (2)]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 22-25A.)

(2b) In determining from time to time what is a fair and equitable sum under sub-section (2a), regard shall be had to the rent payable by the occupancy-raiyat at the time of the transfer and to the principles of this Act regulating the enhancement or reduction of the rents of occupancy-raiyats. [Act VIII of 1885 as in force in E B and Assam, s. 22 (3).]

(2c) A person interested in any estate, tenure, village or land, whether solely or jointly with others, as a temporary tenure-holder, ijaradar or farmer of rents, or as a mortgagee in possession, shall not, during the period of his lease or mortgage, acquire by purchase or otherwise a right of occupancy in any land comprised in his lease or mortgage. [1908, s 20, (3).]

Explanation —A person having a right of occupancy in land does not lose it by subsequently becoming jointly interested in the land as a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, or by subsequently holding the land as a temporary tenure-holder, ijaradar or farmer of rents, or mortgagee

Incidents of occupancy-right.

Rights of raiyat in respect of use of land

22 When a raiyat has a right of occupancy in respect of any land, he may use the land in any manner which does not materially impair the value of the land or render it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy; but shall not be entitled to cut down trees in contravention of any local custom [1885, s 23 Notfn]

Obligation of raiyat to pay rent

23. An occupancy-raiyat shall pay rent for his holding at fair and equitable rates [1885, s. 24, Notfn.]

Protection from eviction, except on specified grounds

24 An occupancy-raiyat shall not be ejected by his landlord from his holding, except in execution of a decree for ejectment passed on the ground— [1885, s. 25, Notfn.]

(a) that he has used the land comprised in his holding in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy, or

(b) that he has broken a condition consistent with the provisions of this Act, and on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected.

Devolution of occupancy-right on death

25 If a raiyat dies intestate in respect of a right of occupancy, it shall, subject to any custom to the contrary, descend in the same manner as other immovable property: [1885, s. 2; Notfn.]

Provided that, in any case in which, under the law of inheritance to which the raiyat is subject, his other property goes to the Crown, his right of occupancy shall be extinguished.

Transfer of occupancy-holdings.

Transfer of occupancy holding by sale, gift or exchange

25A. (1) When any occupancy-holding or portion of a holding is transferred by sale, gift or exchange, the transferee or his successor in interest shall apply to the landlord to whom the rent of the holding or portion is payable for registration of the transfer. The maximum fee payable on such registration shall be— [New clause added in Select Committee]

(a) in the case of sale, a sum equal to twenty-five per centum of the consideration money, or to six times the annual rent of the holding or portion thereof, whichever is greater, and

(b) in the case of gift or exchange, a sum equal to six times the annual rent of the holding or portion thereof.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 26, 27.)

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord accepts the fee authorized by sub-section (1), his consent to the transfer and to any distribution of the rent thereby rendered necessary shall be deemed to have been given.

(3) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector, after giving notice to the landlord to appear and be heard, shall thereupon inquire and decide whether the landlord is entitled by custom, or for any other good and sufficient reason, to refuse his consent to the transfer, and, if the Collector finds that the holding is so transferable, and if there is no other valid objection to the transfer, he shall cause the said fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

Explanation I.—The fact that the landlord is in the habit of charging fees on the registration of transfers of holdings shall not by itself be taken as proof that he is entitled by custom to refuse his consent to the recognition of transfers in individual cases.

Explanation II.—In considering whether the landlord has good and sufficient cause to refuse his consent to the transfer, the Collector may have regard to the following circumstances:—

(i) whether the transferee is a bonâ fide cultivating raiyat or a non-agriculturist;

(ii) whether the transferee resides within, or in the vicinity of, the village in which the holding is situated or resides at a distance;

(iii) whether the transfer results in the creation of unreasonably small holdings; and

(iv) whether the transferee is a habitual defaulter of rent or a person who, for any other reasonable cause, hould not be made a tenant of the landlord without his consent.

(4) An appeal shall lie to the Collector of the district from any order passed under sub-section (3) by an officer subordinate to him, and all orders passed by the Collector of the district under sub-section (3), or under this sub-section, shall, subject to any order which may be passed on revision by the Commissioner, be final.

(5) Nothing in this section shall affect the right of either party to bring a suit in the Civil Court to contest the correctness of the finding of the Collector, provided that the Court shall presume such finding to be correct until the contrary is proved.

Enhancement of rent.

Presumption as to fair and equitable rent.

26. The rent for the time being payable by an occupancy-raiyat shall be presumed to be fair and equitable until the contrary is proved. [1885, s. 27; Notfn.]

Restriction on enhancement of money-rents.

27. Where an occupancy-raiyat pays his rent in money, his rent shall not be enhanced, except as provided by this Act. [1885, s. 28; Notfn.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 28, 29.)

Enhancement of rent by contract.

28. The money-rent of an occupancy-raiyat may be enhanced by contract, subject to the following conditions:— [1885, s. 29, Notfn.]

(a) the contract must be in writing and registered;

(b) the rent must not be enhanced so as to exceed by more than two annas in the rupee the rent previously payable by the raiyat;

(c) the rent fixed by the contract shall not be liable to enhancement during a term of fifteen years from the date of the contract:

Provided as follows:—

(i) nothing in clause (a) shall prevent a landlord from recovering rent at the rate at which it has been actually paid for a continuous period of not less than three years immediately preceding the period for which the rent is claimed;

(ii) nothing in clause (b) shall apply to a contract by which a raiyat binds himself to pay an enhanced rent in consideration of an improvement which has been or is to be effected in respect of the holding by, or at the expense of, his landlord, and to the benefit of which the raiyat is not otherwise entitled; but an enhanced rent fixed by such a contract shall be payable only when the improvement has been effected and, except when the raiyat is chargeable with default in respect of the improvement, only so long as the improvement exists and substantially produces its estimated effect in respect of the holding;

(iii) when a raiyat has held his land at a specially low rate of rent in consideration of cultivating a particular crop for the convenience of the landlord, nothing in clause (b) shall prevent the raiyat from agreeing, in consideration of his being released from the obligation of cultivating that crop, to pay such rent as he may deem fair and equitable.

Enhancement of rent by suit.

29. The landlord of a holding held at a money-rent by an occupancy-raiyat may, subject to the provisions of this Act, institute a suit to enhance the rent on one or more of the following grounds, namely:— [1885, s. 30, Notfn.]

(a) that the rate of rent paid by the raiyat is below the prevailing rate paid by occupancy-raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the same village or in neighbouring villages, and that there is no sufficient reason for his holding at so low a rate;

(b) that there has been a rise in the average local prices of staple food-crops during the currency of the present rent;

(c) that the productive powers of the land held by the raiyat have been increased by an improvement effected by, or at the expense of, the landlord during the currency of the present rent;

(d) that the productive powers of the land held by the raiyat have been increased by fluvial action.

Explanation.—"Fluvial action" includes a change in the course of a river, rendering irrigation from the river practicable when it was not previously practicable.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 35—40.)

in the event of the improvement not producing or ceasing to produce the estimated effect.

Rules as to enhancement on ground of increase in productive powers due to fluvial action.

35. Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground of an increase in productive powers due to fluvial action,— [1885, s. 34; Notfn.]

(a) the Court shall not take into account any increase which is merely temporary or casual;

(b) the Court may enhance the rent to such an amount as it may deem fair and equitable, but not so as to give the landlord more than one-half of the value of the net increase in the produce of the land.

Enhancement by suit to be fair and equitable.

36. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing sections, the Court shall not in any case decree any enhancement which is under the circumstances of the case unfair or inequitable. [1885, s. 35; Notfn.]

Power to order progressive enhancement.

37. If the Court passing a decree for enhancement considers that the immediate enforcement of the decree in its full extent will be attended with hardship to the raiyat, it may direct that the enhancement shall be gradual, that is to say, that the rent shall increase yearly by degrees for any number of years not exceeding five until the limit of the enhancement decreed has been reached. [1885, s. 36; Notfn.]

Limitation of right to bring successive enhancement suits.

38. (1) A suit instituted for the enhancement of the rent of a holding on the ground that the rate of rent paid is below the prevailing rate, or on the ground of a rise in prices, shall not be entertained if within the fifteen years next preceding its institution the rent of the holding has been enhanced by a contract made after the tenth day of September, 1891, or if within the said period of fifteen years the rent has been commuted under section 41 or a decree has been passed under this Act or any enactment repealed by this Act enhancing the rent on either of the grounds aforesaid or on any ground corresponding thereto or dismissing the suit on the merits. [1885, s. 37; Notfn.]

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of rule 1 in Order XXIII in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

Reduction of rent.

Reduction of rent.

39. (1) An occupancy-raiyat holding at a money-rent may institute a suit for the reduction of his rent on the following grounds, and, except as hereinafter provided in the case of a diminution of the area of the holding, not otherwise, namely:— [1885, s. 38; Notfn.]

(a) on the ground that the soil of the holding has, without the fault of the raiyat, become permanently deteriorated by a deposit of sand or other specific cause, sudden or gradual, or

(b) on the ground that there has been a fall, not due to a temporary cause, in the average local prices of staple food-crops during the currency of the present rent.

(2) In any suit instituted under this section, the Court may direct such reduction of the rent as it thinks fair and equitable.

Price-lists.

Price-lists of staple food-crops.

40. (1) The Collector of every district shall prepare, monthly, or at shorter intervals, periodical lists of the market-prices of staple food-crops grown in such local areas as the Local Government may direct, and shall submit them to the Board of Revenue for approval or revision. [1885, s. 39; Notfn.]

(2) The Collector may, if so directed by the Local Government, prepare for any local area like price-lists relating to such past times as the Local Government thinks fit, and shall submit the lists so prepared to the Board of Revenue, for approval or revision.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats —Clause 41.)

(3) The Collector shall, one month before submitting a price-list to the Board of Revenue under this section, publish it in the prescribed manner within the local area to which it relates; and if any landlord or tenant of land within the local area, within the said period of one month, presents to him in writing any objection to the list, he shall submit the same to the Board of Revenue with the list.

(4) The price-lists shall, when approved or revised by the Board of Revenue, be published in the local official Gazette; and any manifest error in any such list discovered after its publication may be corrected by the Collector with the sanction of the Board of Revenue

(5) The Local Government shall cause to be compiled from the periodical lists prepared under this section lists of the average prices prevailing throughout each year, and shall cause them to be published annually in the local official Gazette.

(6) In any proceedings under this Chapter for an enhancement or reduction of rent on the ground of a rise or fall in prices, the Court shall refer to the lists published under this section, and shall presume that the prices shown in the lists prepared for any year subsequent to the commencement of this Act are correct, and may presume that the prices shown in the lists prepared for any year prior to the commencement of this Act are correct, unless and until it is proved that they are incorrect

(7) The Local Government, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, shall make rules for determining what are to be deemed staple food-crops in any local area, and for the guidance of officers preparing price-lists under this section.

Commutation.

Commutation of rent payable in kind.

41 (1) Where an occupancy-raiyat pays for a holding rent in kind, or on the estimated value of a portion of the crop, or at rates varying with the crop, or partly in one of those ways and partly in another, or partly in any of those ways and partly in cash, either the raiyat or his landlord may apply to have the rent commuted to a money-rent

(2) The application may be made to—

(i) the Collector or Subdivisional Officer, or

(ii) a Revenue-officer appointed by the Local Government, under the designation of Settlement-officer or Assistant Settlement-officer, for the purpose of making a survey and record-of-rights under Chapter XI, or

(iii) any other officer specially authorized in this behalf by the Local Government.

(3) On the receipt of the application, the officer may determine the sum to be paid as money-rent, and may order that the raiyat shall, in lieu of paying his rent in kind or otherwise as aforesaid, pay the sum so determined.

(4) In making the determination, the officer shall have regard to—

(a) the average money-rent payable by occupancy-raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity,

(b) the average value of the rent actually received by the landlord during the preceding ten years or during any shorter period for which evidence may be available;

(c) the charges incurred by the landlord in respect of irrigation under the system of rent in kind, and the arrangements made on commutation for continuing those charges;

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 30, 31.)

Rules as to enhancement on ground of prevailing rate.

[1885, s. 31 Notfn.]

30. Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground that the rate of rent paid is below the prevailing rate,—

(a) in determining what is the prevailing rate, the Court shall have regard to the rates generally paid during a period of not less than three years before the institution of the suit, and shall not decree an enhancement unless there is a substantial difference between the rate paid by the raiyat and the prevailing rate found by the Court;

(b) if, in the opinion of the Court, the prevailing rate of rent cannot be satisfactorily ascertained without a local inquiry, the Court may direct that a local inquiry be held under Order XXVI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, by such Revenue-officer as the Local Government may authorize in that behalf by rule made under rule 9 in the said Order;

(c) in determining under this section the rate of rent payable by a raiyat, his caste shall not be taken into consideration, unless it is proved that by local custom caste is taken into account in determining the rate; and, whenever it is found that by local custom any description of raiyats hold land at favourable rates of rent, the rate shall be determined in accordance with that custom;

(d) in ascertaining the prevailing rate of rent, the amount of any enhancement authorized on account of a landlord's improvement shall not be taken into consideration;

(e) if a favourable rate has been determined under clause (c) for any description of raiyats, such rate may, if the Court thinks fit, be left out of consideration in ascertaining the prevailing rate,

(f) if the holding is held at a lump rental, the determination of the rent to be paid may be made by ascertaining the different classes of land comprised within the holding, and applying to the area of each class the prevailing rate paid on that class within the village or neighbouring villages.

What may be taken in certain districts to be the "prevailing rate."

[1885, s. 31A (1), Notfn.]

31. In any district or part of a district to which this section is extended by the Local Government by notification in the local official Gazette, whenever the prevailing rate for any class of land is to be ascertained under section 29, clause (a), by an examination of the rates at which lands of a similar description and with similar advantages are held within any village or villages, the highest of such rates at which, and at rates higher than which, the larger portion of those lands is held may be taken to be the prevailing rate.

Illustrations.

(a) The rates at which land of a similar description and with similar advantages is held in a village are as follows —

200	... „	1	8	0
150	... „	1	12	0
Total ... 700

Then Rs 2-4 is not the prevailing rate, because only 150 acres, or less than half, are held at that rate. Rupees 2 is not the prevailing rate, because 250 acres, or less than half, are held at that or a higher rate. Rupee 1-12 is the prevailing rate, because 400 acres, or more than half, are held either at this or a higher rate; and this is the highest rate at which, and at rates higher than which, more than half the land is held

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 32—34.)

(b) The rates at which land of a similar description and with similar advantages is held in a village are as follow —

250	"	1	4	0
150	"	1	8	0
150	"	1	12	0
Total 700

Then, for the reasons given in Illustration (a), neither Rs 2 nor Re. 1-12 is the prevailing rate, nor is Re 1-8 the prevailing rate, because only 350 acres (exactly half) are held at Re. 1-8 or at rates higher than Re 1-8. In this case, Re 1-4 is the prevailing rate, because more than half the lands are held at Re 1-4 or higher rates, and this is the highest rate at which, and at rates higher than which, more than half the land is held Limit to enhancement of prevailing rate.

32 When the prevailing rate has once been determined by a Revenue-officer under Chapter XI or by a Revenue Court in any suit under this Act, it shall not be liable to enhancement save on the ground and to the extent specified in section 29, clause (b), and section 33 [1885, s. 31B Notfn.]

Rules as to enhancement on ground of rise in prices.

33. Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground of a rise in prices,— [1885, s 32 Notfn.]

(a) the Court shall compare the average prices during the decennial period immediately preceding the institution of the suit with the average prices during such other decennial period as it may appear equitable and practicable to take for comparison,

(b) the enhanced rent shall bear to the previous rent the same proportion as the average prices during the last decennial period bear to the average prices during the previous decennial period taken for purposes of comparison:

Provided that, in calculating this proportion, the average prices during the later period shall be reduced by one-third of their excess over the average prices during the earlier period;

(c) if, in the opinion of the Court, it is not practicable to take the decennial periods prescribed in clause (a), the Court may, in its discretion, substitute any shorter periods therefor

Rules as to enhancement on ground of landlord's improvement

34. (1) Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground of a landlord's improvement,— [1885, s. 33; Notfn.]

(a) the Court shall not grant an enhancement, unless the improvement has been registered in accordance with this Act;

(b) in determining the amount of enhancement, the Court shall have regard to—

(i) the increase in the productive powers of the land caused or likely to be caused by the improvement,

(ii) the cost of the improvement,

(iii) the cost of the cultivation required for utilising the improvement, and

(iv) the existing rent, and the ability of the land to bear a higher rent.

(2) A decree under this section shall, on the application of the tenant or his successor in interest, be subject to re-consideration

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Chapter VI—Non-occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 42—45)

(d) improvements effected by the landlord or by the occupancy-raiyat in respect of the raiyat's holding, and

(e) the rules laid down in section 34 regarding enhancement of rent on the ground of a landlord's improvement.

(5) The order shall be in writing, and shall state the grounds on which it is made and the time from which it is to take effect.

[An omission was made from this sub-clause in Select Committee.]

(6) If the application is opposed, the officer shall decide whether, in all the circumstances of the case, it is reasonable to grant it, and in cases in which—

(i) the landlord is, by physical or caste disability or on account of sex, unable to cultivate personally and is dependent for livelihood upon the share of the produce payable as rent, or he shall take into consideration the effect of commutation on the income of the landlord, unless such landlord has recovered rent in excess of the rate allowed by section 71.

(ii) the land has been assigned to a religious or charitable endowment and the share of the produce payable as rent is applied for the purposes of such endowment.

[An omission was made from this sub clause in Select Committee.]

(8) All orders passed under this section, including an order refusing an application, shall be subject to appeal in the prescribed manner and to the prescribed officer.

[1908, s. 61 (7).]
[Sub clause (8) added in Select Committee.]

Period for which commuted rents are to remain unaltered.

42. (1) Where the rent of a holding has been commuted under section 41, it shall not, except on the ground of a landlord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration of the area of the holding, be enhanced for fifteen years, nor shall it be reduced for fifteen years, save on the ground of alteration in the area of the holding, or on the ground specified in clause (a) of section 39.

[1885, s. 40, Notfn.]

(2) The said period of fifteen years shall be counted from the date on which the order takes effect under sub-section (5) of section 41

CHAPTER VI.

NON-OCCUPANCY-RAIYATS.

Application of Chapter.

43. This Chapter shall apply to raiyats not having a right of occupancy, who are in this Act referred to as non-occupancy-raiyats

[1885, s. 41, Notfn.]

Initial rent of non-occupancy-raiyat.

44. When a non-occupancy-raiyat is admitted to the occupation of land, he shall become liable to pay such rent as may be agreed on between himself and his landlord at the time of his admission.

[1885, s. 42 Notfn.]

Conditions of enhancement of rent.

45. The rent of a non-occupancy-raiyat shall not be enhanced except by registered agreement or by agreement under section 47:

[1885, s. 43 Notfn.]

Provided that nothing in this section shall prevent a landlord from recovering rent at the rate at which it has been actually paid for a continuous period of not less than three years immediately preceding the period for which the rent is claimed.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter VI.—Non-occupancy-raiyats — Clauses 46, 47)

Grounds on which non-occupancy-raiyat may be ejected

46 A non-occupancy-raiyat shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be liable to ejectment on one or more of the following grounds, and not otherwise, namely —

[1885, s. 44; Notfn.]

(a) on the ground that he has failed to pay an arrear of rent,

(b) on the ground that he has used the land in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy, or that he has broken a condition consistent with this Act and on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected,

(c) where he has been admitted to occupation of the land under a registered lease, on the ground that the term of the lease has expired,

(d) on the ground that he has refused to agree to pay a fair and equitable rent determined under section 47, or that the term for which he is entitled to hold at such a rent has expired

Conditions of ejectment on ground of refusal to agree to enhancement.

47. (1) A suit for ejectment on the ground of refusal to agree to an enhancement of rent shall not be instituted against a non-occupancy-raiyat unless the landlord has tendered to the raiyat an agreement to pay the enhanced rent, and the raiyat has within three months before the institution of the suit refused to execute the agreement

[1885, s. 46; Notfn.]

(2) A landlord desiring to tender an agreement to a raiyat under this section may file it in the office of such Court or officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, for service on the raiyat The Court or officer shall forthwith cause it to be served on the raiyat in the prescribed manner; and, when it has been so served, it shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been tendered

(3) If a raiyat on whom an agreement has been served under sub-section (2) executes it, and within one month from the date of service files it in the office from which it issued, it shall take effect from the commencement of the agricultural year next following.

(4) When an agreement has been executed and filed by a raiyat under sub-section (3), the Court or officer in whose office it is so filed shall forthwith cause a notice of its being so executed and filed to be served on the landlord in the prescribed manner.

(5) If the raiyat does not execute the agreement and file it under sub-section (3), he shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have refused to execute it.

(6) If a raiyat refuses to execute an agreement tendered to him under this section, and the landlord thereupon institutes a suit to eject him, the Court shall determine what rent is fair and equitable for the holding

(7) If the raiyat agrees to pay the rent so determined, he shall be entitled to remain in occupation of his holding at that rent for a term of five years from the date of the agreement, but on the expiration of that term shall be liable to ejectment under the conditions mentioned in section 46, unless he has acquired a right of occupancy.

(8) If the raiyat does not agree to pay the rent so determined, the Court shall pass a decree for ejectment.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter VI —Non-occupancy-raiyats.—Chapter VII —Lands exempted from Chapters V and VI.—Chapter VIII.—Under-raiyats.—Clauses 48—50.)

(9) In determining what rent is fair and equitable, the Court shall have regard to the rents generally paid by raiyats for land of a similar description and with like advantages in the same village.

(10) A decree for ejectment passed under this section shall take effect from the end of the agricultural year in which it is passed.

Explanation of "admitted to occupation."

48 Where a raiyat has been in occupation of land, and a lease is executed with a view to a continuance of his occupation, he is not to be deemed to be admitted to occupation by that lease for the purposes of this Chapter, notwithstanding that the lease may purport to admit him to occupation. [1885, s. 47; Notfn.]

CHAPTER VII.

LANDS EXEMPTED FROM CHAPTERS V AND VI.

Bar to acquisition of right of occupancy in, and to application of Chapter VI to, proprietors' private lands and certain other lands.

49 Notwithstanding anything contained in Chapter V, a right of occupancy shall not be acquired in, nor shall anything contained in Chapter VI apply to,— [1885, s. 116, Notfn., 1908, s. 43.]

(a) a proprietor's private lands, when they are held by a tenant on a lease for a term of years or on a lease from year to year,

(b) land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for the Government or any Local Authority or Railway Company, or land belonging to the Government within a cantonment, while such land remains the property of the Government or of any Local Authority or Railway Company, or [I of 1894]

(c) land belonging to the Government or to any Local Authority which is used for any public work, such as a road, canal or embankment, or is required for the repair or maintenance of the same, while such land continues to be so used or required [Sub clause (c) added in Select Committee.]

CHAPTER VIII.

UNDER-RAIYATS

Limit of rent recoverable from under-raiyats.

50. The landlord of an under-raiyat holding at a money-rent shall not be entitled to recover rent exceeding the rent which he himself pays by more than the following percentage of the same, namely — [An omission was made from this clause in Select Committee.] [1885, s. 48, Notfn.]

(a) when the rent payable by the under-raiyat is payable under a registered lease or agreement—fifty per cent., and

Provided that, if the landlord be a bapaftidar, these percentages shall be calculated with reference to the average cash rent which is paid by occupancy-raiyats for similar land in the village, and not with reference to the rent which the bapaftidar himself pays. (a) on the expiration of the term of a written lease; or

(b) when holding otherwise than under a written lease, at the end of the agricultural year within which a notice to quit has been served upon him by his landlord, provided that such notice has been served upon him not less than six months before the end of the year

CHAPTER IX

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO RENT

Rules and presumptions as to amount of rent

Rules and presumptions as to fixity of rent.

52 (1) Where a tenure-holder or raiyat in a permanently-settled area, and his predecessors in interest, have held at a rent or rate of rent which has not been changed from the time of the Permanent Settlement, the rent or rate of rent shall not be liable to be increased except on the ground of an alteration in the area of the tenure or holding [1859, ss. 4, 15, 16, 1885, s. 50]

(2) If it is proved in any suit or other proceeding under this Act or under any other law that either a tenure-holder or raiyat and his predecessors in interest have held land situated in a permanently-settled area at a rent or rate of rent which has not been changed during the twenty years immediately before the institution of the suit or proceeding, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, that they have held at that rent or rate of rent from the time of the Permanent Settlement

Provided that, if it is required by or under any enactment that in any local area, tenancies, or any classes of tenancies, at fixed rents or rates of rent shall be registered as such on or before a date specified by or under the enactment, the foregoing presumption shall not after that date apply to any tenancy or, as the case may be, to any tenancy of that class, in that local area unless the tenancy has been so registered

(3) The operation of this section, so far as it relates to land held by a raiyat, shall not be affected by the fact of the land having been separated from other land which formed with it a single holding, or amalgamated with other land into one holding.

(4) Nothing in this section shall apply to a tenure held for a term of years or determinable at the will of the landlord.

Presumption as to amount of rent and conditions of holding

53. If a question arises as to the amount of a tenant's rent or the conditions under which he holds in any agricultural year, he shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to hold at the same rent and under the same conditions as in the last preceding agricultural year. [1859, s. 13, 1885, s 51]

Alteration of rent on alteration of area.

Alteration of rent in respect of alteration in area.

54 (1) Every tenant shall—

(a) be liable to pay additional rent for all land proved by measurement to be in excess of the area for which rent has been previously paid by him, unless it is proved that the excess is due to the addition to the [1885, s. 22; Notfn.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clause 54.)

tenure or holding of land which, having previously belonged to the tenure or holding, was lost by diluvion or otherwise without any reduction of the rent being made; and (b) be entitled to a reduction of rent in respect of any deficiency proved by measurement to exist in the area of his tenure or holding as compared with the area for which rent has been previously paid by him, unless it is proved that the deficiency is due to the loss of land which was added to the area of the tenure or holding by alluvion or otherwise, and that an addition has not been made to the rent in respect of the addition to the area.

(2) In determining the area for which rent has been previously paid, the Court shall, if so required by any party to the suit, have regard to—

(a) the origin and conditions of the tenancy, for instance, whether the rent was a consolidated rent for the entire tenure or holding,

(b) whether the tenant has been allowed to hold additional land in consideration of an addition to his total rent or otherwise with the knowledge and consent of the landlord,

(c) the length of time during which the tenancy has lasted without dispute as to rent or area; and

(d) the length of the measure used or in local use at the time of the origin of the tenancy as compared with that used or in local use at the time of the institution of the suit.

(3) In determining the amount to be added to the rent, the Court shall have regard to the rates payable by tenants of the same class for lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity, and, in the case of a tenure-holder, to the profits to which he is entitled in respect of the rent of his tenure; and shall not in any case fix any rent which, in the circumstances of the case, is unfair or inequitable.

(4) The amount abated from the rent shall bear the same proportion to the rent previously payable as the diminution of the total yearly value of the tenure or holding bears to the previous total yearly value thereof, or, in default of satisfactory proof of the yearly value of the land lost, shall bear to the rent previously payable the same proportion as the diminution of area bears to the previous area of the tenure or holding.

(5) When, in a suit under this section, the landlord or tenant is unable to indicate any particular land as held in excess, the rent to be added on account of the excess area may be calculated at the average rate of rent paid on all the lands of the holding, exclusive of such excess area.

(6) When, in a suit under this section, the landlord or tenant proves that, at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made, there existed, in respect of the estate or permanent tenure or part thereof in which the tenure or holding is situate, a practice of settlement being made after measurement of the land assessed with rent, it may be presumed that the area of the tenure or holding specified in any lease or counterpart engagement, or (where there is an entry of area in a counterfoil receipt corresponding to the entry in the rent-roll) in any rent-roll relating to it, has been entered in such lease, counterpart engagement or rent-roll after measurement.

Reclamation of waste

54A (1) No waste land may be reclaimed by a raiyat without the oral or written consent of his landlord except where the land was, before such reclamation, included in the tenancy of the raiyat and he has acquired a right of occupancy in it

[New clause 54 A added in Select Committee]

(2) Where the consent of the landlord is required by sub-section (1) for the reclamation of waste land, such consent shall be deemed to have been given if, within four years from the date on which the raiyat commenced his reclamation of the land, the landlord has not made an application to the Collector for his ejectment

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply to waste land which is not included in a village as defined in clause (26) of section 3

(3) Waste land which has been reclaimed under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be assessable to rent according to the terms of any agreement entered into by the parties before or after the reclamation In the absence of any such agreement, the Collector may, on the application of either of the parties, settle a fair and equitable rent for the land, and, in doing so shall have regard to—

(i) the provisions of section 54, and

(ii) any local usage or arrangement between the parties which is, in his opinion fair and equitable

Payment of Rent

Instalments of rent

55 (1) Subject to agreement or established usage, a money-rent payable by a tenant shall be paid in two equal instalments falling due on the last day of each half of the agricultural year

[1885, s. 53, Notfn.]

(2) Subject to agreement or established usage, a produce-rent payable by a tenant shall be payable at the time of harvest, and shall be deemed to have fallen due on the last day of the Uriya month during which the crop is harvested

Time and place for payment of rent.

56 (1) Every tenant shall pay each instalment of rent before sunset of the day on which it falls due.

[1885, s. 54; Notfn]

(2) The payment shall, except in cases where a tenant is allowed under this Act to deposit his rent, be made at the landlord's village-office, or at such other convenient place as may be appointed in that behalf by the landlord

Provided that the Local Government may make rules, either generally or for any specified local area, authorizing a tenant to pay his rent by postal money-order.

(3) Any instalment or part of an instalment of rent not duly paid at or before the time when it falls due shall be deemed an arrear.

Appropriation of payments.

57 (1) When a tenant makes a payment on account of rent, he may declare the year or the year and instalment to which he wishes the payment to be credited, and the payment shall be credited accordingly.

[1885, s. 55 Notfn]

(2) If he does not make any such declaration, the payment may be credited to the account of such year and instalment as the landlord thinks fit.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clauses 58—60.)

Receipts and Accounts

Tenant making payment to his landlord entitled to a receipt

58 (1) Every tenant who makes a payment on account of rent to his landlord shall be entitled to obtain forthwith from the landlord a written receipt for the amount paid by him, signed by the landlord

[1885, s. 56; Notfn]

(2) The landlord shall prepare and retain a counterfoil of the receipt

(3) The receipt and counterfoil shall specify such of the several particulars shown in the form of receipt given in Schedule III as can be specified by the landlord at the time of payment:

Provided that the Local Government may prescribe or sanction a modified form, either generally or for any particular local area or class of cases

(4) If a receipt does not contain substantially the particulars required by this section, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to be an acquittance in full of all demands for rent up to the date on which the receipt was given

Tenant entitled to full discharge or statement of account at close of year

59 (1) Where a landlord admits that all rent payable by a tenant to the end of the agricultural year has been paid, the tenant shall be entitled to receive from the landlord, free of charge, within three months after the end of the year, a receipt in full discharge of all rent falling due to the end of the year, signed by the landlord.

[1885, s. 57 Notfn]

(2) Where the landlord does not so admit, the tenant shall be entitled, on paying a fee of four annas, to receive, within three months after the end of the year, a statement of account specifying the several particulars shown in the form of account given in Schedule III, or in such other form as may be prescribed by the Local Government, either generally or for any particular local area or class of cases.

(3) The landlord shall prepare and retain a copy of the statement, containing similar particulars.

Penalties and fine for withholding receipts and statements of account and failing to keep counterparts.

60 (1) If a landlord, without reasonable cause, refuses or neglects to deliver to a tenant a receipt, containing the particulars prescribed by section 58, for any rent paid by the tenant, the tenant may, within three months from the date of payment, institute a suit to recover from him such penalty, not exceeding double the amount of value of that rent, as the Court thinks fit.

[1885, s 58 Notfn, 1908, s. 54 (3), (4).]

(2) If a landlord, without reasonable cause, refuses or neglects to deliver to a tenant demanding the same either the receipt in full discharge or, if the tenant is not entitled to such a receipt, the statement of account for any year prescribed in section 59, the tenant may, within the next ensuing agricultural year, institute a suit to recover from him such penalty as the Court thinks fit, not exceeding double the aggregate amount or value of all rent paid by the tenant to the landlord during the year for which the receipt or account should have been delivered.

[Sub-clause (3) omitted and replaced by Sub-clauses (3a) and (3b).]

(3a) If a landlord or his agent, without reasonable cause, fails to deliver to the tenant a receipt or statement, or to prepare and retain a counterfoil or copy of a receipt or statement, as required by either of the said sections, such landlord or agent, as as the case may be, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, to be imposed, after summary inquiry, by the Collector.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter IX —General Provisions as to Rent – Clauses 61, 62.)

(3b) The Collector may hold a summary inquiry under sub-section (3a) either on information received from a Revenue Officer within one year, or upon complaint of the party aggrieved made within three months, from the date of failure, or upon the report of a Civil or Revenue Court made as next hereinafter provided.

(4) If, in any suit or other proceeding under this Act or under any other law, the Court or presiding officer (not being the Collector) finds that any landlord or agent has failed—

(a) to deliver to a tenant a receipt in the prescribed form, or

(b) to prepare and retain a counterfoil, in the prescribed form, of a receipt delivered to a tenant as aforesaid, such Court or officer shall inform the Collector.

(5) Where, in any case instituted under sub-section (3a), the Collector discharges any landlord or agent, and is satisfied that the complaint of the tenant on which the proceedings were instituted is false or vexatious, the Collector may, in his discretion, by his order of discharge, direct the tenant to pay to such landlord or agent, such compensation, not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector thinks fit.

[Sub-clause (6) replaced by sub-clause (6a)]

(6a) An appeal shall lie to the Collector of the district from any order passed under sub-section (3a) or sub section (5), by an officer subordinate to him, and his order on appeal shall, subject to any order which may be passed by the Commissioner on revision, be final

Provided that an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner from any order passed by the Collector of the district under sub-section (3a) or sub-section (5), and the order of the Commissioner on appeal shall be final

(7) Any fine imposed or compensation awarded under this section may be recovered in the manner provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of a public demand.

(8) For the purpose of an inquiry under this section, the Collector shall have power to summon, and enforce the attendance of, witnesses, and compel the production of documents, in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

Local Government to prepare forms of receipt and account

61. (1) The Local Government shall cause to be prepared and kept for sale to landlords at all sub-divisional offices forms of receipts, with counterfoils, and of statements of account, suitable for use under the foregoing sections. [1885, s 59, Notfn.]

(2) The forms may be sold in books with the leaves consecutively numbered or otherwise as the Local Government thinks fit.

Effect of receipt by registered proprietor, manager, mortgagee, sub-proprietor or tenure-holder.

62 Where rent is due to the proprietor, manager or mortgagee of an estate, the receipt of the person registered under the Land Registration Act, 1876, as proprietor, manager or mortgagee of that estate, [1885, s. 60, Notfn.] Ben. Act VII of 1876.

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clause 63.)

and where rent is due to a sub-proprietor or tenure-holder, the receipt of the person who is—

(a) registered under sections 13 A, 13 B or 13 C as sub-proprietor or tenure-holder, or

(b) recorded as sub-proprietor or tenure-holder in a record-of-rights finally published under Chapter XI or under some other law for the time being in force, or

(c) recorded as sub-proprietor or tenure holder in Land Records published and finally framed under Chapter XII, or the receipt of the duly authorized agent of any such person as aforesaid, shall be a sufficient discharge for the rent; and the person liable for the rent shall not be entitled to plead in defence to a claim by the person so registered or recorded that the rent is due to any third person

But nothing in this section shall affect any remedy which any such third person may have against the registered proprietor, manager or mortgagee or the registered or recorded sub-proprietor or tenure-holder

Deposit of Rent

Application to deposit rent in Court.

63 (1) In any of the following cases, namely.— [1885, s. 61; Notfn.]

(a) when a tenant tenders money on account of rent, and the landlord refuses to receive it or refuses to grant a receipt for it,

(b) when a tenant bound to pay money on account of rent has reason to believe, owing to a tender having been refused or a receipt withheld on a previous occasion, that the person to whom his rent is payable will not be willing to receive it and to grant him a receipt for it;

(c) when the rent is payable to co-sharers jointly, and the tenant is unable to obtain the joint receipt of the co-sharers for the money and no person has been empowered to receive the rent on their behalf; or

(d) when the tenant entertains a bonâ fide doubt as to who is entitled to receive the rent, the tenant may present, to the Court having jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the rent of his tenure or holding, an application in writing for permission to deposit in the Court the full amount of the money then due.

[Sub-clause (ii) struck out in Select Committee.]

(2) The application shall contain a statement of the grounds on which it is made; shall state—in cases (a) and (b), the name of the person to whose credit the deposit is to be entered,

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clauses 64, 65.)

in case (c), the names of the sharers to whom the rent is due, or of so many of them as the tenant may be able to specify, and in case (d), the name of the person to whom the rent was last paid, and of the person or persons now claiming it; shall be signed and verified, in the manner provided in rules 14 and 15 in Order VI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, by the tenant, or, where he is not personally cognizant of the facts of the case, by some person so cognizant; V of 1908.

and shall be accompanied by a fee of such amount as the Local Government may, by rule, direct.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply to a rent which has not fallen due prior to the date of application for deposit, nor to a tenant who has acquired his tenancy by gift, purchase or exchange, and has not been duly registered under the provisions of sections 13 B, 13 C, or 25 A. [Sub-clause (3) added in Select Committee.]

Receipt granted by Court for rent deposited to be a valid acquittance.

64. (1) If it appears to the Court to which an application is made under section 63 that the applicant is entitled under that section to deposit the rent, it shall receive the rent and give a receipt for it in the prescribed form. [1885, s. 62 Notfn.]

(2) A receipt given under this section shall operate as an acquittance for the amount of the rent payable by the tenant and deposited as aforesaid, in the same manner and to the same extent as if that amount of rent had been received—in cases (a) and (b) of section 63, by the person specified in the application as the person to whose credit the deposit was to be entered, in case (c) of that section, by the co-sharers to whom the rent is due; and in case (d) of that section, by the person entitled to the rent.

Notification of receipt of deposit.

65. (1) The Court receiving the deposit shall forthwith— [1885, s. 63 Notfn.]

in cases (a) and (b) of section 63, cause a notice of the receipt of the deposit to be served, free of charge, on the person specified in the application as the person to whose credit the deposit was to be entered; in case (c) of that section, cause a notice of the receipt of the deposit to be posted at the landlord's village-office or in some conspicuous place in the village in which the holding is situate; and in case (d) of that section, cause a like notice to be served, free of charge, on every person who it has reason to believe claims or is entitled to the deposit.

(2) Notices to be served under this section may, at the discretion of the Court, be served by registered post. [Sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clauses 66—70.)

Payment or refund of deposit.

66. (1) The Court may pay the amount of the deposit to any person appearing to it to be entitled to the same, or may, if it thinks fit, retain the amount pending the decision of a Revenue Court as to the person so entitled. [1885, s. 64, Notfn.]

(2) The payment may, if the Local Government so directs, be made by postal money order.

(3) If no payment is made under this section before the expiration of three years from the date on which a deposit is made, the amount deposited may, in the absence of any order of a Revenue Court to the contrary, be repaid to the depositor upon his application and on his returning the receipt given by the Court with which the rent was deposited.

(4) No suit or other proceeding shall be instituted against the Secretary of State for India in Council, or against any officer of the Government, in respect of anything done by a Court receiving a deposit under the foregoing sections, but nothing in this section shall prevent any person entitled to receive the amount of any such deposit from recovering the same from a person to whom it has been paid under this section.

Arrears of Rent.

Liability to sale for arrears in case of permanent tenure holder, bajiaftidar, raiyat holding at fixed rate or occupancy-raiyat.

67. Where a tenant is a permanent tenure-holder, a bajiaftidar, a raiyat holding at fixed rates or an occupancy-raiyat, he shall not be liable to ejectment for arrears of rent, but his tenure or holding shall be liable to sale in execution of a decree for the rent thereof, and the rent shall be a first charge thereon. [1885, s. 65, Notfn.]

Ejectment for arrears in other cases.

68. (1) When an arrear of rent remains due at the end of the agricultural year from a tenant not being a permanent tenure-holder, a bajiaftidar, a raiyat holding at fixed rates or an occupancy-raiyat, the landlord may, whether he has obtained a decree for the recovery of the arrear or not, and whether he is entitled by the terms of any contract to eject the tenant for arrears or not, institute a suit to eject the tenant. [1885, s. 66; Notfn.]

(2) In a suit for ejectment for an arrear of rent, a decree passed in favour of the plaintiff shall specify the amount of the arrear and of the interest (if any) due thereon, and the decree shall not be executed if that amount and the costs of the suit are paid into Court within fifteen days from the date of the decree, or, when the Court is closed on the fifteenth day, on the day upon which the Court re-opens

(3) The Court may, for special reasons, extend the period of fifteen days mentioned in this section

Interest on arrears of money-rent.

69. An arrear of money-rent shall bear simple interest, at the rate of twelve and-a-half per centum per annum, from the expiration of that half of the agricultural year in which the instalment falls due to the date of payment or of the institution of the suit, whichever date is earlier. [1885, s. 67, Notfn.]

Power to award damages on rent withheld without reasonable cause, or to defendant improperly sued for rent.

70. (1) If, in any suit brought for the recovery of arrears of rent, it appears to the Court that the defendant has, without reasonable or probable cause, neglected or refused to pay the amount of rent due by him, the Court may award to the plaintiff, in addition to the amount decreed for rent and costs, such damages, not exceeding twenty-five per centum on the amount of rent decreed, as it thinks fit: [1885, s. 68, Notfn.]

Provided that,—

(i) interest shall not be decreed when damages are awarded under this section; and

(ii) the amount of damages awarded shall in no case be less than the amount of interest recoverable under section 69. [Proviso (ii) added in Select Committee.]

(2) If, in any suit brought for the recovery of arrears of rent, it appears to the Court that the plaintiff has instituted the suit

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clauses 71—73.)

without reasonable or probable cause, the Court may award to the defendant, by way of damages, such sum, not exceeding twenty-five per centum on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff, as it thinks fit

Produce-rents.

Recovery of produce-rent.

71 (1) Where the rent of any land is paid in kind, or on the estimated value of a portion of the crop, or at rates varying with the crop, or partly in one of those ways and partly in another, or partly in any of those ways and partly in cash, the landlord shall not be entitled to recover rent for that land in excess of half the gross produce of the land, or the value thereof, or any interest on such rent, or to recover any arrear of such rent by suit unless the suit is instituted before the end of the agricultural year next following that for which the rent is claimed to be due.

[Cf. 1885, s. 40, and cl. 41, ante.]

Explanation.—In applying the provisions of this section, the court shall estimate the value of the produce according to the rates obtaining locally at the time of harvest

[Explanation and sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

(2) Nothing in this section shall bar a suit for an arrear of rent recoverable under the law hitherto in force, provided that such suit shall be brought before the end of the first agricultural year after the commencement of this Act.

Order for appraising or dividing produce.

72. (1) Where rent is taken by appraisement or division of the produce,—

[1885, s. 69, Notfn.]

(a) if either the landlord or the tenant neglects to attend, either personally or by agent, at the proper time for making the appraisement or division, or

(b) if there is a dispute about the quantity, value or division of the produce, the Collector may, on the application of either party, and on his depositing such sum on account of expenses as the Collector may require, make an order appointing such officer as he thinks fit to appraise or divide the produce

(2) The Collector may, without such an application, make the like order in any case where, in the opinion of the District or Sub-divisional Magistrate, the making of the order would be likely to prevent a breach of the peace

(3) Where a Collector makes an order under this section, he may, by order, prohibit the removal of the produce until the appraisement or division has been effected, but an order made by the Collector under this sub-section shall not prevent the execution of any order passed by the Court for the distraint of the tenant's crops.

(4) Every officer appointed by the Collector under sub-section (1) to appraise or divide the produce shall, for the purposes of the Indian Penal Code, be deemed to be a public servant

XLV of 1860.

Procedure where officer appointed.

73 (1) When a Collector appoints an officer under section 72, the Collector may, in his discretion, direct the officer to associate with himself any other persons as assessors, and may give him instructions regarding the number, qualifications and mode of selection of those assessors (if any), and the procedure to be followed in making the appraisement or division; and the officer shall conform to the instructions so given.

[1885, s. 70; Notfn.]

(2) The officer shall, before making an appraisement or division, give notice to the landlord and tenant of the time and place at which the appraisement or division will be made; but if either the landlord or the tenant fails to attend, either personally or by agent, he may proceed ex parte.

(3) When the officer has made the appraisement or division, he shall submit a report of his proceedings to the Collector.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clauses 74—78.)

(4) The Collector shall consider the report, and, after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, and making such inquiry (if any) as he may think necessary, shall pass such order thereon as he thinks just.

(5) The Collector may, if he thinks fit, refer any question in dispute between the parties for the decision of a Revenue Court; but, subject as aforesaid, his order shall be final and shall, on application to a Revenue Court by the landlord or the tenant, be enforceable as a decree.

(6) Where the officer makes an appraisement, the appraisement papers shall be filed in the Collector's office.

Rights and liabilities to possession of crop.

74. (1) Where rent is taken by appraisement of the produce, the tenant shall be entitled to the exclusive possession of the produce. [1885, s. 71, Notfn.]

(2) Where rent is taken by division of the produce, the tenant shall be entitled to the exclusive possession of the whole produce until it is divided, but shall not be entitled to remove any portion of the produce from the threshing-floor at such a time or in such a manner as to prevent the due division thereof at the proper time.

(3) In either case the tenant shall be entitled to cut and harvest the produce in due course of husbandry without any interference on the part of the landlord.

(4) If the tenant removes any portion of the produce at such a time or in such a manner as to prevent the due appraisement or division thereof at the proper time, the produce shall be deemed to have been as full as the fullest crop of the same description appraised in the neighbourhood on similar land for that harvest.

Liability for rent on change of landlord or after transfer of tenure or holding.

Tenant not liable to transferee of landlord's interest for rent paid to former landlord, without notice of the transfer.

75. (1) A tenant shall not, when his landlord's interest is transferred, be liable to the transferee for rent which became due after the transfer and was paid in good faith to the landlord whose interest was so transferred, unless the transferee has, before the payment, given notice of the transfer to the tenant. [1885, s. 72; Notfn.]

(2) Where there is more than one tenant paying rent to the landlord whose interest is transferred, a general notice from the transferee to the tenants, published in the prescribed manner, shall be a sufficient notice for the purposes of this section.

Liability for rent after transfer of occupancy-holding.

76. When an occupancy-raiyat transfers his holding without the consent of the landlord, the transferor and transferee shall be jointly and severally liable to the landlord for arrears of rent falling due after the transfer, unless and until the transfer has been duly registered as required by section 25 A. [1885, s. 73, Notfn.]

Illegal cesses, &c.

Abwab, &c., illegal.

77. All impositions upon tenants, under the denomination of abwab, mathat or other like appellations, in addition to the actual rent, shall be illegal, and all stipulations and reservations for the payment of such shall be void. [1885, s. 74; Notfn.]

Penalty for exaction by landlord from tenant of sum in excess of the rent payable.

78. Every tenant from whom, except under any special enactment for the time being in force, any sum of money or any portion of the produce of his land is exacted by his landlord in excess of the rent or interest lawfully payable, may, within six months from the date of the exaction, institute a suit to recover from the landlord, in addition to the amount or value of what is so exacted, such sum by way of penalty as the Court thinks fit, not exceeding two hundred rupees; or, when double the amount or value of what is so exacted exceeds two hundred rupees, not exceeding double that amount or value. CHAPTER X.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS AS TO LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.

Improvements

Definition of "improvement"

79 (1) For the purposes of this Act, the term "improvement," used with reference to a raiyat's holding, shall mean any work which adds to the value of the holding, which is suitable to the holding and consistent with the purpose for which it was let, and which, if not executed on the holding, is either executed directly for its benefit or is, after execution, made directly beneficial to it. [1885 s 70.]

(2) Until the contrary is shown, the following shall be presumed to be improvements within the meaning of this section —

(a) the construction of wells, tanks, water-channels and other works for the storage, supply or distribution of water for the purposes of agriculture, or for the use of men and cattle employed in agriculture,

(b) the preparation of land for irrigation,

(c) the drainage, reclamation from rivers or other waters, or protection from floods, or from erosion or other damage by water, of land used for agricultural purposes, or waste land which is culturable,

(d) the reclamation, clearance, enclosure or permanent improvement of land for agricultural purposes,

(e) the renewal or re-construction of any of the foregoing works, or alterations therein or additions thereto, and

(f) the erection of a suitable dwelling-house for the raiyat and his family, together with all necessary out-offices

(3) But no work executed by the raiyat of a holding shall be deemed to be an improvement for the purposes of this Act if it substantially diminishes the value of his landlord's property.

Right to make improvements in case of holding at fixed rates or occupancy holding

80 (1) Where a raiyat holds at fixed rates or has an occupancy-right in his holding, neither the raiyat nor his landlord, shall, as such, be entitled to prevent the other from making an improvement in respect of the holding, except on the ground that he is willing to make it himself. [1885, s 77]

(2) If both the raiyat and his landlord wish to make the same improvement, the raiyat shall have the prior right to make it, unless it affects another holding or other holdings under the same landlord.

Collector to decide question as to right to make improvement, &c.

81. If a question arises between the raiyat and his landlord— [1885, s. 78.]

(a) as to the right to make an improvement, or

(b) as to whether a particular work is an improvement, the Collector may, on the application of either party, decide the question, and his decision shall be final.

Right to make improvements in case of non-occupancy-holding.

82. (1) A non-occupancy-raiyat shall be entitled to construct, maintain and repair a well for the irrigation of his holding, with all works incidental thereto, and to erect a suitable dwelling-house for himself and his family, with all necessary out-offices; but shall not, except as aforesaid and as next hereinafter provided, be entitled to make any other improvement in respect of his holding without his landlord's permission in writing. [1885, s 79.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants —Clauses 83—85)

(2) A non-occupancy-raiyat who would, but for the want of his landlord's permission in writing, be entitled to make an improvement in respect of his holding, may, if he desires that the improvement be made, deliver, or cause to be delivered, to his landlord a request in writing calling upon him to make the improvement within a reasonable time, and, if the landlord is unable or neglects to comply with that request, may make the improvement himself.

Registration of landlord's improvements

83. (1) A landlord may, by application to such Revenue-officer as the Local Government may appoint, register any improvement which he has lawfully made, or which has been lawfully made at his expense, or which he has assisted a tenant in making. [1885, s. 80 Notfn.]

(2) The application shall be in such form, shall contain such information, and shall be verified in such manner, by local inquiry or otherwise, as the Local Government may, by rule, direct.

(3) The officer receiving the application may reject it if it has not been made within twelve months—

(a) in the case of improvements made before the commencement of this Act—from the commencement of this Act,

(b) in the case of improvements made after the commencement of this Act—from the date of the completion of the work.

Application to record evidence as to improvement.

84 (1) If any landlord or tenant of a holding desires that evidence relating to any improvement made in respect thereof be recorded, he may apply to a Revenue officer, who shall thereupon, at a time and place of which notice shall be given to the parties, record the evidence, unless he considers that there are no reasonable grounds for making the application, or it is made to appear that the subject-matter thereof is under inquiry in a Revenue Court. [1885, s. 81]

(2) When any matter has been recorded under this section, the record thereof shall be admissible in evidence in every subsequent proceeding between the landlord and tenant or any persons claiming under them.

Compensation for raiyat's improvements.

85. (1) Every raiyat who is ejected from his holding shall be entitled to compensation for improvements which have been made in respect thereof in accordance with this Act by him, or by his predecessor in interest, and for which compensation has not already been paid. [1885, s. 82]

(2) Whenever a Court makes a decree or order for the ejectment of a raiyat, it shall determine the amount of compensation (if any) due under this section to the raiyat for improvements, and shall make the decree or order of ejectment conditional on the payment of that amount to the raiyat.

(3) No compensation under this section for an improvement shall be claimable where the raiyat has made the improvement in pursuance of a contract or under a lease binding him, in consideration of some substantial advantage to be obtained by him, to make the improvement without compensation, and he has obtained that advantage.

(4) Improvements made by a raiyat between the twenty-seventh day of June, 1892, and the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been made in accordance with this Act.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 86—88.)

(5) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, make rules requiring the Court to associate with itself, for the purpose of estimating the compensation to be awarded under this section for an improvement, such number of assessors as the Local Government thinks fit, and determining the qualifications of those assessors and the mode of selecting them.

Principle on which compensation is to be estimated.

86. (1) In estimating the compensation to be awarded under section 85 for an improvement, regard shall be had— [1885, s. 3.]

(a) to the amount by which the value, or the produce, of the holding, or the value of that produce, is increased by the improvement;

(b) to the condition of the improvement, and the probable duration of its effects;

(c) to the labour and capital required for the making of such an improvement,

(d) to any reduction or remission of rent or any other advantage given by the landlord to the raiyat in consideration of the improvement; and

(e) in the case of a reclamation or of the conversion of unirrigated into irrigated land, to the length of time during which the raiyat has had the benefit of the improvement at an unenhanced rent

(2) When the amount of the compensation has been assessed, the Court may, if the landlord and raiyat agree, direct that, instead of being paid wholly in money, it shall be made wholly or partly in some other way

Acquisition of land for building and other purposes.

Acquisition of land for building and other purposes.

87. (1) The Collector may, on the application of the landlord of a holding, [1885, s. 84; 1908, s. 50.]

and on being satisfied that he is desirous of acquiring the holding or part thereof for some reasonable and sufficient purpose having relation to the good of the holding or of the tenure or estate in which it is comprised, such as the use of the land for a village road or embankment, or for any charitable, religious or educational purpose, or for the purpose of mining, manufacture, drainage or irrigation, or as building ground for any such purpose, or for access to land used or required for any such purpose, authorize the acquisition thereof by the landlord upon such conditions as the Collector may think fit, and require the tenant to sell his interest in the holding or part to the landlord upon such terms as may be approved by the Collector, including full compensation to the tenant

(2) If the landlord tenders to the tenant such sum as the Collector has approved under sub-section (1) as payment for any land and the tenant refuses to receive the same, the Collector may, on the landlord depositing the said sum with the Collector, give possession of the land to the landlord in the prescribed manner. [Sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

Sub-letting.

Restrictions on sub-letting.

88. (1) If a raiyat sub-lets otherwise than by a registered instrument, the sub-lease shall not be valid against his landlord unless made with the landlord's consent. [1885, s. 85.]

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 89, 90.)

(2) A sub-lease by a raiyat shall not be valid, nor shall it be admitted to registration if it purports to create a term exceeding nine years

(3) Where a raiyat has, without the consent of his landlord, granted a sub-lease by an instrument registered before the commencement of this Act, the sub-lease shall not be valid for more than nine years from the commencement of this Act.

(4) Nothing in this section shall apply to a jajmafidar raiyat who may sub-let without the consent of his landlord and for any term of years

[1885, s. 85.] [Sub-clause (4) added in Select Committee]

Surrender and Abandonment.

Surrender

89 (1) A raiyat not bound by a lease or other agreement for a fixed period may, at the end of any agricultural year, surrender his holding. [1859, s. 19. 1885, s. 86.]

(2) But, notwithstanding the surrender, the raiyat shall be liable to indemnify the landlord against any loss of the rent of the holding for the agricultural year next following the date of the surrender, unless he gives to his landlord at least three months before he surrenders, notice in writing of his intention to surrender

(3) When a raiyat has surrendered his holding, the Court shall in the following cases, for the purposes of sub-section (2), presume, until the contrary is shown, that such notice was so given, namely: –

(a) if the raiyat takes a new holding in the same village from the same landlord during the agricultural year next following the surrender,

(b) if the raiyat ceases, at least three months before the end of the agricultural year at the end of which the surrender is made, to reside in the village in which the surrendered holding is situate

(4) The raiyat may, if he thinks fit, cause the notice to be served through the Revenue Court within the jurisdiction of which the holding or any portion of it is situate

(5) When a raiyat has surrendered his holding, the landlord may enter on the holding and either let it to another tenant or take it into cultivation himself

(6) When a holding is subject to an incumbrance secured by a registered instrument, the surrender of the holding shall not be valid unless the landlord is informed of the incumbrance, and the surrender is made with the consent, in writing, of the landlord and the incumbrancer.

(7) Save as provided in sub-section (6), nothing in this section shall affect any arrangement by which a raiyat and his landlord may arrange for a surrender of the whole or a part of the holding.

Abandonment.

90. (1) If a non resident raiyat, or a resident raiyat who voluntarily abandons his residence in the village, ceases to cultivate his holding either by himself or some other person, without giving notice to his landlord and without arranging for payment of his rent as it falls due, the landlord may, at any time after the expiration of the agricultural year in which the raiyat thus ceases to cultivate, enter on the holding and let it to another tenant, or take it into cultivation himself. [1885, s. 87.]

(2) Before a landlord enters under this section, he shall file a notice in the prescribed form in the Collector's office, stating that he has treated the holding as abandoned and is about to enter on it accordingly; and the Collector shall cause a notice to be published in such manner as the Local Government may, by rule, direct.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 91–93.)

(3) When a landlord enters under this section, the raiyat shall be entitled to institute a suit for recovery of possession of the land at any time not later than the expiration of two years, or, in the case of a non-occupancy-raiyat, six months, from the date of the publication of the notice; and thereupon the Court may, on being satisfied that the raiyat did not voluntarily abandon his holding, order recovery of possession on such terms (if any) with respect to compensation to persons injured and payment of arrears of rent as to the Court may seem just

(4) Where the whole or part of a holding has been sublet by a registered instrument, the landlord shall, before entering under this section, on the holding, offer the whole holding to the sub-lessee for the remainder of the term of the sub-lease at the rent paid by the raiyat who has ceased to cultivate the holding, and on condition of the sub-lessee paying up all arrears due from that raiyat If the sub-lessee refuses or neglects within a reasonable time to accept the offer, the landlord may avoid the sub-lease and may enter on the holding and let it to another tenant or cultivate it himself as provided in sub-sections (1) and (2).

Sub-division of tenancy.

Division of tenancy not binding on landlord without his consent

91 No division of a tenure or holding, save as provided in sections 13 A, 13 B, 13 C and 25 A, and no distribution of a rent payable in respect of a tenure or holding, save as provided in sub-section (2) of section 25A shall be binding on the landlord unless it is made with his express consent in writing, or with that of his agent duly authorized in that behalf

[1885, ss 27, 88; 1908, s 13]

Provided that, if there is proved to have been made in any landlord's rent-roll any entry showing that any tenure or holding has been divided, or that the rent payable in respect thereof has been distributed, such landlord may be presumed to have given his express consent in writing to such division or distribution

Ejectment.

No ejectment except in execution of decree

92 No tenant shall be ejected from his tenure or holding except in execution of a decree

[1859 s 21, prov., s 22, prov 1885, s. 84]

Measurements.

Landlord's right to measure land

93. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section and any contract, a landlord may, by himself or by any person authorized by him in this behalf, enter on and measure all land comprised in his estate or tenure

[Ben Act VI of 1862, s. 9; 1885, s 90.] [Some omissions made from this sub-clause in Select Committee]

(2) A landlord shall not, without the consent of the tenant or the written permission of the Collector, be entitled to measure land more than once in ten years, except in the following cases, namely:—

(a) where the area of the tenure or holding is liable, by reason of alluvion, diluvion or reclamation to vary from year to year, and the rent payable depends on the area;

(b) where the area under cultivation is liable to vary from year to year and the rent payable depends on the area under cultivation;

(c) where the landlord is a purchaser otherwise than by voluntary transfer and not more than two years have elapsed since the date of his entry under the purchase.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 94—98.)

(3) The ten years shall be computed from the date of the last measurement, whether made before or after the commencement of this Act.

Power for Court to order tenant to attend and point out boundaries.

94. (1) Where a landlord desires to measure any land which he is entitled to measure under section 93, the Revenue Court may, on the application of the landlord, make an order requiring the tenant to attend and point out the boundaries of the land. [Ben. Act VI of 1862, s. 9; 1885, s. 91.]

(2) If the tenant refuses or neglects to comply with the order, a map or other record of the boundaries and measurements of the land, prepared under the direction of the landlord at the time when the tenant was directed to attend, shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is shown.

Standard of measurement.

95. (1) Every measurement of land made by order of a Revenue Court or of a Revenue-officer in any suit or proceeding under this Act shall be made by the acre, unless the Court or Revenue-officer directs that it be made by any other specified standard. [Ben. Act VI of 1862, s. 11; 1885, s. 92.]

(2) If the rights of the parties are regulated by any local measure other than the acre, the acre shall be converted into the local measure for the purposes of the suit or proceeding.

(3) The Local Government may, after local inquiry, make rules declaring for any local area the standard or standards of measurement locally in use in that area, and every declaration so made shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is shown.

Managers.

Power to call upon co-owners to show cause why they should not appoint a common manager.

96. When any dispute exists between co-owners of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure as to the management thereof, and in consequence there has ensued, or is likely to ensue, [1885, s. 93; Notfn.]

(a) inconvenience to the public, or

(b) injury to private rights,

the Collector may, of his own motion, or on the application of any person having an interest in the estate, sub proprietary interest or tenure, direct a notice to be served on all the co-owners, calling on them to show cause why they should not appoint a common manager:

Provided that a co-owner of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure shall not be entitled to apply under this section unless he is actually in possession of the interest he claims, and, if he is a co-owner of an estate, unless his name and the extent of his interest are registered under the Land Registration Act, 1876, and, if he is a co-owner of a sub-proprietary interest or tenure, unless he is registered or recorded in the manner indicated in clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c) of section 62. [Ben. Act VII of 1876]

Power to order them to appoint a manager if cause is not shown.

97. If the co-owners fail to show cause as aforesaid within one month after service of a notice under section 96, the Collector may make an order directing them to appoint a common manager; and a copy of the order shall be served on any co-owner who did not appear before it was made. [1885, s. 94; Notfn.]

Power to appoint manager if order is not obeyed.

98. If the co-owners do not, within such period, not being less than one month after the making of an order under section 97, as the Collector may fix in this behalf, or, where the order has been served as directed by that section, within a like period after such service, appoint a common manager and report the appointment for the information of the Collector, the Collector [1885, s. 95; Notfn.]

may, unless it is shown to his satisfaction that there is a prospect of a satisfactory arrangement being made within a reasonable time,—

(a) direct that the estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure be managed by the Court of Wards, in any case in which the Court of Wards consents to undertake the management thereof; or

Power to nominate person to act in all cases under clause (b) of last section

99 The Local Government may nominate a person for any local area to manage all estates, sub-proprietary interests and tenures within that local area for which it may be necessary to appoint a manager under clause (b) of section 98, and, when any person has been so nominated, no other person shall be appointed manager under that clause by the Collector, unless in the case of any estate the Collector thinks fit to appoint one of the co-owners themselves as manager. [1885, s 96, Notfn.]

Application of the Court of Wards Act, 1879, to management by Court of Wards

100 In any case in which the Court of Wards undertakes, under section 98, the management of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure, so much of the provisions of the Court of Wards Act, 1879, as relates to the management of immovable property shall apply to the management [1885, s 97 Notfn.] Ben. Act IX of 1879

Provision applicable to manager

101 (1) A manager appointed under section 98 may, if the Collector thinks fit, be remunerated by a fixed salary or a fixed percentage of the money collected by him as manager, or partly in one way and partly in the other, as the Collector from time to time directs [1885, s 98 Notfn.]

(3) He shall, subject to the control of the Collector, provide for the management and cultivation of the estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure, collect the rents, discharge the public revenue and pay the rent and cesses: and generally exercise, for the purposes of management, the same powers as the co-owners jointly might, but for his appointment, have exercised in respect of all their joint immoveable property and the co-owners shall not, individually or jointly, exercise any such functions or powers, nor shall they, without the sanction of the Collector— [Ben. Reg. V of 1912, s 26]

(a) by sale, mortgage, gift or lease assign their share of the property, or

(b) apply for a partition of the estate or other property in the Civil Court or under the Estates Partition Act, 1897. Ben. Act V of 1897

(4) A manager shall deal with and distribute the profits in accordance with the orders of the Collector.

(5) He shall keep regular accounts, and allow the co-owners or any of them to inspect and take copies of those accounts

(7) He may make any application which the proprietors could make under section 107 or under section 220

(9) When the office of manager falls vacant in any manner, the Collector may, subject to the provisions of section 99, appoint another manager in his place; and the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to any manager so appointed. [Ben. Reg. V of 1827, s. 3.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Chapter XA.—Communal Rights—Clauses 102—103 D.)

Power to restore management to co-owners.

102. When an estate, sub proprietary interest or tenure has been placed under the management of the Court of Wards, or a manager has been appointed for the same under section 98 or section 101, sub-section (2), the Collector may at any time direct that the management of it be restored to the co-owners, if he is satisfied that the management will be conducted by them without inconvenience to the public or injury to private rights.

[1885, s. 99 Notfn.]

Revision by Commissioner.

102 A. All proceedings taken, and all orders passed by the Collector under sections 96 to 99, 101 and 102 of this Chapter shall be subject to revision by the Commissioner.

[New Clause 102 A added in Select Committee.]

Power to make rules.

103. The Local Government may make rules defining the powers and duties of managers under this Chapter.

CHAPTER XA.

[This Chapter was added in Select Committee.]

COMMUNAL RIGHTS.

Encroachment on communal land.

103 A. When, in the sarbasadharan portion of a record-of-rights, prepared and finally published under Chapter XI, or under any other law for the time being in force an entry has been made that any land has been set apart for the common use of the community, or for the exercise of certain rights by the community, such land shall not, without the written order of the Collector of the district, be assigned or used for any purpose which interferes with the purpose for which it was set apart.

[Mad. Act I of 1908, s. 20, para 1.]

Power to evict trespassers from communal land.

103 B. If any person occupies any land referred to in section 103 A for any purpose which interferes with the purpose for which such land was set apart, and without, or in contravention of a written order made by the Collector of the district under that section, he may, at any time within thirty years from the commencement of such occupation, be summarily evicted, and any crop, product, construction or thing raised, erected or deposited on the land shall be forfeited and applied to such communal purposes as the Collector may adjudge.

[Mad. Act I of 1908, s. 21.]

Procedure for eviction.

103 C. (1) Before evicting any person from any land under section 103 B, the Collector shall cause to be served on him a notice specifying the land and calling upon him to show cause, before a date to be fixed in the notice, why he should not be evicted.

[Mad. Act III of 1905, s. 7, para 1.]

(2) If sufficient cause be not shown by such person before the said date, the Collector may cause to be served on him a further notice, requiring him to vacate the land within such time as the Collector may consider reasonable.

[Mad. Act III of 1905, s. 6 (2).]

(3) If such person does not vacate the land as required by such further notice, the Collector may evict him, or depute a subordinate officer to evict him from the land, and may take possession of any property which is liable to forfeiture under section 103 B.

Procedure where land is wrongly entered as sarbasadharan or is no longer required for common use by the community.

103 D. (1) When any land of the kind referred to in section 103A has, in the opinion of the Collector of the district, been wrongly included in the sarbasadharan portion of a record-of-rights, or is no longer required for the purpose for which it was set apart, the said Collector shall record an order to that effect, and thereupon the provisions of this chapter shall cease to have any application to such land.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XA.—Communal Rights—Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 103E—104.)

(2) The Collector of the district may take action under sub-section (1) of this section, either of his own motion or upon application.

Appeal and revision.

103E (1) An appeal shall lie to the Collector of the district from any order passed by any officer subordinate to him under section 103 B or sub-section (3) of section 103 C, and to the Commissioner from any order of the Collector passed under section 103 A or sub-section (1) of section 103 D. [Mad. Act III of 1905, s 10.]

(2) Pending the disposal of any appeal to the Collector of the district or to the Commissioner, under sub-section (1), from any order, the Collector of the district or the Commissioner, as the case may be, may suspend the execution of such order.

(3) The Commissioner or the Collector of the district may revise any order passed under any of the foregoing sections 103 A to 103D, or under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) of this section, by any subordinate officer.

Limitation of suits in Civil Courts.

103F. No suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of any eviction or forfeiture under section 103 B or section 103 C unless it be instituted within six months from the date of the eviction or forfeiture. [Mad Act III of 1905, s 14.]

Provisions of this Chapter not to apply to permanently-settled estates.

103G Nothing in this chapter shall apply to any permanently-settled estate, unless the proprietor of such estate has applied to the Local Government for the extension of the provisions of the chapter to his estate, and the Local Government has assented thereto.

CHAPTER XI.

RECORD-OF-RIGHTS AND SETTLEMENT OF RENTS.

Part I.—Record-of-rights.

Power to order survey and preparation of record-of-rights.

104. (1) The Local Government may, in any case with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, and may, if it thinks fit, without such sanction in any of the cases next hereinafter mentioned, make an order directing that a survey be made and a record-of-rights be prepared, by a Revenue-officer, in respect of the lands in any local area, estate or tenure or part thereof. [1885, s 101, Notfn.]

(2) The cases in which an order may be made under this section without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council are the following, namely:—

(a) where—

(i) the landlord or tenants, or

(ii) a proportion of not less than one-half of the total number of landlords, or

(iii) a landlord, or a proportion of the landlords, whose interest, or the aggregate of whose interests, respectively, in the lands of the local area, estate or tenure or part thereof is not less than one-half of the total shares of all the landlords therein, or

(iv) a proportion of not less than one-fourth of the total number of tenants, applies, or apply, for such an order, depositing, or giving security for, such amount for the payment of expenses as the Local Government directs;

(b) where the preparation of such a record is calculated to settle or avert a serious dispute existing or likely to arise between the tenants and their landlords generally;

(c) where the local area, estate or tenure or the part thereof belongs to, or is managed by, the Government or the Court of Wards or a Manager appointed by the Collector under section 98 or section 101, sub-section (9);

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 105, 106.)

(d) where a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made in respect of the local area, estate or tenure or of the part thereof.

Explanation 1.—The term "settlement of land-revenue," as used in clause (d), includes a settlement of rents in an estate or tenure which belongs to the Government.

Explanation 2.—A superior landlord may apply for an order under this section, notwithstanding that his estate or part thereof is temporarily leased to a tenure-holder.

(3) A notification in the local official Gazette of an order under this section shall be conclusive evidence that the order has been duly made.

(4) The survey shall be made and the record-of-rights prepared in accordance with rules made in this behalf by the Local Government.

Particulars to be recorded.

105. Where an order is made under section 104, the particulars to be recorded shall be specified in the order, and may include, either without or in addition to other particulars, some or all of the following, namely :— [1885, s. 102; Notfn.]

(a) the name of each tenant or occupant ;

(b) the class to which each tenant belongs, that is to say, whether he is a tenure-holder, bajiaftidar, raiyat holding at fixed rates, settled raiyat, occupancy-raiyat, non-occupancy-raiyat, under-raiyat or chandnadar; and, if he is a tenure-holder, whether he is a permanent tenure-holder or not, and whether his rent is liable to enhancement during the continuance of his tenure ;

(c) the situation and quantity and one or more of the boundaries of the land held by each tenant or occupier ;

(d) the name of each tenant's landlord ;

(e) the name of each proprietor in the local area or estate ;

(f) the rent payable at the time the record-of-rights is being prepared ;

(g) the mode in which that rent has been fixed—whether by contract, by order of a Court, or otherwise ;

(h) if the rent is a gradually increasing rent, the time at which, and the steps by which, it increases ;

(j) the rights and obligations of each tenant and landlord in respect of—

(i) the use by tenants of water for agricultural purposes, whether obtained from a river, jhil, tank or well or any other source of supply, and

(ii) the repair and maintenance of appliances for securing a supply of water for the cultivation of the land held by each tenant, whether or not such appliances be situated within the boundaries of such land ,

(k) the special conditions and incidents (if any) of the tenancy ;

(l) any right of way or other easement attaching to the land for which a record-of-rights is being prepared ;

(m) if the land is claimed to be held rent-free—whether or not rent is actually paid, and, if not paid, whether or not the occupant is entitled to hold the land without payment of rent, and, if so entitled, under what authority.

Power to order survey and preparation of record-of-rights as to water.

106. The Local Government may, for the purpose of settling or averting disputes existing or likely to arise between landlords, tenants, proprietors, or persons belonging to any of these classes, regarding the use or passage of water, [1885, s. 102A Notfn.]

make an order directing that a survey be made and a record-of-rights be prepared by a Revenue-officer, in order to

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 107—109.)

ascertain and record the rights and obligations of each tenant and landlord in any local area, estate or tenure or part thereof, in respect of—

(a) the use by tenants of water for agricultural purposes, whether obtained from a river, jhil, tank or well or any other source of supply, and

(b) the repair and maintenance of appliances for securing a supply of water for the cultivation of the land held by each tenant, whether or not such appliances be situated within the boundaries of such land.

Power for Revenue-officer to record particulars on application of proprietor, tenure-holder or large proportion of raiyats.

107. On the application of one or more of the proprietors or tenure-holders, or of a large proportion of the raiyats, of an estate or tenure, and on the applicant or applicants depositing or giving security for the required amount for expenses, a Revenue-officer may, subject to, and in accordance with, rules made in this behalf by the Local Government, ascertain and record all or any of the particulars specified in section 105 with respect to the estate or tenure or any part thereof.

[1885, s. 103 Notfn.]

Preliminary publication, amendment, and final publication of record-of-rights.

108. (1) When a draft record-of-rights has been prepared, the Revenue-officer shall publish the draft in the prescribed manner and for the prescribed period, and shall receive and consider any objections which may be made to any entry therein, or to any omission therefrom, during the period of publication.

[1885, s. 103A; Notfn.]

(2) When such objections have been considered and disposed of according to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe, and (if a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made) the Settlement Rent Roll has been incorporated with the record under section 116, sub-section (3), the Revenue-officer shall finally frame the record, and shall cause it to be finally published in the prescribed manner; and the publication shall be conclusive evidence that the record has been duly made under this Chapter.

(3) Separate draft or final records may be published under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) for different local areas, estates, tenures or parts thereof.

Presumption as to final publication and correctness of record-of-rights.

109. (1) In any suit or other proceeding in which a record-of-rights published under this Chapter, or a duly certified copy thereof or extract therefrom, is produced, such record-of-rights shall be presumed to have been finally published, unless such publication is expressly denied; and a certificate signed by the Revenue-officer, or by the Collector of any district in which the local area, estate or tenure or part thereof to which the record-of-rights relates is wholly or partly situate, stating that a record-of-rights has been finally published under this Chapter, shall be conclusive evidence of such publication.

(2) The Local Government may, by notification, declare, with regard to any specified area, that a record-of-rights has been finally published for every village included in such area; and such notification shall be conclusive evidence of such publication.

(3) Every entry in a record-of-rights so published shall be evidence of the matter referred to in such entry, and shall be presumed to be correct until it is proved by evidence to be incorrect:

Provided that, if any entry in a record-of-rights is altered in a subsequent record-of-rights or a subsequent edition of a Land Records, the later entry shall be presumed to be correct until it is proved by evidence to be incorrect, but the previous entry shall be admissible as evidence of the facts existing at the time such entry was made.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.— Clauses 110—112)

Part II.—Settlement of Rents, Preparation of Settlement Rent Roll, and Disposal of Objections, in cases where a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made Settlement of rents and preparation of Settlement Rent Roll when to be undertaken by Revenue-officer.

110 In every case in which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, the Revenue-officer shall, after publication of the draft of the record-of-rights under section 108, sub-section (1),— [1885, s. 104, Notfn.]

(a) settle fair and equitable rents for tenants of every class,

(b) notwithstanding anything contained in section 257, settle a fair and equitable rent for any land in respect of which he has recorded, in pursuance of clause (m) of section 105, that the occupant is not entitled to hold it without payment of rent, and

(c) prepare a Settlement Rent Roll

Provided that the Revenue-officer shall not settle the rents of tenants of every class in an estate or tenure belonging to the Government, if it does not appear to the Local Government to be expedient that he should do so.

Procedure for settlement of rents and preparation of Settlement Rent Roll under this Part.

111. (1) For the purposes of settling rents under this Part and preparing a Settlement Rent Roll, the Revenue-officer may proceed in any one or more of the following ways, or partly in one of those ways and partly in another, that is to say— [1885, s. 104; Notfn.]

(a) if in any case the landlord and tenant agree between themselves as to the amount of the rent fairly and equitably payable, the Revenue-officer shall satisfy himself that the rent so agreed upon is fair and equitable, and if he is so satisfied, but not otherwise, it may be settled and recorded as the fair and equitable rent;

(b) the Revenue officer may himself propose what he deems to be the fair and equitable rent, and if the amount so proposed is accepted, either orally or in writing, by the tenant, and if the landlord, after notice to attend, raises no objection, the rent so proposed may be settled and recorded as the fair and equitable rent;

(c) if the circumstances are, in the opinion of the Revenue-officer, such as to make it practicable to prepare a Table of Rates showing for any local area, estate, tenure or village or part thereof, or for each class of land in any local area, estate, tenure or village or part thereof, the rate or rates of rent fairly and equitably payable by tenure-holders and raiyats and under-raiyats of each class, he may frame a Table of Rates and settle and record all or any of the rents on the basis of such rates in the manner hereinafter described;

(d) the Revenue-officer may settle all or any of the rents by maintaining the existing rentals recorded in the record-of-rights as published under section 108, sub-section (1), or by enhancing or reducing such rentals:

Provided that, in making any such settlement, regard shall be had to the principles laid down in sections 7 to 10, 26 to 37, 39, 40, 45, 52 to 54, 243 and 256.

(2) The Settlement Rent Roll shall show the name of each landlord and of each tenant whose rent has been settled, and the amount of each such tenant's rent payable for the area shown against his name.

Contents of Table of Rates.

112. (1) If a Table of Rates is prepared, it shall specify— [1885, s. 104B Notfn.]

(a) the class or several classes of land for which, having regard to the nature of the soil, situation, means of irrigation, and other like considerations, it is in the opinion of the Revenue-officer necessary or practicable to fix a rate or different rates of rent, and

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI —Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 113—115.)

(b) the rate or rates of rent fairly and equitably payable by tenants holding land of each such class whose rent is liable to alteration.

Local publication of Table.

(2) When the Revenue-officer has prepared the Table of Rates, he shall publish it in the local area, estate, tenure or village to which it relates, in the vernacular language prevailing in the district, and in the prescribed manner

Revenue officer to deal with objections.

(3) Any person objecting to any entry in the Table of Rates may present a petition to the Revenue-officer within a period of one month after such publication, and the Revenue-officer shall consider any such objection and may alter or amend the Table.

Table to be submitted to superior Revenue authority.

(4) If no objection is made within the said period of one month, or, where objections are made, after they have been disposed of, the Revenue-officer shall submit his proceedings to the Revenue authority empowered by rule made by the Local Government to confirm the Tables and Rent Rolls prepared under this Part (hereinafter called the "confirming authority"), with a full statement of the grounds of his proposals, and shall forward any petitions of objection which he may have received.

Proceedings of confirming authority

(5) The confirming authority may confirm a Table submitted under sub-section (4), or may disallow the same, or may amend the same in any manner which appears to it proper, and may allow in whole or in part any objection forwarded therewith or subsequently made, or may return the case for further inquiry

Effect of Table.

(6) When a Table of Rates has been confirmed by the confirming authority, the order confirming it shall be conclusive evidence that the proceedings for the preparation of the Table have been duly conducted in accordance with this Act, and it may be presumed that the rates shown in the Table for tenants of each class, for each class of land, are the fair and equitable rates payable for land of that class within the area to which the Table applies Application of Table of Rates.

[1885, s. 104C; Notfn.]

113. When a Table of Rates has been confirmed under section 112, sub-section (5), the Revenue-officer may settle all or any of the rents, and prepare the Settlement Rent Roll, on the basis of the rates shown in the Table, by calculating the rental of each tenure or each holding of a raiyat or under-raiyat on the area of such tenure or holding at the said rates :

Provided that the Revenue-officer shall not be bound to apply the said rates in any particular case in which he may consider it unfair or inequitable to do so.

Rules and principles to be followed in framing Table of Rates, and settling rents in accordance therewith.

[1885, s. 104D; Notfn.]

114 In framing a Table of Rates under section 112, and in settling rents under section 113, the Revenue-officer shall be guided by such rules as the Local Government may make in this behalf, and shall, so far as may be, and subject to the proviso to the said section 113, have regard to the general principles of this Act regulating the enhancement or reduction of rents

Preliminary publication and amendment of Settlement Rent Roll.

[1885 s. 104E; Notfn.]

115. (1) When a Settlement Rent Roll for a local area, estate, tenure or village or part thereof has been prepared, the Revenue-officer shall cause a draft of it to be published in the prescribed manner and for the prescribed period, and shall receive and consider any objections made to any entry therein, or omission therefrom, during the period of publication, and shall dispose of such objections according to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe.

(2) The Revenue-officer may, of his own motion or on the application of any party aggrieved, at any time before a Settlement Rent Roll is submitted to the confirming authority under section 116, revise any rent entered therein :

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 116—118.)

Provided that no such entry shall be revised until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Final revision of Settlement Rent Roll, and incorporation of the same in the record-of-rights.

116. (1) When all objections have been disposed of under section 115, the Revenue-officer shall submit the Settlement Rent Roll to the confirming authority, with a full statement of the grounds of his proposals and a summary of the objections (if any) which he has received.

[1885, s. 104F; Notfn.]

(2) The confirming authority may sanction the Settlement Rent Roll, with or without amendment, or may return it for revision:

Provided that no entry shall be amended, or omission supplied, until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

(3) After sanction by the confirming authority, the Revenue-officer shall finally frame the Settlement Rent Roll, and shall incorporate it with the record-of-rights published in draft under section 108.

Appeal to, and revision by, superior Revenue authorities.

117. (1) An appeal, if presented within two months from the date of the order appealed against, shall lie from every order passed by a Revenue-officer, prior to the final publication of the record-of-rights, on any objection made under section 112, sub-section (3), or section 115, and such appeal shall lie to such superior Revenue authority as the Local Government may, by rule, prescribe.

[1885, s. 104G; Notfn.]

(2) The Board of Revenue may, in any case under this Part, on application or of its own motion, direct the revision of any record-of-rights, or any portion of a record-of-rights, at any time within two years from the date of the certificate of final publication, but not so as to affect any order passed by a Civil Court under section 118:

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in matters relating to rent.

118 (1) Any person aggrieved by an entry of a rent settled in a Settlement Rent Roll prepared under sections 111 to 116 and incorporated in a record-of-rights finally published under section 108, or by an omission to settle a rent for entry in such Settlement Rent Roll, may institute a suit in the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the land to which the entry relates or in respect of which the omission was made.

[1885, s. 104H; Notfn.]

(2) Such suit must be instituted within six months from the date of the certificate of final publication of the record-of-rights, or, if an appeal has been presented to a Revenue authority under section 117, then within six months from the date of the disposal of such appeal.

(3) Such suit may be instituted on any of the following grounds, and on no others, namely:—

(a) that the land is not liable to the payment of rent;
(b) that the land, although entered in the record-of-rights as being held rent-free, is liable to the payment of rent;
(c) that the relation of landlord and tenant does not exist;
(d) that land has been wrongly recorded as part of a particular estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy, or wrongly omitted from the lands of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy;
(e) that the tenant belongs to a class different from that to which he is shown in the record-of-rights as belonging;

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 119, 120.)

(f) that the Revenue-officer has not postponed the operation of the settled rent under the provisions of section 131, clause (a), or has wrongly fixed the date from which it is to take effect under that clause,

(g) that the special conditions and incidents of the tenancy, or any right of way or other easement attaching to the land which is the subject of the tenancy, have not, or has not been recorded, or have, or has, been wrongly recorded

The Secretary of State for India in Council shall not be made a defendant in any such suit, unless the Government is landlord or tenant of the land to which the aforesaid entry relates or in respect of which the aforesaid omission was made

(4) If it appears to the Court that the entry of rent settled is incorrect, it shall, in case (a) or case (c) mentioned in sub-section (3), declare that no rent is payable, and shall in any other case settle a fair rent, and, in any case referred to in clause (f) or clause (g) of the said sub-section (3), the Court may declare the date from which the rent settled is to take effect, or pass such order relating to the entry as it may think fit

(5) When the Court has declared under sub-section (4) that no rent is payable, the entry to the contrary effect in the record-of rights shall be deemed to be cancelled

(6) In settling a fair rent under sub section (4), the Court shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class comprised in the same Settlement Rent Roll, as settled under sections 111 to 116

(7) Any rent settled by the Court under sub-section (4) shall be deemed to have been duly settled in place of the rent entered in the Settlement Rent Roll

(8) Save as provided in this section no suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of the settlement of any rent or the omission to settle any rent under sections 111 to 116

(9) When a Civil Court has passed final orders or a decree under this section, it shall notify the same to the Collector of the district who shall make a note of such orders or decree in the record-of-rights finally published under section 108, sub-section 2 and such note shall be considered as part of the record

Presumptions as to rents settled under sections 111 to 117

119 Subject to the provisions of section 118, all rents settled under sections 111 to 116 and entered in a record-of-rights finally published under section 108, or settled under section 117, shall be deemed to have been correctly settled and to be fair and equitable rents within the meaning of this Act. [1885, s. 104J Notfn.]

Part III—Settlement of Rents and Decision of Disputes in cases where a settlement of land revenue is not being or is not about to be made.

Settlement of rents by Revenue-officer in cases where a settlement of land-revenue is not being or is not about to be made.

120. (1) When, in any case in which a settlement of land-revenue is not being made or is not about to be made, either the landlord or the tenant applies, within three months from the date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under section 108, sub-section (2), for a settlement of rent, the Revenue-officer shall settle a fair and equitable rent in respect of the land held by the tenant. [1885, s. 105 Notfn.]

Explanation.—A superior landlord may apply for a settlement of rent, notwithstanding that his estate or tenure or part thereof has been temporarily leased.

(2) When, in any case in which a settlement of land-revenue is not being made or is not about to be made, the Revenue-officer has recorded, in pursuance of clause (m) of section 105, that the occupant of any land claimed to be held rent-free is not entitled to hold it without payment of rent, and either the landlord or the occupant applies, within three months from the date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under section 108, sub-section (2), for a settlement of rent, the Revenue-officer shall settle a fair and equitable rent for the land.

(Chapter XI—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 121, 122.)

(3) Every application under sub-section (1) or sub section (2) shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Court-fees Act, 1870, bear such stamp as the Governor General in Council may prescribe by notification in the Gazette of India. VII of 1870.

(4) In settling rents under this section the Revenue-officer shall presume, until the contrary is proved, that the existing rent is fair and equitable, and shall have regard to the rules laid down in this Act for the guidance of the Revenue Courts in increasing or reducing rents, as the case may be.

(5) The Revenue-officer may in any case under this section propose to the parties such rents as he considers fair and equitable; and the rents so proposed, if accepted orally or in writing by the parties, may be recorded as the fair rents, and shall be deemed to have been duly settled under this Act

(6) Where the parties agree among themselves, by compromise or otherwise, as to the amount of the fair rent, the Revenue-officer shall satisfy himself that the amount agreed upon is fair and equitable, and if so satisfied, but not otherwise, he shall record the amount so agreed upon as the fair and equitable rent. If not so satisfied, he shall himself settle a fair and equitable rent as provided in sub sections (4) and (5)

(7) An applicant for a settlement of rent under this section may not dispute any entry in, or any omission from, the finally-published record, unless he files simultaneously a plaint under section 122 for the alteration of such record, in which case the Court shall proceed to dispose of the same before dealing with the application under this section. [Sub-clause (7) added in Select Committee.]

Decision of questions arising during the course of settlement of rents under this Part.

121. Where, in any proceedings for the settlement of rents under this Part, any of the following issues arise — [1885, s. 105A; Notfn.]

(a) whether the land is, or is not, liable to the payment of rent;

(b) whether the land, although entered in the record-of-rights as being held rent-free, is liable to the payment of rent;

(c) whether the relation of landlord and tenant exists;

(d) whether the land has been wrongly recorded as part of a particular estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy, or wrongly omitted from the lands of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy;

(e) whether the tenant belongs to a class different from that to which he is shown in the record-of-rights as belonging;

(f) whether the special conditions and incidents of the tenancy, or any right of way or other easement attaching to the land, have not, or has not, been recorded, or have, or has, been wrongly recorded , the Revenue-officer shall try and decide such issue and settle the rent under section 120 accordingly.

Provided that the Revenue-officer shall not try any issue under this section which has been, or is already, directly and substantially in issue between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, and has been tried and decided, or is already being tried, by a Revenue-officer in a suit instituted before him under section 122.

Institution of suit before a Revenue-officer.

122. In proceedings under this Part, a suit may be instituted before a Revenue-officer at any time within three months from the [1885, s. 106, Notfn.]

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents — Clauses 123—125.)

date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under sub-section (2) of section 108, by presenting a plaint on stamped paper for the decision of any dispute regarding any entry which a Revenue-officer has made in, or any omission which the said officer has made from, the record, whether such dispute be between landlord and tenant, or between landlords of the same or of neighbouring estates, or between tenant and tenant, or as to whether the relationship of landlord and tenant exists, or as to whether land held rent-free is properly so held, or as to any other question relating to the title in land or to any interest in land as between parties to the suit; and the Revenue-officer shall hear and decide the dispute

Provided that the Revenue-officer may, subject to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, transfer any particular case or class of cases to a competent Civil Court for trial

Provided also that in any suit under this section the Revenue-officer shall not try any issue which has been, or is already, directly and substantially in issue between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, in proceedings for the settlement of rents under this Part, where such issue has been tried and decided, or is already being tried, by a Revenue-officer under section 121

Procedure to be adopted by Revenue-officer. 123 (1) In all proceedings under section 120, section 121 and section 122, the Revenue-officer shall, subject to rules made by the Local Government under this Act, adopt the procedure laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the trial of suits; and his decision in every such proceeding shall have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court in a suit between the parties, and, subject to the provisions of sections 121 and 127, shall be final [1885, s 107, Notfn.] [V of 1908.]

(1a) Notwithstanding the period of limitation provided for in sections 120 and 122 the Revenue Officer may at his discretion, permit an application under section 120, or a suit under section 122, to be amended by the addition of parties, or otherwise, at any time during the pendency of the same. [Sub-clause (1a) added in Select Committee]

(2) A note of all rents settled under section 120 and of all decisions of issues or disputes under section 121 or section 122, and of all rents commuted under section 41 by a Revenue-officer appointed by the designation of Settlement-officer or Assistant Settlement-officer, shall be made in the record-of-rights finally published under sub-section (2) of section 108, and such note shall be considered as part of the record

Revision by Revenue-officer. 124 Any Revenue-officer specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf may, on application or of his own motion, within twelve months from the making of any order or decision under section 120, section 121, section 122 or section 123, revise the same, whether it was made by himself or by any other Revenue-officer, but not so as to affect any order passed or decree made under section 127: [1885, s 107; Notfn.]

Provided that no such order or decision shall be so revised if an appeal from it is pending under section 127, or until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Correction by Revenue-officer of mistakes in record-of-rights. 125. Any Revenue-officer specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf may, on application or of his own motion, within twelve months from the date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under sub-section (2) of section 108, correct any entry in such record-of-rights which he is satisfied has been made owing to a bonâ fide mistake: [1885, s. 108A Notfn.]

Provided that no such correction shall be made if an appeal affecting such entry is pending under section 127, or until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Orissa Tenancy.

Bar to jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

126 Subject to the provisions of section 127, a Civil Court shall not entertain any application or suit concerning any matter which is or has already been the subject of an application made, suit instituted or proceeding taken under sections 120 to 124

[1885, s. 109; Notfn.]

Appeals from decisions of Revenue-officers.

127. (1) The Local Government shall appoint one or more persons to be a Special Judge or Special Judges for the purpose of hearing appeals from the decisions of Revenue-officers under sections 120 to 125

[1885, s. 109A Notfn.]

(2) An appeal shall lie to the Special Judge from the decisions of a Revenue-officer under sections 120 to 125; and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, relating to appeals shall, as nearly as may be, apply to all such appeals

V of 1908.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sections 103, 104 and 107 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from the decision of a Special Judge in any case under this section (not being a decision settling a rent), as if he were a Court subordinate to the High Court within the meaning of the said section 103

V of 1908.

Provided that, if in a second appeal the High Court alters the decision of the Special Judge in respect of any of the particulars with reference to which the rent of any tenure or holding has been settled, the Court may settle a new rent for the tenure or holding, but in so doing shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class comprised in the same record as ascertained under section 105 or settled under section 120 or section 124 of this Act

Part IV.—Supplemental Provisions.

Power of Revenue-officer to give effect to agreement or compromise

128 (1) In framing a record-of-rights, and in deciding disputes, under this Chapter, the Revenue-officer shall give effect to any lawful agreement or compromise made or entered into by any landlord and his tenant,

[1885, s. 109B Notfn]

but he shall not give effect to any agreement or compromise the terms of which, if they were embodied in a contract, could not be enforced under this Act

(2) Where any agreement or compromise has been made for the purpose of settling a dispute as to the rent payable, the Revenue-officer shall, in order to ascertain whether the effect of such agreement or compromise would be to enhance the rent in a manner, or to an extent, not allowed by section 28 in the case of a contract, record evidence as to the rent which was legally payable immediately before the period in respect of which the dispute arose.

(3) Where the terms of any agreement or compromise are such as might unfairly or inequitably affect the rights of third parties, the Revenue-officer shall not give effect to such agreement or compromise unless and until he is satisfied by evidence that the statements made by the parties thereto are correct

Illustration.—A, a proprietor, agrees that B, his tenant, shall be recorded as an occupancy raiyat, this affects the rights of the tenants of B The Revenue-officer must, under sub-section (3), inquire whether B is a tenure-holder or a raiyat, as defined in Chapter II If he finds on the evidence that B is a raiyat, he may give effect to the agreement, but shall not do so if he finds that B is a tenure holder

Power of Revenue-officer to settle rents on agreement.

129 (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 128, if, in any case, while the record is being prepared, the landlord and tenant agree as to the rent which shall be recorded as payable for the tenure or holding, a Revenue-officer specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government may, if he is satisfied that the rent agreed upon is fair and equitable, but not otherwise, settle such rent as a fair and equitable rent, although the terms of the agreement are such that, if they were embodied in a contract, they could not be enforced under this Act; and the provisions of section 136 shall apply to a rent so settled.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 130—133.)

(2) A landlord or tenant may appeal to the Special Judge, appointed under section 127 on the ground that the rent settled by the Revenue-officer, under sub-section (1), as a fair and equitable rent, was not agreed to by such landlord or tenant, and on no other ground.

(3) The Board of Revenue may, on application made, or of its own motion in proceedings undertaken, within one year from the date of the order, under sub-section (1), settling a rent as a fair and equitable rent, direct the revision of the rent so settled:

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Note of decisions in record.

130 A note of all rents settled and of all decisions of disputes, on revision or appeal under section 124, section 127, or sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) of section 129, shall be made in the record-of-rights finally published under sub-section (2) of section 108, and such note shall be considered as part of the record. [1885, s. 109D Notfn.]

Date from which settled rent takes effect.

131. When a rent is settled by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter, it shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the date of the decision fixing the rent or (if a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made) the date of final publication of the Settlement Rent Roll [1885, s. 110; Notfn.]

(a) if the land is comprised in an area, estate or tenure in respect of which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, the rent settled shall, subject to the provisions of sections 256 and 257, take effect from the expiration of the period of the current settlement, or from such other date after the expiration of that period as may be fixed by the Revenue-officer,

(b) if the land is not comprised in an area, estate or tenure as aforesaid, and if the existing rent has been fixed by a contract binding between the parties for an unexpired term of years, the rent settled shall take effect from the expiration of that term, or from such other date after the expiration of that term as may be fixed by the Revenue-officer.

Stay of proceedings during preparation of record-of-rights.

132. When an order has been made under section 104, directing the preparation of a record-of-rights, no Court shall— [1885, s. 111 Notfn.]

(a) where a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made—until after the final publication of the record-of-rights, and

(b) where a settlement of land-revenue is not being made or is not about to be made—until three months after the final publication of the record-of-rights, entertain any application made under section 219, or any suit or application for the alteration of the rent or the determination of the status of any tenant, in the area to which the record-of-rights applies Limitation of jurisdiction of Civil Courts in matters, other than rent, relating to record-of-rights.

133 No suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of any order directing the preparation of a record-of-rights under this Chapter, or in respect of the framing, publication, signing or attestation of such a record or of any part of it, or, save as provided in section 118, for the alteration of any entry in such a record of a rent settled under sections 111 to 116: [1885, s. 111A; Notfn.]

I of 1877.

Stay of suits in which certain issues arise.

134. (1) Where a record-of-rights has been finally published in respect of the land in any area in which a settlement of land-revenue is not being made, or is not about to be made, no application or suit affecting such land or any tenant thereof shall, within three months from the date of the certificate of final publication of such record-of-rights, be made or instituted in any Civil Court for the decision of any of the following issues, namely:— [1885, s. 111B Notfn.]

(a) whether the land is or is not liable to the payment of rent;

(b) whether the relation of landlord and tenant exists;

(c) whether the land is part of a particular estate or tenancy; or

(d) whether there is any special condition or incident of the tenancy, or whether any right of way or other easement attaches to the land.

(2) If, before the final publication of the record-of-rights in such area, a suit involving the decision of any of the issues mentioned in sub-section (1) has been instituted in a Civil Court, the Revenue-officer shall not entertain any suit under section 122 involving the decision of the same issue.

(3) Where, in the course of settling fair rents under section 120, the Revenue-officer finds that, by reason of a suit involving the decision of any of the issues mentioned in sub-section (1) having been instituted in a Civil Court before the final publication of the record-of-rights, or before a Revenue-officer under section 122, he is unable to settle a fair rent until such issue is decided, the Revenue-officer shall stay the proceedings for the settlement of a fair rent, pending a final decision on the issue.

And, after the issue has been finally decided, he shall settle a fair rent, as if the record-of-rights had been framed in accordance with such decision.

(4) Where the making of an application or institution of a suit has been delayed owing to the operation of sub-section (1), the period of three months therein mentioned shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed for such suit or application.

Power to authorise special settlement in special cases.

135. (1) The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, on being satisfied that the exercise of the powers hereinafter mentioned is necessary in the interests of public order or of the local welfare, or that any landlord is demanding rents which have been illegally enhanced above those entered as payable in a record-of-rights finally published under this Chapter, invest a Revenue-officer with the following powers or either of them, namely:— [1885, s. 112; Notfn.]

(a) power to settle all rents;

(b) power, when settling rents, to reduce rents if, in the opinion of the officer, the maintenance of existing rents would, on any ground, whether specified in this Act or not, be unfair or inequitable.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents — Clauses 136, 137.)

(2) The powers given under this section may be made exercise-able within a specified area either generally or with reference to specified cases or classes of cases

(3) A settlement of rents under this section shall be made in the manner provided by sections 110 to 119

(4) When the Local Government takes any action under this section, the settlement-record prepared by the Revenue-officer shall not take effect until it has been finally confirmed by the Governor General in Council, and the revision, by direction of the Board of Revenue under sub-section (2) of section 117, of. a record-of-rights, or any portion of a record of rights, prepared under this section, shall be subject to like confirmation by the Governor General in Council

Period for which rents as settled are to remain unaltered.

136 (1) When the rent of a tenure or holding is settled under this Chapter, it shall not, except on the ground of a land-lord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration in the area of the tenure or holding, be enhanced, in the case of a tenure or an occupancy-holding or the holding of an under-raiyat having occupancy rights, for fifteen years, and, in the case of a non-occupancy-holding or the holding of an under-raiyat not having occupancy rights, for five years; and no such rent shall be reduced within the periods aforesaid, save on the ground of alteration in the area of the holding or on the ground specified in section 39, clause (a) [1885, s. 113 Notfn.]

(2) The said periods of fifteen years and five years shall be counted from the date on which the rent settled takes effect under this Chapter

Expenses of proceedings under Chapter.

137 (1) When the preparation of a record-of-rights has been directed or undertaken under this Chapter, in any case except where a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this Chapter in any local area, estate tenure or part thereof (including expenses that may be incurred at any time, whether before or after the preparation of the record of-rights, in the maintenance, repair or restoration of boundary marks and other survey marks erected for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Chapter), or such part of those expenses as the Local Government may direct, shall be defrayed by the landlords, tenants and occupants of land in that local area, estate, tenure or part, in such proportions, and in such instalments (if any), as the Local Government, having regard to all the circumstances, may determine. [1885, s. 114 Notfn.]

(2) The estimated amount of the expenses likely to be incurred for the maintenance, repair or restoration of boundary marks for a period not exceeding fifteen years, or such part of such amount as the Local Government may direct, may be recovered in advance in the same manner as if such expenses had been already incurred

(3) The portion of the aforesaid expenses which any person is liable to pay shall be recoverable by the Government as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due in respect of the said local area, estate, tenure or part.

(4) The cost of preparing copies of survey maps and records-of-rights under this Chapter for distribution to landlords and tenants shall be deemed to be part of the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this Chapter.

Explanation—The word "tenure" in this section includes all revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings within a local area, estate or tenure.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Chapter XII.—Land Records.—Clauses 138—144.)

Presumption as to fixity of rent not to apply where record-of-rights has been prepared.

138. When the particulars mentioned in section 105, clause (b), have been recorded under this Chapter in respect of any tenancy, the presumption under section 52 shall not thereafter apply to that tenancy.

[1885, s. 115, Notfn.]

Demarcation of village boundaries.

139. In the demarcation of village boundaries for the purpose of making a survey and preparing a record-of-rights under this Chapter, a Revenue-officer shall, so far as is possible, and subject to the provisions of the Bengal Survey Act, 1875, preserve, as the unit of survey and record, the area contained within the exterior boundaries of the village maps of the revenue survey (if any);

and, where village maps prepared at a previous revenue survey exist, he shall not, without the sanction of the Board of Revenue, adopt any other area as such unit.

Ben. Act V of 1875.

Validation of publication of certain past records.

140. All records published, whether in draft or final form, before the fifth day of November, 1898, under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as originally passed, shall be deemed to have been duly published.

[Ben. Act III of 1898, s. 8, Notfn. No. 957, dated the 5th November, 1898.]
VIII of 1885.

Effect of settlements of rent and decisions by Revenue-officers made before the 5th November, 1898.

141. Every settlement of rent or decision of a dispute by a Revenue-officer before the fifth day of November, 1898, under section 104 or section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as originally passed, in respect of which no appeal was, before that date, preferred to the Special Judge appointed under section 108 of that Act, as originally passed, shall have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court in a suit between the parties, and shall be final.

CHAPTER XII.

LAND RECORDS.

Application of Chapter.

142. This Chapter shall apply only to areas, in respect of which a record-of-rights has been finally published under Chapter XI or under some other law for the time being in force, and to which the Local Government may extend it by notification in the local official Gazette.

Framing of Land Records.

143. (1) The Local Government may prescribe—

(a) the framing of a revised edition of the record-of-rights for any area, either yearly or at any other intervals of time,

(b) the agency by which such edition shall be framed,

(c) the procedure to be followed in framing such edition, and

(d) the documents of which such edition shall consist.

(2) A revised edition of the record-of-rights for any area shall be called the Land Records for that area.

[1881, s. 125, 1897, s. 35.]

Power to require filing of papers and attendance and production of documents.

144. (1) Any officer appointed to frame Land Records may, in the prescribed manner,—

(a) order all or any persons, being in possession of estates, sub-proprietary interests, tenures or holdings, to prepare or cause to be prepared, and to file before the prescribed officer, such papers as may, in his opinion, be necessary for any of the purposes of this Chapter, or

(b) order all or any persons whose presence may, in his opinion, be necessary for any of the purposes of this Chapter, to attend, either in person or by authorized agent, at any specified time or place, and to produce any document in their possession.

[1881, ss. 18A, 128.]

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter XII.—Land Records —Clauses 145—148.)

(2) The power to require attendance of parties in person shall, so far as may be, be subject to the provisions of rule 19 in Order XVI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

V of 1908

(3) All persons on whom any order is served under sub-section (1) shall be legally bound to obey such order, and shall, for disobedience thereof, be subject to the penalties provided by Chapter X of the Indian Penal Code

XLV of 1860

Ownership, inspection and copying of Land Records

145 (1) The Land Records framed under this Chapter

[1881, ss 131, 140, 147.]

(a) shall be deemed to be public documents within the meaning of section 74 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, and to be the property of the Government, and

I of 1872

(b) shall be produced for the inspection of any persons interested

(2) The said persons may make or obtain copies of such Records, or any part thereof, on such conditions, as to fees or otherwise, as may be prescribed

Reference to section 109 (3) or section 151 (2) in framing Land Records

146. Any officer framing Land Records for any area shall have regard,—

(a) if no previous edition of the Land Records has been published and finally framed under this Chapter for that area—to the provisions of section 109, sub-section (3), or

(b) if a previous edition of the Land Records has been published and finally framed under this Chapter for that area—to the provisions of section 151 sub-section (2)

Agreements and compromises.

147 An officer appointed to frame Land Records shall not give effect to any agreement or compromise otherwise than is permitted, in the case of a record-of rights, by section 128 and section 129, sub-section (1), and, in the latter case, the officer must be specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government

[Cf 1885, s 98 (1)]

Alteration of rent when area of tenancy is altered

148. (1) Notwithstanding any entry in any record-of rights or in any Land Records, when the area of a tenancy, the rent of which is payable in money, is increased or diminished, any officer appointed to frame Land Records may, by order, on the application of the landlord or of the tenant, determine the amount to be added to, or deducted from, the rent payable by the tenant, with reference to that increase or diminution; and section 54 shall apply as if such officer were a Court.

Provided that, if a tenant applies for an addition to his rent on the ground of an increase in the area of the tenancy due to the reclamation of waste land by the tenant, the application—

(i) in the case of a permanently-settled estate—shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 54 A;

(ii) in the case of other estates—shall be rejected if opposed by the landlord, unless the reclamation was made with the said landlord's consent, or was commenced more than two years before the date of the application, and the landlord has not, during that period, instituted a suit to eject the tenant from the land so reclaimed, or unless such suit has been dismissed

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XII—Land Records.—Clauses 149—151)

(2) Any addition or reduction of rent determined under sub-section (1) shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the date of the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) of section 151, or from any date agreed to between the parties which may be approved by the Court.

Settlement of disputes and correction of Land Records.

149. Any officer appointed to frame Land Records may,— [Cf 1885, s. 108A, 1887, ss 36 (1), 37.]

(a) in any case where a dispute arises as to any matter of which an entry is to be made in such Records—of his own motion or on the application of any party interested, and after such inquiry as he thinks fit to make, determine the entry to be made as to such matter; or

(b) make in the Land Records any correction which—

(i) he has satisfied himself to be required in order to correct a mistake made bonâ fide, or to bring the Records into conformity with facts proved or admitted, or

(ii) is required in order to bring the Records into conformity with any decree or order which is binding on all the parties interested in the Records, or

(iii) is agreed to by all the said parties, or

(c) revise maps or make new maps where, in his opinion, it is necessary to do so.

(Clause 150 replaced by clauses 150A and 150B*)*

Publication of Records.

150A The officer appointed to frame Land Records shall publish the draft record, and, after considering any objections that may be raised to any entry therein, or to any omission therefrom, shall finally frame the Land Records

Application for correction of Land Records.

150B. (1) After the Land Records have been finally framed, an application for the correction of an entry therein, or an omission therefrom, may be filed before the prescribed officer within the prescribed time, and such application shall be disposed of in the prescribed manner

(2) Every application under sub-section (1) shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Court-fees Act, 1870, bear such stamp as the Governor General in Council may prescribe by notification in the Gazette of India. VII of 1870.

(3) The order passed on an application under this section shall be noted in the finally-framed Land Records, and such note shall be deemed to be part of the finally-framed Land Records.

Evidence of publication of Land Records, and presumption of correctness of entries.

151. (1) A certificate, signed by the prescribed officer, stating that Land Records have been published and finally framed under this Chapter, shall be conclusive evidence of such publication and framing. [Cf 1885, s. 103B.]

(2) Every entry in Land Records so published and finally framed shall be evidence of the matter referred to in such entry, and shall be presumed to be correct until it is proved by evidence to be incorrect: [Sub-clauses (a), (b) and (c) struck out in Select Committee, and a new proviso added]

Provided that, if any entry in such Land Records is altered in a subsequent edition of the same or in a subsequent record-of-rights, the later entry shall be presumed to be correct until it is proved by evidence to be incorrect, but the previous entry shall be admissible as evidence of the facts existing at the time such entry was made.

Orissa Tenancy.

Chapter XII.—Land Records —Chapter XIII—Record of Proprietors' Private Lands—Clauses 152—159)

Re alteration of rent, after five years, when productive powers of land increased or diminished.

152 (1) At any time after an addition or reduction of rent determined under section 148 has been in force for five years, the landlord or the tenant may apply to a Revenue-officer to alter the rent on the ground of an increase or diminution in the productive powers of the land, and the Revenue-officer may alter the rent accordingly, and section 54, so far as it is applicable, shall apply as if such officer were a Court

Appeal

153. An appeal from any decision or order of any officer acting under this Chapter, relating to a rent settled under this Chapter, shall lie to such officer as the Local Government may appoint to hear such appeals, and to no other Court or authority [1881 ss 22, 23]

Provided that no such appeal shall be heard if it is filed—

(a) before, or more than thirty days after, the date of the certificate referred to in section 151, sub-section (1), relating to the Land Records in which such rent is entered, or

(b) in the case of an appeal from an order made under section 152—more than thirty days after the date of such order.

Revision

154. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 153, the Collector or the Commissioner may at any time, for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the legality, or propriety of any order passed by, or as to the regularity of the proceedings of, any officer acting under this Chapter, call for and examine the record of any case pending before or disposed of by such officer, and may pass such order in reference thereto as he thinks fit [1881, s 24.]

Provided that the Collector or the Commissioner shall not modify or reverse any order affecting any question of right between private persons, without having given to the parties interested reasonable notice to appear and be heard in support of such order

Alteration of Land Records after appeal or revision.

155 When any officer acting under section 152, section 153 or section 154 passes an order for the alteration of any entry in the Land Records, the alteration shall be made by the officer who framed the Records, or by a Revenue-officer, and the entry, as altered, shall be considered as part of the Records. [Cf. 1885, s. 107 (2)]

Altered rent when to take effect.

156. When any rent is altered under section 152, section 153 or section 154, the altered rent shall take effect—

(a) from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the date of the publication and final framing of the Land Records in which the original rent is entered, or

(b) if the alteration is made under section 152, or on appeal from an order made under that section—from the beginning of the next agricultural year.

(Clauses 157, 158 struck out in Select Committee.)

CHAPTER XIII.

RECORD OF PROPRIETORS' PRIVATE LANDS.

Power for Government to order survey and record of proprietors' private lands.

159. The Local Government may make an order directing a Revenue-officer to make a survey and record of all the lands in a specified local area which are a proprietor's private lands. [1885, s. 117, Notfn.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XIII.—Record of Proprietors' Private Lands.—Clauses 160—163A.)

Power for Revenue-officer to record private land on application of proprietor or tenant

160 In the case of any land alleged to be a proprietor's private land, on the application of the proprietor or of any tenant of the land, and on his depositing the required amount for expenses, a Revenue-officer may, subject to, and in accordance with, rules made in this behalf by the Local Government, ascertain and record whether the land is or is not a proprietor's private land.

[1885, s. 116; Notfn.]

Procedure for recording private land.

161. When a Revenue-officer proceeds under either section 159 or section 160, the provisions of sections 108, 109, 122, 123, 124, 126 and 127 shall apply

[1885, s 119, Notfn.]

General rules for determination of proprietors' private lands.

162. (1) Except in estates of the class referred to in section 163A, the Revenue-officer shall record as a proprietor's private land—

[1885, s 120, Notfn]

(a) land which is proved to have been cultivated as nij-jote, khamar or khudkast by the proprietor himself with his own stock or by his own servants or by hired labour for twelve continuous years immediately before the commencement of this Act, and

(b) cultivated land which is recognized by village usage as proprietor's nij-jote, khamar or khudkast.

(2) In determining whether any other land in any such estate ought to be recorded as a proprietor's private land, the officer shall have regard to local custom or usage, and to the question whether the land was before the, twenty-first day of August, 1906, specifically let as proprietor's private land, and to any other evidence that may be produced, but shall presume that land is not a proprietor's private land until the contrary is shown

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in any agreement or compromise, or in any decree which is proved to his satisfaction to have been obtained by collusion or fraud, a Revenue-officer shall not record any land in any such estate as a proprietor's private land unless it is proved to be such by satisfactory evidence of the nature described in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2).

(4) If any question arises in any Court as to whether land in any such estate is or is not a proprietor's private land, the Court shall have regard to the rules laid down in this section for the guidance of Revenue-officers.

(Clause 163 replaced by clause 163 A)

Special rules for determination of proprietors' private lands in temporarily settled estates

163A. (1) In temporarily-settled estates for which a record-of-rights has been prepared and finally published under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, between the years 1891 and 1900 inclusive, and again between the years 1906 and 1912 inclusive, a proprietor's private land shall include—

VIII of 1885.

(a) land which has been recorded as nij-jote in the record-of-rights prepared between the years 1906 and 1912, and

(b) land recorded as the nij-chas of a proprietor or sub-proprietor [other than a sub-proprietor referred to in sub-clause (i) of clause (22) of section 3] in the record-of-rights prepared between the years 1891 and 1900, which has again been recorded as his nij-chas in the record-of-rights prepared between the years 1906 and 1912.

(2) No land in a temporarily-settled estate which is not covered by sub-section (1) shall be held to be a proprietor's private land.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint.—Clauses 164, 165)

CHAPTER XIV

DISTRAINT.

Cases in which distraint may be made.

164. Where an arrear of rent is due to the landlord of a raiyat or under-raiyat, and has not been due for more than a year, and no security has been accepted therefor by the landlord, the landlord may, in addition to any other remedy to which he is entitled by law, recover the arrear under the provisions of this Chapter, by distraining, while in the possession of the cultivator,— [1859, ss. 112 to 115, 1885, s. 121.]

(1) any crops or other products of the earth standing or ungathered on the holding, and

(2) any crops or other products of the earth which have been grown on the holding and have been reaped or gathered and are deposited on the holding or on a threshing-floor or place for treading out grain, or the like, whether in the fields or within a homestead

Provided that no distraint shall be made—

(i) by a proprietor or manager, as defined in the Land Registration Act, 1876, or a mortgagee of such a proprietor or manager, unless his name and the extent of his interest in the land in respect of which the arrear is due have been registered under that Act, or [Ben. Act. VII of 1876]

(ii) by a sub-proprietor, bajinaftidar, or tenure-holder unless his name and the extent of his interest in the land in respect of which the arrear is due have been—

(a) registered under sections 13A, 13B or 13C, or

(b) recorded in a record-of-rights finally published under Chapter XI or under some other law for the time being in force, or

(c) recorded in Land Records published and finally framed under Chapter XII; or

(iii) by an agent employed in the collection of rent, unless he is expressly authorized by power of attorney in that behalf, or [1859, s. 120]

(iv) for the recovery of any sum in excess of the rent payable for the holding in the preceding agricultural year, unless that sum is payable under a written contract or in consequence of a proceeding under this Act or an enactment hereby repealed; or

[Sub-clause (v) replaced by sub-clauses (va) and (vb).]

(va) where the holding or any part of the holding of a raiyat has been sub-let with the written consent of the landlord—in respect of the produce of such holding or part, or

(vb) where the holding or any part of the holding of a bajinaftidar raiyat has been sub-let—in respect of the produce of such holding or part.

Service of demand and notice.

165. (1) The distrainer shall, at the time of making the distraint, serve on the defaulter a written demand for the arrear due and the costs incurred in making the distraint, with a notice stating the grounds on which the distraint is made and containing also the following particulars, namely:— [1859, s. 116, 1885, ss. 122, 125.]

(a) the holding in respect of which the arrear is claimed, and the boundaries thereof, or such other particulars as may suffice for its identification;

(b) the name of the tenant;

(c) the period in respect of which the arrear is claimed;

(d) the amount of the arrear, with the interest, if any, claimed thereon, and, when an amount in excess of the rent payable by the tenant in the last preceding agricultural year is claimed, the contract or proceedings, as the case may be, under which that amount is payable;

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint.—Clauses 166—169.)

(e) the nature and approximate value of the produce to be distrained;

(f) the place where it is to be found, or such other particulars as may suffice for its identification; and

(g) if it is standing or ungathered, the time at which it is likely to be cut or gathered.

(2) The said notice shall be signed and verified in the manner provided in rules 14 and 15 in Order VI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

(3) Where the distrainer has reason to believe that a person other than the defaulter is the owner of the property distrained, he shall serve copies of the demand and notice on that person likewise.

(4) The demand and notice shall, if practicable, be served personally; but if a person on whom they are to be served absconds or conceals himself, or cannot otherwise be found, the distrainer shall affix copies of the demand and notice on a conspicuous part of the outside of the house in which he usually resides.

Right to distraint after delivering a list of property to owner.

166. (1) Unless the demand, with all costs of the distraint, be immediately paid or tendered, the distrainer may distrain property referred to in section 164 to such value as may be expected to meet such demand and costs. [1859, s. 117; 1885, s. 121 (1).]

(2) Before seizing any property, the distrainer shall prepare a list or description thereof, and shall deliver a copy of the list to the owner of the property, or, if he is absent, shall affix it at his usual place of residence.

Right to reap, etc., produce.

167. (1) A distraint under this Chapter shall not prevent any person from reaping, gathering or storing any produce or doing any other act necessary for its due preservation. [1859, s. 118; 1885, s. 126.]

(2) If the person entitled to do so fails to do so at the proper time, the distrainer shall cause any standing crops or ungathered products distrained to be reaped or gathered when ripe, and stored in such granaries or other places as are commonly used for the purpose, or in some other convenient place in the neighbourhood, or shall do whatever else may be necessary for the due preservation of the same.

(3) In either case the distrained property shall remain in the charge of the distrainer or of some other person appointed by him in this behalf.

Assistance of public officer in making distraint.

168. If a distrainer is opposed, or apprehends resistance, and desires to obtain the assistance of a public officer, he may apply to the Collector; and the Collector may, if he thinks it necessary to do so, depute an officer to support the distrainer in making the distraint. [1899, s. 118.]

Application to public officer for sale.

169. (1) Within five days from the time of the storing of any distrained crops or products, or, if the crops or products do not, from their nature, admit of being stored, then within five days from the time of making the distraint, the distrainer shall apply for sale of the same to such officer, not below the rank of Kanungo or Inspector of Mutations, as the local Government may prescribe. [1899, s. 123.]

(2) The said application shall be in writing, shall contain an inventory or description of the property distrained, and shall state— [1859, s. 123.]

(a) the name of the defaulter, and his place of residence;

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint.—Clauses 170—172)

(b) the amount due ;

(c) the date of the distraint, and

(d) the place in which the distrained property is deposited ;

and shall be accompanied by the sum required for the service of a notice upon the defaulter under section 170, clause (b).

Procedure on receipt of such application.

170 (1) When any officer referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), receives an application under that section, he shall forthwith—

[1859, s. 124 1885, s. 127(1).]

(a) send a copy of the application to the Collector;

(b) serve a notice, in the prescribed form, on the person whose property has been distrained, requiring him either to pay the amount demanded or to institute a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer before the Collector within the period of fifteen days from the receipt of the notice,

(c) send to the Collector, for the purpose of being put up in his office, a proclamation fixing a day for the sale of the distrained property, which shall not be less than twenty days from the date of the application, and

(d) deliver a copy of the said proclamation to the peon charged with the service of the said notice, to be put up by him in the place where the distrained property is deposited.

(2) The said proclamation shall contain a description of the distrained property, and shall state the demand for which the property is to be sold and the place where the sale is to be held

Suspension of sale when suit instituted

171 (1) If a suit is instituted before the Collector in pursuance of the notice referred to in clause (b) of section 170, the Collector shall send to the officer referred to in section 169, or, if so requested, shall deliver to the owner of the distrained property, a certificate of the institution of the suit

[1859, ss 125, 126.]

(2) A person whose property has been distrained under this Chapter may, immediately after the distraint and before an application is made under section 169, institute a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed as provided in sub-section (1).

(3) When a certificate under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) is received by or presented to an officer referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), he shall suspend further proceedings in regard to the sale of the distrained property, pending the decision of the suit

Withdrawal of distraint when security given for payment of any sum that may be decreed

172 (1) When any person whose property has been distrained has instituted a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer, he may, at any time, execute a bond with security binding himself to pay whatever sum may be adjudged in the suit to be due from him, with interest and costs.

[1859, s. 127]

(2) When such a bond is executed, the Collector shall give to the said person a certificate to that effect, or, if so requested, shall serve the distrainer with notice that such a certificate has been given ; and upon such certificate being presented to the distrainer by the said person, or served on the distrainer by the Collector, the property shall be released from distraint.

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint.—Clauses 173—180.)

Sale when to be made.

173. On the expiration of the period fixed in the proclamation of sale, the officer referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), shall— [1889 s 128.]

(a) if a certificate under section 171 of the institution of a suit to contest the demand of the distrainer has not been received by or presented to him,

(b) if a certificate has not been given under section 172, and

(c) if the said demand, with such costs of the distraint as are allowed by him, be not paid in full, proceed to sell the property, or such part thereof as it may be necessary to sell in order to realise the said demand and costs

Place of sale.

174. The sale shall be held at the place where the distrained property is, or at the nearest place of public resort if the officer holding the sale is of opinion that it is likely to sell there to better advantage. [1859, s 129, 1885, s. 128.]

When produce may be sold standing

175. (1) Crops or products which from their nature admit of being stored shall not be sold before they are reaped or gathered and are ready for storing. [1859, s. 118; 1885, s. 129]

(2) Crops or products which from their nature do not admit of being stored may be sold before they are reaped or gathered, and the purchaser shall be entitled to enter on the land, by himself or by any person appointed by him in this behalf, and do all that is necessary for the purpose of tending and reaping or gathering them.

(3) In every case referred to in sub-section (2), the distraint shall be made at least twenty days before the time when the crops or products or any part thereof would be fit for reaping or gathering

Manner of sale

176. The property shall be sold by public auction, in one or more lots as the officer holding the sale may think advisable, and if the demand, with the costs of distraint and sale, is satisfied by the sale of a portion of the property, the distraint shall be immediately withdrawn with respect to the remainder [1859, s. 129; 1885, s 130]

Postponement of sale.

177. If, on the property being put up for sale a fair price (in the estimation of the officer holding the sale) is not offered for it, and if the owner of the property, or a person authorized to act on his behalf, applies to have the sale postponed till the next day, or (if a market is held at the place of sale) the next market-day, the sale shall be postponed until that day, and shall be then completed, whatever price may be offered for the property [1859, s. 130, 1885, s. 131.]

Payment of purchase-money.

178 The price of every lot shall be paid at the time of sale or as soon thereafter as the officer holding the sale directs, and in default of such payment the property shall be put up again and sold. [1859, s. 131, 1885, s. 132]

Certificate to be given to purchaser

179 When the purchase-money has been paid in full, the officer holding the sale shall give the purchaser a certificate describing the property purchased by him and stating the price paid. [1859, s. 131; 1885, s. 133.]

Application of proceeds of sale.

180. (1) From the proceeds of every sale of distrained property the officer holding the sale shall make a deduction at the rate of one anna in the rupee as a charge for the expenses of the sale, and shall send the amount to the Collector for credit to the Government. [1859, s 132, 1885, s. 134.]

(2) He shall then pay to the distrainer the expenses incurred by the distrainer on account of the distraint and of the issue of the notice and proclamation of sale required by section 170, to such amount as, after examination of the statement of expenses furnished by the distrainer, he may think proper to allow

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XIV —Distraint —Clauses 181—186)

(3) The remainder shall be applied to the discharge of the arrear for which the distraint was made, with interest thereon up to the day of sale ; and the surplus (if any) shall be paid to the person whose property has been sold

Certain persons may not purchase.

181. Officers holding sales of property under this Act, and all persons employed by, or subordinate to, such officers, are prohibited from purchasing, either directly or indirectly, any property sold by such officers [1859, s. 133, 1885, s. 135]

Procedure where demand is paid before the sale.

182 (1) If at any time after a distraint has been made under this Chapter, and before the sale of the distrained property, the defaulter, or the owner of the distrained property, where he is not the defaulter, tenders payment of the amount specified in the demand served under section 165, with all costs which may have been incurred after the service of the demand, the distrainer shall receive such payment and shall grant a receipt for the same, and the distraint shall forthwith be withdrawn. [1859, s. 121 ; 1885, s. 136 (1), (3)]

(2) A receipt granted under this section to an owner of distrained property not being the defaulter shall afford a full protection to him against any subsequent claim for the arrears of rent on account of which the distraint was made.

Amount paid by under tenant for his lessor may be deducted from rent

183. (1) When an inferior tenant, on his property being lawfully distrained under this Chapter for the default of a superior tenant, makes any payment under section 182, he shall be entitled to deduct the amount of that payment from any rent payable by him to his immediate landlord, and that landlord, if he is not the defaulter, shall in like manner be entitled to deduct the amount so deducted from any rent payable by him to his immediate landlord, and so on, until the defaulter is reached. [1885, s 137]

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the right of an inferior tenant making a payment under section 182 to institute a suit for the recovery from the defaulter of any portion of the amount paid which he has not deducted under this section.

Conflict between rights of superior and inferior landlords

184. When land is sub-let, and any conflict arises under this Chapter between the rights of a superior landlord and an inferior landlord who distrain the same property, the right of the superior landlord shall prevail. [1885, s. 138.]

Report of irregularities.

185 All officers referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), shall bring to the notice of the Collector any material irregularity committed by distrainers under colour of this Act. [1859, s. 134.]

Postponement of sale where due notice not given.

186. If, in any case, on proceeding to hold a sale of property, any such officer finds that the owner of the property has not received due notice of the distraint and intended sale, he shall postpone the sale and report the case to the Collector ; and the Collector shall direct the issue of another notice and proclamation of sale under section 170, or shall pass such other order as he may think proper [1859, s. 134.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint.—Clauses 187—191.)

Charge to be made for expenses when no sale takes place.

187. When an officer referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), has proceeded to any place for the purpose of holding a sale, and no sale takes place, either— [1859, s. 135.]

(a) for the reason stated in section 186, or

(b) because the demand of the distrainer has been previously satisfied, and no intimation of such satisfaction was given by the distrainer to the said officer, a charge of one anna in the rupee shall be leviable on account of expenses, and shall be calculated on the estimated value of the distrained property

Provided that such charge shall in no case exceed ten rupees.

Charge for expenses by whom to be paid.

188. (1) If the demand of the distrainer is not satisfied until the day fixed for the sale, the charge for expenses, referred to in section 180, sub-section (1), and section 187, shall be paid by the owner of the property, and may be recovered by the sale of such portion thereof as may be necessary [1859, s. 135.]

(2) In every other case the said charge shall be paid by the distrainer, and may be recovered by attachment and sale of the property of the distrainer under the warrant of the Collector

Control by Collector.

189. (1) All proceedings under this Chapter by officers referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), shall be subject to revision by the Collector. [1859, s. 136.]

(2) The Collector may, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, direct any such officer to submit periodical reports of his proceedings under this Chapter

Procedure in suit to contest demand of distrainer.

190. (1) In all suits instituted to contest the demand of a distrainer, the distrainer must prove the arrear in the same manner as if he had himself brought a suit therefor. [1859, s. 138.]

(2) If the demand or any part thereof is found to be due, the Collector shall make a decree for the amount in favour of the distrainer

Sale of distrained property in execution of decree.

191. (1) If, in any suit to contest the demand of a distrainer, the demand or any portion thereof is adjudged to be due, and if a bond has not been executed under section 172, the Collector shall send an order to the officer referred to in section 169, sub-section (1), authorizing the sale of the distrained property. [1859, s. 137.]

(2) If the distrainer applies to the said officer, within five days from the receipt of such order, for the sale of the said property, such officer shall—

(a) send to the Collector, for the purpose of being put up in his office, a proclamation fixing a day for the sale of the property, which shall not be less than five or more than ten days from the date of the proclamation, and

(b) deliver a copy of the proclamation to a peon, to be put up by him in the place where the property is deposited.

(3) Sub-section (2) of section 170 shall apply to the said proclamation.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint.—Clauses 192—196.)

(4) If, on the expiration of the period fixed in the said proclamation, the amount adjudged to be due and the costs of the distraint be not paid, the said officer shall proceed to sell the property or such part thereof as it may be necessary to sell in order to realise such amount and costs.

Further proceedings in execution of decree.

192. If, when a sale has been made in pursuance of section 191, any balance remains due to the distrainer, the same may be recovered by proceeding, under the decree, against the person of the judgment-debtor and against any of his property [1859, s. 138.]

Procedure where Collector considers distraint vexatious or groundless.

193 In any suit instituted to contest the demand of a distrainer, if the Collector considers that the distraint was made vexatiously or without sufficient grounds, he shall direct the release of the distrained property and may award to the plaintiff such damages as he thinks fit. [1859, s 138.]

Suit by person claiming property distrained for rent due by another.

194 (1) If any person claims as his own, property which has been distrained for arrears of rent alleged to be due from another person, he may institute a suit before the Collector against the distrainer and such other person, to try the right to the property, and the provisions of this Act as to suits to contest the demand of a distrainer shall, as far as may be, apply to such suit. [1859, s 139.]

(2) When any such suit is instituted, the property may be released upon security being given up to the limit of the value of the property

(3) If the claim is dismissed, the Collector shall make an order for the sale of the property or the recovery of the value thereof, as the case may be, for the benefit of the distrainer.

(4) If the claim is upheld, the Collector shall decree the release of the distrained property, with costs and such damages (if any) as he thinks fit

Right of distraint to prevail over other claims.

195. The right of a landlord to distrain property under this Chapter shall not be barred by— [1859, s. 139, 1885, s. 139.]

(a) any claim to such property, made by any other person, or

(b) any order issued by any Court for the attachment or sale of such property:

Provided that, when any such property is sold under this Chapter after an order for the attachment or sale thereof has been issued by any Court, the surplus proceeds of the sale shall not be paid under section 180 to the owner of the property without the sanction of the Court by which the order of attachment or sale was issued.

Procedure if distrainer's right to distrain be disputed.

196 If, in any case in which property has been distrained for an arrear of rent and a suit has been instituted before the Collector to contest the demand, the right to distrain for such arrear is claimed by or on behalf of any person other than the distrainer, on the ground of such other person being actually and in good faith in the receipt of the rent of the land, such other person shall be made a party to the suit, and the question of the actual receipt of the rent by such other person before and up to the time of the commencement of the suit shall be inquired into, and the suit shall be decided according to the result of the inquiry: [1859, s. 140.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XIV.—Distraint —Clauses 197—200.)

Provided that the decision of the Collector shall not affect the right of either party who may have a legal title to the rent of the land, to establish his title by suit in the Civil Court if instituted within one year from the date of that decision

Suit for damages by person prevented from suing in time to save his property from sale.

197 If any person, whose property has been distrained for the recovery of a demand not justly due, or of a demand due or alleged to be due from some other person, is prevented by any sufficient cause from instituting a suit to contest the demand or to try the right to the property, as the case may be, within the period allowed by section 170 or section 196, as the case may be, and if his property is in consequence brought to sale, he may institute a suit before the Collector, within three months from the date of the occurrence of the cause of action, to recover damages for the illegal distraint and sale of his property [1859, ss. 141, 144.]

Suit for damages for wrongful acts of authorized distrainer

198. (1) In any of the following cases, namely:— [1859, ss. 142, 144.]

(a) if any person authorized by this Chapter to distrain property makes any distraint or sale, or causes any sale to be made, otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter, or

(b) if any distrained property is lost, damaged, or destroyed by reason of the distrainer not having taken proper precaution for the due keeping and preservation thereof, or

(c) if a distraint is not immediately withdrawn as required by any provision of this Chapter, the owner of the property may institute a suit before the Collector, within three months from the date of the occurrence of the cause of action, to recover damages for any injury which he may have thereby sustained.

(2) If any illegal act is committed by any agent under colour of the exercise of the powers of distraint conferred by this Chapter, the person employing such agent shall be liable, as well as the agent himself, for any damages accruing by reason of such act. [1859, s. 114.]

Suit for damages for distraint by unauthorised person.

199. If any person not authorized by this Chapter to distrain property distrains or sells or causes to be sold any property under colour of this Chapter, the owner of the property may institute a suit before the Collector, within three months from the date of the occurrence of the cause of action, to recover damages from such person for any injury which he may have thereby sustained; [1859, ss. 143, 144.]

and such damages may be awarded in addition to any penalty imposed in pursuance of section 249.

Power to make rules.

200. The Local Government may make rules for regulating the procedure in all cases under this Chapter. [1885, s. 142.]

CHAPTER XV

JUDICIAL PROCEDURE.

Power to modify Code of Civil Procedure in its application to landlord and tenant suits.

201. The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that any portions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, which are not expressly made applicable by this Act shall not apply to suits and other proceedings in Revenue Courts, or shall apply to them with such modifications as the Local Government, with the like sanction, may prescribe. [1885, s. 143, Act V of 1908, s. 5 (1).] V of 1908.

(2) Subject to any notifications so issued, and subject also to the other provisions of this Act, the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall apply to all such suits and other proceedings. V of 1908

Certain suits and applications cognizable only by the Collector.

202. The following suits and applications shall be cognizable by the Collector, and shall be instituted and tried or heard under the provisions of this Act, and shall not be cognizable in any other Court except as provided in this Act, namely:— [1859, ss. 23, 24, 1908, s. 139.]

(a) all suits and applications under any portion of this Act other than Chapter XI and Chapter XII, and

(b) all suits, by landlords and others in receipt of the rent of land, against any agents employed by them in the management of land or the collection of rents, or against sureties of such agents, for money received or accounts kept by such agents in the course of such employment, or for papers in their possession.

Special register of suits.

203. The Local Government may direct that all suits, or any specified class of suits, under this Act shall be registered, not in the register of Civil Suits kept under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, but in such other registers as it may prescribe. [1898, s. 74, of 1885, s. 146.] V of 1908.

Successive rent suits.

204. Subject to the provisions of rule 1 in Order XXIII in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, where a landlord has instituted a suit against a raiyat for the recovery of any rent of his holding, the landlord shall not institute another suit against him for the recovery of any rent of that holding until after three months from the date of the institution of the previous suit. [1885, s. 147.] V of 1908.

Agreements and compromises.

205. (1) The provisions of rule 3 in Order XXIII in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall not apply to any suit under this Act. [1885, s. 147A, Notfn.] V of 1908

(2) If any suit under this Act is adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise, or if the defendant satisfies the plaintiff in respect to the whole or any part of the matter of the suit, the Court shall pass a decree in accordance with such agreement, compromise or satisfaction, so far as it relates to the suit:

Provided that no decree shall be passed in accordance with any agreement or compromise the terms of which, if they were embodied in a contract, could not be enforced under this Act.

(3) Where any agreement or compromise has been made for the purpose of settling a dispute as to the rent payable, the Court shall, in order to ascertain whether the effect of such agreement or compromise would be to enhance the rent in a manner, or to an extent, not allowed by section 28 in the case of a contract, record evidence as to the rent which was legally payable immediately before the period in respect of which the dispute arose.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XV.—Judicial Procedure.—Clauses 206, 207.)

(4) Where the terms of any agreement or compromise are such as might unfairly or inequitably affect the rights of third parties, the Court shall not pass a decree in accordance with such agreement or compromise unless and until it is satisfied by evidence that the statements made by the parties thereto are correct.

Illustration—A, a proprietor, agrees that B, his tenant, shall be recorded as an occupancy-raiyat this affects the rights of the tenants of B The Court must, under sub-section (4), inquire whether B is a tenure-holder or a raiyat as defined in Chapter II If the Court finds on the evidence that B is a raiyat, it may pass a decree in accordance with the agreement, but shall not do so if it finds that B is a tenure-holder.

(5) A decree passed in accordance with any lawful agreement, compromise or satisfaction shall be final so far as it relates to so much of the subject-matter of the suit as is dealt with by such agreement, compromise or satisfaction

Regard to be had by Courts to entries in record-of-rights and Land Records.

206. In all areas for which a record-of-rights has been finally published under Chapter XI or under any other law for the time being in force, or for which Land Records have been published and finally framed under Chapter XII, a Revenue Court shall, in all suits under this Act, have regard to the entries in such record-of-rights or Land Records relating to the subject matter in dispute which may be produced before it, unless such entries have been proved by evidence to be incorrect, and, when a Revenue Court passes a decree at variance with such entries, it shall record its reasons for so doing. [1885, s. 147B, Notfn.]

Procedure in rent-suits.

207. The following rules shall apply to suits for the recovery of rent:— [1885, s. 148.]

(a) sections 68 to 72 of, and rules 1 to 13 in Order XI and rule 83 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to, the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall not apply to any such suit; V of 1908.

(b) the plaint shall contain, in addition to the particulars specified in rules 1 to 6 in Order VII in the said Schedule, a statement of the situation, designation, extent and boundaries of the land held by the tenant, or, where the plaintiff is unable to give the extent or boundaries, in lieu thereof, a description sufficient for identification; [1859, s. 41; Ben. Act VI of 1862, s. 12.]

(c) where the suit is for the rent of land situated within an area for which a record-of-rights has been finally published under Chapter XI or under any other law for the time being in force, the plaint shall further contain—

(i) in the case of a holding—a statement of the plots, area and rental of the tenancy according to the record-of-rights, and

(ii) in other cases—an extract from the record-of-rights sufficient for identification of the tenancy, unless the Court is satisfied, for reasons to be recorded in writing, that the plaintiff was prevented by any sufficient cause from furnishing such statement or extract

Provided that, in all cases in which the Court admits a plaint which does not contain such statement or extract, the Court shall, and, in any other case, the Court may, require the Collector to supply, without payment of fee, a verified or certified copy of, or extract from, the record-of-rights relating to the tenancy;

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XV.—Judicial Procedure.—Clause 208.)

(d) where an alteration has been made in the area of the tenancy since the record-of-rights was finally published, the plaint shall further contain a statement of the rental of the original tenancy according to the record-of-rights, together with a statement showing how the amount of rent claimed in the suit has been computed;

(e) notwithstanding anything contained in clauses (c) and (d), the Local Government may prescribe that all or any of the statements, copies and extracts referred to in those clauses may be made from Land Records published and finally framed under Chapter XII, instead of from records-of-rights,

(f) the summons shall be for the final disposal of the suit, unless the Court is of opinion that the summons should be for the settlement of issues only;

(g) the service of the summons may, if the Local Government, by rule, either generally, or specially for any local area, so directs, be effected by post, either in addition to, or in substitution for, any other mode of service,

(h) a written statement shall not be filed without the leave of the Court,

(i) the rules in rule 13 in Order XVIII in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for recording the evidence of witnesses shall apply, whether an appeal is allowed or not, V of 1908.

(j) when any account-books, rent-rolls, collection-papers, measurement-papers or maps have been produced by the landlord before any Court, and have been admitted in evidence in a suit pending therein, copies of, or extracts from, such documents, certified by a duly authorized officer of such Court to be true copies or extracts, may, with the permission of the Court, be substituted on the record for the originals, which may then be returned to the landlord, and thereafter copies and extracts, so certified, may be admitted in evidence in any other suit instituted in the same or any other Court, unless the Court before which they are produced sees fit to require the production of the originals;

(k) the Court may, when passing the decree, order, on the oral application of the decree-holder, the execution thereof, unless it is a decree for ejectment for arrears;

(l) notwithstanding anything contained in rule 16 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, an application for the execution of a decree for arrears obtained by a landlord shall not be made by an assignee of the decree, unless the landlord's interest in the land has become and is vested in him. V of 1908.

Suit by co-sharer landlord for arrears of rent.

208. Where a co-sharer landlord, who has instituted a suit to recover the rent due to all the co-sharer landlords in respect of an entire tenure or holding, and has made all the remaining co-sharers parties defendant to the suit, is unable to ascertain what rent is due for the whole tenure or holding, [1885, s. 148A.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XV.—Judicial Procedure.—Clauses 209—213.)

or whether the rent due to the other co-sharer landlords has been paid or not, owing to the refusal or neglect of the tenant, or of the co-sharer landlords defendant to the suit, to furnish him with correct information on these points, or on either of them, such plaintiff co sharer landlord shall be entitled to proceed with the suit for his share only of the rent , and a decree obtained by him in a suit so framed shall, as regards the remedies for enforcing the same, be as effectual as a decree obtained by a sole landlord or an entire body of landlords in a suit brought for the rent due to all the co-sharers.

Payment into Court of rent admitted to be due to third person.

209. (1) When a defendant admits that money is due from him on account of rent, but pleads that it is due not to the plaintiff but to a third person, the Court shall refuse to take cognizance of the plea unless the defendant pays into Court the amount so admitted to be due [1869, s. 77; 1885, s. 149.]

(2) Where such a payment is made, the Court shall forthwith cause notice of the payment to be served on the third person, and shall by the notice require him to appear before it on a specified date, and, after taking evidence (if necessary) shall pass orders.

(3) If the plea is allowed, an order shall be made for payment to the third party, and, if it is not allowed, an order shall be made for payment to the plaintiff.

(4) Nothing, in this section shall affect the right of any person to recover from the plaintiff money paid to him under sub-section (3), or to present an appeal under section 213

Payment into Court of rent admitted to be due to landlord

210. When a defendant admits that money is due from him to the plaintiff on account of rent, but pleads that the amount claimed is in excess of the amount due, the Court shall refuse to take cognizance of the plea unless the defendant pays into Court the amount so admitted to be due. [1885, s. 150.]

Provisions as to payment of portion of money.

211. When a defendant is liable to pay money into Court under section 209 or section 210, if the Court thinks that there are sufficient reasons for so ordering, it may take cognizance of the defendant's plea on his paying into Court such reasonable portion of the money as the Court directs. [1885, s. 15 .]

Court to grant receipt.

212. When a defendant pays money into Court under section 209 or section 210, the Court shall give the defendant a receipt; and the receipt so given shall operate as an acquittance in the same manner and to the same extent as if it had been given by the plaintiff or the third person, as the case may be. [1885, s. 152.]

[Sub-clauses (1) to (4) of clause 213 reproduced in sub-clauses (1a), (1b) and (1c).]

Appeals.

213. (1a) Except where otherwise expressly provided in this Act, an appeal from an order or decree passed under the Act shall lie in the following manner —

Every order passed by a Collector, not being—

(a) a judgment in a suit,

(b) an order passed in the course of a suit and relating to the trial thereof, or

(c) an order passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof, shall be appealable—

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XV.—Judicial Procedure—Clauses 214, 215.)

(i) to the Commissioner, or,

(ii) if passed by a Deputy Collector exercising the powers of a Collector, to the Collector.

(1b) In suits where the subject-matter of the claim or dispute does not exceed one hundred rupees in value, and the judgment does not decide a question whether rent is payable for land or not, or a question relating to title to land or to some interest in land as between parties to the suit, the judgment of the Collector shall be final:

Provided that, if the suit be tried and decided by a Deputy Collector exercising the powers of a Collector, an appeal shall lie from the judgment of the Deputy Collector to the Collector.

(1c) In suits other than those referred to in sub-section (1b), an appeal from the judgment of the Collector or Deputy Collector shall lie to the District Judge, unless the amount or value in dispute exceeds five thousand rupees, in which case the appeal shall lie to the High Court:

Provided that a second appeal shall lie to the High Court under Order XLII in the first schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, from any appellate decree passed by the District Judge under this section. V of 1908.

(5) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Collector may call for the record of any case in which any Deputy Collector has passed a decree or order to which this section applies, if it appears that such officer has exercised a jurisdiction not vested in him by law, or has failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or has acted in the exercise of his jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity; and the Collector may pass such order as he thinks fit.

Explanation.—A question as to the regularity of the proceedings in publishing or conducting a sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent is not a question relating to title to land or to some interest in land as between parties having conflicting claims thereto.

Deposit on application to set aside ex parte decree, or for review of judgment.

214. Every application for an order under rule 13 in Order IX in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, to set aside a decree passed ex parte, or for a review of judgment, under section 114 of the said Code, in a suit under this Act, shall contain a statement of the injury sustained by the applicant by reason of the decree or judgment; [1885, s. 153A] [V of 1908.]

and no such application shall be admitted—

(a) unless the applicant has, at or before the time when the application is admitted, deposited in the Court to which the application is presented the amount, if any, which he admits to be due from him to the decree-holder, or such amount as the Court may, for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, direct; or

(b) unless the Court, after considering the statement of injury, is satisfied, for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, that no such deposit is necessary.

Date from which decree for enhancement takes effect.

215. A decree for enhancement of rent under this Act, if passed in a suit instituted in the first eight months of an agricultural year, shall ordinarily take effect on the commencement of the agricultural year next following; and, if passed in a suit instituted in the last four months of the [1885, s. 154.]

agricultural year, shall ordinarily take effect on the commencement of the agricultural year next but one following; but nothing in this section shall prevent the Court from fixing, for special reasons, a later date from which any such decree shall take effect

Relief against forfeitures.

216. (1) A suit for the ejectment of a tenant, on the ground— [1885, s. 155.]

(a) that he has used the land in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy, or

(b) that he has broken a condition on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between him and the landlord, liable to ejectment, shall not be entertained unless the landlord has served, in the prescribed manner, a notice on the tenant specifying the particular misuse or breach complained of, and, where the misuse or breach is capable of remedy, requiring the tenant to remedy the same, and, in any case, to pay reasonable compensation for the misuse or breach, and the tenant has failed to comply within a reasonable time with that request

(2) A decree passed in favour of a landlord in any such suit shall declare the amount of compensation which would reasonably be payable to the plaintiff for the misuse or breach, and whether, in the opinion of the Court, the misuse or breach is capable of remedy, and shall fix a period during which it shall be open to the defendant to pay that amount to the plaintiff, and, where the misuse or breach is declared to be capable of remedy, to remedy the same.

(3) The Court may, from time to time, for special reasons, extend a period fixed by it under sub-section (2).

(4) If the defendant, within the period or extended period (as the case may be) fixed by the Court under this section, pays the compensation mentioned in the decree, and, where the misuse or breach is declared by the Court to be capable of remedy, remedies the misuse or breach to the satisfaction of the Court, the decree shall not be executed.

Rights of ejected raiyats in respect of crops and land prepared for sowing.

217. The following rules shall apply in the case of every raiyat ejected from a holding:— [1885, s. 156.]

(a) when the raiyat has, before the date of his ejectment, sown or planted crops in any land comprised in the holding, he shall be entitled, at the option of the landlord, either to retain possession of that land and to use it for the purpose of tending and gathering in the crops, or to receive from the landlord the value of the crops as estimated by the Court executing the decree for ejectment;

(b) when the raiyat has, before the date of his ejectment, prepared for sowing any land comprised in his holding, but has not sown or planted crops in that land, he shall be entitled to receive from the landlord the value of the labour and capital expended by him in so preparing the land, as estimated by the Court executing the decree for ejectment, together with reasonable interest on that value;

(Chapter XV.—Judicial Procedure.—Chapter XVI.—Summary Procedure for the recovery of Rents under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895.—Clauses 218—220.)

(c) but a raiyat shall not be entitled to retain possession of any land or receive any sum in respect thereof under this section where, after the commencement of proceedings by the landlord for his ejectment, he has cultivated or prepared the land contrary to local usage;

(d) if the landlord elects under this section to allow a raiyat to retain possession of the land, the raiyat shall pay to the landlord, for the use and occupation of the land during the period for which he is allowed to retain possession of the same, such rent as the Court executing the decree for ejectment may deem reasonable

Power for Court to fix fair rent as alternative to ejectment.

218 When a plaintiff institutes a suit in a Civil Court for the ejectment of a trespasser, he may, if he thinks fit, claim as alternative relief that the defendant be declared liable to pay for the land in his possession a fair and equitable rent, to be determined by the Court; and the Court may grant such relief accordingly. [1885, s. 157.]

Application to determine incidents of tenancy.

219. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 132, the Court having jurisdiction to determine a suit for the possession of land may, on the application of either the landlord or the tenant of the land, determine all or any of the following matters, namely — [1885, s. 158.]

(a) the situation, quantity and boundaries of the land,

(b) the name and description of the tenant thereof (if any);

(c) the class to which he belongs, that is to say, whether he is a tenure-holder, bajiaftidar, raiyat holding at fixed rates, occupancy-raiyat, non-occupancy-raiyat, under-raiyat or chandnadar, and, if he is a tenure-holder, whether he is a permanent tenure-hloder or not, and whether his rent is liable to enhancement during the continuance of tenure; and

(d) the rent payable by him at the time of the application

(2) If, in the opinion of the Court, any of these matters cannot be satisfactorily determined without a local inquiry, the Court may direct that a local inquiry be held under Order XXVI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, by such Revenue-officer as the Local Government may authorize in that behalf by rule made under rule 9 in the said Order. [V of 1908.]

(3) The order on any application under this section shall have the effect of, and be subject to the like appeal as, a decree.

CHAPTER XVI

SUMMARY PROCEDURE FOR THE RECOVERY OF RENTS UNDER THE PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT, 1895.

[Ben. Act I of 1895.]

Recovery of arrears by the certificate procedure in certain areas.

220 (1) Any landlord whose land is situate in an area for which a record-of-rights has been finally published under Chapter XI or under any other law for the time being in force, and for which Land Records have been published and finally framed under Chapter XII, [1885, s. 158A; Notfn.]

may apply to the Local Government, through the Collector of the district in which his land is situate, for the application of the procedure prescribed by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, to the recovery of the arrears of rent which he alleges are or may fall due to him for lands in such area. Ben. Act I of 1895.

(2) The Local Government may reject any such application, or may allow it subject to such terms and conditions as it may see fit to impose, and may at any time add to or vary any terms or conditions so imposed, or withdraw its allowance of the application, without, in any of these cases, assigning any reason for its action.

(3) When any such application has been allowed, the landlord may make a requisition in writing, in the prescribed form, to such Revenue-officer as the Local Government may appoint for the purpose of this section to perform the functions of a Certificate-officer under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, for the recovery of any arrears of rent which he alleges are due to him from any tenant. Ben. Act I of 1895.

(4) Every such requisition shall be signed and verified by the landlord making it, in accordance with the provisions of rules 14 and 15 in Order VI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as to the verification of plaints, and there shall be payable in respect of every such requisition a court-fee of the same amount as is payable under the Court-fees Act for the time being in force in respect of a plaint for the recovery of a sum of money equal to that stated in such requisition V of 1908. VII of 1870.

(5) On receipt of such requisition the Revenue-officer may, in accordance with such rules as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, issue certificates, in the prescribed form, for the recovery of the arrears alleged to be due;

and, any such certificate shall, as regards the remedies for enforcing the same and so far only, have the force and effect of a decree of a Revenue Court passed in a suit for the recovery of rent; and the provisions of Chapter XVII shall, so far as may be practicable, be applicable to all proceedings for the execution of such certificate:

Provided that -

(a) no certificate shall be issued for the recovery of arrears of rent of a tenancy regarding which a suit has been instituted in a Revenue Court for the alteration of the rent payable by the tenant or the determination of his status as a tenant, in respect of the period during which it is alleged in the requisition made under sub-section (3) the arrears of rent sought to be recovered have accrued; and,

(b) if, after the issue of a certificate, it is found that such a suit has been instituted in a Revenue Court before the issue of the certificate, such certificate shall be cancelled.

(6) The following provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, shall, so far as they are applicable, apply to the proceedings for the execution of all certificates for the recovery of arrears of rent issued under sub-section (5), namely:— Ben. Act I of 1895.

the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 7, and sections 10 to 17 and 22 to 33.

(7) No landlord shall, during the pendency of any proceedings under this section, institute a suit in a Revenue Court for the recovery of any arrears of rent in respect of which he has made a requisition under sub-section (3); and, subject to the provisions of section 15 of the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, no tenant shall, after the issue of any certificate against him under sub-section (5), institute a suit in, or apply to, a Revenue Court for the alteration of the rent payable by him, or the determination of his status as a tenant, in respect of the period during which the arrears of rent for which such certificate was issued have accrued. Ben. Act I of 1895.

(Chapter XVII.—Sale for Arrears under Decree.—Clauses 221, 222.)

(8) The word "landlord" in this section includes an entire body of landlords, and also one or more co-sharer landlords who collects or collect his or their share or shares of the rent separately; and, where the Revenue-officer issues a certificate on the requisition of one or more such co-sharer landlords, he shall at the same time issue to each of the remaining co-sharer landlords a copy of such certificate.

(9) The word "landlord" in this section also includes a manager appointed under clause (b) of section 98 or sub-section (9) of section 101.

CHAPTER XVII

SALE FOR ARREARS UNDER DECREE.

Passing of tenure or holding sold in execution of decree.

221. (1) Where a tenure or holding is sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due in respect thereof, or of a decree for damages under section 250, the tenure or holding shall, subject to the provisions of section 21, pass to the purchaser, provided that the decree in execution of which it has been sold has been obtained by— [1885, s 158 B; Notfn.]

(a) a sole landlord; or

(b) the entire body of landlords, or

(c) one or more co-sharer landlords who has, or have, sued for the rent due to all the co sharers in respect of the entire tenure or holding and made all the remaining co-sharers parties defendant to the suit.

(2) When one or more co-sharer landlords, having obtained a decree referred to in sub-section (1) or a decree in a suit framed under section 208, applies, or apply, for the execution of the decree by the sale of the tenure or holding, the Court shall, before proceeding to sell the tenure or holding, give notice of the application for execution to the other co-sharers.

General powers of purchaser as to avoidance of incumbrances.

222. Where a tenure or holding is sold in execution of a decree for arrears due in respect thereof, the purchaser shall take subject to the interests defined in this Chapter as "protected interests," but with power to annul the interests defined in this Chapter as "incumbrances:" [1885, s. 159; Notfn.]

Provided as follows:—

(a) a registered and notified incumbrance within the meaning of this Chapter shall not be so annulled, except in the case hereinafter mentioned in that behalf;

(b) the power to annul shall be exerciseable only in manner by this Chapter directed.

(Chapter XVII.—Sale for Arrears under Decree.— Clauses 223—226)

Protected interests

223. The following shall be deemed to be protected interests within the meaning of this Chapter:— [1885, s. 160; Notfn.]

(a) any under-tenure existing from the time of the Permanent Settlement;

(b) any sub-proprietary interest, bajafti tenancy or under-tenure recognized by the settlement-proceedings of any current temporary settlement as a tenure a a rent fixed for the period of that settlement;

(c) any lease of land whereon dwelling-houses, manufactories or other permanent buildings have been erected, or permanent gardens, plantations, tanks, canals, places of worship or burning or burying-grounds have been made;

(d) any right of occupancy;

(e) the right of a non-occupancy-raiyat to hold for five years at a rent fixed under Chapter VI, or under Chapter XI;

(f) any right conferred on an occupancy-raiyat to hold at a rent which was a fair and reasonable rent at the time the right was conferred; and

(g) any right or interest which the landlord at whose instance the tenure or holding is sold, or his predecessor in title, has expressly and in writing given the tenant for the time being permission to create.

Meaning of "incumbrance" and "registered and notified incumbrance."

224. For the purposes of this Chapter,—

(a) the term "incumbrance," used with reference to a tenancy, means any lien, sub-tenancy, easement or other right or interest created by the tenant on his tenure or holding or in limitation of his own interest therein, and not being a protected interest as defined in section 223; [1885, s. 161; Notfn.]

(b) the term "registered and notified incumbrance," used with reference to a tenure or holding sold or liable to sale in execution of a decree for an arrear of rent due in respect thereof, means an incumbrance created by a registered instrument, of which a copy has, not less than three months before the accrual of the arrear, been served on the landlord in manner hereinafter provided,

(c) the terms "arrears" and "arrear of rent" shall be deemed to include interest decreed under section 69 or damages awarded in lieu of interest under sub-section (1) of section 70

Application for sale of tenure or holding.

225. When a decree has been passed for an arrear of rent due for a tenure or holding, and the decree-holder applies, under sub-rule (2) of rule 11 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the attachment and sale of the tenure or holding in execution of the decree, he shall produce a statement showing the pargana, estate and village in which the land comprised in the tenure or holding is situate, the yearly rent payable for the same and the total amount recoverable under the decree [1885, s. 162; Notfn.] V of 1908.

Order of attachment and proclamation of sale to be issued simultaneously.

226. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, when the decree-holder makes the application mentioned in section 225, the Court shall, if under rule 17 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the said Code it admits the application and orders execution of the decree as applied for, issue simultaneously the order of attachment and the proclamation required by rule 66 in the said Order. [1885, s. 163; Notfn.] V of 1908

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XVII.—Sale for Arrears under Decree.— Clauses 227, 228.)

(2) The proclamation shall, in addition to stating and specifying the particulars mentioned in rule 66 in the said Order, announce—

(a) in the case of a tenure, or a holding of a raiyat holding at fixed rates or of a bajiaftidar, that the tenure or holding will first be put up to auction subject to the registered and notified incumbrances, and will be sold subject to those incumbrances if the sum bid is sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs, and that otherwise it will, if the decree-holder so desires, be sold on a subsequent day, of which due notice will be given, with power to annul all incumbrances; and

(b) in the case of an occupancy-holding, not being the holding of a bajiaftidar, that the holding will be sold with power to annul all incumbrances

(3) The proclamation shall, besides being made in the manner required by rule 67 in the said Order, be published by fixing up a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the land comprised in the tenure or holding ordered to be sold, and shall also be published in such manner as the Local Government may direct in this behalf.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 68 in the said Order, the sale shall not, without the consent in writing of the judgment-debtor, take place until after the expiration of at least thirty days, calculated from the date on which the copy of the proclamation has been fixed up on the land comprised in the tenure or holding ordered to be sold.

Sale of tenure or holding subject to registered and notified incumbrances, and effect thereof.

227. (1) When a tenure or a holding at fixed rates or a holding of a bajiaftidar has been advertised for sale under section 226, it shall be put up to auction subject to registered and notified incumbrances, and, if the bidding reaches a sum sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs, including the costs of sale, the tenure or holding shall be sold subject to such incumbrances [1885, s. 164, Notfn.]

(2) The purchaser at a sale under this section may, in manner provided by section 230, and not otherwise, annul any incumbrance upon the tenure or holding, not being a registered and notified incumbrance

Sale of tenure or holding with power to avoid all incumbrances, and effect thereof.

228. (1) If the bidding for a tenure or a holding at fixed rates or a holding of a bajiaftidar put up to auction under section 227 does not reach a sum sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs as aforesaid, and if the decree-holder thereupon desires that the tenure or holding be sold with power to avoid all incumbrances, the officer holding the sale shall adjourn the sale and make a fresh proclamation under rule 67 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, announcing that the tenure or holding will be put up to auction and sold, with power to avoid all incumbrances, upon a future day specified therein, not less than fifteen or more than thirty days from the date of the postponement; and upon that day the tenure or holding shall be put up to auction and sold with power to avoid all incumbrances. [1885, s. 165; Notfn.] [V of 1908.]

(2) The purchaser at a sale under this section may, in manner provided by section 230, and not otherwise, annul any incumbrance on the tenure or holding.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XVII.—Sale for Arrears under Decree.— Clauses 229—232)

Sale of occupancy-holding with power to avoid all incumbrances, and effect thereof.

229. (1) When an occupancy holding, not being the holding of a bajiaftidar, has been advertised for sale under section 226, it shall be put up to auction and sold with power to avoid all incumbrances [1885, s. 166 Notfn.]

(2) The purchaser at a sale under this section may, in manner provided by section 230, and not otherwise, annul any incumbrance on the holding.

Procedure for annulling incumbrances under the foregoing sections

230. (1) A purchaser having power to annul an incumbrance under any of the foregoing sections, and desiring to annul the same, may, within one year from the date of the sale or the date on which he first has notice of the incumbrance, whichever is later, present to the Collector an application, in writing, requesting him to serve on the incumbrancer a notice declaring that the incumbrance is annulled. [1885, s. 167; Notfn.]

(2) Every such application must be accompanied by such fee for the service of the notice as the Board of Revenue may fix in this behalf

(3) When an application for service of a notice is made to the Collector in manner prescribed by this section, he shall cause the notice to be served in compliance therewith, and the incumbrance shall be deemed to be annulled from the date on which it is so served.

(4) When a tenure or holding is sold in execution of a decree for arrears due in respect thereof, and there is on the tenure or holding a protected interest of the kind specified in section 223, clause (c), the purchaser may, if he has power under this Chapter to avoid all incumbrances, sue to enhance the rent of the land which is the subject of the protected interest. On proof that the land is held at a rent which was not at the time the lease was granted a fair rent, the Court may enhance the rent to such amount as appears to be fair and equitable

This sub-section shall not apply to land which has been held for a term exceeding twelve years at a fixed rent equal to the rent of good arable land

Power to direct that occupancy-holdings be dealt with under foregoing sections as tenures.

231 (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, direct that occupancy-holdings or any specified class of occupancy-holdings, in any local area, which are put up for sale in execution of a decree for an arrear of rent due on them, shall, before being put up with power to avoid all incumbrances, be put up subject to registered and notified incumbrances. [1885, s. 168, Notfn.]

(2) While any such direction remains in force in respect of any local area, all occupancy-holdings, or, as the case may be, occupancy-holdings of the specified class, in that local area, shall, for the purposes of sale under the foregoing sections of this Chapter, be treated in all respects as if they were tenures

(3) Nothing in the sub-sections 1 and 2 shall apply to the holdings of bajiaftidars.

Rules for disposal of the sale-proceeds.

232. (1) In disposing of the proceeds of a sale under this Chapter, the following rules, instead of those prescribed by section 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall be observed, that is to say— [1885, s. 169 Notfn] [V of 1908.]

(a) there shall first be paid to the decree-holder the costs incurred by him in bringing the tenure or holding to sale;

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XVII.—Sale for Arrears under Decree.—Clause 233.)

(b) there shall, in the next place, be paid to the decree-holder the amount due to him under the decree in execution of which the sale was made;

(c) if there remains a balance after these sums have been paid, there shall be paid to the decree-holder therefrom any rent which may have fallen due to him in respect of the tenure or holding between the institution of the suit and the date of the sale;

(d) the balance (if any) remaining after the payment of the rent mentioned in clause (c) shall, upon the expiration of two months from the confirmation of the sale, be paid to the judgment-debtor upon his application.

Provided that, where a tenure or holding has been sold in execution of a decree obtained by one or more co-sharer landlords in a suit framed under section 208 or a decree referred to in sub-section (1) of section 221,—

(i) payment of the amount due under such decree shall, notwithstanding anything contained in clause (b), be made to the decree-holder and to the other co-sharer landlords in proportion to the amount found to be due to each, and

(ii) if there remains a balance, payment of any rent which may have fallen due in respect of the tenure or holding between the institution of the suit and the date of the sale shall, notwithstanding anything contained in clause (c), but subject to the determination, in the manner and with the effect mentioned in sub-section (2), of any dispute as to their respective rights to receive such rent, be made to the said decree-holder and the other co-sharer landlords in proportion to their respective shares in the tenure or holding

(2) If the judgment-debtor disputes the decree-holder's right to receive any sum on account of rent under clause (c), the Court shall determine the dispute, and the determination shall have the force of a decree.

Tenure or holding to be released from attachment only on payment into Court of amount of decree, with costs, or on confession of satisfaction by decree-holder.

[1885, s. 170, Notfn.] [V of 1908.]

233. (1) Rules 58 to 63 and 89 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall not apply to a tenure or holding attached in execution of a decree for arrears due thereon.

(2) When an order for the sale of a tenure or holding in execution of such a decree has been made, the tenure or holding shall not be released from attachment unless, before it is knocked down to the auction-purchaser, the amount of the decree, including the costs decreed, together with the costs incurred in order to the sale, is paid into Court, or the decree-holder makes an application for the release of the tenure or holding on the ground that the decree has been satisfied out of Court.

(3) The judgment-debtor, or any person having in the tenure or holding any interest voidable on the sale, may pay money into Court under this section.

Amount paid into Court to prevent sale to be in certain cases a mortgage debt on the tenure or holding

234. (1) When any person having, in a tenure or holding advertised for sale under this Chapter an interest which would be voidable upon the sale, pays into Court the amount requisite to prevent the sale,— [1885, s. 171, Notfn.]

(a) the amount so paid by him shall be deemed to be a debt bearing interest at twelve and a-half per centum per annum and secured by a mortgage of the tenure or holding to him,

(b) his mortgage shall take priority of every other charge on the tenure or holding other than a charge for arrear of rent, and

(c) he shall be entitled to possession of the tenure or holding as mortgagee of the tenant, and to retain possession of it as such until the debt, with the interest due thereon, has been discharged

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect any other remedy to which any such person would be entitled Inferior tenant paying into Court may deduct from rent.

235 When a tenure or holding is advertised for sale under this Chapter in execution of a decree against a superior tenant defaulting, and an inferior tenant, whose interest would be voidable upon the sale, pays money into Court in order to prevent the sale, he may, in addition to any other remedy provided for him by law, deduct the whole or any portion of the amount so paid from any rent payable by him to his immediate landlord, and that landlord, if he is not the defaulter, may in like manner deduct the amount so deducted from any rent payable by him to his immediate landlord, and so on until the defaulter is reached [1885, s. 172, Notfn.]

Decree-holder may bid at sale, judgment debtor may not.

236 (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 72 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the holder of a decree in execution of which a tenure or holding is sold under this Chapter may, without the permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the tenure or holding [1885, s. 173, Notfn.] [V of 1908]

(2) The judgment-debtor shall not bid for or purchase a tenure or holding so sold

(3) When a judgment debtor purchases by himself or through another person a tenure or holding so sold, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the decree-holder or any other person interested in the sale, by order set aside the sale, and the costs of the application and order, and any deficiency of price which may happen on the re-sale, and all expenses attending it, shall be paid by the judgment-debtor

Application by judgment-debtor to set aside sale.

237. (1) Where a tenure or holding is sold for an arrear of rent due thereon, then, at any time within thirty days from the date of sale, the judgment-debtor may apply to have the sale set aside, on his depositing in Court, for payment to the decree-holder, the amount recoverable under the decree, with costs, and, for payment to the purchaser, a sum equal to five per centum of the purchase-money. [1885, s. 174; Notfn.]

(2) If such deposit is made within the thirty days, the Court shall pass an order setting aside the sale, and the provisions of rule 93 in Order XXI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall apply in the case of a sale so set aside :

Provided that, if a judgment-debtor applies under rule 90 in the said Order to set aside the sale of his tenure or holding, he shall not be entitled to make an application under this section, and if he applies under this section he shall not be entitled to make an application under the said rule 90. [V of 1908.]

(3) Rule 91 in the said Order shall not apply to any sale under this Chapter.

238 Notwithstanding anything contained in Part IV of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, an instrument creating an incumbrance upon any tenure or holding, which has been executed before the commencement of this Act and is not required by section 17 of the said Registration Act to be registered, shall be accepted for registration under that Act if it is presented for that purpose to the proper officer within one year from the commencement of this Act.

Notification of incumbrances to landlord.

239 Every officer who has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, registered an instrument executed by a tenant of a tenure or holding and creating an incumbrance on the tenure or holding, shall, at the request of the tenant or of the person in whose favour the incumbrance is created, and on payment by him of such fee as the Local Government may fix in this behalf, notify the incumbrance to the landlord by causing a copy of the instrument to be served on him in the prescribed manner

Power to create incumbrances not extended.

240 Nothing contained in this Chapter shall be deemed to enable a person to create an incumbrance which he could not otherwise lawfully create

[1885, s 177; Notfn.]

CHAPTER XVIII.

CONTRACT AND CUSTOM

Restrictions on exclusion of Act by agreement

241. (1) Nothing in any contract between a landlord and a tenant, whether made before or after the commencement of this Act,—

[1885, s 178.]

(a) shall bar in perpetuity the acquisition of an occupancy-right in land, or

(b) shall take away an occupancy-right in existence at the date of the contract, or

(c) shall entitle a landlord to eject a tenant otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or

(d) shall take away or limit the right of a tenant, as provided by this Act, to make improvements and claim compensation for them

(2) Nothing in any contract made between a landlord and a tenant within a period of five years immediately preceding the commencement of this Act shall prevent a raiyat from acquiring, in accordance with this Act, an occupancy-right in land.

(3) Nothing in any contract made between a landlord and a tenant after the commencement of this Act shall—

(a) prevent a raiyat from acquiring, in accordance with this Act, an occupancy-right in land;

(b) take away or limit the right of an occupancy-raiyat to use land as provided by section 22;

(c) take away the right of a raiyat to surrender his holding in accordance with section 89;

(d) take away the right of a raiyat to transfer or bequeath his holding in accordance with local usage,

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XVIII.—Contract and Custom.—Clauses 242, 243.)

(e) take away the right of an occupancy-raiyat to sub-let subject to, and in accordance with, the provisions of this Act,

(f) take away the right of a raiyat to apply for a reduction of rent under section 39 or section 54;

(g) take away the right of a landlord or a tenant to apply for a commutation of rent under section 41, or

(h) affect the provisions of section 69, relating to interest payable on arrears of money-rent

Provided as follows —

(i) nothing in this section shall affect the terms or conditions of a lease granted bonâ fide for the reclamation of waste land, except that, where, on or after the expiration of the term created by the lease, the lessee would, under Chapter V, be entitled to an occupancy right in the land comprised in the lease, nothing in the lease shall prevent him from acquiring that right,

(ii) when a landlord has reclaimed waste land by his own servants or hired labourers, and subsequently lets the same or a part thereof to a raiyat, nothing in this Act shall affect the terms of any contract whereby a raiyat is prevented from acquiring an occupancy-right in the land or part during a period of thirty years from the date on which the land or part is first let to a raiyat;

(iii) nothing in this section shall affect the terms or conditions of any contract for the temporary cultivation of horticultural or orchard land with agricultural crops.

Explanation—The expression "horticultural land," as used in proviso (iii), means garden land, in the occupation of a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, which is used bonâ fide for the cultivation of flowers or vegetables or both, grown for the personal use of such proprietor or permanent tenure-holder and his family, and not primarily for profit or sale.

Permanent mukarrari leases.

242. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to prevent a proprietor or a holder of a permanent tenure in a permanently-settled area from granting a permanent mukarrari lease on any terms agreed on between him and his tenant. [1885, s. 179.]

Utbandi, char and diárá lands.

243. (1) Nothwithstanding anything in this Act, a raiyat— [1885, s. 180.]

(a) who, in any part of the country where the custom of utbandi prevails, holds land ordinarily let under that custom and for the time being let under that custom, or

(b) who holds land of the kind known as char or diárá, shall not acquire a right of occupancy—

in case (a), in land ordinarily held under the custom of utbandi and for the time being held under that custom, or in case (b), in the char or diárá land,

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XVIII—Contract and Custom.—Chapter XIX.—Limitation.—Clauses 244—247.)

until he has held the land in question for twelve continuous years; and, until he acquires a right of occupancy in the land, he shall be liable to pay such rent for his holding as may be agreed on between him and his landlord

(2) Chapter VI shall not apply to raiyats holding land under the custom of utbandi in respect of land held by them under that custom

(3) The Collector may, on the application of either the landlord or the tenant, or on a reference from the Revenue Court, declare that any land has ceased to be char or diára land within the meaning of this section; and thereupon all the provisions of this Act shall apply to the land

Saving as to service tenures

244 Nothing in this Act shall affect any incident of a ghatwali or other service-tenure, or, in particular, shall confer a right to transfer or bequeath a service-tenure which, before the commencement of this Act, was not capable of being transferred or bequeathed [1885, s. 181.]

Homesteads

245 (1) When a raiyat holds his homestead otherwise than as part of his holding as a raiyat, the incidents of his tenancy of the homestead shall be regulated by local custom or usage, and, subject to local custom or usage, by the provisions of this Act applicable to land held by a raiyat [1885, s. 182.]

(2) Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, the incidents of the tenancy of a chandnadar shall be regulated by local custom or usage, and his rent shall be liable to re assessment on each revision of a land-revenue settlement [Sub clause (2) added in Select Committee]

Saving of custom

246. Nothing in this Act shall affect any custom, usage or customary right not inconsistent with, or not expressly or by necessary implication modified or abolished by, its provisions. [1885, s 183.]

Illustrations

[Illustration (1) omitted and replaced by illustration (1a).]

(1a)—The custom or usage whereby the right of a non-occupancy raiyat is heritable, is not inconsistent with, and is not expressly or by necessary implication modified or abolished by, the provisions of this Act That custom or usage, accordingly, wherever it exists, will not be affected by this Act

(2) The custom or usage that an under raiyat should, under certain circumstances, acquire a right of occupancy is not inconsistent with, and is not expressly or by necessary implication modified or abolished by, the provisions of this Act That custom or usage, accordingly, wherever it exists, will not be affected by this Act

CHAPTER XIX.

LIMITATION.

Limitation in suits, appeals and applications in Schedule IV.

247. (1) The suits, appeals and applications specified in Schedule IV shall be instituted and made within the time prescribed in that Schedule for them respectively; and every such suit or appeal instituted, or application made, after the period of limitation so prescribed, shall be dismissed, although limitation has not been pleaded. [1885, s. 184.]

(2) Nothing in this section shall revive the right to institute any suit or appeal or make any application which would have been barred by limitation if it had been instituted or made immediately before the commencement of this Act.

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter XIX.—Limitation.—Chapter XX.—Supplemental.—Clauses 248—250.)

Portions of the Indian Limitation Act not applicable to such suits, &c.

248. (1) Sections 6 to 9 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, shall not apply to the suits and applications mentioned in section 247.

[1885, s. 185.] [IX of 1908.]

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, shall apply to all suits, appeals and applications mentioned in section 247.

CHAPTER XX

SUPPLEMENTAL.

Penalties.

Penalties.

249. (1) If any person, otherwise than in accordance with this Act or some other enactment for the time being in force,—

[1885, s. 186. 1859, s. 145.]

(a) distrains or attempts to distrain the produce of a tenant's holding, or

(b) resists a distraint duly made under this Act, or forcibly or clandestinely removes any property duly distrained under this Act, or

(c) except with the authority or consent of the tenant, prevents or attempts to prevent the reaping, gathering, storing, removing or otherwise dealing with any produce of a holding, or

[Sub-clause (d) struck out in Select Committee.]

(dd) resists or obstructs any officer acting under sub-section (3) of section 103C,

[Sub-clause (dd) added in Select Committee.]

he shall be deemed to have committed criminal trespass within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

[XLV of 1860.]

[Sub-clause (2) struck out in Select Committee.]

(3) Any person who abets, within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, the doing of any act mentioned in sub-section (1), shall be deemed to have abetted the commission of criminal trespass within the meaning of that Code.

[XLV of 1860.]

Damages for denial of Landlord's title.

Damages for denial of landlord's title.

250. (1) When, in any suit under this Act, the tenant renounces his character as tenant of the landlord by setting up without reasonable or probable cause title in a third person or himself, the Court may pass a decree in favour of the landlord for such amount of damages, not exceeding ten times the amount of the annual rent payable by the tenant, as it may consider to be just.

[1885, s. 68A.]

(2) The amount of damages decreed under sub-section (1), together with any interest falling due thereon, shall, subject to the landlord's charge for rent, be a first charge on the tenure or holding of the tenant, and the landlord may execute such decree for damages and interest, either as a decree for a sum of money, or, subject to the provisions of section 221, in any of the modes in which a decree for rent may be executed.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XX.—Supplemental.—Clauses 251—254)

Agents and representatives of landlords.

Power for landlord to act through agent

251 (1) Any appearance, application or act, in, before or to any Court or authority, required or authorized by this Act to be made or done by a landlord, may, unless the Court or authority otherwise directs, be made or done also by an agent empowered in this behalf by a written authority under the hand of the landlord.

[1885, ss. 146, 187.]

(2) Every notice required by this Act to be served on, or given to, a landlord shall, if served on, or given to, an agent empowered as aforesaid to accept service of or receive the same on behalf of the landlord, be as effectual for the purposes of this Act as if it had been served on, or given to, the landlord in person

(3) Every document required by this Act to be signed or certified by a landlord, except an instrument appointing or authorising an agent, may be signed or certified by an agent of the landlord authorized in writing in that behalf

Joint landlords to act collectively or by common agent

252 Where two or more persons are joint-landlords, anything which the landlord is under this Act required or authorized to do must be done either by both or all those persons acting together, or by an agent authorized to act on behalf of both or all of them

[1885, s. 188.]

Procedure in suits by joint-landlords

253. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, every suit under this Act instituted by—

[1885, s. 188A.]

(a) a sole landlord,

(b) the entire body of landlords, or

(c) one or more co-sharer landlords, shall be subject to the provisions of sections 201 to 213;

and to every decree referred to in sub-section (1) of section 221, and to every decree in a suit framed under section 208, the provisions of Chapter XVII shall, so far as may be practicable, be applicable.

Rules under Act.

Power to make rules regarding procedure, powers of officers and service of notices.

254. The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, make rules—

[1885, s. 189 Notfn.]

(1) to regulate the procedure to be followed by Revenue officers in the discharge of any duty imposed, or the exercise of any power conferred, upon them by or under this Act, and may by such rules confer upon any such officer—

(a) any power exercised by a Civil Court in the trial of suits,

(b) power to enter upon any land, and to survey, demarcate and make a map of the same, and any power exerciseable by any officer under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875; and

Ben. Act V of 1875

(c) power to cut and thresh the crops on any land and weigh the produce, with a view to estimating the capabilites of the soil;

(1a) to prescribe the procedure to be adopted, the agency to be employed and the documents to be used in the framing and publication of Land Records, or any portion thereof, under Chapter XII;

(1b) to prescribe the officers to whom applications should be made under section 169 for the sale of crops or products distrained under Chapter XIV: and

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XX.—Supplemental.—Clauses 255—258.)

(2) to prescribe the forms to be used and the mode of service of notices issued, under this Act, where no form or mode is prescribed by this or any other Act

Publication of rules in draft.

255. All powers conferred by this Act for making rules are subject to the condition that the rules be made after previous publication

[1885, s. 190 Notfn., 1908, s. 206(1).]

Provisions as to temporarily-settled districts

Saving as to tenancies held in estates which have never been permanently settled

256. Where the area comprised in a tenancy is situated in an estate which has never been permanently settled, nothing in this Act shall prevent the enhancement of the rent upon the expiration of a temporary settlement of the land-revenue, unless the right to hold beyond the term of the settlement at a particular rate of rent has been expressly recognized in settlement proceedings by a revenue-authority empowered by the Government to make definitively or confirm settlements.

[1885, s. 191, Notfn.]
[An omission was made from this clause in Select Committee.]

Power to alter rent in case of new assessment of land-revenue

257. When a landlord grants a lease, or makes any other contract, purporting to entitle the tenant of land not included in an area permanently settled to hold that land free of rent or at a particular rent, and while the lease or contract is in force—

[1885, s. 192, Notfn.]

(a) land-revenue is for the first time made payable in respect of the land, or

(b) land-revenue having been previously payable in respect of it, a fresh settlement of land-revenue is made, a Revenue-officer may, notwithstanding anything in the contract between the parties, by order, on the application of the landlord or of the tenant, or of his own motion, fix a fair and equitable rent for the land in accordance with the provisions of this Act

Remission and suspension of rent

258. (1) Whenever from any cause the payment of the whole or any part of the land-revenue payable in respect of any land, not included in an area which has been permanently settled, is remitted or suspended, a Revenue-officer may, by general or special order, remit or suspend, as the case may be, the payment of the rent of that land to an amount which may bear the same proportion to the whole of the rent payable in respect of the land as the land-revenue of which the payment has been remitted or suspended bears to the whole of the land-revenue payable in respect of the land, and may distribute the amount so remitted or suspended amongst the tenants holding such land as may seem to him to be equitable, having regard to the effect on their tenures or holdings of the cause which has led to the remission or suspension of the land-revenue

[1898, s. 18 (1) to (5).]

Provided that, where the rent is taken by actual division of the produce, no portion of it shall be suspended under this section.

(2) An order passed under sub-section (1) shall not be liable to be contested by suit in any Court

(3) No suit shall lie for the recovery of any rent of which the payment has been remitted, or, during the period of suspension, of any rent of which the payment has been suspended; and, so long as a suit does not lie, such rent shall not be legally payable.

(4) Where the payment of rent has been suspended, the period of suspension shall be excluded in the computation of the period of limitation provided for bringing a suit for the recovery of the rent.

Orissa Tenancy

(Chapter XX.—Supplemental—Clauses 259—261.)

(5) The provisions of this section relating to the remission and suspension of the payment of rent may be applied, as far as may be, to land of which the land-revenue has been wholly or in part released, compounded for or redeemed, in any case in which, if the land-revenue in respect of the land had not been released, compounded for or redeemed, the whole or any part of it might, in the opinion of the Revenue officer, have been remitted or suspended

Recovery of certain dues.

Recovery of certain dues

259 The provisions of this Act applicable to arrears of rent and to suits and proceedings for the recovery thereof shall, as far as may be, apply to anything payable or deliverable in respect of— [1885, s 193]

(a) any sub-proprietary interest,

(b) any nij-jote, khamar, khudkast or nij-chas land held by co-sharers,

(bb) any land held by co-sharers, under the provisions of sub-sections (2*a*) and (2*b*) of section 21, and [Sub-clause (bb) added in Select Committee.]

(c) any rights of pasturage, forest rights, rights over fisheries and the like.

[Sub-clause (2) struck out in Select Committee.]

Saving for conditions binding on landlords

Tenant not enabled by Act to violate conditions binding on landlord

260. Where a proprietor, sub-proprietor or permanent tenure-holder holds his estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure subject to the observance of any specified rule or condition, nothing in this Act shall entitle any person occupying land within the estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenure to do any act which involves a violation of that rule or condition. [1885, s 194]

Savings for special enactments

Savings for special enactments.

261. Nothing in this Act shall affect— [1885, s 195]

(a) the powers and duties of Settlement-officers as defined by any law not expressly repealed by this Act,

(b) any enactment regulating the procedure for the realization of rents in estates belonging to the Government, or under the management of the Court of Wards or of the Revenue-authorities,

(c) any enactment relating to the avoidance of tenancies and incumbrances by a sale for arrears of the Government revenue,

(d) any enactment relating to the partition of revenue-paying estates,

(e) any enactment relating to patni tenures, in so far as it relates to those tenures, or [1859, s. 166.]

(f) any other special or local law not repealed either expressly or by necessary implication by this Act.

Clause 3.—Appointment of Mines Board of Health.

2. We have increased the maximum number of members from eight to nine, and have provided that, ordinarily, two members shall be nominated by owners of mines, but that, if the Board consists of more than five members, three shall be so nominated. We have left to the Local Government the appointment of one of the members as Chairman. Owing to the varying nature of the areas within which such Boards of Health may be created, we have given to the Local Government a free hand in the selection of members.

Clause 4.—Procedure for the formation of a mining settlement.

3. We have given to the Local Government power to take steps towards the declaration of an area as a mining settlement, either on its own motion or at the instance of a Mines Board of Health.

Clause 5.—Duties of sanitary officers under the Board.

4. We have made it clear that the Sanitary officer, in addition to the ordinary duties of submitting proposals for improved sanitation, shall exercise certain executive functions subject to the control of the Mines Board of Health, especially for the purpose of dealing with outbreaks of epidemic disease.

Clause 7.—Notice to execute works of sanitation.

5. The Bill, as introduced, provides that notices may be issued to owners of mines and owners of lands. We have retained the word "owners" with reference to mines only; and have designated the other class as landholders, who are described in a new sub-clause (2) under clause 7, and include permanent tenure-holders. We have thought it desirable to impose on proprietors the liability to execute works of sanitation in the cases in which the land in question has been let out to temporary lease-holders.

Clause 11.—Apportionment of expenses.

6. We have separated the charges leviable on account of the general administration of the Mines Board of Health and the charges leviable on account of action taken in the case of specific areas. We have ascertained that, on the basis of the existing payments of road cess by mine-owners and royalty-receivers, a fair apportionment of charges would be nine-tenths to the former and one-tenth to the latter; but we do not think that it is desirable to give statutory validity to this proportion, and have accordingly left the proportion to be paid by these two bodies respectively to be decided from time to time by the Local Government. But we trust that, at the outset, when this Bill comes into operation, the above proportion may be laid down by rule. On the other hand, we have departed from the provisions of sub-clause (3) of clause 7, as introduced, by declaring that the distribution of charges amongst owners of mines shall be in proportion to output, and that the similar distribution of charges amongst the royalty-receivers shall be in proportion to the incidence of cess upon them. This proposal was made by the Committee of the Indian Mining Association; and it is likely to prove more equitable than the original provision in the Bill.

Clause 11 [sub-clause (4)].—Appeals.

7. We have provided under this sub-clause for the adjudication of charges by the Mines Board of Health, and for an appeal to the Commissioner in the case of expenses incurred at the instance of the Board by a holder of land under clause 7.

Clause 12.—Rule-making powers.

8. These have been enlarged. In particular, provision is now made for the methods of calculating and recovering charges due to the Board. The provisions of clause 5 (3) (iii) and clause 6 have been embodied in this clause.

Clause 17.—Penalties.

9. A new provision has been added that any fines realized under this section are to be credited to the Mines Board of Health concerned, to be employed in furtherance of the objects of the Act.

to provide for the better control and sanitation of Mining Settlements in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the better control and sanitation of mining settlements in Bengal;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Mining Settlements Act, 1912, and

Definitions.

2. The expressions "agent," "employed," "mine" and "owner", as used in this Act, shall have the same meaning as in section 3 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901. VIII of 1901.

Appointment of Mines Board of Health.

3 (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, appoint, for any area or areas in which persons employed in a mine reside, a Mines Board of Health, consisting of not less than five or more than nine persons; and shall appoint one of the members to be Chairman.

[Sub-clauses (2) and (3) omitted.]

(4) Two of the persons appointed under sub-section (1) shall be nominated by owners of mines or their representatives, provided that, if the Board consists of more than five members, three shall be so nominated. [Cf 1901, s. 9 (d).]

(5) One of the persons appointed under sub-section (1) shall be nominated by persons who receive royalties, rents or fines from mines.

(6) Nominations under sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) must be made under such procedure, and within such period, as may be prescribed by rules made under this Act, and, in default of nomination in accordance with such rules, the Local Government may appoint any person it thinks fit.

Procedure for declaring area to be a mining settlement.

4. [Sub-clause (1) omitted.]

(2) The Local Government may, of its own motion, or after considering any report submitted to it by a Mines Board of Health, publish a notice in the local official Gazette and in such other manner (if any) as it may think fit, intimating its intention to declare any area (not being or forming part of a mine) to be a mining settlement for the purposes of this Act. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 640.]

The Bengal Mining Settlements Bill, 1912.

(Clauses 5-7)

(3) The Local Government shall consider any objections to the intended declaration which may be submitted to it in writing within such period as may be specified in this behalf in the said notice, [Cf. Ben Act III of 1899, s. 641.]

and may then, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that any area or portion of an area referred to in the said notice shall, for the purposes of this Act, be a mining settlement, and be subject to the authority of such Mines Board of Health as the Local Government may designate Appointment, status and duties of Sanitary Officers.

5. (1) The Local Government shall appoint as many Sanitary Officers as it may consider necessary for mining settlements, and shall declare the Mines Board of Health to which each such officer shall be subordinate

(2) Every Sanitary Officer shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code [Cf. 1901, s. 4 (4).] XLV of 1860

(3) It shall be the duty of a Sanitary Officer appointed to a mining settlement or any part thereof—

(a) to report to the Mines Board of Health what measures should, in his opinion, be taken —

(i) to provide for the supply of filtered, boiled or other water,

(ii) to provide for sanitation and conservancy, and

(iii) (Omitted.) [Cf Act III of 1897, s 3(1).]

(iv) to provide for the housing of residents, and

(b) (Omitted)

(bb) to exercise, subject to the control of the Mines Board of Health to which he is subordinate, such other functions, consistent with the objects of this Act and calculated to prevent the outbreak or spread of dangerous epidemic disease, as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct, or as may be delegated to him by such Board [Sub-clause (bb) added in Select Committee.]

6. (Omitted)

Notice requiring owners to execute and maintain works of sanitation, or to carry on periodical sanitary operations.

7. (1) If the Mines Board of Health approve any measures reported by a Sanitary Officer under clause (a) of sub-section (3) of section 5, or if they consider that any other measures should be taken to provide for any of the purposes referred to in that clause,

the Board shall serve,—

(a) on the owners of all mines in which are employed persons residing in the mining settlement, or in the part of the mining settlement to which such measures relate, or

(b) on the holders of the land occupied by such mining settlement or part, if they are not the owners of the said mines, a notice specifying such measures and requiring such owners or landholders—

(i) to execute, within a period to be fixed by the notice, all works that the Board may consider necessary for carrying such measures into effect, and to maintain in good repair all works so executed, or

(ii) to carry on continuously such periodical operations as the Board may direct, for carrying such measures into effect, or

The Bengal Mining Settlements Bill, 1912.

(Clauses 8-11.)

(iii) both to execute and maintain works and to carry on operations as aforesaid.

(2) Nothing in this section shall apply to landholders other than proprietors, permanent tenure-holders rent-free holders or holders of a maintenance grant.

[Sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

Power for Mines Board of Health to execute work in default of owners.

8. If any work required by a notice served under section 7 be not executed to the satisfaction of the Board within the period fixed by the notice, or within such further period (if any) as may be allowed by the Board, or if any work executed in pursuance of any such notice be not maintained in repair to the satisfaction of the Board, or if any operations required by any such notice be not carried on to the satisfaction of the Board, the Board, after serving a warning notice on the defaulters, shall prepare an estimate of the cost of the work which ought, in their opinion, to be carried out, and may entertain any establishment necessary for the preparation of such estimate, and may also cause such work to be executed.

Power for Chairman to discharge functions of Board in certain cases.

9. Any of the powers or duties conferred or imposed by section 7 or section 8 upon a Mines Board of Health may be exercised or performed by the Chairman of the Board in any case which he considers to be of such urgency as to render it impracticable to hold a meeting of the Board

Service of notices.

10 Any notice sent by post under section 7 or section 8 shall be forwarded under registered cover.

[Cf. Ben. Act I of 1899, s. 28.]

Charging, apportionment and recovery of expenses.

11 (1) All expenses incurred by a Mines Board of Health for the purposes of this Act, other than expenses under section 8 and section 9, shall be charged to—

(a) all owners of mines in which are employed persons residing in the mining settlements which are subject to the authority of that Board, and

(b) all persons who receive any royalty, rent or fine from such mines

(2) All expenses incurred by a Mines Board of Health under section 8, or by the Chairman thereof under section 9, whether or not they exceed the estimate prepared under the former section, and all expenses incurred by any holder of land in executing or maintaining any work or carrying on any operations in pursuance of a notice served under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 7 shall be charged to—

(i) all owners of mines in which are employed persons residing in the settlement or part, and

(ii) all persons who receive any royalty, rent or fine from such mines

Provided that, if it can be shown to the satisfaction of the Board that the insanitary condition is distinctly referable to any act or omission on the part of one or more mine-owners in respect to his or their property, the Board may direct that the expenses incurred shall be payable by such owner or owners only.

[Proviso added in Select Committee.]

[Sub-clause (3) replaced by sub-clauses (3a) and (3b).]

(3a) Save in the case specified in the proviso to sub-section (2), the expenses referred to in sub-sections (1) and (2) shall be charged to the said owners and persons in such proportions as the Local Government may, from time to time, direct:

The Bengal Mining Settlements Bill, 1912.

(Clause 12.)

Provided that the assessment shall be based—

(i) in the case of owners of mines, on the output of their mines; and

(ii) in the case of the receivers of any royalty, rent or fine, on the road cess payable by such persons

(3b) All expenses chargeable under this section shall be recoverable as if they were arrears of land-revenue

(4) When any expenses incurred by any holder of land in executing or maintaining any work or carrying on any operations in pursuance of a notice served under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 7, have been recovered, they shall be repaid to him.

Provided that, if any question arises as to the amount of expenses incurred by such landholder, the award of the Mines Board of Health shall, subject to an appeal to the Commissioner, be final

[Proviso added in Select Committee.]

Power to make rules.

12 (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, make rules for carrying out the purposes and objects of this Act in respect of all mining settlements or any groups or classes of mining settlements

[Cf 1901, s. 20.]

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) provide for the nomination, appointment and tenure of office of members of a Mines Board of Health, and regulate the procedure of such Board and the powers and functions of the Chairman,

(aa) regulate all expenditure to be incurred by a Mines Board of Health, and the methods under which sums due to it may be calculated and recovered;

[Sub clause (aa) added in Select Committee.]

(b) regulate the duties and powers of Sanitary Officers, and provide for appeals from their orders,

(c) prescribe the duties of owners, agents and managers of mines in respect of mining settlements, and of all persons acting under them;

(d) prescribe the matters in respect of which notices, returns and reports shall be furnished by owners, agents and managers of mines, the form of such notices, returns and reports, the persons and authorities to whom they are to be furnished, and the particulars to be contained in them,

(e) prescribe the plans (if any) to be kept by owners, agents and managers of mines in respect of mining settlements, and the manner and places in which they are to be kept for purposes of record;

(f) (omitted),

(g) provide for the supply of filtered, boiled or other water, and for sanitation and conservancy, in mining settlements;

(gg) provide for the taking of measures to prevent the outbreak or spread of dangerous epidemic disease in mining settlements,

[Sub-clause (gg) added in Select Committee.]

(3) The power to make rules conferred by this section is subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

[Cf Ben. Act I of 1899, s. 24.]

(4) The date to be specified as that on or after which a draft of rules proposed to be made under this section will be taken into consideration shall not be less than three months from the date on which the draft of the proposed rules was published for general information.

The Bengal Mining Settlements Bill, 1912.

(Clauses 13-17.)

(5) Where a Mining Board has been constituted under section 9 of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, any rule to be made under this Act shall, before it is published for criticism under sub-section (3), be referred to the Mining Board, and the rule shall not be so published until the said Board has been consulted as to the suitability of its provisions.

VIII of 1901.

(6) All rules made under this section shall be published in the local official Gazette, and, on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

13 (Omitted.)

Powers of Sanitary Officers.

14. A Sanitary Officer may, within any mining settlement for which he is appointed,— [Cf. 1901, s. 6.]

(a) make such examination and inquiry as he thinks fit, in order to ascertain whether the provisions of this Act and of the rules and orders made thereunder are observed;

(b) enter, with such assistants (if any) as he thinks fit, inspect and examine any mining settlement or any part thereof, at all reasonable times by day or by night;

(c) examine into, and make inquiry respecting, the sanitary condition of any mining settlement or any part thereof, and the sufficiency of the rules for the time being in force in the settlement; and

Facilities to be afforded to Sanitary Officers.

15. The owners, agents and managers of mines in which are employed persons residing in any mining settlement, or [Cf. 1901, s. 7.]

the owners of the land occupied by such settlement, if they are not the owners of such mines, shall furnish the Sanitary Officer, on requisition, with all reasonable facilities for making any entry, inspection, examination or inquiry under this Act, in relation to the sanitary condition of such settlement.

Powers of Mines Boards of Health for obtaining evidence.

16. A Mines Board of Health shall have the powers of a Civil Court for the purpose of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents; and every person required by any such Board to furnish information before it shall be deemed to be legally bound to do so within the meaning of section 176 of the Indian Penal Code. [Cf. 1901, s. 11 (3).]

XLV of 1860.

Penalties for offences.

17. (1) Whoever obstructs any Sanitary Officer in the discharge of his duties under this Act, or refuses or wilfully neglects to furnish him with the means necessary for making any entry, inspection, examination or inquiry thereunder in relation to any mining settlement, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both. [Cf. 1901, s. 22.]

(2) Whoever makes, gives or delivers any notice or return required by or under this Act which contains a statement, entry or detail which is not, to the best of his knowledge or belief, true, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(3) Whoever—

(a) fails to comply with any requisition or order made under any provision of this Act or of any rule or order made thereunder; or

The Bengal Mining Settlements Bill, 1912.

(Clauses 18-21.)

(b) contravenes any provision of this Act or any rule or order thereunder, for the breach of which no penalty is otherwise provided, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing breach under clause (a) of this sub-section, with a further fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day during which the breach is proved to have been persisted in after the date of the receipt by him of the requisition or order referred to in that clause.

(4) All fines realized under this section shall be made over to the Mines Board of Health at whose instance the prosecution was instituted, to be employed in furtherance of the objects of this Act. [Sub-clause 4 added in Select Committee.]

Prosecution of owner, agent or manager.

18. No prosecution shall be instituted against any owner, agent or manager of a mine for any offence against this Act or any rule or order thereunder, except at the instance of a Mines Board of Health. [Cf. 1901, s. 23.]

Limitation of prosecutions.

19 No Court shall take cognizance of any offence against this Act or any rule or order thereunder, unless complaint thereof is made within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed [Cf. 1901, s. 24.]

Cognizance of offences

20. No Court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the first class or Sub-divisional Magistrate shall try any offence against this Act or any rule or order thereunder which— [Cf. 1901, s 25.]

(a) is alleged to have been committed by any owner, agent or manager of a mine, or

Power of Local Government to alter or rescind orders

21. The Local Government may reverse or modify any order passed under this Act by any authority. [Cf. 1901, s. 30.]

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

ALLEGED ARREST OF BABU BEPIN CHANDRA PAL

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

I. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an incident reported in the Bengalee of the 14th instant, concerning the arrest of Babu Bepin Chunder Pal on a charge of theft of a woollen sheet preferred by a man alleged to be an informer in the Criminal Investigation Department?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is true that Babu Bepin Chunder Pal was arrested by the Sub-Inspector of the Sookea Street Thana on the charge above mentioned and brought out into the street in consequence, and that he was released on his explaining that the complainant had voluntarily left the sheet behind, and that he (Babu Bepin Chunder Pal) had caused it to be sent to Rai Benode Bihari Gupta Bahadur, an officer of the Criminal Investigation Department?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to inquire into the circumstances and publish the result of the inquiry?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(b) It is not true that Babu Bepin Chandra Pal was arrested or that he was released on his explaining, firstly, that the complainant had voluntarily left his alwan behind, and secondly, that he (Babu Bepin Chandra Pal) had caused it to be sent to the Criminal Investigation Department.

(c) Government has caused an inquiry to be made and the police report of the facts is placed on the table"

Police Report referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore in answer to Question No. 1, asked by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu at the Council Meeting of the 6th March, 1912.

ON the 30th December last, Babu Bepin Chandra Pal left his house at Kalighat by tram at about 9-30 A.M. He was followed by a watcher who proceeded in the trailer car and accompanied Bepin Babu as far as Dr Sundari Mohan Das' house, at No 76-77, Sukeas Street The watcher remained outside in the street. At about 1-30 P.M Babu Bepin Chandra Pal came out of Dr. Das' house and stood on the footpath on Cornwallis Street. The watcher remained at some little distance. Babu Bepin Chandra Pal suddenly turned round and walking fast to where the watcher was standing, caught hold of him by his alwan and demanded his name. The watcher inquired for what purpose his name was wanted. Babu Bepin Chandra Pal is then reported to have pulled the watcher by the ear and dragged him by his alwan towards Dr. Das' house, at the same time calling to the durwan of the house to come and seize the watcher. Fearing that he would be assaulted inside the house, the watcher escaped, leaving his alwan in Bepin Babu's hand. Bepin Babu shouted to a sweetmeat shop-keeper, who was standing by, to capture the watcher. The sweetmeat vendor proceeded in pursuit of the watcher, but was almost immediately called back by Babu Bepin Chandra and his durwan. The watcher proceeded to the Sukeas Street Thana where he reported the occurrence to Sub-Inspector H. C Laheri who is in charge of the station. Sub-Inspector Laheri, on receipt of this news, accompanied the watcher to the house of Dr. Das taking with him a Head Constable and two constables. On arriving at the house he called out to the durwan but received no response. Shortly afterwards he saw a servant leaving the house with a bundle and a letter This was evidently the watcher's wrapper which was returned that same afternoon by Babu Bepin Chandra Pal to the late Rai Bahadur Gupta with a letter, which runs as follows :—

Saturday, 30-12-1911.

MY DEAR BINODE BABU.

It was reported to me that a man was shadowing me and making inquiries after me at Dr Das' house He was pointed out to me this afternoon by Dr. Das' durwan and

I went up to him to ask him about his name and business, and wanted him to come to Dr Das' door to be confronted by the durwan He took fright at this and ran away leaving his wrapper behind I send this to you and bring it to your notice

Yours sincerely,

Sub-Inspector H. C. Laheri, after repeated calls, eventually obtained a response from Babu Bepin Chandra Pal who came to the door of the house and inquired what the matter was. On being informed of the complaint which had been made against him, Bepin Babu stated that he was annoyed at the Police coming to make an inquiry in such a trivial matter when he was in a friend's house, as this was likely to be taken exception to by his friend The Sub-Inspector invited Babu Bepin Chandra to leave the house in order that the inquiry might be conducted elsewhere. Babu Bepin Chandra Pal then came out on the street and on seeing the Police there inquired if he was to be arrested. He complained that the officer who was shadowing him had behaved in an objectionable manner, as he had been making inquiries about him from the servants in Dr. Das' house He admitted having caught hold of the watcher by his wrapper and having dragged him towards the house in order to take his name and address and get him identified by the durwan and the servants, and also admitted having ordered the sweetmeat vendor to pursue the watcher. On this Sub Inspector Laheri, who was present at Bombay on the occasion of Babu Bepin Chandra Pal's recent conviction in the Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court at Bombay, reminded the latter of this incident and remarked that he would not have expected this conduct from him after what he had said in tears in the Court on that occasion. On this Babu Bepin Chandra asked the Sub-Inspector to let this matter drop, turn away the spectators who had collected on the spot and to come inside the house. Dr. Sundari Mohan Das himself then arrived on the scene and in the presence of Bepin Pal, apologised for the latter's conduct Dr. Das and Babu Bepin Pal then both asked the Sub-Inspector to forget the incident and not to give any publicity to it. The Sub-Inspector then left the spot and took no further action in the matter, beyond recording the facts in his thana case register.

It is not true that Bepin Pal was arrested by the Sub-Inspector in connection with this case or that he was released on explaining that the complainant had voluntarily left his alwan behind GRIEVANCES OF CIVIL ASSISTANT SURGEONS IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF GOVERNMENT.

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT asked :—

II. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the articles that appeared in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 18th, 20th and 27th January last, regarding the grievances of Civil Assistant Surgeons in the employ of Government?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the allegations in the said articles as to the difference in the standard of qualifications required for a Civil and Military Assistant Surgeon, respectively, are substantially true?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what rates of pay are drawn by, and what posts are open to, Civil Assistant Surgeons and Military Assistant Surgeons, respectively?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the number of Civil Surgeonships that have been allotted to the Subordinate Medical Service Department, and the proportion in which these appointments have been distributed between Civil and Military Assistant Surgeons?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what action, if any, it intends to take in regard to the representation of grievances submitted to it by the Civil Assistant Surgeons some five years ago?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state what rates of pay it intends to give to Civil Assistant Surgeons?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

(b) A statement is laid on the table showing the qualifications required from candidates for each service and the length and nature of the course and the method of examination in each case.

(c) A statement showing the rates of pay drawn by Military and Civil Assistant Surgeons is laid on the table. Government assists the Military authorities by maintaining in civil employment a war reserve of Military Assistant Surgeons and with that view 23 appointments are set aside to be filled by Military Assistant Surgeons. The Assistant Surgeons holding these appointments receive only the pay of their grade. Both Civil and Military Assistant Surgeons are eligible for Civil Surgeoncies.

(d) In the Province, as it stands at present, 13 Civil Surgeoncies are listed for Assistant Surgeons. The full number cannot be worked up to until the uncovenanted medical officers at present in the service have retired. Of these 13 appointments, 6 are intended for Military Assistant Surgeons and 7 for Civil Assistant Surgeons.

(e) A revised scale of pay will be introduced with effect from 1st April. Orders on the other suggestions made in the memorial have already been passed.

(f) The new scale of pay is set forth in the Resolution published in to-day's Gazette of which a copy is laid on the table."

STATEMENT REFERRED TO BY THE HON'BLE MR. STEPHENSON IN HIS ANSWER TO QUESTION No. II (b) ASKED BY THE HON'BLE MR. K. B. DUTT AT THE COUNCIL MEETING OF THE 6TH MARCH, 1912.

	Military Assistant Surgeons.	Civil Assistant Surgeons.
(1) Preliminary qualifications.	Candidates for admission into the Indian Subordinate Medical Department, before they are admitted for training in the Medical College are required to pass an entrance examination in the following subjects. — (a) English.—Composition (Marks are added to, or subtracted from, the total for spelling, handwriting, and punctuation.) (b) History and Geography.—The outlines of English and Indian History and the elements of Physical and General Geography. (c) Mathematics — Arithmetic.—The four simple rules, Vulgar and Decimal fractions, Reduction, Practice; Proportion, Simple Interest, Extraction of square root; the Metric system. (2) Course of study	In the case of the Military Assistant Surgeons, the course of study extends over four years as follows:— First year.—Anatomy (including Osteology and Dissection); Surgical Applied Anatomy; Physiology; Materia Medica; Chemistry, Outdoor Medical and Surgical Practice; Compounding and Dispensary Practice	The Civil Assistant Surgeons are required to pass the M.B or L M S Examination of the Calcutta University. Under the new University Regulations, the L M.S Examination has been abolished, and the students are now required to pass only the M.B. Examination. The course of study extends over six years as follows —

	Military Assistant Surgeons.	Civil Assistant Surgeons
	Second year.—Anatomy and Dissections; Surgical Applied Anatomy; Physiology and Histology, Materia Medica, Pharmacy and Compounding; Chemistry and Practical Chemistry, Hospital Practice. Third year.—Medicine (systematic and clinical), Surgery (systematic and clinical); Ophthalmology; Post-mortems; Hospital Practice, medical and surgical, Dentistry and Dental Practice; Midwifery (lectures, practical demonstrations, attendance on labour cases), out-patients only. Fourth year.—Medicine, Surgery, and Operative Surgery; Gynæcology and diseases of children (lectures, and wards and out-patients); Pathology (lectures and practical work in laboratoy); Hygiene (including vaccination), Medical, Surgical, Ophthalmic, and Obstetric Hospital practice, Medical Jurisprudence	First year.—Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, and practical classes in all these subjects Second year.—Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, Practical Pharmacy, and Dissections. Third year—Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, Organic Chemistry, Dissections and Practical classes in Physiology and Organic Chemistry. Fourth year. Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery, Pathology, Medical Jurisprudence, Dental Surgery, Hospital Practice (12 months.) Fifth year.—Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery, Hygiene, Ophthalmic Surgery, Operative Surgery, Mental Disease, Practical Pathology and Bacteriology, Hospital Practice (12 months.) Sixth year.—Hospital Practice (12 months) For details of the syllabus, please see Chapter XLIV of the new University Regulations
(3) Nature of the examination.	At the conclusion of each year's course the military pupils are examined under the direction of the Principal of the College in the subjects of study, and their progress therein is reported to the Director General, Indian Medical Service, who may, if he considers it expedient, remand an unsuccessful student to his studies for a definite period or issue orders for his removal from the College At the conclusion of the Oral and Clinical examination in the subjects in the 4th year in which their practical knowledge is tested, the Principal of the College will report to the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, on their fitness for admission into the Indian Subordinate Medical Department Those declared fit are then examined by written papers issued by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, this examination being common to all the colleges and comprising the following subjects:—Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery, Pathology, Hygiene, and Materia Medica	At the end of the 1st year class.—Honour examination of the college for scholarships and medals of the college Preliminary Scientific M B examination of the Calcutta University. At the end of the 2nd year class.—College Test examination for promotion to the 3rd year class and for award of college scholarships. At the end of the 3rd year class.—Honour examination of the college for scholarships and medals of the college First M.B. examination of the Calcutta University. At the end of the 4th year class.—College Test examination for promotion to the 5th year class At the end of the 5th year class.—Honour examination of the college At the end of the 6th year class.—Second M.B examination of the Calcutta University.
(4) Requirements for promotion from grade to grade.	Subject to good conduct and efficiency, and in the case of 3rd class Military Assistant Surgeons, the passing of an examination as detailed below, a service of five years in the 4th class and of seven in the 3rd and 2nd class, respectively, shall entitle an Assistant Surgeon for promotion to the next higher class. Third class Military Assistant Surgeons before being eligible for promotion are required to pass an examination in Surgery and Surgical Applied Anatomy, Medicine, Materia Medica, Hygiene, Midwifery, Diseases of children, and acquaintance with regulations which govern military hospitals at any time before the 12th year of service. The promotions of 1st class Assistant Surgeons to Senior Assistant Surgeon, with the honorary rank of Lieutenant, and of the latter to Senior Assistant Surgeon, with the honorary rank of Captain, are made by selection for ability and merit.	In the case of the Civil Assistant Surgeons, promotion from 3rd to 2nd grade and from 2nd to 1st grade depends upon passing an examination after seven years' service in each grade The subjects of the examination are as follows:— Medicine, Midwifery, Surgery and Medical Jurisprudence. Promotions from 1st grade to the senior grade are made by selection for ability and merit.

CHAIR OF ANATOMY IN THE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT asked :—

III. Will the Government be pleased to state what action, if any, has been taken with a view to giving effect to the proposal foreshadowed by it in the course of the Budget discussions of 1909-10, that the chair of Anatomy in the Medical College would be bestowed upon a properly qualified private practitioner outside the I. M. S. cadre.

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

"It has been decided to appoint Dewan Hera Lal Basu Bahadur to the professorship of Anatomy in the Medical College."

THE CALCUTTA PORT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1912.

The Hon'ble Mr. Greer in the absence of the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke, presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

The Hon'ble Mr. Greer also moved that the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Greer also moved that the Bill be passed.

He said:—

"It seems unnecessary to delay the Council with any explanation of the terms of this Bill as they are fully set forth in the Statement of Objects and Reasons which has already been published. No amendment has been proposed, the Bill being exceedingly simple. It merely extends the powers of the Vice-Chairman in a reasonable manner and more clearly defines the powers of the Commissioners in dealing with expenditure."

The motion was put and agreed to

THE ORISSA TENANCY BILL, 1911.

The Hon'ble Mr. H. McPherson presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend and consolidate certain enactments relating to the Law of Landlord and Tenant in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore, in the Orissa Division

He said:—

"With your permission, Sir, I present the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend and consolidate certain enactments relating to the Law of Landlord and Tenant in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore in the Orissa Division. The report is accompanied by a copy of the Bill as amended in Select Committee and by the Minutes of Dissent recorded by certain Members of the Committee.

"Although it might have been regarded as more satisfactory, if the Committee had presented a unanimous report, I hope that the Council will not be alarmed by the number or length of the Minutes of Dissent. They are a very common feature of reports on Tenancy Bills. The points of contact and adjustment between landlord and tenant in a complete Tenancy Code are so numerous that it would be surprising if the representatives of the many varying interests concerned came to a unanimous finding on all subjects of discussion. Complete unanimity might, in fact, be regarded with suspicion, as indicating that the examination of the Code had been hasty and superficial. There is no room for this suspicion in the present case. The Committee have held twelve sittings spread over a period of six weeks, and occupying an aggregate time of nearly forty hours. The clauses of the Bill were examined one by one, all the criticisms and suggestions of the local officers and local bodies were duly weighed, the discussions were conducted in a spirit of fairness which did credit to all who took part in them, and the various amendments which have been made in the Bill will, it is hoped, be considered to be improvements.

"It is not my purpose to occupy the time of the Council by going over the principles of the Bill once more, or by explaining the alterations that have been made in Select Committee, or by discussing in detail the Notes of Dissent that are appended to the report. It is sufficient for the present to say that the general principles of the Bill, which were fully explained in my speech of January the 9th, remain untouched, that most of the alterations which are set forth in the present report have been accepted unanimously by the Committee, and that the notes of dissent are concerned with not more than seven points which are of any real importance. These are—(1) the application of the Bill to the killajat estates, (2) the regulation of transfers of holdings, (3) the definition of proprietors' private lands, (4) the protection of communal lands, (5) the treatment of produce-rents, (6) the question of reclamation, and (7) the subject of maintenance of records. Amendments will doubtless be filed in respect of all these matters before the Bill comes on for consideration a fortnight hence, and the Council will then have full opportunity of considering the provisions of the Bill which deal with them. It would be premature to anticipate discussion at the present juncture, and it would also be out of order What I wish to emphasise to-day, is that the mere existence of Notes of Dissent is in itself no argument for the motion which stands in the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Das. We expected them in the ordinary course of business, and we are prepared to discuss them when the proper time arrives."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Before we proceed to the next business, and before I call on the Hon'ble Mr. Das to propose the motion which stands in his name, I feel obliged to call the attention of the Council to a point which I think is of some importance with reference to our procedure. In a leading article in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 5th March, which I have here before me, reference is made to the Hon'ble Mr. Das' motion, and from the article it appears that the Hon'ble Member's Note of Dissent, which has only this morning been laid upon the table as an integral part of the Report of the Select Committee, was thus communicated to the Editor of the paper before being laid before this Council. Now the proceedings of Select Committees have always, by the usage of this Council, been treated as confidential, and it is an innovation—and, in my view, an objectionable innovation—that anything which has formed part of them (whether a discussion during their session or a Minute of Dissent prepared after the close of their deliberations), should be communicated to the Press before the formal Report of the Committee is made public. We have never had any detailed rules laid down as to the procedure for Select Committees or the submission to Council of Notes of Dissent, but the custom that all Select Committee proceedings should be treated as confidential until such time as the Report of the Committee itself is laid before the Council has, so far as I am aware, never been infringed. I should be sorry if it should become necessary for us to alter our practice in this respect and to prescribe definite rules on matters of detail regarding the procedure of Select Committees; it would be much better that the uniform practice of the Council should be maintained. In the the present instance, the objection to the communication of the Hon'ble Member's Note of Dissent to the Press is enhanced by the fact that the Note of Dissent which he so communicated cannot,—as I shall now proceed to explain—be the same as that which has been incorporated with the proceedings of the Select Committee. For, in addition to what appears in the Note of Dissent laid before the Council this morning, the Hon'ble Member had included in his Minute a lengthy criticism of the constitution of the Select Committee and of the procedure followed by it, and I have been obliged to rule that this portion of the Minute can form no proper part of a Note of Dissent, and is out of order, and to direct that it should not be printed as part of the Committee's Report. So far as the Hon'ble Member criticised the constitution of the Select Committee, it appeared to me that he was entirely out of order in doing so, because the time for the discussion of the constitution of the Select Committee was when the Select Committee was appointed. When that stage had once been passed, the matter was not one for comment, so far as the Select Committee itself was concerned, though such constitution might perhaps furnish a reasonable ground for argument later on when the Bill is discussed in Council in detail. Certainly it should form no part of a Minute of Dissent upon the conclusions of the Select Committee. In the same way, but on rather different grounds, discussions of the procedure followed in Select Committee ought to find no part in a Note of Dissent which ought—as the name given to it implies—to be limited entirely to the conclusions arrived at by the Select Committee. The reason for that is,— as I have pointed out —that the proceedings of Select Committees are—according to the invariable practice of the Council—regarded as entirely confidential until their report is published. I do not wish to enlarge further on the point, but Hon'ble Members will at once appreciate the fact that, if the proceedings in Select Committee are not to be treated as confidential, then they must be conducted in an entirely different manner from that which is allowed at present; that is to say, everything that takes place will have formally to be put on record, and every Member must be given an opportunity of taking any objection that he thinks proper to what has been so put on record. It is thus more than probable that, in a controversial matter, very prolonged discussions might take place, and in fact that the whole procedure of working by Select Committees would be altered and rendered much more cumbersome and less effective than it is at present. I do not wish to be misunderstood. I have no wish whatever to limit the right of free speech in this Council, but that is quite a different matter from a resort to personalities and other irrelevant matter in a Minute of Dissent. When any Hon'ble Member has any objection to the way in which the Select Committee has been formed or in which its business has been conducted, it is perfectly open to him to bring the whole matter before the Council for discussion when the Select Committee's Report is taken into consideration; but it is neither fair nor in accordance with the uniform practice of this Council for a Member to include matters of this kind in a Note of Dissent to which other Members, whose status, suitability or conduct may have been reflected upon therein, cannot, in the very nature of the case, have any opportunity of answering.

"I have thought it necessary to make this explanation, so that the somewhat unusual course which I have adopted in ruling that a portion of the Hon'ble Mr. Das' Note of Dissent is out of order may not be misunderstood."

The Hon'ble Mr. Das moved that the Bill to amend and consolidate certain enactments relating to the Law of Landlord and Tenant in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore in the Orissa Division, and the Report of the Select Committee thereon, be not considered in this Council.

He said:—

"Your Honour, I beg to be permitted to say a word in regard to the remarks which have fallen from Your Honour just now. I did not know that it was against the practice of this Council to make any remarks on the constitution of the Select Committee, or that the proceedings of these Committees were of a confidential nature. As far as I remember, though it is not possible for me to quote chapter and verse, there have been, as Your Honour remarked, instances where the constitution of the Select Committee was discussed in Council when the Bill and its provisions were being discussed. I do not like to say anything more on the subject beyond that I should be the last person to disregard a practice of an august body like this Council, if there was anything to make me believe or bring to my knowledge that such was the established practice. I cannot lay my hand now, but I have been very long in this Council, and I remember instances where notes of dissent had appeared in the public papers before they were brought into the Council, but I am sorry if I have violated this practice, and I beg to be excused for it, but it was not done with any intention to go against an established practice.

"The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill in introducing the Select Committee's Report said that it was not possible to avoid differences of opinion in a law which defines the relations between landlord and tenant. Land law includes in it the interest of every one who owns interest in land or lives on it. So consequently there must be points of contact and points of difference. I do not intend now to discuss in detail the provision of the law or rather the provisions of the Bill as to how far they secure or injure the interests of those who have interest in the land. I take for granted that Government intends to do a certain thing, but we know that Government has not at its command the time which is necessary for patient and careful deliberations and discussion on difficult points of law involved in a case like this. Therefore all that I intend to do on the present occasion is simply to show that the Bill in a most remarkable manner, and in the most important cases, fails to accomplish the object for which it is intended.

"The Bengal Tenancy Act was passed in 1885. It did not proprio vigore apply to Orissa, but power was given to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to extend the whole or a portion of the Act to Orissa. The Act was framed to meet the condition of Bengal and Bihar at the time.

"If I were to attempt to show why the Bengal Tenancy Act could not apply, I should be trying the Council's patience. I shall therefore content myself drawing the attention of Hon'ble Members to the statement of the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson made in his speech when referring the Bill to a Select Committee—

'Surprise may be felt that it should not be possible to find salvation for Orissa in a Tenancy Act which was devised after years of deliberation and has proved sufficient for the great congeries of varying races included within the boundaries of Bengal The reason is that, although power was taken in the Bengal Tenancy Act to extend its provisions to Orissa, the needs of Bihar and of Lower Bengal were alone considered in framing that enactment. *The peculiar conditions of Orissa were not taken into account.

In the fiscal and agrarian history of Bengal, Orissa occupies a unique place, *having features essentially different from those which distinguish the rest of the province."

"Here I have the good luck to agree with the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson. Hon'ble Members will please mark the words 'features essentially different.' I should add that Orissa is mostly temporaraly settled Bengal and Bihar enjoy the boon of permanent settlement.

"In 1891 portions of the Act were extended to Orissa for making the Revenue Settlement of Orissa. The Acts and Regulations under which the previous Revenue Settlement had been made were considered unsuited.

"Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act was first introduced for the purpose of revenue settlement. The main object the Government of India had in view in directing that the revenue settlement should be made under Chapter X of the Act was to secure an enhanced revenue; the other object was a classification of the tenancies according to the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The reason for this was that the classification was superior to that embodied in Act X of 1859 and if the record-of-rights were made during the revenue settlement on the basis of the laws in force in Orissa, the subsequent introduction of the Bengal Tenancy Act would be impossible. What was the result of this? The settlement operations began. If the Assistant Settlement Officer happened to be a Bengalee, who was familiar with the rights and interests which the Bengal Tenancy Act deals with, he found on the spot new rights which found no place in the Act. If the Assistant Settlement Officer happened to be an Uriya to whom the local rights in lands were familiar, he received no light from the Act. The Settlement Officer himself was no wiser. He moved the Government to extend some other portion of the Act, as occasions presented difficulties in the working of Chapter X of the Act. All groped in darkness The Supreme Government supremely ignorant of the local conditions were the legally constituted guide. It was a case of blind leading those struggling in darkness Sections after sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act were introduced as difficulties arose during the progress of the settlement operations. Experience of the degree of darkness which surrounded the responsible duties of the Settlement Officer led him to try new openings for additional light, but the additional light showed some more dark spot. Portions of the Act were extended from time to time to remove difficulties, but every new extension started unforeseen difficulties in another quarter. This process was carried on till the Government came to the conclusion that Orissa wanted a special Code adapted to its peculiar circumstances.

"The Settlement Officer did his work heroically just as the village barber performs all surgical operations with his rude nail-cutter.

"A child went with his parent to Bombay en route to England. He had heard that his journey to Bilat would be over the sea. When he saw the sea at Bombay, he said to his father, Papa dekho bura Bilatee panee. He had learnt the expression Bilatee panee in Calcutta, as that is the word used of aerated water. The child thought he saw a sea of aerated waters. This is what the Settlement Officers did

"It is not necessary for my present purpose to give an exhaustive list of all instances of erroneous classification of rights in land. I shall just mention two instances.

"In the Bill, Hon'ble Members will find the word bajiaftidar defined in sub-clause (2) of clause 3 of the Bill. A bajiaftidar is a person whose claim to hold land revenue free was adjudicated under the old Regulation. Revenue was assessed on the lands in his possession. He did not pay rent to the zamindar, but he paid the Government revenue through the zamindar. So he was a proprietor, not a tenant. The Hon'ble Mr. Maddox in his letter No. A., dated the 6th April, 1909, in paper No. 2 regulating to this Bill says:—

* The italics are the Hon'ble Mr. Das'.

'The bajeaftidars complain that they are by origin proprietors and not tenants. Historically this is true...... The bajiaftidars are not therefore by origin at any rate tenants within the meaning of section 3 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, because the person under whom they now hold does not *own the bajiafti land.'

"But what status was given to this class in the settlement of 1899-1900? Let me refer again to the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox. He says:

'In the settlement of 1899-1900 some of them have been recorded as tenure-holders and some as raiyats in accordance *with the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The effect of this has been to reduce them to the position of tenure-holders and raiyats pure and simple, more especially as their assets have been distributed exactly in the same way as those of other tenants They have thus suffered material injury in the following ways:—

'Zamindars are now treating them as ordinary tenants, forbidding their transfers or only permitting their transfers on receipt of salami, where they are classed as tenure-holders, their raiyats can apply for commutation of produce rents, though they themselves depend on produce for their living or for their worship or for their charities; where they are classed as raiyats, they are tied down by the provisions of section 48 and cannot get more than 25 per cent from their under-raiyats, in excess of the low rents which they themselves pay, except by registered agreement, and then only 50 per cent. in excess; and where their lands are acquired by Government, zamindars are resisting their claims to a substantial share of the award.'

"These bajiaftidars are not by any means an insignificant class. They possess 21 per cent. of the total number of holdings, 17 per cent., that is ⅙ of the cultivated area, and pay 9½ per cent. of the assets. This is an instance of erroneous classification.

"I shall next refer to nij-jote or proprietor's private lands The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson in his speech when referring the Bill to a Select Committee very lucidly explained that it was the object of the Bill to ear-mark proprietor's private lands and leave the remaining cultivated area as raiyati stock. In the former the raiyat cannot acquire right of occupancy, so long as they were let under a lease or year by year. In the latter the raiyat can always acquire a right of occupancy.

"It is admitted that during the Revenue Settlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act two words were used in recording the lands in actual possession of proprietors. These words were nij-jote and nij chas. All lands in possession of tenure-holders were recorded as as nij-chas. This was done because section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act speaks of only proprietor's private land, and not tenure-holder. The most curious thing in this connection is that section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was not extended to Orissa till 1906, i.e., six years after the completion of the settlement. The law in force in Orissa was section 6 of Act X of 1859. That section protects the nij-jote lands of tenure-holders. That section says 'but this rule does not apply to khamar, nij-jote or seer belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure.'

"This distinction of nij-jote and nij-chas is arbitrary. The word nij-chas means lands cultivated by self, meaning the zamindar or tenure-holder himself.

"What they did in the Revenue Settlement of 1891-1900 was to record as nij-jote those lands which were recorded as such in the Revenue Settlement of 1838, and as nij-chas the remaining lands under the proprietor's actual cultivation.

"The total area recorded as nij-jote of proprietor's tenure-holders in 1838 was 88,700 acres."

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN, said:—

"May I rise to a point of order, Sir. The provisions of the Bill, I understand, are to be discussed later on, but Mr. Das is discussing them now."

* The italics are the Hon'ble Mr. Das'.

The Hon'ble Mr. DAS said:—

"My object, Your Honour, is just to show that the Bill as it stands raises questions which defeat the very object which the Hon'ble Member says the Bill has to secure. If Your Honour will allow me a little more time, I will show that there is not time at the command of this Council to discuss this technical point of law which has been raised, and I shall show conclusively that if the Government wishes to make any concessions by passing the Bill as it stands, they will just do the reverse of what they intend to do, therefore my contention is that this Bill—there being no time at the command of this Council—should not be further considered in this Council."

The PRESIDENT said —

"I have been waiting to try to grasp the relevance of the point which the Hon'ble Member has been discussing, and I have not so far been able to do so. On his explanation I am willing to allow him to proceed, but I must remind him that his line of argument is apparently based on the fact that this Council will not be able to discuss the Bill, as there is so much to be discussed, and the line of now examining in detail everything that has to be discussed in this Council will take up its time rather unnecessarily. I think it would be more to the point if the Hon'ble Member confines himself to showing why the Council will not be able to discuss the Bill without going into the merits of the clauses."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said —

"It will thus be seen that the proprietor and tenure-holder were unlawfully deprived of their nij-jote lands. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson calls this a generous concession to the land-owners of Orissa. All that is proposed to be done is to change the word nij-chas to nij jote.

"I have given two instances, and with Your Honour's permission I would like to show how large classes of people have been divested of their lawful rights by the erroneous procedure of the Settlement Departments, how what was meant to be record-of-rights has become in many cases record-of-wrongs.

"I appreciate the generous desire to arrive at status quo ante. This naturally leads to the question, does the Bill provide the proper remedy?

"Those responsible for the drafting of this Bill had most difficult work before them. My criticism of their work is not without an appreciation of their difficulties

"I do not think in the whole history of this Council there has been a Bill so complicated in nature. The Bill tries to rectify mistakes done under a wrong Act. Where the original Act did not apply, it was an illegality; where it was applied by mistake, it was an irregularity. In some cases the errors arose from other causes. Sweeping denunciation of the whole work is not desirable or practicable. The work before us is to preserve the general result of the settlement, to make amends where injustice has been done, and to frame a self-contained Code for future guidance with the aid of experience in the past.

"Clause 163A of the Bill as altered by the Select Committee runs thus.—

'163A. (1) In temporarily-settled estates for which a record-of-rights has been prepared and finally published under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, between the years 1891 and 1900 inclusive, and again between the years 1906 and 1912 inclusive, a proprietor's private land shall include—

(a) land which has been recorded as nij-jote in the record-of-rights prepared between the years 1906 and 1912, and

(b) land recorded as the nij-chas of a proprietor or sub-proprietor [other than a sub-proprietor referred to in sub-clause (i) of clause (22) of section 3] in the record-of-rights prepared between the years 1891 and 1900, which has again been recorded as his nij-chas in the record-of-rights prepared between the years 1906 and 1912.

(2) No land in a temporarily-settled estates which is not covered by sub-section (1) shall be held to be a proprietor's private land.'

"With regard to these nij-chas lands the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson in his speech said, the chief value of the change in fact will be that it will remove a fertile cause of dispute and strife about the lands So there is dispute which means that right of occupancy is claimed in these lands.

"Suppose this Act were passed to-day, it cannot retrospectively affect the right of occupancy acquired during the period of 21 years—the interval between 1891 and 1912. The revenue settlement show the lands as other than proprietor's private land. They are cultivated through raiyats. How can clause 163A extinguish the occupancy right acquired before the date when this Bill is passed into law?

'Every statute, it had been said, which takes away or impairs vested rights acquired under existing laws, or creates a new obligation, or imposes a new duty, or attaches a new disability in respect of transactions or considerations already passed, must be presumed, out of respect to the Legislature to be intended not to have a retrospective operation'—vide Maxwell on the Interpretation of Statutes, 4th edition, page 323.

'No rule of construction is more firmly established than this—that a retrospective operations is not to be given to a statute so as to impair an existing right or obligation otherwise than as regards matter of procedure'—vide Hardcastle on Statutory Law, 3rd edition, page 353, see also Full Bench Decision, Jogadanund Singh versus Amrita Lal Sircar, dated 1895, and Reid versus Reid, Volume VI, Ruling Cases.

The PRESIDENT said.—

"The Hon'ble Member is still discussing the provisions of the Bill. We are not here to discuss them now. I am still waiting for his argument as to why the Council should not proceed with the business. It is not quite proper to enter into a discussion of the merits of the Bill which is not now before it."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said.—

"I do not wish in any way to interrupt the Hon'ble Member. But I think, Sir, he raises a point of principle which at this stage is not permissible, and therefore he is out of order."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"I think the ruling which I have given will suffice. He is out of order in discussing the details of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said:—

"One of the principal objects of this Bill is to restore to certain people whose interests have been affected by the Settlement Department.

"If Your Honour wishes the people to understand that Government has most honorably come forward to restore to them what they had lost by the mistake of their officers, let us not proceed any further with this Bill. The people of Orissa will ever remain grateful to Your Honour for the intention which has now been put on record. How to give effect to that intention requires further deliberation, and a little more help of that contemptible class called lawyers than the Bill seems to have received. There is no time for that in this Council. Orissa will be more thankful to your Government for the intention than for the Bill enacted into law. The Government of the new Province will exactly understand the situation, and having more time at its command will give effect to the intention. If, on the other hand, it is the latent wish of Government to deprive permanently these men of their rights and give legislative sanction to what was done through ignorance and mistake, pass the Bill as it stands. I cannot believe that it is the intention of Government to give the zamindars and bazaftidars some concession which the law courts will subsequently pronounce as delusive. It is admitted that the interests of these classes have suffered. It is proposed to compensate them for the injury they have suffered. Let not the compensation be dubious in the least. Let it not be given in a form which will drive those men to litigation. Let it not be given in a form which will leave the ultimate decision to law courts. If the decision of courts be adverse, Orissa will lose all faith in the British Government, and Your Honour's name will be associated with the breach of faith by the British Government with a people whose ancestors invited the British to occupy the Province."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said —

"I rise to a point of order, Sir. I submit that the Hon'ble Member is still discussing a question of principle, which is not in order at this stage.

The PRESIDENT said —

"I think the Hon'ble Member is now in order in arguing why the Bill should not be proceeded with."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said·—

"The other matter to which I beg to refer is that there is in the Bill a most contentious matter, that is the maintenance of land records, and that is a thing which is opposed by everybody. In fact the District Judge opposes it. We wanted to have before the Select Committee a letter which had been written by the Divisional Commissioners on the subject, but we had not the advantage of seeing that letter. This work has been carried on for some time in Orissa. I do not understand why Orissa should have been selected as the field of experiment.

"The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson hopes that this Bill should form the parting gift from Bengal. Bengal cannot give what she has not; there are many provisions in the Bill which Bengal has not been burdened with. The provision about communal land, the transfer of right of occupancy, the provisions about reclaimed waste land and the maintenance of land records, these the most contentious portions of the Bill do not exist in Bengal. It is not correct to say that it would be a parting gift from Bengal Bengal cannot give what it has not. It might be a parting gift from the old Bengal Government.

"The people have always enjoyed the reputation of being peaceful and peace-loving Orissa is called the holy land of India. Though situated within a few hours journey from Bengal, there was no sedition in Orissa. There never has been any agrarian disturbance like those in other parts of the country under this Government. No commission was ever appointed to inquire into the strained relation between zemindars and raiyats. There is one Sessions and District Judge in the whole Province, and only one Sub-Judge. What have we done that before handing us over to the new Government it is the intention of this Government to give us the worst character. In the Mahabharat there is a transfiguration of Krishna. He appeared once transfigured. It was a monstrous figure, standing on three legs and holding the Sudarsan Chakra, the emblem of Almighty destructive power in the right hand. Of the three legs, one was of a tiger, the second of a horse and the third of an elephant. The tail was the expanded hood of a cobra. A lion's body and peacocks neck completed the figure.

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said.—

"May I say that Hon'ble Mr. Das should not discuss religious matters here."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"He is only citing this by way of illustration."

The Hon'ble MR DAS said.—

"It was the combination of all destructive powers available in creation with an attractive front as the peacock's neck has That is the character of this Bill Of the destructive power of the Bengal Government, Orissa need not be reminded The famine of 1866 and the floods which followed it carrying away more than a million people need not be supplemented by additional proofs of the power of Government. Why then this combination of all that is oppressive in Bombay, Madras, Chota Nagpur, Bengal and East Bengal. The Bill combines all these. Is Orissa a land where the worst characters of all parts of India find refuge.

"If this Bill is passed Your Honour will hand us over to the new Government as the worst portion of the people under Your Honour's Government. I believe this Government has done enough injustice to Orissa. How we shall fare under the new Government is yet unknown, but we believe that His Majesty's wishes and object in placing us under the new Government is to secure to Orissa a greater share of Government attention. But when making over Orissa, Your Honour makes over also an Act more stringent in its provision than are to be found in any other part of the country under your Government; the natural inference of the new Government will be that Orissa contained most turbulent people in the new Province.

"I beg to draw the attention of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill and Your Honour to the principle which was enunciated by the Hon'ble Mr. Greer at the last meeting of this Council, that it would not be proper for this Council to discuss the Budget because there are members here who will shortly have nothing to do with Bihar and Orissa, and they have no right to discuss the income and expenditure, of these places. On the contrary if Bengal has no right to discuss their income and expenditure, so also they have no right to legislate about the destinies of millions of people just before handing them over to the new Province With these remarks, Sir, I beg to move that the further consideration of the Bill be postponed."

The Hon'ble RAJA RAJINDRA NARAYAN BHANJA DEO said:—

"With your permission, Sir, I beg to support the motion proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Das In doing so I have no intention of going into the details of the Bill. I support the motion on general grounds.

"On the 9th January I moved the motion that stood in the name of the Hon'ble Mr. Das to stay all further proceedings in connection with this Bill. Your Honour was pleased to say that it would be open to me to get the Bill postponed or take any other steps after the Select Committee submitted their report, and accordingly I withdrew the motion.

"The present Bill is practically a reproduction of the Bengal Tenancy Act of 1885. A few sections have been altered to suit the conditions of Orissa. It retains most of the sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act; many of these were unsuitable, and therefore were not extended to Orissa. The Bill adopts some provisions from the Chota Nagpur and the East Bengal Tenancy Acts.

"In some matters in regard to which no legislation has yet been thought necessary in Bengal, East Bengal or Chota Nagpur, it is proposed to legislate for Orissa on principles adopted in the Bombay and the Madras Presidencies. In regard to other matters in the Bill, the principles followed could not be found anywhere in India.

"The result is that the Bill retains most of the sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act which are disadvantageous to the landlords, and provides a few more which are intended to curtail their existing rights.

"The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill justly observed the other day that 'although power was reserved in the Bengal Tenancy Act to extend its provisions to Orissa, the needs of Bihar and Lower Bengal were alone considered in framing that Act The peculiar condition of Orissa was not taken into consideration." In spite of this remark most of the sections which are unsuited to Orissa are embodied in the Bill. The Hon'ble Member in charge gives the following reason : —

'I take it for granted that I am generally precluded from discussing the sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act which have been embodied unaltered in the present Bill, though in my opinion they may be open to objection and call for amendments on general grounds It would arouse opposition and delay passing of the measure if they are brought to the front at present The preferable course is to let these common sections pass unchallenged and to consider later whether the amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act and the Orissa Tenancy Act (when passed), in any particulars that are common to them, is desirable.'

"I do not see the force of this argument, when after experiences of more than a century the present Government have found that special legislation is required for Orissa, why such special legislation should not be made, and why the objectionable sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act preserved? In the words of the Hon'ble Member this is done only to prevent delay Yet, when introducing the Bill, the Hon'ble Member in charge said, that 'in deciding to take up the Bill in the present Session, Government has no desire to rush the Council ' Here we have a Bill. It is admitted it contains portions of the Bengal Tenancy Act which demand alteration; but they have been adopted in their present state and why? Because there is not enough time to discuss how far and why they should be altered This alone is a sufficient reason why this Council should not proceed any further with this Bill. Orissa can very reasonably and pertinently demand an agrarian Code to suit her peculiar conditions, and not a Code made up of provisions borrowed from different parts of India. But the Bill is of the latter description.

"Legislation should be made to suit the conditions of the locality and to preserve all rights and interests of the people, and not that the conditions of such locality be disturbed and made to adapt themselves to a piece of legislation foreign to the locality. The duty of a Legislature should be to make laws for men as they are, and not to make men for laws as they exist in other parts. To be short, laws should be made for men, and not men for laws.

"From the above facts and many others we fear that it is the intention of the Government to rush the Bill through before Orissa is placed under the new Government. I do not consider it is doing justice to Orissa for the present Government to hurry through this piece of legislation of such vital importance against the wishes of the people and their representatives who voice them here. The peoble of Orissa will feel it more keenly as, after the announcement of His Imperial Majesty at Delhi, separating them from Bengal, they naturally expect that their interests will be more carefully considered under the new Government.

"The newly nominated member from Orissa in this Council questioned the correctness of my information that the people of Orissa were opposed to have this Bill dealt with by the present Council I anticipated such remark from the Hon'ble Member. Since then I have reasons to believe the wish of the people on this matter has been communicated to Government by Associations. The two Hon'ble Members who represent the Muhammadan community of Orissa will, I hope, agree with me that the Bill should be postponed.

"It has been said that there are in this Council zamindars who have interests in Orissa, and this is shown as a reason that the Bill ought to be passed in this Council. To this all I can say is that legislation should be on territorial and not on personal grounds. In the present case the claim on personal ground has received due attention in the constitution of the Select Committee, and the work of the Select Committee will receive its due weight when the question is taken up by the new Government. No doubt their interests in Orissa will be safeguarded by their representatives in the other Council, and it will be open to the other Government to take in any gentleman whose advice they will consider helpful to the passing of this Act

"There may be a few, non-official members who will still advocate passing the Bill in this Council, and the non-official opinon may not be unanimons. But we are on the eve of an administrative dissolution. Unanimity in this Council has lost its weight. The principle which ought to guide Your Honour's Government at this critical time was enunciated the other day in the Hon'ble Mr. Greer's announcements about the budget estimate for 1912-13. The principle applies with greater force in the matter of this Bill. The budget estimate covers the income and expenditure of one year; the Bill before this Council involves the destiny of millions of people extending over at least many years. The budget estimate controls the power of Government over funds at the disposal of Government; the Bill deals with rights belonging to the people.

"Apart from all other considerations, the legal difficulties raised by the Hon'ble Mr. Das are sufficient grounds to postpone this Bill, so that these difficulties will receive proper attention in future With these remarks I beg to support the motion put by the Hon'ble Mr Das.

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said —

"I am sorry to have to oppose this motion, and I shall state my reasons very clearly in doing so In the first place however I must say that I am more disappointed with the Hon'ble Mr. Das's speech than I thought I would be before he spoke. The Hon'ble Mr Das has brought in Belati panis and all sorts of other things I do not think my Bihari friends would object to Belati pani as much as they would terms like chanwaaa's, bajiajtidars, sarbarhkars, shikmi kharidadar, kharida jamabandidar, etc Probably this would be more Belati pani to them than the Belati pani the Hon'ble Mr Das spoke of. What I wish to point out in this connection is that one of the arguments the Hon'ble Mr. Das advanced was that Orissa being temporarily settled, this Bill should not be taken up in this Council Now if I had known that Bihar was also temporarily-settled, I could have followed his line of argument; but like Bengal, Bihar is also permanently-settled, therefore that ground falls through. Then again he has said that because the budget cannot be discussed for reasons very clearly stated by the Hon'ble Mr. Greer, we should not pass this Bill. But, I think, Sir, that this argument is very irrelevant like most of the things the Hon'ble Mr. Das has said to-day. The Hon'ble the Raja of Kanika has remarked, and I am surprised at his remark, that personal rather than territorial interests were represented on the Select Committee, and argued that the Hon'ble Maharaj Kumar Hrishikesh Laha and myself were put in there only to safeguard personal interests, but we being territorial magnates as well, it cannot be said that territorial interests were not represented, and therefore I do not see how the question of territorial and personal interests comes in.

"I should like to mention one other point. If I knew that the vested interests of Bihar were in any way going to suffer by this Bill being passed now, I for one should certainly have moved that this Bill should be postponed till the new Council of Bihar came in. We find that no vested interests of Bihar will suffer. On the other hand, this agrarian Code belongs to a part of the new Province which will be self-contained. The Uriyas certainly may get one or more representatives upon the new Council, but I do not think that this is a sufficient ground for delaying the passing of this Bill now. Moreover, if the Maharaj Kumar Hrishikesh Laha and myself were put in to protect personal interests, there were on the Select Committee the Raja of Kanika, the Hon'ble Mr. Das, and the Hon'ble Babu Janaki Nath Bose, and Government officials who have had personal experience of the working of the agrarian Code in Orissa, and in my opinion are most fitted to be on the Select Committee, and that in itself is another ground on which we should take advantage of their experience in Orissa in passing this Bill here.

"Of course, Sir, we have heard the song of the dying swan about Orissa being maltreated by Government, and the request that we should not put an extra burden on it just when it was going to be put under a new regimé.

'While I certainly wish my Oriya friends success in the new Province, I do not think that it is fair either to the Government or the people in this Province, who have been excellent friends in the past, to make such an assertion. I am sorry that the Hon'ble Mr. Das's motion, and particulary his arguments, are so frivolous and I think that if the Council be seriously minded, it should throw it out at once."

The Hon'ble MR. MADDOX said:—

"Sir, I wish to oppose the motion The attack, if I may call it, of the hon'ble Mr. Das affects me in three ways, as Settlement Officer and as the drafter of the original Bill which was considered and so much improved by the Select Committee, and also as a Member of the Select Committee I would ask the Council, if they would take it from the Hon'ble Mr. Das that injustice had been done at the time of settlement, considering that all the Hon'ble Mr. Das' evidence had been taken from my reports, to accept my opinion that the Bill, as at present framed, remedies these defects and sets right these injustices.

"There is only one other point which I should like to mention. There is no rushing through of this measure Since November 1908, all these matters have been carefully considered by the people of Orissa and by officers who have discussed these matters with them in Orissa, and this is nearly a period of $3\frac{1}{2}$ years."

The HON'BLE MAHARAJ-KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH said:—

"Your Honour, I desire to support my hon'ble friend Mr Das's proposition that the Report of the Select Committee be not considered by this Council. We are on the eve of the dissolution of this Council. His Imperial Majesty has accorded to Bihar and Orissa a separate Government. In the new Government the claims both of Bihar and Orissa will have a larger chance and a greater scope than, while we continue to be tied up to, our powerful neighbours of Bengal. In all human probability our countrymen of Orissa will be better represented in the Council of the new province than they are here. Why, then, not let the new Council take up this question? It has been pointed out on the Government side that official experience of Orissa happens to be very well represented in this Council. Be it so But legislation of this order cannot be safely undertaken without a strong tinge of the non-official element also. And the non-official element cannot be said to be well represented either in this Council or in the Select Committee, as is pointed out by the Hon'ble Mr. Das in his Note of Dissent, of which he has supplied us with a private copy.

"Lastly, it has not been made out that there is any great urgency in this measure. Nothing very reprehensible could happen if this measure is not passed this time but is taken up, say, a year from now For these reasons I beg to support the motion of my hon'ble friend that the Report of the Select Committee be not considered by the Council."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN said:—

"Your Honour, on the 9th January last, when the constitution of the Select Committee was taken up by Your Honour for consideration, the Hon'ble Raja Rajendra Narain Bhanj Deo moved the motion which originally stood in the name of the Hon'ble Mr. M. S. Das, and I had the good luck of supporting that motion. My chief reason for supporting that motion was that, after the announcement made by His Imperial Majesty the King-Emperor at Delhi that Orissa will form part of the new Province of Bihar and Chota Nagpur and that the new Province will be created very shortly, if the consideration of the Bill be postponed till after the creation of the new Province to be considered by the new Legislative Council of Bihar, it would be very satisfactory. Your Honour suggested a very good and conciliatory scheme to let the Report of the Select Committee come forward before this Council, and if, at that time, any members should think that it is not satisfactory the members of the Council will then be at liberty to move for the postponement of the consideration of this Bill by this Council. Of course, I have not had the opportunity of examining what changes have been made by the Select Committee; nor am I personally aware what discussions took place in the Select Committee, and how far the changes made by the Select Committee are satisfactory, but what I have heard to-day from the Hon'ble Mr. Das shows that the people of Orissa are not satisfied with the Report of the Select Committee, and therefore they want further time to consider the provisions of the Bill in the new Council. Whatever defects may be in the existing law by which Orissa is at present administered so far as the landlords and tenants are concerned, if the same defective law be made applicable to it for a few months more, there would not be much harm done, and there is no reason why this Bill should be taken up in a hurry, and should be passed into law. With these few words, I beg to support the motion of the hon'ble Mr. Das.'

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN said:—

"Your Honour, before coming to the Council and after reading the Hon'ble Mr. Das's Note of Dissent, I thought I would support his motion. But after having heard his arguments as well as the arguments advanced by other Hon'ble Members, I do not at all feel convinced that this Council is not competent to pass this Bill. I do not also think that Orissa will fare better than it is now, if the Bill is taken up for consideration in the new Council. I do not quite follow the reasons advanced in favour of postponing the passing of this measure. I am sorry therefore that I cannot support the Hon'ble Mr Das's motion. If I support it at all, it would be upon grounds of sentiment as a Bihari which I do not wish to do. For these reasons, Your Honour, I oppose this motion."

The Hon'ble BABU JANAKI NATH BOSE said:—

"Mr. President—I very much regret that I cannot support the motion of my hon'ble friend Mr. Das. I have listened to his speech very attentively, and to the speeches that were delivered in support of his motion. but I cannot find any reason whatsoever as to why this Council is not in a position to deal with this measure effectively. It will not serve any useful purpose now for me to answer the questions of law raised by my friend, but it will suffice for me to say that this motion of the hon'ble Mr. Das does not seem to be in consonance with the feelings or convictions of the people of Orissa. Up to this moment, I have only heard that a telegram has been received from the Orissa Landholders' Association asking this Council not to proceed further with this Bill, but there are other Associations in the Province and we do not find any representation to that effect from any of them, and there are people in Orissa who can hold public meetings and mass meetings if necessity arises, but no such meeting has been held up to this moment to give expression to their feelings, that this Council will be unable to do justice to this measure.

"Assuming for the sake of argument that my friend's contention is right, that the settlement records prepared in 1898 and 1899 were not quite accurate and that some of the entries might have interfered with the vested rights of landlords and tenants, we ought to see whether this Council can do anything to right the wrongs, if I may say so, or put the law on a sound basis. To my mind it has always seemed that the gentlemen who were connected with the settlement of Orissa and who had to work up the agrarian law in that Province, are the best fitted to right the wrongs and to place the statutory law on a safe and sound basis. Your Honour knows very well Act X of 1859 was the law of Orissa from the year 1859. For over 50 years it has been the rent law of Orissa. The subsequent introductions of the Bengal Tenancy Act made the rent law of Orissa somewhat anomalous and uncertain. This working of two statutes side by side might have given rise to anomalies and some cause of complaint, and the responsible officers of the Government of Bengal also thought it best to remove these anomalies and uncertainties; and after years of deliberation in which the public was taken into confidence, we have got a decent piece of legislation with which I think this Council will deal, not hurriedly but will take time and properly discuss the questions that will be raised by my hon'ble friend. I do not see the slightest advantage in this Bill going before the Council of Bihar, because Your Honour knows that this Bill will then be before legislators who will be for some time to come quite unacquainted with the land-tenures of that province, and the special interests of the people of Orissa. My friend's contention is that the people who are best fitted to deal with this measure should be deprived of the power of doing that, but that the Bill should have a chance of going before people who perhaps are not acquainted or will not be soon acquainted with the essential features of land tenures, and who will not feel so much sympathy with the people of this province as this Council would naturally feel.

"I am really sorry, Sir, that a remark which was unfortunately made by the Raja of Kanika at the meeting of the 9th January has been repeated. He said that the Government of Bengal was guilty of injustice to the people of Orissa. Of course, my friend the Raja of Kanika is a young man, and I did not think it worth my while to answer his accusation; but I do not think that I shall allow this opportunity to pass without entering my solemn protest against an accusation like this.

"On the other hand, I have been in the province for about a quarter of a century, and I have seen that Orissa has all along been treated like a pet child. The return that child now gives is to accuse this Government of gross injustice. Your Honour, I think that the people of Orissa do not want that this Bill should be dealt with by another Council. I do not see any advantage in postponing the discussion of this Bill by this Council, and I do not think that this Council will rush this Bill through without proper deliberation. From the experience I have had of the Select Committee, I am convinced that matters brought before the Committee were properly discussed, and representations made by the members of the Committee were given proper attention to. Therefore I am very sorry to oppose this motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Das."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"Sir, I am sorry I cannot support the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Das to the effect that this Council should not take up the consideration of this Bill. I speak from my experience as one who has to deal with rent law cases of Orissa that the present condition of the rent law in that part of the country is extremely unsatisfactory. I agree with the last speaker (the Hon'ble Babu Janaki Nath Bose) that the working side by side of the old rent law (Act X of 1859) with portions of the Bengal Tenancy Act extended to that Division from time to time—not to the whole Division but to some of the districts—has left the law relating to landlords and tenants in such a unsatisfactory state, that sooner the uncertainties are removed, the better. I believe the Hon'ble Mr. Das cannot gainsay the position that it is necessary that the agrarian law should be put upon a better footing; and the question is whether that is to be done by the present Council or by the new Council of Bihar and Orissa. I do not see, Sir, why the accumulated experience and the wisdom of a number of members of this Council beginning from you, Sir, should be lost in the matter of the revision of the Rent Law applicable to Orissa; nor do I see why the large mass of materials which has now been collected and which is available for the purpose of giving a good Rent Law to Orissa should be altogether lost. There is no doubt that the adequate consideration of the measure will require time, and I do not know how long we are destined to exist here or when we should be extinguished, but that is a matter which, I suppose, is not known to many of us here. Assuming that we have still a month's time to live—a month's time I should consider would be sufficient to enable us to see whether the recommendations made by the Select Committee should be allowed to stand as they are or adopted with proper modifications. It will then be time for the Hon'ble Mr. Das to bring in his objections about nij-jote and nij-chas—a very delicate distinction which I was trying to follow with all the power that I could command. It would then be for the Hon'ble Mr. Das to see whether the position of the bajaftidars may be improved or not. But all this is no reason why so much experience and so much material should be thrown away in order that the Council of the new Province may begin with the solution of very difficult questions—a solution which is urgent in view of the very unsatisfactory condition of the rent law that prevails in Orissa. With these few words, I beg to oppose the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Das

The HON'BLE MR. MCPHERSON said —

"Sir, I oppose the motion which has been proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Das. I should like to explain briefly the point of view of Government with regard to it In my speech of 9th January I explained to the Council why it had been decided then to proceed with the Orissa Tenancy Bill in the present session. I pointed out that the Bill was the fruit of many long years of consideration and that the present Council has exceptional advantages in dealing with it, because it includes in its midst an extraordinarily large number of members—official and non-official—who are intimately acquainted with Orissa or have special interests in Orissa. If the Bill be passed in the present session, it will have the benefit of their assistance and advice. If it be postponed, it will, to a very great extent, be robbed of this advantage. I also pointed out that the tenancy law of Orissa has been before the public of Orissa for the last six years—ever since, in fact, the Revision Settlement was started—that an influential local committee was consulted in 1909 by the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox before the Bill was drafted, and that since its publication, in July of last year, it has been circulated for opinion to local officers and local bodies. The Bill was thoroughly considered by them and has, indeed, been the chief subject of conversation in Orissa since its publication. We have had valuable opinions and suggestions from all these local officers and local bodies, and we have given them most patient consideration in Select Committee for the last six weeks. The Bill is now ripe for consideration in Council, and it seems to me to be pure procrastination to suggest that the proceedings shall be stopped at the present stage and the Bill be handed over for disposal to the Legislature of the new province.

"There can be no reasonable doubt that, had there been no administrative changes announced in December last, the Bill would have been taken up in the ordinary course of business during the present session, would have been passed by the present Council, and would have been welcomed by all classes of the Uriya community. What magic is there in the Delhi announcements that appeals to the supporters of this motion? If the Bill be postponed on their account, we stand to gain nothing and to lose much. We lose the advice and assistance of many who know Orissa well, and the result is the postponement for one or two years of a much-needed legislative measure which is on the very threshold of completion. The administrators of the new province have before them the stupendous task of organizing the new administration. We shall cast an intolerable burden on them if we leave this legislation to them. It is no question of a few months more or even of a year more. There will be inevitable delays on account of references to the superior powers, re-introduction of the Bill, republication for public criticism, fresh consideration in Select Committee, and it is safe to prophesy that at least two more years will pass before Orissa gets the Tenancy Code of which it stands so much in need. Meanwhile the present settlement staff, whose services are required to give effect to certain provisions of the Bill, will be disbanded. It will be necessary in particular to reconsider the privileged land provisions of the Bill, because we shall be unable to act without inquiry on a record that is two to five years old. The detailed inquiries into the facts of possession which I deprecated in my speech of 9th January will be unavoidable, will necessitate the employment of a special staff, and will stir up a lot of strife and dispute which it was the object of clause 163, as amended, to avoid.

"It may be admitted that if the Bill is left over for the new Council, the new Council will have more time for its consideration. It may take five years or even ten years over it. But what I ask is, can the people of Orissa afford to wait longer for this legislation. They are crying out for the adjustment of their tenancy laws, and it will be a real misfortune to them if they are kept waiting longer.

"I must confess that I am puzzled to understand the attitude of mind of the Hon'ble Member who has proposed this motion We have been told by him, in season and out of season, that Orissa is a distressed and afflicted country, which has never been treated fairly by British administrators One of its chief troubles, we are told, is that in tenancy matters it has been coupled up with Bengal to its grievous disadvantage Although we may not subscribe to the dark and gloomy pictures that have been drawn of Orissa's past history by the Hon'ble Member, and although we claim some credit to British administration for its splendid achievements in Orissa, for the peace and order which were evolved after the dark days of Mahratta misrule, for the careful administration of its revenue and civil law by a succession of distinguished Collectors and Judges, for the care and industry with which its land records have been prepared, for its canals and its embankments, its roads and its railways, and the general diffusion of prosperity that has followed in the wake of these great public works, we do admit that some confusion has resulted in the tenancy law of Orissa from the joint application to it of Act X of 1859 and portions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. We have made an honest attempt to remove this confusion and to clear up various points of difficulty and dispute that have arisen between landlord and tenant. We believe that we have the sympathy of the great mass of the population—landlords and tenants alike—in carrying through this proposed legislation, and we fail to understand why this beneficient work should be stigmatized by the Hon'ble Member as an additional grievance. In whose interest, I would ask him, is this delay proposed? If he professes to speak for the landlords of Orissa, I can only say that I have come in contact with many of them, and that all have assured me of their desire to see a self-contained Tenancy Code provided for Orissa with the least possible delay. There may be a section of the landlords who have been made acquainted with the proceedings of the Select Committee and fancy that they may fare better if the Bill be reconsidered in the new Legislature. They remind me of litigants who apply to the High Court for transfer of their cases, when the evidence has been recorded, the arguments of counsel have been heard and fear is entertained that judgment will be unfavourable.

"If it is on behalf of the raiyats that the Hon'ble Mover professes to speak, I claim to know at least as much as he does regarding the wants and requirements of the Orissa raiyats. The revision operations of the last six years have brought its officers into close contact with all the agricultural classes, and the Council may rest assured that the interests of the cultivators of the soil have not been overlooked.

"For these reasons and for those that have been advanced by my hon'ble colleagues on the Council, I oppose the motion for postponement and strongly recommend that the Council take the Report of the Select Committee and the Bill as amended into consideration at the next meeting of the Council."

The HON'BLE MR. DAS said:—

"Your Honour, the speeches that have been made by those gentlemen who have opposed my motion, had been apparently made on a supposition that I was opposed to have an agragian Code, a self-contained law, containing all that is necessary to govern the relations between the different classes having interest in land. I am not at all opposed to it. All that I say is that the interests are of such a nature, and owing to there being these anomalies as regards the application of the different Acts in the province, there have been so many difficult questions to be solved, that it is not possible for this Council, unless this Council's lease of life has been extended by anything which is not known to the public, to do justice to this question. The Hon'ble Mr. Maddox has said that he has brought to the notice of the public certain irregularities which were made No doubt he has done that. I certainly admire the Hon'ble Member's straightforwardness in doing that, and not only that but also his solicitude that some compensation should be made to those whose interests have been affected by the mi takes of the Settlement Department is worthy of anybody's admiration, but then, Sir, the man who makes a mistake is no doubt the person who can tell us as to where the mistake has been made, and no doubt his suggestions as regards how the mistake can be remedied are valuable, but the question, when he becomes the sole arbiter of the situation, assumes a dubious form. I really admire the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox coming forward boldly and saying that these people should be compensated, just as I would admire the courage of a doctor, who had been operating by mistake in such a way as to injure a vital part, to say that he had made a mistake, but while certainly I would follow his advice: I would say, 'I will not allow you to be the arbiter of the situation; it is much better that your work should be judged by others.' A good deal has been said that the volume of work, which has been gained by the application and labour of men who have known Orissa so well, should not be thrown away. I am sure none of it will be thrown away. They have all been put on record, and consequently they will pass on to the next Government. That is altogether an erroneous argument.

"Another objection is that this Council has Hon'ble Members who are so well acquainted with Orissa, and the next Council might not have men who are likely to possess the same knowledge about the affairs of Orissa. That may be so, but the administration of Orissa is about to be made over to a new Government. It is not known what policy that Government would adopt with regard to the administration of Orissa. Are we not sitting here actually to decide what policy that Government should adopt when we undertake to legislate a measure which effects the interests of millions of people—a most important measure regarding an agrarian population of millions. How should we know that that Government would actually like the idea of importing legislative enactments which are not to be found anywhere in the neighbourhood, but are to be found in Madras, Bombay and in the theories of those gentlemen who have been drafting this Bill.

"Then the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has spoken for the raiyats. I can very well understand that. When a raiyat has been making his salam to a Settlement Officer in the mufassal, and when the raiyat found that the Settlement Officer deprived another of his rights, and made it over to him, he would naturally show confidence in the Settlement Officer. Of course, if the Settlement Officers admit that they have done irregularities, it is no wonder that they would please some people. The Hon'ble Member in charge has claimed to be the raiyat's friend. This claim is put forward by an official. But I suppose the poor raiyat knows the real sympathy of the official when he remembers the official treatment he gets in times of famine and floods.

"Then, Sir, it has been said that the Government of Bengal has treated Orissa like a pet child, and therefore we expect the best things from this Government. I do not know whether this is the theory which the Government of Bengal entertains. That theory has not been entertained by His Gracious Majesty. If His Gracious Majesty thought that the Bengal Government had treated Orissa as a pet child, certainly this administrative change would not have been brought about. Let me state to Your Honour that when the Bengal Tenancy Act was passed, though it was contemplated that this would be introduced into Orissa at some future date, no man from Orissa was allowed a seat in this Council.

"I may also remind the Council that all Acts that have been passed in this Council with regard to Orissa have been passed without anybody representing Orissa on this Council.

"The Bengal Tenancy Act was amended on two or three occasions for the purpose of carrying out the revenue settlement in Orissa; there was no seat allowed to a member from Orissa. I know for certain that even on that occasion nobody was appointed to this Council by nomination. The only instance when there has been a nomination to this Council is the present one, when Government thought it fit to bring in by nomination the public prosecutor of the land, to prosecute a people give them a bad name and a bad law, just before handing them over to the new Government with a bad character.

"I do not know exactly what time this Council has at its command for passing this Bill. Certainly, I should have been the last person to object to this Bill being considered in this Council, if I knew that the time at its command was sufficient for the purpose Of course, Your Honour knows best. If I were allowed to discuss the principles of this Bill, I could point out to Your Honour that there were mistakes even in the definition. If all that is to be gone through, either the Council must be rushed or attention cannot be paid to what are called 'legal objections' raised by the contemptible class called lawyers. If we do not pay attention to the suggestions of that contemptible class, the result will be whatever may be the intentions of Government, the law courts will not look to the intention of the Government, and the Government might find that after all its intentions have not been given effect to,—then there will be necessity of legislating again, and that is the danger ahead of us. I do not think that I should take up Your Honour's time any more, but I submit respectfully that if the people of Orissa understood what is good for them, if the people knew what their rights were, then certainly these mistakes which were done by the Settlement Department—unsettlements made by settlement—should not have been allowed. The question is, do the intelligent people,—do the people who understand the provisions of the enactments, do the people who appreciate the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson's generous concessions,—do these people bearing in mind the concessions which Government intends to make,—do these people think, after they have read the Bill and the form in which it is proposed to be passed, that this law should be the best suited for their purposes. I should like to know what lawyers have been consulted on this point. Certainly in a legislation of this kind lawyers must have a voice. I was going to discuss certain things and to point out that these provisions will never do, but of course Your Honour ruled that I was going beside the point. It was not therefore possible for me to show how the irregularities and the mistakes which are to be found in the Bill have been remedied.

"The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray said that he found that there were anomalies, and he said that he had special acquaintance with the Tenancy Act. Of course I do not know the nature and the extent of his experience, but I found that he was arguing certain points which were perhaps new to him, as the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan said certain words in the Bill would be strange to the Bihar gentlemen in the new Council. They may be so. The whole administration of Orissa will be strange to the new Council. But this is not for us to decide. I believe that at least we will have this advantage, that the new Government will look at it from an outsider's point of view and judge the work of the Settlement Officer as an outsider would do, and not be influenced by such opinions as have been put forward by people who are responsible no doubt for the mischief done, and who now say that the mischief is to be corrected in this way.

"With these few remarks, Sir, I beg to put the motion to the vote."

A division was then taken, with the following result:—

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Under rule 22 (1) of the rules for the conduct of legislative business the period of notice for amendments in the case of the Orissa Tenancy Bill which will be taken up at the next meeting of Council will be seven days. Amendments on this Bill should, therefore, reach the Secretary to the Council not later than 11 A.M. on the 13th March."

THE MINING SETTLEMENT BILL, 1911

The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the sanitation of Mining Settlements in Bengal.

He said.—

"SIR, I beg leave to present the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Mining Settlements Bill. In doing so, I should like to recall to Hon'ble Members the peculiar circumstances which gave rise to the legislation The Bill is primarily in the interests of the labouring classes at work in the coal mines, and secondarily in the interests of the mining industry. It was only after every possible measure under other Acts had been tried and had failed that recourse was had to special legislation. The Indian Mining Association had complained, and with justice, that whatever sanitary precautions might be taken by any coal mine-owner, these might all be nullified by the inaction of a neighbour, who might be free from any control under the Mines Act; and so the Bill was designed to create in selected areas a local sanitary authority, on which both mine-owners and royalty receivers should be represented, with power to deal with such and similar cases and to exercise general sanitary control

"The opinions which have been received since the Bill was introduced showed that it was defective in several respects; and in Select Committee considerable alterations have been made, the more important of which are mentioned in the report which is in the hands of Hon'ble Members. The principle kept in view is that the Bill should be as elastic and flexible as possible, in view of the diverse nature of the tracts in which the law may hereafter be put in force. To one objection which has been made that the Bill is not suitable for dealing with a large water-supply scheme, such as is contemplated in the Jharia coalfield, the answer is that the Bill was not designed to cover such a scheme.

"The crux of the whole Bill is the financing of the Mines Board of Health which may be created in selected areas to be termed Mining Settlements. It is not unfair that the expenses should be borne by those connected with the mining industry, but the difficulty was to find a common denominator between the charges on the coal mine-owners and the charges on the royalty receivers. It was at first proposed in consultation with the Indian Mining Association that the charges should be levied from both classes in proportion to the road-cess paid; this seemed a simple and intelligible method of calculation. But the mine-owners pay road-cess on profits, while the royalty receivers pay on output. It follows that, if in a particular mine there was no profit on the working, the mine-owner would pay no road-cess; and hence would not contribute at all to the sanitary charges. So the Committee of the Indian Mining Association suggested that the output of mines should also form a basis for calculation. The Select Committee after obtaining statistics thought that the fair apportionment between the two classes as a whole would be nine-tenths to mine-owners and one-tenth to royalty receivers; and further that amongst mine-owners themselves the assessment should be according to output and amongst royalty receivers according to road-cess. But, while trusting that in the beginning the above proportion between the two classes may be maintained, the Select Committee have considered that the proportion between these two classes should be fixed from time to time by Government.

"I should like to take this further opportunity of expressing the thanks of Government to the Indian Mining Association for the part which they have taken throughout in advancing this legislation."

The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 20th March, 1912, at 11 A.M.

ABOLITION OF THE OFFICIAL VERNACULAR GAZETTES.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CALCUTTA, THE 7TH MARCH 1912.

RESOLUTION—No. 1315 Mis.

THE Lieutenant-Governor in Council has had under consideration the question of abolishing the official Vernacular Gazettes. These are three in number—the Bengali Gazette, the Bihar Hindi Gazette and the Uriya Gazette—and were originally published mainly in order to communicate the orders and notifications of Government to those who were unable to read them in the Calcutta Gazette. They have also been used as a medium for publishing translations of Bills which were before the Legislative Councils.

2 In the years 1886 and 1888 considerable reductions were made in the size of the Bengali and Hindi Gazettes, and, after careful enquiries made in 1895, further large reductions were made, under Resolution No 51 T —G, dated the 18th May 1895, in the matter published in each of the three Vernacular Gazettes. Their free distribution was, at the same time, considerably restricted. Proposals have recently been sanctioned by the Government of India which will have the effect of reducing, very considerably, the number of Bills and Acts which will be translated into the vernacular, and as regards the diffusion among those who do not know English of a knowledge of Government notifications and orders, the present Vernacular Gazettes appear to have failed to achieve their purpose. The statement below shows the present distribution of these three gazettes :—

	Bengali Gazette.	Hindi Gazette	Uriya Gazette
Government officials	8	4	21
Newspaper Editors	12	2	6
Public Libraries	6	.
Honorary Magistrates	8	9
Subscribers	3		16
Total	37	15	43

In view of these facts, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council has decided to discontinue the publication of the official Vernacular Gazettes with effect from the 1st April 1912

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

H L STEPHENSON,

Offg Secretary to the Govt of Bengal

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF EXECUTIVE AND JUDICIAL OFFICERS IN DEALING WITH CRIMINAL LUNATICS

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 11th March 1912.

RESOLUTION—No. 723Medl.

READ—

Resolution dated the 21st August 1888, prescribing certain rules for the guidance of Executive and Judicial officers in dealing with criminal lunatics.

Read also—

Resolution No. 4855, dated the 25th September 1905.
Resolution No. 927T.—Medl., dated the 20th September 1910.

THE form of the Medical History-sheet which is required to accompany a criminal lunatic whose detention in a lunatic asylum is ordered by the Local Government under section 466 or 471 of the Code of Criminal Procedure or under section 30 (1) of the Prisoners Act, 1900 (III of 1900), has recently been revised with the approval of the Government of India and the title of the form has been changed to "Descriptive Roll of Lunatic." The form of Medical History-sheet prepared by the asylum authorities which formed Appendix I to the Resolution of the 21st August 1888, and is printed at page 65 of the Bengal Lunatic Asylums Manual, 1910, remains unchanged and retains its title in order to distinguish it from the descriptive-roll. It has been rendered desirable to make certain consequential modifications in the rules which were issued about 25 years ago for the guidance of Executive and Judicial officers in dealing with this class of lunatics, and to embody in them some additional orders which have since been passed. The object of the revision is to distinguish clearly between the procedure to be followed in the different classes of cases. The rules, as now revised, are appended to this Resolution, and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council directs that they may be substituted for the existing rules issued with the Resolution of 1888 and printed at pages 62-64 of the Lunatic Asylums Manual. The opportunity has also been taken to make the necessary verbal alterations in the statement of the principles on which the Local Government will act in disposing of the cases of criminal lunatics sent up for orders under sections 466, 471, 474 and 475 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and section 30 of the Prisoners Act III of 1900.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution with its appendices be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, together with a copy of the appendices, be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions, for information and communication to District Officers; and to all Sessions Judges for information and guidance, and to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, for information and for communication to the Superintendents of Lunatic Asylums.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

H. L. STEPHENSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF EXECUTIVE AND JUDICIAL OFFICERS IN DEALING WITH CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

References to pages and forms are to the pages of, and forms in, the Bengal Lunatic Asylums Manual, 1910.

1. WHEN an accused person is brought before a Court and is found to be of unsound mind and incapable of making his defence, if the crime of which such person is accused, be an offence against the person, or if there is reason to believe that he has at any time been aggressive, the Magistrate or Court of Sessions, in considering whether to accept security under section 466 (1), Criminal Procedure Code, should consult the Civil Surgeon under whose observation the lunatic has been detained, and he should have before him, as far as possible, the information detailed in the descriptive-roll of the lunatic in Form III (pages 92-93) before accepting bail.

2. When the case of a lunatic who has been detained in an asylum under section 30 (1) of the Prisoners Act and, his sentence having expired, is further detained under Act XXXVI of 1858, is brought before the visitors under section 9 or the Magistrate under section 10 of the Act, it will be the duty of the Superintendent of the Asylum to furnish in writing all the information detailed in the form of the medical history-sheet (page 65), for the information of the said visitors or Magistrate, together with his own opinion as to the safety of releasing the lunatic

3. In the event of the lunatic having at any time exhibited a tendency to violence, it will be the duty of the visitors or Magistrate, as the case may be, to satisfy themselves before ordering his discharge that a sufficient length of time has elapsed since such manifestation to render a recurrence improbable and that the sureties offered are in a position to control the actions of the lunatic should it recur

4. Cases of criminal lunatics referred to Government, fall into four classes:—

(1) Cases reported under section 466(2), Criminal Procedure Code.
(2) Ditto ditto section 471, ditto
(3) Ditto ditto section 474, ditto.
(4) Ditto ditto section 30 of the Prisoners Act, 1900 (III of 1900).

5. Cases reported under section 466(2), Criminal Procedure Code, must be accompanied by a statement of the circumstances in which the act for which the lunatic was sent up for trial was committed and by a descriptive-roll of the lunatic in Form III (pages 92 and 93).

Cases under rule 4 (1).

6. It should invariably be stated whether the lunatic has any relatives or friends willing to take charge of him and if so. whether he can, in the opinion of the Civil Surgeon, safely be made over to them on their furnishing security that he shall be properly taken care of and prevented from doing injury to himself or to any other person, and that he shall be produced before the Magistrate for inspection when required If the prisoner has no relatives or friends who are willing to take charge of him, the Magistrate should state whether he may, in the opinion of the Civil Surgeon, safely be discharged without security. If the Magistrate differs from the Civil Surgeon as to the advisability of release with or without security, he should state his grounds for his opinion. Enquiries as to friends and relatives should be made as quickly as possible

7. Cases reported under section 471, Criminal Procedure Code, are of two kinds —

Cases under rule 4 (2).

(a) Those in which no previous reference has been made under section 466 (2) or in which the lunatic has recovered his sanity without being confined in an asylum.

(b) Those in which a previous reference has been made under section 466 (2) and the lunatic has recovered his sanity after having been sent to an asylum

8. In the case (a), a copy of the Court's order or judgment or, if it be insufficient to furnish detailed information regarding the lunatic, the record of the trial, should be sent together with a descriptive-roll in Form III (pages 92-93) and information as in rule 6 above.

Cases under rule 7 (a)

9. In the case (b), a copy of Court's order or judgment or if it be insufficient to furnish detailed information regarding the lunatics, the record of the trial should be sent together with a medical history-sheet in the form printed at page 65.

Cases under rule 7 (b)

10. When the visitors of an asylum certify that an accused confined by the orders of Government under section 466 (2) is capable of making his defence, it is essential that the trying court should have full information before it on which to base a recommendation if the case is reported to Government under section 471. It will, therefore, be the duty of the Superintendent of the Asylum to forward, with every lunatic sent to stand his trial, the medical history-sheet in the form (at page 65) together with an abstract from the Asylum case-book detailing the chief events of his history and recorded opinions, with dates regarding his mental attitude while under observation in the asylum. The Superintendent of the Asylum shall also forward his own opinion for the information of the Magistrate or Court and for transmission to the Local Government.

11. When a criminal lunatic has never exhibited any tendency to violence, and his crime has not been an offence against the person, or being such an offence was of a trivial nature and not evincing a decided homicidal tendency, the Local Government will be mainly guided, in passing orders under section 474, by the recommendations of the visitors and of the Superintendent of the Asylum, with whom therefore the responsibility of releasing or detaining the lunatic will practically rest.

Cases under rule 4 (3).

12. If it is recommended that a recovered criminal lunatic should be remanded to a jail under section 30 (2) of the Prisoners Act (III of 1900), the Superintendent of the Asylum will give specific reasons for thinking that this procedure is a safe one, having due regard to the medical history and length of unexpired sentence to run before final release from jail.

Cases under rule 4 (4)

Transfer of lunatics from asylums to jails

13. When a recovered criminal lunatic is transferred from an asylum to a jail, the Superintendent of the Asylum will forward to the Superintendent of the Jail a copy of the lunatics medical history-sheet, together with a statement showing the manner in which he has been employed in the asylum up to the time of his transfer

14. Recovered criminal lunatics shall, in the first instance, be transferred to the jail of the district in which the asylum is situated. For this purpose, the Alipore and the Presidency Jails shall both be receiving jails for the Bhowanipore Asylum. The Patna, Berhampore and the Dacca Jails shall be the receiving jails for the asylums in those towns In these receiving jails the recovered lunatic shall serve the probationary period to be passed in the grade of convict overseer, after which he may be transferred to serve as convict and paid warder in the jail nearest his home

15 Recoverved female criminal lunatics will not in any case be transferred to jails, but may be promoted at the discretion of the Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum to the post of keeper, receiving, after a period of probation of at least two years, a monthly allowance of Rs 2 and may be eventually released on conditions similar to those laid down for recovered male lunatics transferred to jails.

Principles on which the Local Government will act in disposing of the cases of criminal lunatics sent up for orders under sections 466, 471, 474 and 475 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) and section 30 of the Prisoners Act (III of 1900).

I. Medical history-sheet or descriptive-roll to be called for in every case	1. Final orders should not be issued unless the lunatic's papers are accompanied by the medical history-sheet, as printed on page 65 or the descriptive-roll as printed at pages 92-93.
	A.—Recovered criminal lunatics.
II Crime —Offence against person Cause—Ganja, &c. Type—Acute or chronic mania	2 If the crime be against the person, the cause ganja or other intoxicant, and the type of insanity acute or chronic mania, a period of three years should be spent in an asylum free from all signs of insanity before any action is taken.
(a) Age under 40 years.	(a) At the end of that time, if under 40 years of age and in good physical health, he should be transferred to the nearest central or other jail, there to undergo a period of probation of six years, of which three had better be in the grade of paid warder.
(b) Age over 40 years.	(b) If over 40 years of age, or in poor physical health, the period of probation in jail may be shortened according to circumstances of crime and nature of security offered. In any case security should, if possible, be taken on the expiry of his period of probation in jail
III Crime.—Offence against person. Cause—Not ganja. etc. Type—Acute or chronic mania	3. If the crime be an offence against the person, the type of insanity acute or chronic mania, and the alleged cause not ganja or other intoxicant, a period of at least four years of complete freedom from insanity should be spent in an asylum before action is taken.

(a) Age under 40 years	(a) At the end of that time, if under 40 years of age and in good physical health, he may be transferred to a jail, there to undergo a probation of four years, of which two should be in the grade of paid warder.
(b) Age over 40 years.	(b) If over 40 years of age, the period of probation in jail might be shortened, according to circumstances of health and surety Security should, if possible, be taken before his final release from jail supervision.
IV Crime —Not offence against person, but mental attitude aggressive. Type—Acute or chronic mania	4 If the crime be not an offence against the person, but the lunatic has at any time exhibited dangerous or violent tendencies and the type of insanity is acute or chronic mania, he should be treated exactly as above, except that the period of probation in jail may be shortened in accordance with the kind and degree of violence exhibited; always provided that in ganja cases the period spent as paid warder should be three years, and in non-ganja cases two years. In all, security should, if possible, be taken on final release
V. Crime.—Not offence against the person, or if so, trivial in its nature; mental attitude not aggressive.	5. If the crime be not an offence against the person, and there be no history that the lunatic was at any time aggressive, he may generally be treated much as if he were a non-criminal lunatic As has been stated in rule 11 for the guidance of executive officers, the Local Government will generally be guided in such cases by the recommendations of the visitors and of the Superintendent of the Asylum in which the lunatic has been confined.
VI. Crime.—Murder. Type—Melancholia	6. If the type of insanity be melancholia, a period of at least six years' complete freedom from insanity should be passed in an asylum before action is taken. During the last year of this period the recovered criminal may be allowed access to the bazar under certain regulations
(a) Age under 40 years.	(a) If at the end of that period he is still under 40 years of age, he should not be released except on excellent security.
(b) Age over 40 years	(b) If over 40 years of age, security should, if possible be obtained
VII. Crime.—Attempted suicide. Type—Melancholia	7. If the crime be attempt to commit suicide, and not murder, the type, melancholia, and if he has not exhibited any violent tendencies while under observation, some relaxation of the rules may be permitted according to circumstances of age, period of detention, etc Cases of melancholia should not be sent to pass a period of probation in jail.

B—Unrecovered criminal lunatics.

VIII Crime.—Offence against person. (a) Type—Irritable chronic mania	8 If the crime be an office against the person, the type, chronic mania of the irritable aggressive kind, it will seldom be possible to release the lunatic during the continuance of insanity, except in advanced age and on exceptional security.
(b) Type—Chæromania.	If the crime be an offence against the person, the type of insanity chronic mania of the amiable kind, a lunatic may be released after passing six to ten years in that condition but only on security. If below 40 years of age, detention should generally be ten years; if over 40 years of age, six years may suffice.
IX. Crime.—Not offence against the person, or if so, trivial in its nature, mental attitude not aggressive.	9. If the crime be not an offence against the person, or if an offence against the person of a trivial nature, and the lunatic has never exhibited aggressive symptoms, he may generally be treated much as if he were a non-criminal lunatic, and the Local Government, when dealing with his case under section 474, will be guided chiefly by the recorded opinion of the Superintendent of the Asylum as to the propriety of releasing him and by the recommendations of the visitors.
(a) Type—Chæromania.	(a) If his mental attitude be chronic mania, characterised by good humour, cheerfulness, and amiability, and he is able to earn a livelihood, he may generally be released with or without security.

(b) Type—Slight chronic dementia

(b) If it be chronic dementia or imbecility of slight degree, he may be released on similar conditions

(c) Type—Irritable chronic mania or pronounced dementia.

(c) If he be suffering from chronic mania of the irritable mischievous type, or chronic dementia of a more pronounced character, he may still be released, but only on satisfactory security that he will be properly cared for and prevented from doing injury to himself or others

(d) Type—Worst degree of chronic mania, dementia or imbecility.

(d) If the chronic mania be of inveterate type, or the dementia or imbecility of the last degree, the lunatic can only be safely and humanely treated in an asylum
